☞ The floor of a car on a cattle train of the Northern New Hampshire railroad, broke through while the train was passing Andover, N. H., and a large bull fell upon the track. The car and four others behind it were thrown down an embankment.—Mr. Wood, a dealer in horses, and another man, were seriously injured. Six cattle and twelve sheep were killed, and many injured, and a load of turkeys was set at liberty.

NEW DOCTRINE.—A special despatch to the Tribune says, that the Washington Union cites with approbation an article from the Richmond Enquirer, which, in view of Judge Douglas's assertion of the right of Territorial Legislatures to exclude slavery, takes the ground that Congress must interfere to protect the institution and supply the legislation withheld by the derelict Territory. Intervention for the purpose of affording such protection is declared to be a fundamental principle with the South. This probably foreshadows a new device to extend slavery through the power of the Federal Government in defiance of the principle of popular sovereignty.

If this is the new doctrine of the Democracy, it plainly shows that the battle for freedom is far from being over.

"My motto through life has been—work and advertise. In business, advertising is the true Philosopher's stone, that turns whatever it touches into gold. I have advertised much, both in the weekly as well as in the daily papers; nor have I found that those of the largest circulation—of either class—benefitted me the most."—John Jacob Astor.

Mr. Douglas looks down very patronizingly on the occupant of the White House. He says he will make no compromise with Buchanan until all his (Douglas') friends are restored to the identical offices they held previous to the breaking out of hostilities. He swears that the statu quo ante bellum must be established.

MARBLEHEAD.—We understand that the O'Keefe lad, who died in Marblehead on Friday, in the 7th year of his age, came to his death under singular circumstances. It is said that, being left as monitor of the school during the temporary absence of the teacher, he reported another boy, aged 13, for some delinquency, which so enraged the latter that he subsequently beat and knocked the little monitor in such manner as to cause his death after the lapse of about a week. The O'Keefe boy was buried in Salem on Sunday. The boys were of Irish parentage.

CARRAGES AND DISUNION.—We have found a new bond of union for our Republic. The Atlanta Georgian acknowledges the receipt of cabbages from the New York market, which sell readily at 401 per cent. advance on cost, and says the idea of a people who will not raise their own cabbages being bored to death by agitators about independence, and urged to disunion, is preposterous. If they will not raise cabbages now they will not raise them then, and the South would have to import them from a foreign country, with a tariff of two or three cents per head tacked on, to help to defray the expenses of the government, or for incidental protection to encourage the home production! Dissolve the Union and import the cabbages?—preposterous!—Louisville Journal.

FROM CALIFORNIA—OVERLAND.—St. Louis, Nov. 15.—The California overland mail, with dates of the 8th ult., arrived last night, having been delayed one day in consequence of the bad roads on the eastern part of the route. There were six through passengers, one of them a woman, Mrs. Crome. The advices are anticipated by the mail steamer at New York.

FIRE.—Providence, Nov. 15.—11 P. M. Harvard Block lost fire early this evening. Nothing remains but a portion of the walls. Harvard Hall was in this block.—The Theatre, which adjoins, is now on fire, and it is not probable that it can be saved.

YOU HAD BETTER TRY

MY MOTHER'S SALVE

This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and WORLD-WIDE reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.

"My Mother's Salve" is a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.

Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A. M. Beck.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

CHRONIC DIARRHŒA.—In nothing is the tonic power of the PERUVIAN SYRUP more strikingly shown, than in the prevention and cure of Chronic Diarrhœa. The tone of the diseased mucous membrane seems to be restored, its irritability disappears, the digestion and absorption of nutriment are duly performed, the discharges become natural, and health is soon re-established.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of GARGNER'S PARISIAN PIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, and is in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original receipt has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It also removes in a few hours Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

LOSS OF TIME.

Persons afflicted with disease unnecessarily lose much time. No remedy, in these days, is fit to be taken in the human system, unless it will, in a few days, exhibit some favorable symptoms of restoring the patient to health. RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, for all acute pains, instantly proves its efficacy. The moment it is applied, the most excruciating pains are relieved, and the most violent irritations allayed. If Rheumatism, or Stiffness of the Joints, or Weakness in the Back, or Lumbago, or Pain in the Side, or Dysentery, or Diarrhœa trouble you, Radway's Ready Relief will in a few minutes free you from your painful condition.—Bear in mind, no pain will exist where the Ready Relief is applied.

For Scrofula, Syphilis, Sores, Blotches, Night Sweats, Bad Coughs, Consumption, Salt Rheum, in three days Radway's Renovating Resolvent will make a favorable change.

Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Liver Complaint, take one of Radway's Regulating Pills, going to bed.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as to travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER is genuine.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 71 Cornhill; S. K. Pecker, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 118 Hanover st; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st; E. A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES.

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are now, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make it by the public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THATCHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

OPPUGNATION. — Messrs. Editors,— In your column of extracts from the N. H. Gazette, in Tuesday's Chronicle, there are several remarkable statements. First there is Capt. Marcy's denial that the democratic party is pro-slavery—second the statement that to endorse Buchanan is not to oppose Douglas,—and third, the insinuation that the General Government, being in the hands of the democrats since 1800, most of the time, has not extended slavery, but been favorable to freedom,—and the writer desires us to believe this stuff, chiefly because Kansas, it is said, is now free.

But we know that Kansas, so far as it is free, is so, not because Mr. Buchanan and his party favored her freedom—for he and they did all they could to fasten on her the letters which they forged. She will be free in spite of them!

Again, Messrs. Editors, though it is true that the democracy, that is, the people, have ruled here since 1800, and since 1775 as well, yet it is not true that the Democratic party have ruled 50 years. That party has only existed about half that time.

The rule of Jefferson, Madison and Monroe was that of the Republican party—and Jefferson was anti-slavery in his sentiments, as every reader must know.

But since the Democratic party has been formed, it has been becoming more and more pro-slavery,—till now it is likely, in its decline, to be smothered in a black and muddy heap. REPUBLIC.

DARING HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—We learn from the Burlington, Vt., Free Press that a highway robbery and attempted assassination of the most daring kind occurred across the Lake, near Plattsburg, on Wednesday night last, of which Dr. Fitzgerald, a respectable physician of Clintonville, was the victim. The circumstances were substantially as follows: Dr. F. had occasion, on the evening in question, to go from Clintonville to Plattsburg, carrying on his person nearly a thousand dollars in money. On the road a man asked for a ride, and was given a seat in the Doctor's wagon. Soon after his horse was stopped by a second man, and at the same moment Dr. F. was knocked insensible by a blow from the ruffian on the seat with him. His horse, proceeding without his driver, finally attracted the notice of some persons, who, suspecting something wrong, followed his track until they found Dr. F., lying insensible by the road-side. He had been stabbed in several places, and badly beaten; but it is not supposed that his injuries will prove fatal. His money had been taken. It is believed that the robbers had learned the fact that he had the money about him, and preceded him from Clintonville for the robbery.

INDIA.—Telegraphic advices state that the rebels attacked and captured Seronge, Sept. 30, subsequently evacuated it, and retreated towards Esangar, which latter place they attacked and occupied, Oct. 2d. They were afterwards driven from this point by a detachment of cavalry. A combined movement is proposed for hemming the enemy in at Chundaree.

A FEW KEGS OF EXCELLENT
SPORTING POWDER, FOR SALE LOW, BY NATHANIEL K. HAYNES, ja29 78 MARKET St. (Up Stairs.)

ASSASSINATION OF NAPOLEON III.

By the last steamer we learn that what has been predicted by many, feared by some, and hoped for by others, has finally taken place, viz:—That they manufacture and sell more Cloaks and Raglans at Messrs. Allen & Paine's than at all the other stores together in Portsmouth. Also that they sell their garments and Ladies' Cloths, Broadcloths, Beavers and other Cloak goods, at much lower prices than any one else.

PERPETUAL MOTION DISCOVERED.—They are manufacturing twenty-five Cloaks per day, and some days are unable to meet the demand, so great is the rush for them in consequence of the latest styles, best of work, and very low prices at which they are sold, at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.—Our lady readers when they want a nice fitting garment go to Messrs. Allen & Paine's and have one made.—These go-a-head young gentlemen cut and make them right in their own store—and having a full new stock of Beaver and Broadcloths, in Black, Drabs, Peach Brown, &c., they are sure to suit every customer.

☞ A splendid new Sleeve and Collar pattern, for the scolloped Raglan, just received by Allen & Paine.

Indian Physician.

Dr. B. S. GOODWIN

Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.

ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN.

Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsey, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!

The philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; and every theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the one may bloom never so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls. If the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, burnt and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

New York, April 19, 1858.

Dr. Wood:—Dear Sir.—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Drech a'r Gwyliedydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 12 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '53.

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir.—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

New York, July 28, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative, as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and uneasiness and itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KNAP.

Chicago, Ill., May 1, 1857.

Prof. Wood—About two years ago my hair began to fall off and turn to gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up the roots and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing tailored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the earnest attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that IT'S EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN.

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all legates have the right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m181y

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter addressed to the subscriber.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most invidable secresy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have been under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients can be cured by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing gazes.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at this or any other place, when what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superiority in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some pretended or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 1ly

TYPOGRAPHICAL ERRORS.—One of our exchanges says, "the wife crop of Gasconade county, Mo.,' this year is estimated at 25,000 galls." The wine crop was referred to, but 25,000 galls will make a good crop of wives notwithstanding. The Hartford Times, noticing the death of an editor, says, he was a high winded gentleman, and a pungent writer." Perhaps he was a stump speaker of the high-winded school of oratory. A locofoco editor says, "the Democracy are licked like a band of brothers," instead of linked, and another says "we have wet the enemy and we are theirs!" Types play sad pranks.—Louisville Journal.

☞ The Eastern City, an English ship, which was burnt at sea, August 23, had on board 227 persons, and was on fire 24 hours before they were taken off;—but by good discipline and good Providence, all were saved but one poor sailor, who was probably smothered by the smoke.

☞ Alex. Demasteam, a drunken vagabond pedler, is in jail at Springeld, Mass., for murdering a little girl of eight years, at Chicopee, under most revolting circumstances. He was so drunk that he hardly knew what he did—nevertheless, he will probably be punished.

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
MY MOTHER'S SALVE
This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and world-wide reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers; restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.
"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.
"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ENVEIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.
"My Mother's Salve" in a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.
"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.
Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A.M.BECK BURRILL & HUNTING, SOLE PROPRIETORS,
No. 6 Tremont Street,
(Two doors south of Court st.,) BOSTON.
☞ Will be found at all Apothecaries and Family stores in the country. o15 1y

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Also, Reissues, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL. AT THE PATENT OFFICE than this agency, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to collect such a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I record him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
☞ I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made no less rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
E. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1858.

The Washington Union asks a question in relation to the presumption that "Judge Douglas is permitted to remain in the democratic party!" "Permitted!" that is the word, (says the Bath Times,) there are not demagogues nor petty tyrants enough in the 'ten miles square,' to put him out of the party, but there is democracy enough remaining with the people to cleanse that Augean Stable of such filthy cattle as control and sympathize with that infamous sheet. If the accession of Douglas to the presidential chair would result in placing men in office who would represent the popular will, and in breaking up that infernous spirit of central dictation which, year by year, is becoming more unbearable, his nomination by the Charleston Convention might be regarded as a settled question.

We invite attention to these statements of the Times, which are:

1. That Washington is an Augean Stable.

2. That central dictation from that spot,—claimed to have been in the possession of the democratic party for many years,—is every year becoming worse.

3. That the people will break it up.—Amen! Even so. REFUS.

SALE OF THE "EMINENT SPORTSMAN'S" FURNITURE AT WASHINGTON.—The name of the "eminent sportsman" recently deceased at Washington, of whose gambling establishment we gave a long account, was E. H. Pendleton. On Thursday there is to be a sale at "the establishment" of his furniture. The catalogue embraces "700 ounces of solid silver waiters, goblets, pitchers, butter tubs, ladles, knives, forks, spoons, &c., with heavily plated waiters, pitchers, covered dishes, tureens, champagne coolers, castors, sauce boats," &c. Bohemian and cut glass ware, Chinese punch bowls, damask table linen, and other appliances, show that the politicians plucked in 'fighting the tiger' were daintily fed. It is whispered that there will be as great a scramble for the chairs which used to surround the enticing faro table as there was for the desks and seats of the old hall. Could they speak, they would tell some strange tales of our Ohio members.—Ohio paper.

Yes indeed; and some former members from New Hampshire, of great eminence. But none of our present delegation, that we have ever heard of.

EXPENSIVE MACHINERY.—By the last report of the American Bible Society it appears that out of every hundred dollars given to that great national and truly Christian institution, twenty-one dollars are deducted to pay clerks, book-keepers, secretaries, agents, and delegates. The payments to the above persons last year reached the large sum of $83,322,14.—The sum of $12,000 was paid to the Secretaries, General Agent, and Assistant Treasurer, and the additional amount of $378,94 for their travelling expenses.

☞ In the U. S. Navy, there are no Midshipmen or Passed Midshipmen in the newly appointed officers, in consequence of there being so few officers of those grades eligible for sea duty at present. The highly satisfactory reports from ships which now employ Master's Mates instead of Midshipmen, and the many advantages to be derived by substituting the former for the latter, have led several well-wishers of the navy to consider the propriety of altogether dispensing with the rank of Midshipman, although no official recognition of the subject has yet been announced.

RAILWAY MANIA IN RUSSIA.—For some months past there was prevailed in St. Petersburg and all Russia a perfect railway mania, which has assumed all the infatuation which ruled England under King Hudson. The mania has, as was the case in England, for chief promoters, sharp, energetic men of business, (their names figure in all the schemes,) and for principal instigators the aristocracy of the land.

☞ The Utah correspondent of the New York Tribune says the Mormons have left their fields just as they were after the harvest. Not one has been broken up and sowed with wheat for the next year's crop, nor have any preparations been made for that purpose. This is the case so far as he could learn throughout the Territory, and is regarded as indicating that the Mormons will be off next spring, to what place or in what direction is an utter mystery.

☞ The North American Review for October, 1858, contains, among other articles, a review of Buckle's History of Civilization in England. This notice embraces some sound general principles on civilization, as well as a good searching review of the book; and is a piece of valuable reading by any fireside or in any study.

THE BURNING OF REV. MR. BARNABY'S HOUSE, in Deerfield, N. H. has before been noticed. Mr. Barnaby published a letter in the Manchester American of the 11th inst., showing it to be the work of an incendiary, in which he says:

Having devoted Saturday to preparations for the Sabbath, I retired late to rest. A severe storm raged without. In the midst of the darkness at about 2 o'clock in the morning, my wife awakening, said to me, "there is a fire somewhere." I instantly fixed my eyes on the window, and the glare of light which burst upon me aroused me. Running to my front door the sparks flying by me, too painfully told the sad story. I rushed immediately into the darkness and placed myself in front of my wood house, in which nothing lay but a cord of hard wood. The smoke and fire were forcing themselves thro' the boards near the roof. I turned my eyes in the direction of the barn connected with the wood-house by a walk of some twenty feet, and at the east end, some forty feet from the other fire, I discovered a perfect blaze extending some ten feet along the ridge pole, and at least six feet above it. The front door of the barn which was secured by my own hands the evening before, was open five feet, and the blaze in its fury presented itself to my gaze. After giving every possible alarm we commenced the removal of everything that could be reached. A large part of the furniture in the three front rooms was saved, much of it in a damaged state. So rapid, however, was the conflagration, that nothing whatever was saved, from the other part of the house. My entire stock of groceries, provisions, every article of crockery, all cooking utensils, the most valuable and useful part of our wearing apparel, was lost.

Would that my pen could stop here.—My library, the fruits of nearly fifty years' labor, my entire correspondence, manuscripts, and journals, with my Reviews and magazines, &c., are all in ashes.—This was the work of an incendiary, intent on the destruction of property, if not of life.

TERRIBLE ASSAULT.—Monday afternoon, De Lafayette Goodenough came upon Wm. Kimball, near the Rye-field, Manchester, and beat him outrageously, breaking one leg between the ankle and knee, inflicting wounds upon the scalp, and severe blows upon the body. The cause for this outrage is said to be the fact that Mr. Kimball testified against Goodenough for selling liquor. The Mirror says Mr. Kimball is a carpenter living on Amherst street, a very quiet, honest man and a good citizen. Goodenough has not yet been found.

This, we presume, is a fair specimen of the argument by which liquor selling is sustained—and of the morals and manners of those who sustain it. We dare say Goodenough "keeps step to the music of the Union."

☞ A Mr. Holden, a man in moderate circumstances, at Ann Arbor, Mich., got his life insured for $29,000, and afterwards was shot in a morass near his house and died the next day. His account of the affair led to a suspicion that he killed himself for the benefit of his family. The insurance companies have compromised the matter by paying the widow two-thirds of the insurance.

☞ The Manchester Mirror says, John F. Gerald delivered a temperance lecture on Monday evening, at the City Hall, to a crowded audience, there being quite a large number who could not find seats.—The speaker keeps his hearers in good humor by relating many pleasing and witty anecdotes and incidents. It is expected that he will soon revisit Manchester and lecture again.

☞ Rev. Amos Savage of Hartford, agent for Connecticut, of the American Tract Society, took the train to New Haven, Saturday noon, intending to preach at Orange, on Sunday. At New Haven, he walked very fast to reach the stage, and had hardly taken his seat when he fell back dead. He was sixty years old, and probably died of heart disease.

☞ The New York Herald does not believe that the measure of personal success of Douglas in Illinois, nor the limited success of Seward's republican friends in New York, will be likely to give either of these men the nomination for the Presidency—but rather to make the nomination or election of either of them highly improbable.

☞ In the case of the longshoreman Hollis, who was shot dead by policeman Cairns, in New York, on Wednesday, the coroner's jury returned a verdict of "unjustifiable shooting," and Cairns, bail not being allowed, was committed to the tombs.

CHARLES WESLEY IN BOSTON.—The Rev. Dr. Abel Stevens, in his interesting "History of Methodism," states that Charles Wesley returned to England from his visit to Savannah in 1736, by the way of Boston, where he preached repeatedly in the King's Chapel. At the above named date the Wesleys were High Churchmen.

PARKER ON HYGIENE.

Rev. Theodore Parker has been sick; but is now much better, and preached last Sunday, in the Music Hall, Boston. The Transcript of Monday, says of him:

Rev. Theodore Parker discoursed, yesterday forenoon, from the text, "Do thyself no harm." The discourse animadverted severely upon those systems of theology which consider the condition of the body as a matter of little moment, and inculcated the duty, as a moral obligation, of maintaining the physical functions of the human frame in a sound and healthy state. The production was replete with salutary physiological maxims, and the publication of a portion of it would be beneficial, from the hygienic lessons embodied therein.

A correspondent furnishes the following excellent abstract of the discourse.

Rev. Theodore Parker seems to have drawn a useful lesson from his recent illness. His sermon yesterday was based upon Paul's exhortation to the jailor: "Do thyself no harm." Though it would have been thought a strange production if delivered from most of the pulpits of the city, on Sunday, yet it was well calculated to call the attention of his numerous audience to a very important subject: "The causes of sickness and early death." These were everywhere subjects of universal complaint. Most of the sickness and pain of the human race were useless. Old age is the only legitimate cause of death." The farmer would be astonished to find his orchard grounds covered with green, half-grown apples in June or July, but welcomes the "handsome" sight of the ripe, mellow fruit in October and November.

The principal, abstract cause of this sickness and premature death, the speaker believed to be in the silly saying of the Great Apostle, "For I know that in me (that is in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing." For this confession, he severely criticised the great, brave, though mistaken Paul, saying he was an unsafe guide, stoutly asserting that, from the apex of the head to the phalanx of the foot, the "Good God" had made every bone, muscle and nerve, good. The ideal man of the church, instead of a great, strong, burly, six foot, full-chested, red-faced, handsome man, with a beard upon his chin, and an appetite for his dinner, was a sleek, lean, weak creature, living upon water cresses, and eating only because he must, not because he wishes.

Intemperance, gluttony and licentiousness were enumerated as among the concrete causes of sickness and early death. These are male vices, though often involving innocent wives and children in the fire that consumes the licentious and guilty husband and father.

Idleness, another of the concrete causes of these evils, was characterized as a female vice. Woman is naturally more industrious than man, yet from the false construction of society, and the force of public opinion, she is made idle, and then is often "sick because she has nothing else to do." But the worse phase of this evil is, that it glories in its own shame. The idle woman often boasts that she is unable to lift her baby, while, to the true woman, there is no higher pride than to bear and to care for her offspring.

American Slavery is a prolific cause of the evils in question. The negro race is one of the longest lived among savage tribes; but in Georgia and Alabama, five slaves live no longer than three white men, though the constitution of the black man is better adapted to the climate of those States than that of the white man. Thus Slavery is chargeable for a large share of these evils.

War is another cause of shortening life. Forty thousand British subjects were consumed by the Crimean war, and 100,000 more will doubtless be left upon the plains of India before peace will be concluded with that country. But in the present state of society this can hardly be avoided. Should our fathers at Bunker Hill, though they knew they exposed them to the enemy's bullets, have dodged behind the green haycocks?

Formerly, wild beasts, cold and hunger were the great enemies of man. The higher races have now nearly overcome these opposing forces; still the food, clothing and shelter of the most enlightened nations are far from perfect.

Of upward 6000 children born yearly in Edinburgh, more than 2000 died before 15 days old,—a slaughter of the innocents at which even Herod would have stood aghast. Two years after, the Doctors ventilated houses, and the mortality was reduced to a few hundred.

Even in Boston in in 1856, 1 in 36 died in Ward 8, while in Ward 6, only one in 69 died. The South Cove lands, from their flatness, imperfect drainage, narrow streets, and the want of light and air, must for centuries remain unhealthy, while by a little care and cost thirty years ago, this evil could have been averted. The Sun is the physician of the Great Father, and the air his universal medicine.

The present style of female attire, supported from the waist, instead of from the shoulders, as our mothers held up their garments, came in for a share of these great evils.

The food is another prolific cause of sickness and shortness of life. The speaker exhorted his audience to look at the bread found in public houses, and almost all private houses, handle it, but not taste it, as it is unfit for any animal above the swine.—Divines had puzzled themselves to find out the meaning of "sin against the Holy Ghost." He had sometimes thought that, in man, it consisted in making bad liquor from good grain; and in women, from good meal, making bad bread.

In the universal complaint of sickness and pain, in the wailing of humanity for her early dead, the speaker heard Nature's prophecy, that in the future it shall not be so.

OLD PRINTERS.—Editors and printers of newspapers will do something towards picking up historical scraps relating to their craft, by publishing the following notice from one of the oldest printers in New England, now approaching fourscore, with kindly remembrance:

☞ An old printer, a regular graduate from the Massachusetts Spy office, at Worcester, wishes to learn the present condition or past history of his fellow laborers in the printing office at Worcester, viz.: Evander Moree, Josiah Heard, Josiah Ball, Jonathan C. Church, Andrew Wright, Adam Prouty, Simeon Fullerton, James Hitchcock, —— Rice, (son of a clergyman at Westminster, Mass.,) William Warren, Charles Duncan. Any one who can give information relative to any of the abovementioned, and will communicate the same to C. W., Bookseller, Newburyport, will confer a special favor.

CLERICAL CALL.—The Unitarian Church in Harrison Avenue, Boston, recently under the pastoral charge of Rev. Mr. Coolidge, has invited the Rev. Wm. H. Channing, of the Hope Chapel, Liverpool, Eng., to become its minister. Mr. Channing occupies a theological position widely different from that held by the late pastor of this parish. He has many friends and admirers in Boston.

THE LIQUOR LAW IN ROXBURY, MASS.—The Roxbury Temperance Alliance are taking decisive measures toward the enforcement of the liquor law in that city. Prosecutions have been commenced against five of the most prominent dealers.

ESSEX COUNTY.—The exceptions taken in every liquor case carried up from the Essex county Common Pleas have been overruled by the Supreme Court, and the case remanded back for sentence. This does not like child's play.

☞ Hundreds of voters who were employed in the Philadelphia Navy Yard before election, moving logs and gathering chips, have been discharged and will not be wanted again till about a fortnight before another election.

☞ In the Portland Police Court, Nov. 16, James O. Jaques and John Rodgers, not appearing to claim liquors, seized on their premises some time since, the same were declared forfeited to the city.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

CHRONIC DIARRHŒA.—In nothing is the tonic power of the PERUVIAN SYRUP more strikingly shown, than in the prevention and cure of Chronic Diarrhœa. The tone of the diseased mucous membrane seems to be restored, its irritability disappears, the digestion and absorption of nutriment are duly performed, the discharges become natural, and health is soon re-established.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.
Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of GARDNER'S PANACEA PIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.
The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It also removes in a few hours Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

LOSS OF TIME.
Persons afflicted with disease unnecessarily lose much time. No remedy, in these days, is fit to be taken in the human system, unless it will, in a few days, exhibit some favorable symptoms of restoring the patient to health. RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, for all acute pains, instantly proves its efficacy. The moment it is applied, the most excruciating pains are relieved, and the most violent irritations allayed. If Rheumatism, or Stiffness of the Joints, or Weakness in the Back, or Lumbago, or Pain in the Side, or Dysentery, or Diarrhœa trouble you, Radway's Ready Relief will in a few minutes free you from your painful condition.—Bear in mind, no pain will exist where the Ready Relief is applied.
For Scrofula, Syphilis, Sores, Rickets, Night Sweats, Bad Coughs, Consumption, Salt Rheum, in three days Radway's Renovating Resolvent will make a favorable change.
Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Liver Complaint, take one of Radway's Regulators on going to bed.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.
THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound & Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.
It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.
Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, SCRICURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing complaints which frequently attend their delicate organization.
Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."
It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.
For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.
May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co, 1 Cornhill; S. K. Pecker, 20 Kim st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st; E. The Great English Remedy.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.
Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.
THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.
TO MARRIED LADIES
It is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.
Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.
CAUTION.
These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.
In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.
Full directions accompany each package.

LOCAL.

CITY ELECTION.—A notice for a Republican caucus this (Thursday) evening, at Rechab Hall, to make nominations for the city election, which takes place on Tuesday next, will be found in our paper this morning.

We learn that Hon. Robert Morrison, the present incumbent, has been renominated by the Democrats for Mayor.

NAVY YARD.—One hundred sixty men, including mechanics and laborers, were discharged on Monday last, and more will probably be discharged soon.

TERRIBLE REVELATION.—In New York City, the Harpers have just issued a volume, written by Dr. Sanger, resident physician at Blackwell's Island, where, on the average, two thousand prostitutes are confined. The Board of Ten Governors, as they are termed, under whose care the unfortunate victims of this vice are placed, called his attention to the subject, and in response to their request he has prepared this volume of more than 600 pages. He sketches the history of this vice from the most remote periods of antiquity, nearly 2000 years before Christ. * * * * It estimates the number of these persons in each of the great European cities, and finally comes down to New York city, where he says are six thousand of those females, a great majority of whom are under twenty-five years of age. The average of their lives is but four years, which is very much less than of the same class in European cities. There are 467 houses of ill repute in the city, besides 151 saloons visited by abandoned women. They require an investment of four millions of dollars, and the annual expenditure in this business is not less than seven millions. Many of the keepers of these dens become rich.

The writer finds that about an equal number of these women are Catholic and Protestant, and some two-thirds of them foreign born. Of 2000, the United States furnished 732, and Ireland 706.

This is a most alarming revelation of the moral condition of an American city; yet the figures from such a source, and issued by the Harpers, must be true.

☞ It is becoming the custom out West for newly married people to send to newspaper publishers, along with their marriage notice, the amount of a year's subscription. This is a very sensible custom.

☞ The prize money to be paid to the military serving in India, says the Glasgow Herald, is enormous. Lord Clyde's share is said to exceed £80,000.

☞ The U. S. Economist estimates the consumption of boots and shoes in the United States at seventy-six million pairs per year, valued at eighty million dollars. About twelve million pairs are made in Massachusetts, one-half of them in Lynn.

☞ Policeman Cairnes, of New York, who shot the burglar, has been admitted to bail in the sum of $10,000.

THE VOTE OF ILLINOIS.—A dispatch from Springfield, dated Nov. 12, says that the Republican majority on the State ticket is a little over 4600. All the counties are in, though a few are not official, but it is believed that the official count will not vary a hundred votes from the above figures.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—A boy seventeen years old, named John Hart, was murdered in Brooklyn, last evening, by a fighting rowdy named Cullen, who knocked Hart down, and kicked him till dead.

An attempt was made last night by one Michael Donnelly to murder ex-Justice Daniel W. Clarke, who is acting as counsel in a suit in which Donnelly is defendant. Judge Clarke was attacked and beaten with a club in his own house, and seriously injured.

The large mansion house of Edward Swan, at Oyster Bay, L. I., was burnt on Sunday night, together with all its contents. Loss $50,000. No insurance.

THE FIRE IN PROVIDENCE.—Providence, Nov. 16.—The Theatre was entirely destroyed by the fire last night. The wall fell on a low wooden building on the east and crushed it. The total loss is estimated at $200,000; the insurance at $191,400.

A letter from Paris, in alluding to the high rents exacted there, says—"I believe in case of a revolution in Paris, the first impulse would be to hang the landlords."

It is given out that Mr. Appleton, Assistant Secretary of State, has purchased the interest of Mr. Wendell in the Washington Union, and will hereafter be its responsible manager.

The Detroit Free Press says there are a surprising number of bears infesting the woods in all parts of the State—that they come into the settled parts, and are readily killed. The editor says he is sorry for the unfortunate people who live in civilized regions, and can't get bear steak.

MARRIED.

ANOTHER FINALITY.—We have had a number, but the end is not yet. The Boston Atlas says:

Now we are to have another "final settlement," and it is pointed out in the extracts which we publish above from the Richmond Enquirer and the Washington Union, and what is it? Why, that although the people of a Territory cannot interfere with slavery, nor Congress pass laws to prevent slavery from going into a Territory, Congress can and must pass laws to protect slavery in the Territories—this is the last demand made by the oligarchy. The point is simply this: non-intervention by Congress or the people of a Territory, but active intervention of Congress to protect and perpetuate slavery in a Territory, and this the two organs quoted above say is to be engrafted on the Democratic platform, and become one of the party's articles of faith. The South "asks no more, she will take no less."—Now, then, let us see how the doughfaces will take this last load upon their backs, whether their supple knees will bend, and allow the burden to be strapped on them, or whether they will make a show of opposition. What will Douglas do? Will he forswear himself, will he forsake his favored child non-intervention, and smite squatter sovereignty by a dead blow? We shall wait and see. Certain it is, he cannot escape having the poisoned chalice pressed to his lips. Buchanan intends to recommend Congressional intervention, for slavery, in his annual message. Douglas will have either to oppose it or favor it.—What side will he take? That is the question. If he means to remain in the Democratic party, which ever side he takes is political death to him. The time has come when men cannot serve two masters. He must choose between them. Douglas cannot serve the South and maintain his hold in the North. He cannot act justly and like a national man, and maintain a position at the South.

The editor of the Bangor Union has seen a toe cut from a foot of the great Pizarro, by a yankee sailor, who gained access to the coffin in the Cathedral where the old tyrant reposes in a wonderful state of preservation! Bro. Emery has doubtless been to-tally humbugged, and we shouldn't be surprised if the relic was broken from that petrified Lecompton rascal who has been playing the deuce with his good sense for nearly a year past, and raising the d— generally with the democratic party. Pinch it like blazes, friend E.—Bath Times.

What steam has been to navigation, advertising has been to trade. The man who advertises freely and liberally betrays a liberal and genial spirit which is pleasing to nine-tenths of his customers; while those who never advertise, who don't care for home papers, and take no pains to sustain themselves by sustaining a home paper, are guilty of a narrowness of soul with which no one wishes to come in contact.

UTAH MATTERS.—St. Louis, Nov. 16.—Judge Eckles having in charge Henrietta Polidore, who was rescued from the Mormons on a writ of habeus corpus at the request of the British Government, has arrived here. This girl was abducted from Gloucester, Eng., four years ago.

Elizabeth Cotton, the author of an extensively published letter in regard to Mormon life, has also arrived, en route to her home in England.

THREE HOURS' SCHOOLING IN A DAY.—The Middlesex Teachers' Association, at their meeting in Malden a few days since, adopted resolutions expressing the opinion that the children of our primary schools should not be confined to study in their seats more than three hours per day.

HOTEL BURNED.—The "Indian River House," at Pawlet, Vermont, was burned to the ground on Thursday morning, between 12 and 1 o'clock. It was set on fire while a ball was in progress in the house, and there was quite a panic for a time, but the party escaped uninjured.

☞ In the city of London coal is sent to customers in sacks containing 100 pounds each. These are loaded on large carts, drawn by enormous horses, with scales and weights to each cart, and if desired by the purchaser, the sack is weighed by the driver.

ASSASSINATION OF NAPOLEON III.

By the last steamer we learn that what has been predicted by many, feared by some, and hoped for by others, has finally taken place, viz:—That they manufacture and sell more Cloaks and Raglans at Messrs. Allen & Paine's than at all the other stores together in Portsmouth. Also that they sell their garments and Ladies' Cloths, Broadcloths, Beavers and other Cloak goods, at much lower prices than any one else.

PERPETUAL MOTION DISCOVERED.—They are manufacturing twenty-five Cloaks per day, and some days are unable to meet the demand, so great is the rush for them in consequence of the latest styles, best of work, and very low prices at which they are sold, at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.—Our lady readers when they want a nice fitting garment go to Messrs. Allen & Paine's and have one made.—These go-a-head young gentlemen cut and make them right in their own store—and having a full new stock of Beaver and Broadcloths, in Black, Drabs, Peach Brown, &c., they are sure to suit every customer.

☞ A splendid new Sleeve and Collar pattern, for the scolloped Raglan, just received by Allen & Paine.

THE
BAY STATE RANGE.
The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having
Two Large Ovens
AND
Six Boiling Places.
The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.
A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.
THE RANGE IS
PERFECT IN ITSELF,
and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.
It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.
Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of
DOUBLE THICKNESS,
will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.
The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—
HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.
"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.
I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.
The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.
In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it, if unable to replace it."
Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

Indian Physician.

Dr. B. S. GOODWIN

Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.

ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN.—Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsey, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters! Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience; our evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself prized for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be sharied and shriveled, hard and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:—

NEW YORK, April 10, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Drech a'r Gwyliedyd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KNAP.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up a new out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOSE.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

Three Cents will remove all morbid matter from the system, supplying in their place the vitalizing flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause and curing the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Billious Attacks are cured, and what is better prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the uneasiness, prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will immediately relieve Sick Headache; and by one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its most severe form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a bilious type, for it operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

One dose often repeated, cures Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.

Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

A free dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its most severe form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a bilious type, for it operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and persist in the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that IT'S EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of Roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is free from the cracking of Tar, and not discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have several commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same come to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of miserable victims in our towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the free description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which had been entirely treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and dangerous remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Edinboro street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE REGULATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 dly

Dye your Hair and Whiskers.

BY using Hutchins' Liquid HAIR DYE, you can color Red or Gray Hair to a beautiful Brown or Black. This is the best article in use. A lady says it is cheaper to use it than to buy caps to cover her gray hair.

Look at that gentleman's whiskers—Hutchins' Hair Dye makes them look so handsome.

VOL. 13. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. FRIDAY, NOV. 19, 1858. NO. 93.

A Revolution in the Hunting World.

Reuthe's Patent Spring Gun Animal Trap.

More certain of its prey than the most perfect Rifle in the hands of the most experienced marksman, without lessening the value of Pelts or Skins, as is the case in ordinary mode of shooting, it effects the capture of the animal either dead or (if preferred) alive: the barrels discharging themselves, simultaneously with the hooks imbedding themselves in the mouth.

It is simple, yet strong and perfect in its construction neither cumbersome nor difficult to arrange.

There are three different sizes, which will effectually operate on Minks, Woodchucks, Otters, Wildcats, Lynx, Foxes, Wolves, Deer, Panthers, Tigers, Bears, Buffaloes, etc.; in fact, on all animals which repay hunting.

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
MY MOTHER'S SALVE

This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and world-wide reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like disease, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.

"My Mother's Salve" in a Burn or Scald, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.

Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A.M.Beck.

Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, as easily as if the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged in this office, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.
HENRY B RENWICK, L. D GALE, S. H. LANE. } Principal Examiners.
T. R. UPALE, THOS. T EVERETT, F. SOUTHGATE SMITH, WM. C. LANGDON. } Assistant Examiners.
From long acquaintance and intimate official relations with Mr. Cooper, I fully and heartily concur in the foregoing recommendation made by my late colleagues. W P. N FITZGERALD,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1858.

HOW MUCH IT COSTS.—A writer in the Traveller gives the following items on the liquor traffic and its results, in Boston, collected from the report of the Chief of Police and other official documents:

Number of dram shops in the city	1,288
Houses of ill-fame where liquor is sold	365
Grocers who sell liquor, not included in the above estimate of the Chief of Police,	500
Cellars, dwellings, &c., mostly kept by foreigners, where liquor is sold, not estimated by the Chief of Police	770
Total	2930
Number of arrests by the Police in 1857	19,068
Number of arrests by other officers (est)	2,000
Total	21,068
3,920 of these were non-residents and 17,173 inhabitants of Boston.
In addition to the above there were	10,913 lodgers at the Station Houses, and 916 assisted home by the Police. The Chief of Police said in his report, "It is an admitted fact that intemperance is the direct origin of more poverty, more crime and consequent suffering than all other causes combined."
Number assisted by Overseers of the Poor, from Nov. 1st to March 1st, including the families of those assisted	20,964
Number assisted in the Poor House during the year	2,000

The cost of all this is variously estimated from $300,000 to $500,000. The private cost reckoning $3 per week-day for each liquor shop, would be $3,286,500!—Enough to buy fifteen barrels of flour, or pay $100 rent for every family in the city!

Ought not something be done to arrest this prodigious evil? Every good citizen should weigh these facts carefully and act accordingly. There is law enough to close the open sale of liquor. Under the elder Quincy's administration, with very much less law upon the subject than we have now, the open sale of liquor was nearly abolished.

☞ The Cincinnati Gazette tells of a gentleman of that city, formerly connected with the turf, who recently made a visit to England, and while there attended a number of races, betting pretty freely in a small way, and generally coming out winner. Finally, just before leaving, he went to the Cesarawitz races, with a balance in his favor up to that date of some $14,000 on his operations, and finding the odds ten to one against Ten Broeck's Prioress, he concluded to risk his pile on her. She came out about six inches behind. Had she won he would have pocketed $140,000.

☞ In the Manchester Police Court, Nov. 16, Lafayette Goodenough, for an assault upon W. Kimball; ordered to recognize in the sum of $1200 for appearance at a higher Court.

David H. Young, for being accessory to the above assault, ordered to recognize in the same sum.

The American represents Mr. Kimball as a very industrious, respectable and virtuous man, who was summoned by the police to testify that he bought half a pint of liquor for some purpose, of Goodenough. His testimony was so unimpeachable, that Goodenough was convicted and fined.

And now, Goodenough and Kimball, kindred spirits, have conspired to commit an assault and battery on a man 60 years old, which may cost him his life.—In which case, these cowardly bullies should have a good long term of probation in the State Prison.

☞ In the N. H. Supreme Court, at Dover, E. P. Hayes, indicted for stealing a watch at Great Falls, retracted his plea of not guilty, and was sentenced to the State Prison for 5 years.

James Dearborn, convicted of breaking into the store of C. K. Chase of Rochester, was sentenced to the State Prison for 6 years, James Dearborn, jr., for 4 years, and Horace Dearborn, the younger brother, to the House of Reformation for 4 yrs.

☞ William P. Walker, who died at Lenox, Mass., on Thursday, the 11th, at the age of 80 years, was Judge of Probate of Berkshire county for a full generation of time, retiring only when the infirmities of age required him to seek utter seclusion from public cares. His father was his predecessor, and the first Judge of the Court.

☞ A pretty fair looking piece of human property, about 25 years old, that at the quoted rates would be worth seven or eight hundred dollars in Baltimore, passed from that city, through Newburyport, on Tuesday. He was making his way up towards Canada, shivering in the cold north wind, and is now on the last line of railroad that will help him forward.

He is a hypocrite before God, who talketh of a work within, when there is no work without.

☞ The news from England by the Canada at Halifax, is to Nov. 6.—Cotton declined 1-2 d:—provisions and breadstuffs declining.

The U. S. frigate Niagara arrived at St. Vincents, Oct. 23d, en route for Monrovia, with her cargo of rescued negroes. 57 of the 271 taken on board the frigate had already died.

The London Times in an editorial on the wretched condition of Mexico, says there is no reason why England should oppose the ambitious designs of the government at Washington; it considers the establishment of any goverment of law and order in Mexico would be a gain; ridicules the threatened Spanish expedition as a farce, and says that every gun fired on Mexican territory is fired to the ultimate profit of the great Anglo-Saxon Northern Confederation.

The wholesale poisoning at Bradford, by accidentally mixing arsenic in lozenges, had resulted in 17 deaths, and hundreds were suffering from eating them.

Valuable gold discoveries are stated to have been made in the province of San Luis, Buenos Ayres, the local accounts of which, says the Times city article, are probably delusive; they describe the deposits to be of singular richness, and allege that in some cases as much as 30 ounces have been collected in 12 hours, by a single miner.

Rev. Geo. Gills has been appointed to the Bishopric of British Columbia.

France.—It is authoritatively stated that the Emperor is taking steps to carry out the plan of laying up stores of corn in every large town during the plentiful years, in order to provide for years of scarcity.

TREATY WITH JAPAN.—It seems we are to have some commerce with this hitherto exclusive country. The Consul of the United States, at Simoda, Mr. Harris, backed by the silent but potent influence of the Powhattan, succeeded in obtaining a treaty with the following provisions:

"That there shall be no more trampling upon the cross in Japan; that Americans shall be allowed to reside in such ports as are opened, to build churches, and to worship their God; that Japanese also shall be granted religious freedom.

That the tax of six per cent. re-coinage, now paid by the American purchaser of Japanese goods, shall be dispensed with.

That this treaty shall take effect from the 4th of July, 1859, though some of the ports are not to be opened until later.

That the port of Simoda shall be closed, and that of Kanagawa shall be opened in its stead.

That the port of Hego (which is the seaport of the great cities of Osaca and Misco) shall be open to American trade.

That Americans shall not wander to Jeddo from Kanagawa.

That Japanese coin may be exported after it has been purchased by weighing American coin against it—gold against gold and silver against silver.

And that a Minister shall be sent to the United States."

☞ In Japan, Jeddo, the capital, or royal city, is described as being neat and clean, with no beggars, cripples, drunkards, no fighting, no bad smells. The British officers who lately went there, say so: but it seems improbable.

☞ An engine house was burnt in Haverhill, Mass., Thursday night, and the engine badly damaged. The firemen lost all their furniture, &c., amounting to $700. At the time of the fire the company were enjoying a promenade concert and dance in the Town Hall. The festivity was brought to an unpleasant close.

☞ John Wesley says: "When I was young I was sure of everything; in a few years, having been mistaken a thousand times, I was not half so sure of most things as I was before; at present I am hardly sure of anything but what God has revealed to me."

☞ The Navy Department is informed from England that the theory of iron-sided ships resisting the fire of ordinary men-of-war or shore batteries, has signally failed, as proved on trial by the British naval authorities.

☞ Captain Benjamin Rider, of Barnstable, has made seventy round voyages to the West Indies, as master, in all seasons of the year, and has never lost a man.—Captain R. was always careful to keep his men from the night dews—that was the secret of their health.

☞ Our Hampton correspondent informs us that Capt. Jona. Palmer of that town has just slaughtered ten hogs, for David Brown, Esq., the aggregate weight of which was 4014 lbs. "Mr. Brown is the most successful pork raiser in this section of the county."

☞ Mr. Nesbitt, jailer in Fulton, Mo., was recently killed by a runaway slave, who had been placed in jail for safe keeping. The negro escaped, together with a white man, accused of enticing negroes from their masters.

Conviction of ignorance is the door-step of the temple of wisdom.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

BY OVERLAND MAIL.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 17.—The eleventh overland mail with dates of the 22d October, from San Francisco, arrived last night, on schedule time, bringing three thousand passengers.

The road was found in excellent condition until the mail reached Texas, and the stock was in fine order, except on the desert.

Stations were last springing up, and accommodations along the route rapidly increasing.

Applications for passage exceeded the ability of the company to accommodate, and the route is rapidly increasing in favor as a thoroughfare for travel to the Atlantic States.

Gen. Harney started for Oregon on the 20th.

A shock of earthquake was felt at San Francisco, on the morning of the 21st.

Most of the passengers who have arrived from New York, destined for Frazer river, had gone into the interior of California. More than 1000 started in one day.

The Fort Smith (Ark.) Times of the 10th inst., says that Lieut. Beale and party were at the North Fork, and Lieuts. Stein and Bell were near Bayou Sell.

The Camanche Indians were very hostile. Buffalo Hunt, their Chief, had sent word to the Texans that he would not make peace until every Camanche was killed.

It was reported that the Camanches had burnt the grass on the Plains, which would suspend Lieut. Beale's operations until spring.

St. Louis, Nov. 17.—A despatch from Independence says that the Santa Fe mail of the 25th ult. arrived there on the 14th inst. The mail had to be brought in on mules, the condition of the road rendering it necessary to leave wagons on the route. No newspapers were brought.

Senator Broderick of California, has arrived here. He left Salt Lake Oct. 1, and encountered a great deal of snow and severe cold weather on the mountains. By the upsetting of the stage, some distance west of Kansas City, Mr. Broderick had a rib broken, and was otherwise severely bruised. He also had a foot frozen when passing through the mountains.

DEATH OF TWO CHILDREN FROM DRINKING LIQUOR.—A little boy, four years and six months old, named Payard Surplass, residing in Brooklyn, died on Wednesday, from the effects of a glass of gin given to it by the father. The child called for water, and the gin was given by mistake instead. Another child, less than four years of age, named John Burk, in the same city, was killed by drinking "applejack." The father kept tavern, and the tub containing this liquor was set in the back room. This was found by the child, and partaken of before it was discovered.

Jenny Lind's splendid triumph was owing to liberal advertising. But for advertising, where to-day would be Holloway, Brandreth, Townsend? where Oak Hall, Stewart's or the New York Ledger? Bonner of the Ledger has paid thousands of dollars for advertising in a single number of the N. Y. Tribune, and he advertises liberally in all the papers of the country, and yet he is coining money out of a two dollar paper of no extraordinary merit.

☞ "Fashions" fresh from France tell us that "plain black velvet bonnets, only trimmed with lace, will be the most fashionable for cold weather. The bonnet is decidedly more like a bonnet, coming forward on the top of the head, and projecting at the sides."

TRANSPORTATION BY WATER.—We clip the following from the Keokuk (Iowa) Post of the 23d ult., and we call it a suggestive paragraph:—

A gentleman, resident of Prairie, who has just returned from the East, says that thirty-three days ago he shipped two boxes of merchandise from Boston to this port, one by railroad and the other by a vessel to New Orleans. The former came through in thirty-one days, in a damaged condition; the latter came through in thirty-two days, perfectly sound, and with half the expense of freight.

BOGUS LOTTERIES AGAIN.—It will be recollected that some months ago, several bogus lotteries were broken up in Haverhill, and adjoining towns in New Hampshire. It appears that the operators are again applying their nefarious arts to swindle the public out of their dollars, and the West is said to be flooded with schemes of the "New England Art Union," representing that there will be $100,000 in cash distributed in 12,805 prizes, or gifts to the holders of the lucky numbers on December 1st, 1858, at Haverhill. These are signed by Morton Brothers & Co. It is unnecessary to say that it is a swindle, and a device to put money in the pockets of sharpers.

There was once a clergyman in New Hampshire noted for his long sermons and indolent habits. "How is it," said a man to his neighbor, "Parson ——'s the laziest man living, writes these interminable sermons?" "Why," said the other, "he probably gets to writing and is too lazy to stop."—Exchange.

Miles A. Tuttle of Hartford, lately deceased at Paris, bequeathed $1000 each to the Domestic and Foreign Mission Society of the Episcopal Church and the Hartford Hospital, and $500 each to the Retreat for the Insane and to Trinity College, at Hartford.

A WITTY REPORT.—"Are you worth two hundred and fifty dollars?" inquired a government office-holder, of Bennett, the colored barber, as he walked up to the ballot box to deposite his vote, last Tuesday. "Yes, sir," replied the barber, "and if I was in St. Louis, I should be worth seven hundred dollars!" The witty retort of the "cullud gemman" created a roar of laughter among the by-standers, and caused a sensation of cheapness to overshadow the feelings of the Buchanan appointee, for his unnecessary interference.—Hornellsville, Ill., Tribune.

The large mansion of Mr. Edward Swan, at Oyster Bay, L. I., was totally consumed by fire on Sunday night about 11 o'clock. The family barely escaped.—The building was large and elegantly finished inside, the woodwork being all solid mahogany. The whole, together with 130 tons of coal, was destroyed. The loss will exceed $50,000, upon which there was no insurance. Mr. Swan is a merchant, doing business in New York.

CLOSE CALCULATION.—A single calculation, says the Albany Journal, will show what may be done in the way of organization. We were shown, on the Saturday before election, two estimates of the republican majority in Cayhuga county, based on a canvas by school districts. One put it at 3,100, the other at 3,150. By the official returns we see that it is 3,112. If anybody made a closer calculation than this, we should like to hear of it.

Our beloved brother of the Bangor Union, whose paper is full of Uncle Sam's advertisements, relieves himself by speaking of "a few factious democratic sheets, styling themselves anti-Lecompton."—Bath Times.

FOLLY OF A CHECK REIN.—The famous horse "Glastenbury Boy," was needlessly lost. His keeper drove him overboard from the sinking ferry boat, but neglected to loosen his check rein! and he was soon drowned; while two old "plugs," and a yoke of oxen, got safely to shore!—New Haven Register.

Booth, the tragedian, had his nose broken. A lady once said to him—"I like your acting, but cannot get over your nose." "No wonder," replied he, "the bridge is gone."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

CHRONIC DIARRHŒA.—In nothing is the tonic power of the PERUVIAN SYRUP more strikingly shown, than in the prevention and cure of Chronic Diarrhœa. The tone of the diseased mucous membrane seems to be restored, its irritability disappears, the digestion and absorption of nutriment are duly performed, the discharges become natural, and health is soon re-established.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of GARDNER'S PARISIAN PIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It will remove them in a few hours Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

LOSS OF TIME.

Persons afflicted with diseases unnecessarily lose much time. No remedy, in these days, is fit to be taken in the human system, unless it will, in a few days, exhibit some favorable symptoms of restoring the patient to health. RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, for all acute pains, instantly proves its efficacy. The moment it is applied, the most excruciating pains are relieved, and the most violent irritations allayed. If Rheumatism, or Stiffness of the Joints, or Weakness in the Back, or Lumbago, or Pain in the Side, or Dysentery, or Diarrhœa trouble you, Radway's Ready Relief will in a few minutes free you from your painful condition.—Bear in mind, no pain will exist where the Ready Relief is applied.

For Scrofula, Syphilis, Sores, Rickets, Night Sweats, Bad Coughs, Consumption, Salt Rheum, in three days Radway's Renovating Resolvent will make a favorable change.

Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Liver Complaint, take one of Radway's Regulators on going to bed.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED. THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from these distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imputations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. K. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Mason, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. WHO KILLED THAT WOMAN?

Messrs. Editors:—When it was first known that Downing had shot Mrs. Spinney, the voice of the rabble who gathered and talked the matter over, was for vengeance against him. Afterwards he got much sympathy—I will not say too much; and the Jury and Court decided both that he was and was not guilty—that he was and was not insane. Now I am not going to add a word to what has been so fully discussed; but I think it strange that the real culprit in this case has never been even inquired for, so far as I know. And I am going to ask for him, now and here, with your permission. Who sold Downing his rum, on that Sunday? When the public know that, they know who was the real murderer and outlaw—violator, at once, of common, statute, and divine law—the disturber of a city's peace on a quiet Sabbath—the despoiler of the domestic hearth, and the destroyer of the happiness of two families.

Ah, says some reader, but this is not fair—the rumseller didn't know that the man might not thus. True, perhaps—but suppose the man had been already crazy drunk, and applied for a knife or a gun; would not the community and the law hold him who should sell it accountable, if used as was the gun in this instance? Where is the real difference, morally, in the cases? And where were our city officers, that they made no attempt to ferret out the guilty outlaw who thus panders to the weakness and vice of his fellows? Verily, the voice of blood and woe crieth out to us, from the ground and the prison—why do ye suffer this great wrong? How long shall these things be? FACTS.

☞ The U. S. sloop-of-war Portsmouth, has been put in thorough repair at this station; and as her repairs are now completed, many of the men employed on her have been discharged.

She has been launched into the dock this week, and is now only waiting for a favorable time of wind and tide, to be floated out into the river—where the Constitution and Santee are lying at the Navy Yard wharf.

☞ At the Republican Caucus on Thursday evening, Mr. L. D. Spalding was unanimously nominated as candidate for Mayor. The gentleman, not being present, a committee of three were appointed to wait upon and notify him of his nomination. Mr. Spaulding then came in, and in a brief speech, signified his pleasure in accepting the nomination, and enjoined upon the people the necessity of immediate and strenuous exertions in order to secure the success of the Republican party.

ILLNESS OF T. L. HARRIS.—This able Representative from Illinois, who has just been returned to the next House by a very flattering vote, is dangerously ill.

TORNADO IN MISSISSIPPI.—The New Orleans papers of Friday contain details of the damage done by the hurricane which recently swept over a portion of Jasper county, Miss. The residence of Rev. Josiah Moody, a Methodist, located nine miles from Paulding, was demolished, instantly killing him and eight members of the family, and wounding several others.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Business to-day is entirely suspended in consequence of Thanksgiving.

The Times' Washington correspondent states that Secretary Cobb's table of estimates for the next fiscal year foots up $52,378,000. The expenses of the government for the first quarter of the present fiscal year were $21,700,000. Receipts same period $25,500,000. Collector Schell of New York has officially advised the Secretary that the importation of dutiable goods will increase next month so materially as to preclude any necessity for altering the tariff to replenish the treasury.

A young gentleman of twelve, and a young lady of eleven, of Albany, took a notion to elope, for the purpose of getting married, on Tuesday. They were overtaken by their anxious friends, who agreed that exactly seven years from that time the marriage should take place.

A venerable couple were married the other day at Parma, New York. The bridegroom, Mr. Job Dowd, was 70 years old, and the bride Mrs. Laura Moore, was 65. Each had been married twice before, and each had a large family.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—All communications for papers, consisting of items of news—facts political or incidental—are always gratefully received. But we would remind all who write for us that "brevity is the soul of wit," and that the best joke may be smothered in a superabundance of words. We wish none to write for us under the impression that length gives value to their contributions, or that we wish aid in filling up our paper; as condensation rather than elaboration constitutes the chief labor of an editor in presenting to the readers of a weekly paper the news that reaches him from day to day. A brief note communicating particulars of a fire, robbery or accident—even a marriage or death in any of the neighboring towns, not previously communicated to another paper—is more acceptable to us than a sheet full of words strung together merely for the purpose of making a long letter; in fact, the former are always received and profited by, while the latter are not unfrequently committed to the stove. Correspondents should bear in mind when writing for the press, that thousands of readers are to pass judgment upon their writings, if the editor does not reject them; and that many hits that may please a few immediate friends of the writer, who fully understand their application, will be pronounced flat and unprofitable by others who live miles remote and cannot understand their bearing. The authors of several long communications to us will understand by this why their labors have been fruitless.

FUN IN THE LYCEUM.—Rev. John Pierpont was engaged to deliver a poem and Hon. John P. Hale a lecture before the Mechanic Apprentices' Library Association in Boston on Monday evening; but when Mr. Pierpont was introduced he told his audience that in his hurry in leaving home he had left his poem behind him, and had nothing to offer but an apology. It was not good for much, he said, but was the best he had, and in his uncomfortable position he asked the sympathy of the audience. His remarks called forth hearty laughter and applause; and Mr. Hale, on being introduced, and received with loud applause, said that when he had heard the excuse of his venerable friend, and with what eclat it was received, he had almost wished that he had left his manuscript at home.—(Laughter.) But he was not so fortunate; he had it there, and they would have to hear it. He then proceeded to deliver his lecture, which according to the reports in the Boston papers was an excellent and eminently practical one. The Boston Journal says of it that it "was fully up to Mr. Hale's acknowledged high standard. It occupied a little over an hour, and called forth the liberal applause of the audience."

At a license suit recently tried in Cincinnati, a witness was called who did not taste the liquor, but testified positively that it was whiskey he saw sold and drank; for he could tell it a mile off. The counsel for defence asked him if he drank any of it.

"Drank any of it!" he asked: "why, no; don't you see I'm alive?"

There are three democratic papers in Maine in which we have not seen a single word of gratulation over the success of Douglas. Two of them have lots of government advertisements, and the other is edited by a Custom House officer.—Who believes they would have been so mum if the "little giant" had been defeated?—Bath Times.

Sometime ago there might be seen on the window of a little dirty shop, in an obscure part of London, this announcement:—"Goods removed, messages taken, carpets beat, and poetry composed on any subject."

The Senator who won the $180,000 at the Faro Bank of the "distinguished sportsman" recently deceased at Washington, is said to have been the Hon. James A. Pearce of Maryland.

Rev. J. H. Westfall, pastor of the Universalist Church in Lafayette, Ind., has been fined three dollars and costs for shooting the cow of his neighbor with duck shot and beans.

How many prayers have been forced like untimely figs, by the warmth of a little natural feeling; but such prayers are displaced by the old language of indifference and iniquity.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Nov. 16.—A locomotive near Newberry, N. C., exploded its boiler on Monday, killing the engineer and brakeman, and seriously wounding two others.

It is a good sign of a high tide of grace, when the sands of our own righteousness are covered.

ASSASSINATION OF NAPOLEON III.

By the last steamer we learn that what has been predicted by many, feared by some, and hoped for by others, has finally taken place, viz:—That they manufacture and sell more Cloaks and Raglans at Messrs. Allen & Paine's than at all the other stores together in Portsmouth. Also that they sell their garments and Ladies' Cloths, Broadcloths, Beavers and other Cloak goods, at much lower prices than any one else.

PERPETUAL MOTION DISCOVERED.—They are manufacturing twenty-five Cloaks per day, and some days are unable to meet the demand, so great is the rush for them in consequence of the latest styles, best of work, and very low prices at which they are sold, at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.—Our lady readers when they want a nice fitting garment go to Messrs. Allen & Paine's and have one made.—These go-a-head young gentlemen cut and make them right in their own store—and having a full new stock of Beaver and Broadcloths, in Black, Drabs, Peach Brown, &c., they are sure to suit every customer.

THE
BAY STATE RANGE.
The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having
Two Large Ovens
AND
Six Boiling Places.
The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.
A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.
THE RANGE IS
PERFECT IN ITSELF,
and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.
It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.
Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of
DOUBLE THICKNESS,
will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.
The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—
HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.
"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.
I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.
The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.
In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it, if unable to replace it."
Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

Indian Physician.

DR. B. S. GOODWIN

Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that are subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.

ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN. Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsy, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhea, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsy, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom once so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be matted and shrivelled, burnt and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your "Hair Restorative," it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Dyrch a'r Gwylledydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who consulted to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 25, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KNAP.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grew out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, healthy, good appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOYT.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds a pint and a half, more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Three Years of the severest trials, he would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have been commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your orders plainly and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prize fie in other lotteries.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of young men in our surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the time desired and the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred of these diseases have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are incurable from the effects of improper treatment.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutiny and friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with those who, physicians, are willing at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These Pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 dly

Dye your Hair and Whiskers.

BY using Hutchins' Liquid HAIR DYE, you can color Red or Gray Hair to a beautiful Brown or Black. This is the best article in use. A lady says it is cheaper to use it than to buy caps to cover her gray hair.

Look at that gentleman's whiskers—Hutchins' Hair Dye makes them look so handsome.

VOL. 13. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. SATURDAY, NOV. 20, 1858. NO. 94.

A Revolution in the Hunting World.

Reuthe's Patent Spring Gun Animal Trap.

More certain of its prey than the most perfect Rifle in the hands of the most experienced marksman, without lessening the value of Pelts or Skins, as is the case in ordinary mode of shooting, it effects the capture of the animal either dead or (if preferred) alive; the barrels discharging themselves, simultaneously with the hooks imbedding themselves in the mouth.

It is simple, yet strong and perfect in its construction neither cumbersome nor difficult to arrange.

There are three different sizes, which will effectually operate on Minks, Muskrats, Woodchucks, Otters, Wildcats, Lynx, Foxes, Wolves, Deer, Panthers, Tigers, Bears, Buffaloes, etc.; in fact, on all animals which repay hunting.

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
MY MOTHER'S SALVE

This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and WORLD-WIDE reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.

"My Mother's Salve" in a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.

Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A.M.Beck.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 78 State st, opposite Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the Claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to amass a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full models of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1858.

THE LOST FOUND.

We learn from the Concord Journal's correspondent in West Stewartstown, N.H. that on the 26th of October, Tuesday, John Brown, who had just removed with his family from the extreme eastern part of Colebrook, N. H., to Hereford woods, in Canada, and was preparing a waste house for their reception, sent John Brown, jr., 13 years old, accompanied by William Brown, aged 9 years, into the woods by the road side, to gather a basket of moss to stop the crevices between the logs of the house. This was about 2 o'clock, P. M.

As night approached without their return, he and his family became alarmed for their safety, hallooed and searched for them till darkness intervened, and renewed their efforts towards morning, after the moon rose, but without success. They then communicated intelligence of the fact to their neighbors, the nearest of whom were three miles distant. The startling news quickly spreading to Canaan Corner, Vt., West Stewartstown, N. H., and Hall's Stream, that these boys were lost in Hereford woods, and had passed a cold, freezing night, unhoused, unsheltered, aroused every one, and before noon from 50 to 100 men had reached the ground, and were ranging the woods.

They continued the search without avail till night closed upon them. The day was very pleasant, but before night, the ground commenced freezing, which it continued to do the depth of an inch or more.

Thursday morning, searchers were again stirring in increased numbers, and by 9 o'clock, the woods were being traversed by from 100 to 150 men for miles. But again night covered the earth, and no trace of the lost. One more night, and a night of rain, succeeded.

On Saturday, renewed efforts were put forth. Some old hunters just about dark, discovered traces which led to the supposition that the boys might have passed their first night there. This was the first token of their existence discovered, and it sent a thrill through the breast of every hearer, as news from the dead.

Sunday morning brought many fresh hands to the scene. One company taking then the imagined course, from the supposed trace discovered by the old woodsman, about noon came upon the objects of their long protracted and almost hopeless search; and found them both alive!

The elder lad, on discovering their approach, started up from the side of the other, seized the basket, and made an attempt to run. On being told to stop, for they would catch him, he obeyed, saying "Don't hurt me, I have been in the woods all night." The younger was sleeping at the root of a small cedar tree, with one arm around it, where he had lain, until by wriggling motions, occasioned probably by chilly and uneasy sensations, he had imbedded himself some inches deep in the loose soil. His arm was stiff and cold, and it was with difficulty and caution that it could be straightened so as to unloose its hold. The hands were black, and so were their feet; and the latter so swelled that the boots had to be cut before they could be stripped off.

The woods were made to ring again and again, horns and guns and shouts announced to all within hearing, the joyous result. The boys were taken up, and with a crowd constantly increasing, rushing from different parts of the woods to share in the exciting scene, they were carefully borne to the house and restored to their parents alive.

They were found two miles or two and a half miles from Brown's house. It appears they filled their basket with moss, and then went gathering gum from the spruce trees. In doing this they lost their way, became bewildered, and wandered in a course directly opposite the right direction. They seemed not at first aware that they had been out more than one night.—They were probably partially deranged after the first night. They stated that they heard the horns and firing, and saw men with guns and were afraid, and hid, themselves. They had probably passed most of the time after the first night, near where they were found, treading the ground around in a small circle, resembling, as old hunters state it, a moose yard. They had eaten nothing during the time.

It is a singular coincidence that the mother of the younger boy was lost in these same woods, and from the same house, and was not found till the third or fourth night. This was about the 10th of July, 1853. On that night she came to the camp of those searching for her. She had drawn milk from her own breasts for nutriment, and with that and a few berries, had sustained herself till found.

VERY LIBERAL.—The Trumpet, (Universalist organ,) says an exchange, announces that clergymen of all denominations will receive that paper without charge, if they desire it—"especially Baptists, Methodists and Orthodox Congregationalists!" The Congregational Journal remarks:

Perhaps the Trumpet can afford to be thus generous in the propagation of its doctrines. But it is less probable that many of the ministers so especially favored can afford to bestow a gratuitous standing upon an organ of deadly heresy, by allowing themselves to be thought its subscribers and patrons.

Uncle Toby remarked, as he read this, that such an offer is neither new nor strange. When he (Uncle T.) was editor of the New Hampshire Observer, about 30 years ago, he offered to give that paper to every minister in New Hampshire, of every denomination. Several availed themselves of the offer, who were not of his sect; but he never dreamed that they bestowed any standing on him, gratuitous or otherwise.

Again, Uncle Toby sent lately to Boston, and procured copies of Dr. Adams's and Rev. Mr. Dexter's sermons, full of "deadly heresies"—but he was not aware that he gave them any standing thereby.

Mr. Whittemore, of the Trumpet, with the gains and the scars of thirty years' encounter, certainly can ask or need no standing which his theological opponents can give him. But he is able to give away, for the good of the cause, a few papers; and is willing to do so to such ministers as desire it—not to those who do not

☞ A Romish priest at Philadelphia, last week, while performing the funeral services of a Catholic woman whose husband was present overwhelmed with grief, but was a Protestant in belief, proceeded to say to the congregation:

The husband of the deceased, now before you, is a perjured villain; he should be a moral leper; a social outcast; the jeer and scorn of every Christian man and woman. I am sorry to say that he is a countryman of my own, and I am glad that I can thank God he is not an American.

The husband has sued the priest for slander.

☞ There was a great gathering of friends of Douglas, at Chicago on the evening of the 17th,—and a torchlight procession half a mile long.—Mr. Douglas was called out, and responded in a short speech, congratulating the Democracy on their victory.

The official majority for Miller, the Republican candidate for State Treasurer, is 3573. The total vote for Dougherty, the administration candidate for the same office, is only 5025.—So it seems that Douglas's victory in Illinois, is not a democratic victory after all—not a triumph of the people, for a majority are opposed to him—but only a victory of his party, achieved by a Gerrymandering of the State, done by corrupt legislation.

☞ Theodore Eisfield, a celebrated German music teacher of New York, was passenger in the steamer Austria, and when she was burned, threw himself into the sea, and says he "swam for two hours and a half with his clothes on, without any support," when at last, after losing his strength and becoming insensible, he was picked up by a boat and carried on board the French bark Maurice.

☞ Clergymen have queer freaks occasionally, and the fact that they are sincere doesn't always secure success. Rev. E. Cone, Jr., a Universalist preacher out west, a while ago conceived the whim that it was wicked to receive a salary, but that it was the duty of every minister to do as St. Paul did, preach for nothing and support himself by manual labor. After a trial of two years, Mr. Cone says that way of living is "more than soul and body can stand," and he has concluded to settle at Osco, Michigan, on a salary.

BANK NOTE DETECTORS.—The investigation into the affairs of the Litchfield (Conn.) Bank, shows that $1,333 66 have been given to the Bank Note Detectors in New York, to induce them so to report the bills as to give them currency and an enhanced and fictitious value to the capital stock. The cashier, E. L. Houghton, states that Ramsey, the first owner or manager of the Bank, agreed to pay these Detectors $1000 "not to blow the Bank."

☞ The steam canal boat Fulton, with a Burbank propeller, made the trip from Buffalo to Rochester in 26 hours. This is the sixth trip this craft has made, each time with a full cargo. Her last load was 5000 bushels of wheat.

THE MILLIONAIRE AND THE DANSEUSE.—The following curious story is translated from a German paper:

A very pretty danseuse has lately created great excitement at Berlin. Mlle. Lilienthal made so many pirouettes one fine evening, on the stage of the Theatre Royal, that she turned the head of Herr Comptoir, a rich millionaire of Vienna, who was on a visit to the Prussian capital.—The beautiful limbs of the fair Terpsichore touched his heart so deeply that he demanded her hand in marriage. Of course you will say that she at once accepted the offer. Not at all. She made her conditions as follows: 1st, an apartment separate from that of her husband; 2d, a carriage and servants for herself; 3d, 15,000 francs a year for her toilette, and finally, (for she calculated everything,) 300,000 francs in case of separation. Mr. Comptoir submitted to these slightly unreasonable conditions, and last week all the gay world of Berlin witnessed in the Cathedral the marriage of the millionaire with the danseuse.

REV. MR. CROWE.—This gentleman labored over twelve years as a missionary in Spanish America. For the benefit of these people, by his efforts, a translation of the Bible was made; the only one available by them being defective. This accomplished, as a result of his special visits to Great Britain and this country, he returned to his needy people, and engaged in teaching. But persecution drove him away; sickness followed; and a few days ago he died in New York.

☞ The U. S. District Court at Buffalo has under consideration three suits against as many steam tugs employed in carrying passengers, a year ago last June, to the prize fight at Point Abino, Canada. These vessels were libeled for carrying passengers without having complied with the laws of the United States, requiring passenger steamers to be inspected and licensed.

☞ A New York letter says:—"A comfortable old Revolutionary died in Brooklyn, last Thursday, at the consolatory age of 104. David Davis was his name, but he hadn't much station. He enjoyed a pension, but not adequate to his support, and for a few years past has been fed and found by the kindness of friends."

FLORA TEMPLE AGAIN.—Flora Temple and Reindeer, of Chicago, trotted at Jackson Michigan, on the 10th instant, mile heats, in harness, best three in five, and the race was won by the little lady, in three straight heats, in 2:34—2:34—2:29. She was to return to Chicago immediately after this trot, and then pass on to St. Louis and Louisville.

MR. Senator Douglas, says the N. Y. News, was taken suddenly ill a few days since, of an illness painful and dangerous to herself, the consequences of which were doubtless the cause of much regret to her immediate family and friends generally.—She has, however, partially recovered, and is as well as could be expected.

☞ The Musical Convention recently held in Bangor, Me., proved a perfect success. All the counties of the State were represented with the exception of Oxford. The number present was, gentlemen 187. Ladies 471. Total 658.

☞ The greatest instance of impudence on record, is that of a Yankee, who, in an Italian city, stopped a religious procession, in order to light his cigar from one of the holy candles. Ere the procession recovered from its astonishment, the audacious smoker had calmly disappeared.

☞ The choir of Trinity Church, New York, consists at present of fourteen boys, with the proper number of altos, tenors, and basses. The number of boys is to be augmented to twenty. The treble are all boys;—no women in the choir.

☞ Rhinehart, the murderer at Lexington, Minnesota, of the Massachusetts man Bodell, was convicted on the 6th inst.—The jury took him from the court room and hung him immediately after returning the verdict and hearing the sentence.

☞ The Hartford Times learns that on Sunday last many people living west of Middletown, went to church in that city in sleighs.

☞ Isaac B. Woodbury, the well-known musical composer, died at Columbia, S.C., on Tuesday, Oct. 26th, aged 39 years.—He was a native of Beverly, Mass.

☞ Col. Enoch Train, lately one of the kings of commerce in Boston, has gone to New Orleans to retrieve, in a new business enterprise, if possible, his broken fortunes.

☞ A man in Philadelphia was recently fined $16 for swearing, and $5 for getting drunk.

PHYSIOLOGICAL CURIOSITY.—There is in New York a man from Hamburg, 28 years old, who has for some time past been regarded with interest by the physicians of Europe, in consequence of having no breast-bone. Dr. Mott, of the University Medical College, examined him, and thought the substance in place of the usual bone was cartilage. The reader should know that usually the ribs of the opposite sides are by cartilage (gristle) connected to a flat bone (the sternum, or breast-bone) situated at the front of the chest. But in this anomalous case, though there is no breast-bone, the ribs of the two sides do not meet in front; but there is a groove instead of the common breast-bone. This groove, usually an inch in width, can be distended to three inches. The Post says:

A pulsatile swelling is seen opposite the third and fourth ribs. If respiration be suspended, it rapidly rises to an enormous extent, and remains full and tense till breathing is resumed, when it subsides. This is the heart. Between the clavicles (collar-bones) is another pulsatile swelling, easily felt, which is the aorta, the great artery from the heart. The dilation and contraction of the lung is also seen. In coughing, the right lung suddenly protrudes from the chest through the groove, and ascends a considerable distance above the right clavicle into the neck."

In the man's album are the signatures of more than two thousand of professional and eminent persons that have examined this remarkable case. He has come to America for the purpose of exhibiting himself to medical men. He is a curiosity, certainly. So says Life Illustrated.

A NEW TERRITORY.—Last week the Amesbury Villager published a proclamation for Thanksgiving in Delaware, signed by Governor Delaware.

This week the Villager explains what seemed to us a riddle, by saying:

The Proclamation extraordinary, published by us last week, had reference to the disputed territory in South Hampton, whereby the right to vote by Mr. Delaware whose house is situated on the state line, was refused by the selectmen of that town at the last election. Mr. Delaware brought a suit against the officers, but at the last term of the Court in Portsmouth, the Grand Jury refused to find a bill. Thus Mr. D. finds that he is neither a citizen of Massachusetts or New Hampshire, and has very wisely organized a territory of his own, and appointed himself Governor, and now issues his proclamation for Thanksgiving like any other sensible New England Governor.

☞ The Governor of Arkansas recommends the passage of a law prohibiting the circulation of bank notes of a less denomination than fifty dollars.

DIVIDEND.—The Northern Railroad (N. H.) has declared a dividend of $2 per share, payable Dec. 1, to holders of stock on Nov. 16.

☞ The New York Journal of Commerce says the city milk is becoming bluer and bluer every day. Another "stump tail" panic is much needed.

☞ A young woman in Portland broke a glass lamp while ironing, on Wednesday, and was so burnt by the fluid, that she died on Thursday.

A Cincinnati reporter says of a very elegant female pickpocket: "She rarely speaks to any one; is always quiet, gentle, smiling and genteel; comes like a sunbeam, and like it, also, steals noiselessly away."

AN AUTHOR'S END.—Richard Kearney, the author of the Life of Col. Talbot, and at various periods an editor of different Canadian Journals, and whose reputation was, at one time, quite extensive among the literary circles of Canada, died recently in Chatham, and was buried at the expense of the Corporation.

A lawyer asked a Dutchman in court what car-marks a pig had that was in dispute. Well, he had no ear mark except a very short tail.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

CHRONIC DIARRHŒA.—In nothing is the tonic power of the PERUVIAN SYRUP more strikingly shown, than in the prevention and cure of Chronic Diarrhœa. The tone of the diseased mucous membrane seems to be restored, its irritability disappears, the digestion and absorption of nutriment are duly performed, the discharges become natural, and health is soon re-established.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.
Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand pores or pretty tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of GARDNER'S PARISIAN PIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.
The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It effectually eradicates Blotches in Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

LOSS OF TIME.
Persons afflicted with disease unnecessarily lose much time. No remedy, in these days, is fit to be taken in the human system, unless it will, in a few days, exhibit some favorable symptoms of restoring the patient to health. RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, for all acute pains, instantly proves its efficacy. The moment it is applied, the most excruciating pains are relieved, and the most violent irritations allayed. If Rheumatism, or Stiffness of the Joints, or Weakness in the Back, or Lumbago, or Pain in the Side, or Dysentery, or Diarrhœa trouble you, Radway's Ready Relief will in a few minutes free you from your painful condition.—Bear in mind, no pain will exist where the Ready Relief is applied.
For Scrofula, Syphilis, Sores, Rickets, Night Sweats, Bad Coughs, Consumption, Salt Rheum, in three days Radway's Renovating Resolvent will make a favorable change.
Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Liver Complaint, take one of Radway's Regulators on going to bed.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.
THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, and flavored with the tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.
It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.
Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.
Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."
It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travelers exposed to changes of weather and climate.
For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of immitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.
May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st; M. Davis & Co., 51 Blackstone st; E. A CARD TO THE LADIES.
DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES:
Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Blenses.
THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.
Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, and by Druggists in Dover, Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.
N. B—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

FRIDAY, Nov. 19.

In the case No. 36, Fellows vs. Fellows, the jury have agreed on a verdict, sealed it up, and will bring it in on Saturday morning.

The case Goodall vs. Claggett is on trial and will probably be finished on Saturday.

☞ Thursday morning Albert Witham, aged about 38 years, and Luke Russell, aged about 33 years, prisoners in the jail at Amherst, N. H., effected their escape, and a reward of $200 is offered for their apprehension.

☞ Neal Dow was elected a Representative from Portland, to the Maine Legislature, on Thursday, without opposition.

☞ The grand jury have ignored the bill against Cairnes, the New York policeman who shot a prisoner in attempting to escape.

A DEGENERATE SON.—The Memphis Advocate states that James B. Clay has sold the residence of Henry Clay, Ashland, for 200,000 acres of Texan land. This degenerate scion of a noble stock had better change his name.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—A large amount of counterfeit notes on the National Bank of Austria were recently disposed of to several of our shrewdest Wall street brokers. The fraud was not discovered until the return of the bills in the steamer Vanderbilt. Three Germans have been arrested.

An infamous hoax was practiced on the poor yesterday, through a notice in one of the papers that a gratuitous distribution of provisions would take place in the morning in Union Par , and giving the names of a dozen respectable citizens as the almoners. Nearly 3000 persons with their baskets waited in the square for hours.

The Times' Washington correspondent says it is now considered certain by the friends of Gen. Walker that his expedition will not be interfered with by the naval forces of the United States or Great Britain. From information which they have obtained as to the instructions in reference to the clearance sent to the Collector of Mobile, they are sure that no difficulty will be experienced there.

A young man named Daniel Stackpole was murdered yesterday at Harlem, by some members of a company of target excursionists from this city. Three persons were arrested.

SPIRITUALOPATHY.—There is a new school of medicine. The Rev. Mr. Pierpont being ill, and getting no relief from a mundane physician, applied to his old doctor, who was dead, and in due time received a prescription that cured him. The Medical Society shoul look to this. The doctors already dead cannot be prevented from this unprofessional interference with the patients of their surviving brethren; but the living might be bound by new rules which should apply after their decease.—This thing, if allowed, will be the ruin of all regular practice. Fortunately people cannot get their newspapers from the other world.—Providence Journal.

MULE RACE (The Slowest to Win).—The Norfolk Argus describes a donkey race that came off at the Fair Grounds near that city, last Friday, which afforded much amusement to the crowds in attendance. About a dozen mules were entered, and the race was a decidedly rich affair.—It was decided by the judges that the animals belonging to Col. Herbert and W. H. Talbot, Esq., were slower in their movements that the rest; the contest therefore then took place between these, and Mr. Talbot's donkey proving to be the slower of the two, of course won the race and came of victorious. One of the riders was thrown, but was not seriously injured.

COULDN'T CATCH 'EM.—Yesterday morning, just as the express train for New York started out of the depot, an elderly gentleman rushed down the stairs, in a state of great excitement, and called out loudly:—"Stop the train, sir." His order not being obeyed, he followed after the cars at a rapid gait, and the last seen of him he was "going it strong" toward the causeway, but with little prospect of getting aboard.

Moral.—Better wait for the cars than to trust to their waiting for you.—New Haven Journal.

RELIGIOUS.—The Congregationalist, of Friday, says—"In Boston all things give promise of a winter of remarkable religious interest. Sabbath congregations, so far as we can learn, are well attended; prayer meetings are more than usually full and interesting; individuals seem to be conscious, in some measure, of the necessity that is laid upon them of working while the day lasts, and everything in and around this city seems to show the budding and first blossoming of religious hope."

BLUE ITEMS.

It was found to be impossible to examine Patrick McGeon in Boston on Thursday, on a charge of killing his wife, as he was suffering from a severe attack of the "horrors," or delirium tremens, as it is usually called.

A few days since a woman, named McCabe, died in East Cambridge, from excessive drinking. The police ascertained that the woman obtained the poison at a shop kept by a woman named Conlin.—They proceeded to the place and demolished the stock of liquors, and broke up the establishment. About the same time they destroyed the contents of a tippling shop kept by John Mahan, and another kept by one Conley.

A prosecution has been commenced against Mr. Batchelder, landlord of the Spring Hotel, Watertown, for violation of the liquor law under the following circumstances: On Sunday, a painter named Hooton, who has on several occasions earnestly endeavored to reform his drinking habits, while at the hotel and under the influence of liquor, did considerable damage to the fixtures of the bar, and the united force of several men was required to secure him. The next day the barkeeper of Batchelder made a complaint against Hooton as a common drunkard, on which he was sentenced to the House of Correction for two months. He was also fined for the damage committed in the barroom, with two additional months imprisonment if the fine was not paid. This result greatly excited the young men belonging to the engine company of the town of which Hooton was a member.—Some of them had been in the habit of visiting the hotel, and these persons, to the number of about ten, after returning from the fire in Newton on Monday night, went into the hotel, and each purchased a glass of liquor. It is for selling this liquor that the complaint against Batchelder was instituted.

WHAT THE IRISH ARE DOING IN AMERICA. John Mitchell relates as follows what he thinks the Irish are doing in America:

Every Irishman in the Southern States, without exception, who can afford to buy negroes, straightways buys them. Some of the largest and most successful planters in the Southern States are born Irishmen:—and the finest plantation that has been purchased in America for many years, with 500 negroes upon it, was last winter sold in Louisiana; the purchaser was an Irishman. Not only is there a large number of Irish-born citizens at the South who own slaves, but most of the Southern planters and slaveholders, we are proud to say, are Irish by descent. Our acquaintance with Irish-born citizens at the South is very extensive; and we never met with one of them who was not in favor of reviving the old slave trade with Africa, save one; and he is a very large slaveholder, and wants no more. Irish citizens at the North, tho' they have no personal interest in slavery, almost universally give their votes to let it alone, (which is all that is asked of them,) because they have no business with it, no responsibility for it, because it exists under the constitution; by which same constitution their own rights and liberties exist; and because its enemies have proved themselves to be their enemies.

SHARP REPLY.—A correspondent of the New York Tribune furnishes the following:

Mr. James N. Buffum of Lynn, who is a self taught man of much intelligence was a witness in some case in which Otis P. Lord, Esq., was counsel on the other side. In the course of his testimony he made use of the expression "philosophically speaking." Mr. Lord caught it up and twisted it as best he could, to make the witness ridiculous. The matter in dispute had something to do with the strength of hogsheads. "Supposing the air was exhausted from a hogshead," asked Mr. Lord, "what part of it would give way first?" "The head of course," replied the witness. "Ah, the head!" returned Mr. Lord, with a glance at the jury to prepare them for fun, "now Mr. Witness, as you are a great philosopher can you tell the jury the reason why, 'philosophically speaking,' the head should give way first?" "Because," answered the witness, "hogsheads are like some lawyers, their heads are the weakest part of them."

A free negro woman living on the free side of the Ohio river, induced ten slaves in Kentucky to attempt an escape from their master, agreeing to ferry them across the river, but the negroes missed the place of rendezvous, and were in consequence overtaken and recaptured by their owner, who would otherwise have suffered a loss of $8000 or $10,000. The woman, who had crossed to search for the party, was also captured and lodged in jail.

ASSASSINATION OF NAPOLEON III.

By the last steamer we learn that what has been predicted by many, feared by some, and hoped for by others, has finally taken place, viz:—That they manufacture and sell more Cloaks and Raglans at Messrs. Allen & Paine's than at all the other stores together in Portsmouth. Also that they sell their garments and Ladies' Cloths, Broadcloths, Beavers and other Cloak goods, at much lower prices than any one else.

PERPETUAL MOTION DISCOVERED.—They are manufacturing twenty-five Cloaks per day, and some days are unable to meet the demand, so great is the rush for them in consequence of the latest styles, best of work, and very low prices at which they are sold, at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.—Our lady readers when they want a nice fitting garment go to Messrs. Allen & Paine's and have one made.—These go-a-head young gentlemen cut and make them right in their own store—and having a full new stock of Beaver and Broadcloths, in Black, Drabs, Peach Brown, &c., they are sure to suit every customer.

CONVENIENCE.

THE
BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having

Two Large Ovens
AND
Six Boiling Places.

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS
PERFECT IN ITSELF,
and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of
DOUBLE THICKNESS,
will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—
HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it, if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

Indian Physician.

Dr. R. S. GOODWIN

Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.

ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN. Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsey, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!

Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself prepared for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye never so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will look more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all concerned an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1853.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Dryck a'r Gwyliedydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '53.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concealed to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CLARKE.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KIDDE.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up grow out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOTZ.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: the small, (or half a pint,) the small size holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove almost all morbid or bad matter from the system, thus supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and strength to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

Only one dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents Nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently; a dose or two reverses them.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

One dose of Rhubarb and Magnesia will cure Cholera Morbus.

One dose relieves Costiveness.

One dose will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

One dose relieves Dysentery.

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all yellowness or unnatural redness from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures the most Diarrhœa in its worst form, while Summer Complaint, Bowel Complaints, yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing has labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, he would invite the earnest attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over shingles or 1 in. at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings and everything else pertaining connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year, he has cured more than twenty thousand cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the regular path, for be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

THE BULLIES AND THEIR EMPLOYERS.—The New York Express says the reason why so much importance is given in New York to the prize fighters, the bruisers and the men of the ring, arises from the fact that they are the creators of the government—the substratum upon which judges even are made, members of Congress, State legislators, and the city government. They run the "Primary Machine"—and it is the Primary Machine that makes nominations, and it is nominations that make elections. The Primary Machine is the creation of the bruiser, because it is the bruisers of society alone that in a miscalled primary election can drive off and beat off the non-fighting members of society, or alone secure the inspectors of "the primary election" to have votes counted as desired.

The importance of a bruiser in the eye of the Federal Government is seen in the fact that while a huge-paw hod-carrier receives only one dollar per day, or an honest carpenter his one dollar and fifty cents, the "Benicia Boy" receives an appointment under Collector Schell worth fifteen hundred dollars per year—about five dollars per day—with only three or four hours work to do, and that very easy. Now Collector Schell is the creature of the President of the United States—and it Collector Schell did not appoint bruisers and boxers to run the Primary Machine, the appointment would not be satisfactory to the Federal Government and he would be removed.—Louisville Journal.

A JOLLY LIFE.—Insects generally must lead a truly jovial life. Think what it must be to lodge in a lilly. Imagine a palace of ivory or pearl, with a pillar of silver and capitals of gold all exhaling such a perfume as never rose from human censor. Fancy again the fun of tacking yourself up for the night in the folds of a rose, rocked to sleep by the gentle sigh of the summer air, nothing to do when you wake but to wash yourself in a dew drop and fall to and eat your bed-clothes.

A BAD SYMPTOM.—It is rumored that a new Douglas paper is to be started in Washington. There is no surer way to kill a candidate for the Presidency. More politicians die of organs than of any other disease, except, possibly, the flux verborum. If Mr. Douglas intends to run in 1860 he would do well to dissuade his friends from pushing him. The people have a constitutional aversion to being coerced even into going their own way.—N. Y. Times.

A Revolution in the Hunting World.

Reuthe's Patent Spring Gun Animal Trap.

More certain of its prey than the most perfect Rifle in the hands of the most experienced marksman, without lessening the value of Pelts or Skins, and saves in ordinary mode of shooting, it effects the capture of the animal either dead or (if preferred) alive: the barrels discharging themselves, simultaneously with the hooks imbedding themselves in the mouth.

It is simple, yet strong and perfect in its construction neither cumbersome nor difficult to arrange.

There are three different sizes, which will effectually operate on Mink, Woodchucks, Otters, Wildcats, Lynx, Foxes, Wolves, Deer, Panthers, Tigers, Bears, Buffaloes, etc.; in fact, on all animals which repay hunting.

UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN PATENT AGENCY.
SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington,
HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations procured, of applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Reissues and extensions procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through my well and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office. He has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1858.

For the Chronicle.

DEMOCRACY.

It must be that every one who bears in mind the multifarious crimes and iniquities of the Democratic party, is disposed to consider that to be a Democrat is to be the veriest wretch that ever stepped upon the Creator's footstool.

Although the vocabulary of Billingsgate has been exhausted to show the wickedness of the wretched Democratic party, there are still many people so lost to all sense of honor and shame as to be willing to acknowledge themselves Democrats. Such people should become more enlightened, and endeavor to extricate themselves from this "Slough of Despond."

Indeed, Nero himself, were he upon the earth, would blush to acknowledge himself guilty of the crimes daily committed by the Democrats. But perhaps their deeds appear more odious because the Republican lights are not put under bushels.

Is a man drunk, he must be a Democrat. Is a man a rubber, he must be a Democrat. Is a man disorderly, he must be a Democrat. Is a man guilty of being born in a foreign land, he must be a Democrat; unless he is willing to acknowledge his penitence or deny his paternity, like some of the Republican office-holders of New Hampshire.

If a man be guilty of being a Democrat, he never should hold any office of emolument or profit, and never should have any public employment whatever. It is a wicked thing that a Republican should be turned out of office; but no Democrat, in the very nature of things, can be a suitable man for a public office; and if any be found in office they should be removed at the earliest possible convenience. No Democrat is considered by our legislature, learned or conscientious enough to sit upon the judicial bench and deal out justice upon other wicked men. All Democratic selectmen must be very ignorant, or great rascals and perjurers. They don't know how to count, or if they do know, they are always sure to throw out twenty or thirty Republican votes.

No Democratic office-holder ought to be allowed to interfere at elections; this is the special province of Republican Sheriffs, Deputy Sheriffs, and militia officers

Although carpenters may be naturally Democrats, they ought never to be allowed to work upon any Navy Yard in the United States. They are notoriously bad men, as a class. A very good plan has been adopted in some of the mills, not a thousand miles from ———, of stationing overseers at the several avenues to the mills, and forcing the male operatives to vote rightly. Some such crushing operation as this should be adopted among other laborers. This has worked well, so that it is very hard for the Democratic dynasty to carry its sway in manufacturing villages.

No Democratic Representative can ever be elected to the General Court in any temperance community, because before joinining in maudlin revelries, they can't make a temperance speech; and before engaging in the liquor business, they can't fake the dear people believe in their pretensions to temperance and other virtues.

No Republican ever bribes voters—nobody but a Democrat would be guilty of that.

No enlightened or learned man ever was a Democrat; to be a Republican is synonymous with being an educated man.

A VIRTUOUS REPUBLICAN.

MORE CASHMAIRE DISCOVERED. — Commodore Sinclair, of the United States ship Vandalia, while cruising for three men belonging to the ship Wild Wave, which had been wrecked on the island of Osno, and who afterwards reached Tahiti in a boat of their own construction, visited the little island of Soosahoogah, where he found six white men—three Americans and three Englishmen—who have lived there fourteen years, and had so completely identified themselves with the natives as not to desire to leave.

☞ A dispatch from St. John, N. B., of Nov. 17, says winter weather has set in unusually early. The St. John river has been frozen since the 12th inst. solid enough to admit of the passage of light teams.—There is also considerable snow in the interior. Business of all kinds is nearly at a stand-still, and unless the timber and ship trade revives, there cannot fail to be much suffering there during the ensuing winter and spring.

In all the wedding cake, hope is the sweetest of the plums.

ABOUT JAPAN.

Money in Japan, and Religion also, differ in fashion and form from ours, but not so much in substance.

Gold in Japan does not hold the value it does in other countries. With us, the relative value of gold and silver is as 1 to 16: in Japan as 1 to 5 1-2. Thus $16 in gold in our money is worth only $5 50 in Japan. It would be a good commercial speculation to collect Japanese coin at the above valuation, and ship them to other countries. But the government will not permit coin to be taken out of the country. After the next 4th of July, however, the difference between Japanese and foreign coinage will be equalized, which arrangement will, of course, enhance the value of Japanese money, and add to the national wealth.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger relates the following notable incident:

Now, I am going to mention a most interesting fact. Day before yesterday, August 1, 1858, I attended divine service upon the soil of Japan. We had our chaplain, Rev. Henry Wood, in a large heathen temple, several good voices, and near a hundred of ourselves, officers and men from this ship and the Mississippi. The temple was the residence assigned Mr. Harris, and that gentleman and his secretary were, of course, present. We had the Episcopal morning service, two hymns, and a very appropriate sermon. This, I suppose, was the first Protestant service ever held in Japan. "Glory be to God on high, and on earth peace and good-will toward men."

BEAUTIFUL RETRIBUTION.—One Batchelder, of Watertown, Mass., tavern keeper, got his bar-keeper to complain of a poor fellow named Hooton, as a common drunkard. Hooton went to the House of Correction.

Now turn the tables. Hooton was a fireman, and his comrades, who went with the machine to a fire soon after, called in at Batchelder's, where ten of them bought drinks. Next day they brought an action against Batchelder, as a common seller. Justice Ladd sentenced defendant to pay a fine of $50 and costs, to be imprisoned three months in the House of Correction, and to give bonds in $1000 not to sell again. He appealed and was bound over in $300 for trial at East Cambridge on the 2d Monday of February.

He must either pay up his bonds, or go to the House of Correction.

TUMBLE DOWN BUILDINGS.—In Albany, N. Y., Nov. 19, in the morning, the entire front of the large brick building on Quay street, in which Shepard & Co. had stored several thousand bushels of grain, fell into the road, and some 4000 or 5000 bushels of oats were thrown out with the bricks into the street.

In the new Arsenal, New York City, Nov. 19, early in the morning, the flooring fell, crushing everything in its way, and prostrating most of the side and partition walls. A portion of the wall fell on an adjoining house, crushing in the roof, and severely injuring a woman lying in bed.—The building was in process of erection and nearly completed. It was built of stone; was 200 feet long, 100 wide, and 60 high. Loss $50,000 or $60,000.—Serves them right, when they build such crazy shanties.

There was no person injured, the fall occurring before the arrival of the workmen.

☞ In New York city, Nov. 19, Mr. John Hecker, the well-known banker, entered a suit for libel against the Sun and the Herald, for publishing the spurious notice of the Thanksgiving day. Mr. Hecker is one of parties whose names were attached to the notice. Another one of the reputed signers was attacked in the streets to-day by a mob of victims of the hoax, and his life threatened. He escaped with the aid of the police, who arrested several of the assailants.

☞ Some pedantic newspapers, great and small, are making themselves very unhappy because Edward Everett has promised to write for the New York Ledger, to pay for the $10,000 donation to the Washington fund. Mr. Everett has done wisely in this,—and the snobs cannot help themselves.

☞ The fusion of the Washington States and the South papers is not favorably regarded by the friends of Douglas, some of whom assert that it is merely a combination to take from Wendell the printing of Congress, he having bought out both the Senate and the House printers.

DANGER FROM CRYSTALS.—A New Orleans dispatch received at the Merchants' Exchange, Boston, states that the river is rising slightly, and some fears were entertained of crevasses at Reaves and other places where the levees owed in last spring.

A PEEP INTO THE HAREM.—A lady gives the following graphic account of the interior of the Sultan's Harem, in a letter to the Boston Transcript:

I have not entered any private harems since my last letter, but I have entered the Sultan's harem. This may startle you like the distant rustling of a thousand hoop skirts; it is none the less true. The golden key was requisite, however, for in hard times even majesty is venal; but I got my money's worth of sight-seeing without looking through stereoscopes. Believe me when I say that, attended by many a tourist, I entered the broad seraglio gate, passed through several vestibules, courts, halls, and gardens, and finally reached the cluster of buildings where the city of woman is found, with one sallow man for Mayor, several hundred blacks for aldermen, and as many bostandjis for police, with more than fifteen thousand troops outside to prevent surprise, and the civilized world at a respectful distance, looking at fancy pictures of that humbug existence called romantic harem life! I was looking on the reality. There were the hanoems and the odalicks, to the number of several hundred, chewing mastic or smoking—in short, doing anything but something!

Hugs were they in their dimensions, and so naturally hooped by nice food, that French fashion would not improve their rotundity. Such a drawing of veils was there at our appearance, and such a scampering, that, as their heels played to gain distance, they seemed to concentrate all modesty in their faces! May I never see that virtue again in such extreme agitation! One would have thought that a great dish of lobsters was boiling over and piled into the Yeshil Kiosh. We did not follow them long, but lingering in their rooms gazed at their simpl furniture and their toys lying about in wild confusion. Their beds were without steads, being mere piles of wool mattresses. I might enlarge on the beauty of the place, surrounded by the grandeur, but that is not my purpose. I look deeper than the surface. This conglomeration of female loveliness is monopolized by one man; for he receives and even gives away and sells. He is the great wife-source of all the Pashas, who consider themselves most honored when they receive their brides from his hand.

Remember, therefore, that the harem in the Sultan's seraglio is, in most cases, only the half-way station where beauty stops on her way to her last husband, or, if refractory, to a sack, or to the prison of women, lying near the seraglio. How many an innocent victim has sailed down that phlegethonic Bosphorus to death! Here are met the ridiculous and the horrid, face to face! How long will these things be so for the sake of the balance of power which lately bespattered the Crimea with the brains of a million of Europe's bravest sons?

NOT IN THE BILLS.—The Baltimore Dispatch recounts a scene which occurred at the Holiday street Theatre a few evenings since, which was not in the bills, and which however mortifying it may have been to the young lady concerned, provoked the risibilities of those who witnessed it to an irrepressible degree;

A fine looking young woman in more than the usual amplitude of crinoline, entered with her beau and was making her way through the already well filled seats to the front row of the dress circle, where places had been reserved for them. To do so, with the bold freedom of feminine Young America, she stepped upon the seats, when unfortunately, her hoop, or rather the lower hoop of her skeleton skirt, caught upon the back of one of the seats as she swept by, and the fastening about the waist parting, the whole concern came down "by the run," and as she stepped forward and out of it, was left hanging in full view upon the seat.

The change was astonishing; the full blown belle at one moment, the next looked like a lamp post with a silk dress tied around it. For a moment also the young lady was quite unconscious of the accident. In another she saw the full extent of it, and blushing crimson sank into her seat, and for the next half hour had undoubtedly the most brilliant complexion in the audience.

SYMPATHY FOR THE LOSS.—The Manchester American says:

There was a large Social Gathering at the Town Hall in Deerfield on the evening of the 17th inst., chiefly to raise funds towards making up the loss recently sustained by Rev. James Barnaby in the recent burning of the Baptist parsonage in that place. The several clergymen of the town were present, and Rev. Mr. Jones from Northwood. Remarks of sympathy and kindness were made by several. Col. Peter Sanborn of Concord was present, and in behalf of some friends in Concord put into the hands of Rev. Mr. Barnaby, $100 in money, and $40 in articles of utility. Rev. Mr. B. is a great loser by the late fire, in books, manuscripts and furniture to the amount of about $3000, $500 of which has been already made up.

☞ John Gotham, aged 22, a native of Lancaster, had his thigh crushed by a gravel train, near Manchester, and died in a few hours, while doctors were amputating—He fell off the train by some blunder.

GIVING UP.—Some of the liquor dealers, as we understand, are closing their places of business. As this act is voluntary, we may suppose the people are amending, and business is dull.—New Bedford Mercury.

Perhaps so: but besides this, the people are moving for a gentle reformation, moral and legal.

UN ANGE DE PLUS.

In Memory of Mrs. M. L. Sweetser.

BY AMIE.

One more, one angel more
To love and bless me in the realms Elysian—
And shall I then deplore
The weary form, now lost to earthly vision?

Not dead, not dead thou art!
I'll say the loving angels came and took thee—
Such sorrow is thy heart,
I marvel they so long did overlook thee.

Widowed, and frail and lone,
Thy skies grew starless, and thy journeying dreary;
By sad states, one by one,
Life's anthem changed into a miserere.

How thy last years have waned,
A long Gethsemane of bitter trial!
Yet all the cup was drained
With saintly patience, and meek self-denial.

Thy soul, which through all woes,
In God's dear love its child-like trust still centred,
Shall find a long repose,
Where pain is past and doubt hath never entered.

To worship, learn and love,
Was the true life of thy pure, gentle spirit—
Now thou canst win above
Celestial manna to sustain and cheer it.

A Higher love than ours,
Shall light thy scatter'd band in pathways dreary;
They walk 'mid life's first flowers,
And yet the thorns have made their young feet weary.

Lose not for them, nor me,
One moment's bliss now thou hast but attained it—
Rest will be sweet to thee,
And heaven grows nearer far, since thou hast gained it.

To mar heaven's melodies
There steals no echo of earth's mournful minor—
So thou, in realms of bliss
Shall chant, with one beloved, a strain diviner.

Oh, long-tried friend of years,
Thy love reads backward like some sweet evangel:
Yet, weeping lonely tears,
I smile to think thou art a raptured angel.

Still in that love I trust—
Supreme o'er death, since deathless is its essence:
For, putting off the dust,
Thou hast but blessed me with a nearer presence.

I wait no more, alas,
The written page thy thoughts have consecrated—
The solemn years must pass,
Bearing no message thy warm love hath freighted.

'As the swift weeks sped round
Thy friendship music made, by word or token—
Missing the late's dear sound,
I'll dream the hand but rests—the strings unbroken.

And so for this, for all,
I breathe no selfish plaint—no faithless murmur—
On me the snow-flakes fall—
But THOU hast gained the sweet perpetual summer.

Striking a plaintive string,
Like some poor harper at a palace portal,
I wait without, and sing,
While those I love glide in, and dwell Immortal.

I bless God that the dawn
Of His dear peace hath closed thy night of sorrow:
My feet are journeying on,
I shall o'ertake thee on some sweet to-morrow.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SALT RHEUM.—There is no disease of the skin so distressing and obstinate as the chronic forms of eczema, commonly called Salt Rheum. Persons of the highest social position, have been cured of this in a surprisingly short time by the PERUVIAN SYRUP—like all other cutaneous affections, Salt Rheum must yield to its powerful action on the absorbents and to its tonic and alterative qualities.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have spent three thousand prescriptory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of GARDNER'S PARISIAN PIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, and in all cases previous to attending opera or evening party.

The original receipt has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It will completely in a few hours Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED. THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from second Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable medicinal properties of vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, GRAVEL, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable medicinal properties of vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as to travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and respectable merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER is IMPORTED.

The Great English Remedy.

SIR JAMES CLARKE'S

Celebrated Female Pills.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES

it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

Sole Agent for the United States and Canada

JOB MOSES,

(late I. C. BALWDIN & CO.,) Rochester, N. Y.

N. B.—$1 and 4 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

CITY ELECTION.

There are some pleasant circumstances in relation to the City Election, which is to take place on Tuesday,—viz., that the two candidates for the office of Mayor, are both men of unquestionable integrity and dignity of character; and that there is not to be a great out-pouring of partizan wrath and bitterness, if we may judge by the mild tone of the articles which we copy in another column, from the Journal and Gazette.

We hope to see an early and general attendance at the polls, for the election of good boards of Aldermen and Common Council is really a matter of importance.

We need some important improvements in town affairs—one is, to pay the Mayor a decent salary. The present sum is mean, —not to say contemptible. We should pay a city marshal $500, and require him to spend his time for the city. And we should pay the Street Commissioner at least as large a sum, and let him make it his sole business to take care of streets and roads.

We are not about now to find fault with the manner in which these officers have done their duty for the past year,—but only to find fault with the system of half-pay and scant appropriations!

On the contrary we are for adequate appropriations, fair salaries, good streets and roads thoroughly made, an efficient police, and good order!

We want men in Council who will give us all these,—and give us thus a fair equivalent for taxes.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

PORTSMOUTH, SATURDAY, Nov. 20.

The jury rendered a verdict for the defendant, in the case Fellows vs. Fellows.—The former verdict was the same. This case, it is to hopod, is now settled.

The case of Goodall vs. Claggett was settled by the parties.

Sargent vs. Noyes, action on account for board of colt. The defence set up, was, no contract to pay. Bartlett for plff; Marston for deft.

The Court comes in to-day, (Monday) when the jury will bring in a verdict.

GREAT FALLS & SOUTH BERWICK BRANCH RAILROAD.—We are glad to inform the public, as we to-day shew them in our advertising columns, of the re-opening of this road, giving Portsmouth by means of the Portsmouth, Saco, & Portland R. R., a connection with South Berwick, Salmon Falls, Great Falls, Rochester and Wakefield, and all other towns in the eastern section of the State. The Great Falls & S. Berwick Branch R. R. is an important road for Portsmouth; although it is a short piece of road in itself, by reason of its connection with the Conway Road at Great Falls, and the Cocheco Road at Rochester, we have the advantage of lines of railroad forty four miles in length, going through a prosperous country, whose nearest avenue to market is by way of Portsmouth.—We hope the public will so encourage the unremitting labors of the Trustees of the road, in surmounting the heavy obstacles in the way of its re-opening, as to give it that generous support which it deserves, and which its important relation to the growth and prosperity of Portsmouth demands.

A LOCOMOTIVE LEAP.—The Cincinnati Gazette states that an inexperienced man set out with an engine from the little Miami Railroad depot in that city the other day, to bring in some empty cars, but espying a locomotive coming towards him on the same track, he reversed his engine and jumped off. The locomotive, thus left to itself, returned to the depot over a down grade at a tremendous speed, and bursting through an eighteen inch wall, leaped across two road tracks—one about ten feet below the other—without touching either, and embedded itself in a huge pile of coal seventy-five feet from the depot. Before reaching the depot an accidental change of the switch diverted the engine upon another track, else the fugitive engine would have run full tilt into a train of cars, full of passengers, which was standing in the depot.

☞ The late Judge Jay of New York, bequeathed to his son one thousand dollars in trust, to be applied by him, at his discretion, in promoting the safety and comfort of fugitive slaves.

MR. DOUGLAS AND THE DRED SCOTT CASE.—We recently gave a summary of Mr. Douglas's political views, as compiled by the Richmond South. The Chicago Times, Mr. Douglas's organ, in copying and amending them, makes its chief alteration in that relating to the Dred Scott decision. As the Times probably speaks by authority on this important point, we copy its statement in full. Identifying Mr. Douglas with the Democracy of Illinois, the Times says:

"They support the decision of the Supreme Court in the Dred Scott case, in the sense that it guarantees to the owners of slave property an equality with the owners of other property in introducing it into the Territories; contending, also, that as slave property is thus placed on an equal footing with other property, it, like all other property, must necessarily be subject to all such local laws of the territory as do not infringe upon the Constitution of the United States; that slave property being thus placed on an equality with other property, if it require higher and further affirmative legislation for its protection and security than is afforded to other property, and the Legislature of the Territory should decide not to discriminate in its favor to that extent, then the failure to obtain that higher protection than is afforded to other property is a misfortune attending that description of property, for which the Democratic party have no remedy, and are not responsible."

CUTTING DOWN.—We are sorry to hear that a material reduction of wages is contemplated, and in fact is now taking place on some or all of our corporations. We understand that the mechanics on the Merrimack are cut down 25 per cent. So much for the free trade policy of the government — the "vote-yourself-a-pauper" code of a bogus democracy.—Lowell Voz.

The same retrenchment is proposed in our city government by the committe on salaries. They favor a general reduction, the Mayor being the only officer whom they propose to pay above $1000 for the next year. The state of business here is peculiar; sales are quick and very "easy."—The profits, however, are very small and in many branches are detected like infusoria, with a high power of the microscope. The low prices of supplies would make these reductions less serious than usual, were it not for the lamentable fact that most classes of wages were already at reduced rates. A further falling-off is therefore a result much to be regretted.—Lowell News.

THE OVERLAND ROAD TO CALIFORNIA.—St. Louis, Nov. 17.—Col. Sauder, Superintendent of the South Pass Wagon Road, arrived at St. Joseph on the 14th inst., and reports that the road was complete to City Rocks, Nebraska, in eight months, at a cost $40,000. The government appropriated $175,000 for the purpose, and the time allowed was 18 months. Col. Sauder and his party winter at St. Joseph, and will start out again in the sping.

The Cheyennis had burnt the grass along the Platte, causing much suffering among the cattle.

FRANCE, SPAIN, AND CUBA.—The Washington States learns from a friend direct from the Court of Madrid, and whose fine attainments and high social position enabled him to approach the highest personages of the Spanish Court, that France had taken up Cuban independence, and, with England is proposing to erect Cuba and Porto Rico into a semi independent monarchy, on paying a Renta from that island. This renta is to represent the interest on a national debt, to be assumed by the new monarchy, in consideration of her independence; the debt and renta to be assumed by France and England as a bond for the non-annexation of Cuba to the United States.

We learn from the Hartford Times that the buildings belonging to the factory of the Hart Manufacturing Co., in Kensington, Ct., used for the manufacture of hardware, were totally destroyed by fire on Wednesday evening last. The loss is estimated at between $40,000 to $50,000, which is mostly covered by insurance.

ASSASSINATION OF NAPOLEON III.

By the last steamer we learn that what has been predicted by many, feared by some, and hoped for by others, has finally taken place, viz:—That they manufacture and sell more Cloaks and Raglans at Messrs. Allen & Paine's than at all the other stores together in Portsmouth. Also that they sell their garments and Ladies' Cloths, Broadcloths, Beavers and other Cloak goods, at much lower prices than any one else.

PERPETUAL MOTION DISCOVERED.—They are manufacturing twenty-five Cloaks per day, and some days are unable to meet the demand, so great is the rush for them in consequence of the latest styles, best of work, and very low prices at which they are sold, at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.—Our lady readers when they want a nice fitting garment go to Messrs. Allen & Paine's and have one made.—These go-a-head young gentlemen cut and make them right in their own store—and having a full new stock of Beaver and Broadcloths, in Black, Drabs, Peach Brown, &c., they are sure to suit every customer.

The City Election.

An election for City Officers comes off in this city next Tuesday. Both political parties have made up their tickets or will complete them this (Friday) evening. On the part of the Democrats is presented the name of our present worthy, efficient and popular Mayor, Hon. ROBERT MORRISON, for reelection, and of which there can be no doubt, unless there is the most criminal negligence on the part of the Democrats of this city. If there should be a full poll of votes in the city, Mayor Morrison's majority will exceed one hundred. The Republicans have nominated Lyman D. Spalding, Esq., a very worthy and intelligent citizen, but on the wrong side of the fence, politically. He will get the full vote of his party, (excepting those who choose to vote for Morrison,) and will probably come as near an election as any man whom our opponents could have nominated.

The only portion of the city where the contest will be very animated, is in the 1st Ward. The Republicans indulge in some slight hopes of carrying this Ward, not through their superior strength, but through the neglect and indifference of our own party. They have canvassed the Ward, and find that they are some 20 or 30 behind the Democrats, but they reckon on more than that number of Democrats as unlikely to be got out to the polls. It was with this expectation that this extra and altogether inexcusable burden of a separate municipal election was forced upon this city against the wishes of a majority of its citizens. But we trust they will be taught a lesson on that subject next Tuesday, which will induce them to favor a repeal of this injust and partizan legislation. Let every Democrat throughout the city exert himself to his utmost capacity to prevent the disgrace of a defeat at this time, and give next Tuesday to the service of the city interests, by the maintenance of Democratic ascendency in every branch of its government.—Gazette.

From the Portsmouth Journal

CITY ELECTION,—TUESDAY NEXT.

By the amendment of our city charter, the time of election of our Municipal officers has been changed from the 2d Tuesday in March to the fourth Tuesday in November. The election will therefore take place on Tuesday next. On Thursday evening, at a general meeting of the Republican party, LYMAN D. SPALDING, Esq. was unanimously nominated for Mayor. Our opponents have nominated their old candidate, Hon. Robert Morrison.

LYMAN D. SPALDING, Esq. has been a very efficient member of the Board of Alderman, is well acquainted with the city business, is a man of excellent judgement, and will not be likely to encourage any undue expenditure of the people's money. As the friend of good order, he will be likely to require the faithful discharge of duty on the part of the police department.

We should like to see our municipal election conducted without party feeling, and the public duties assigned to our best men without inquiry whether they are the friends or enemies of slavery. But as our opponents have shown no signs of a disposition to form any such ticket, party lines will still be drawn for the present, in this as in the March election. We hope therefore the polls will be attended by every Republican, and the municipal administration be improved by a radical change.

After the nomination of Mayor on Thursday evening, the several Wards held meetings, and made nomination of Republican officers, generally the same as brought forward last year. Not being able to obtain the full list, we do not insert them. An adjourned meeting will be held at Rechab Hall, next Monday evening, at 7 o'clock, when any vacancies that may occur will be filled.

COLD NOVEMBER.—We rarely have the mercury so low at so early a day in the season as it was on Saturday evening last, Nov. 13th, when it descended to 14 above zero. The week since has been quite cold. Turning to our back records, we found that in Nov. 1835, the weather was warm, but once sinking below the freezing point until the 22d, when it began to grow cold, and the next day six inches of snow fell, which remained on the ground, unmelted, for a month. It was on the 16th of Dec. of that year that the great fire occurred in New York, when over 600 buildings were burnt. On that day in Portsmouth the mercury was 10 degrees below zero at noon.—Journal.

☞ Two farmers, neighbors, living in Southfield, Michigan, were such bitter enemies that they never spoke with each other but to quarrel, and frequently exchanged blows. On a recent Sunday a cow belonging to one of the men strayed on to the others premises. The owner of the cow proceeded with a loaded gun to reclaim the animal, and was met by his neighbor with a club, who ordered him off. Upon this the owner of the cow levelled his gun and fired, killing his neighbor almost instantly.

HUMAN TRAP AT CHRISTIAN SHORE.—On the north-east side of North street, between the houses occupied respectively, by Mrs. Mooney, and Mr. Prescott, for more than fifty yards, the sidewalk is built up against a stone wall, to the height, in some places of five feet, without any protective railing; and at distances, varying from six inches, to three feet, there runs parallel to this raised walk, an irregular old fence, with pointed slats, rising nearly to a level with the walk. Now an unobservant, or benighted person, by an unhappy misstep, might either fall between the walk and the fence, to the ground, or be jammed in suspension between them, or be impaled upon the sharp uplifted points. To detect exaggeration here, let any one look, by the light of day, at what might happen in the darkness of night. To humane perception, it seems strange, that such a pitfall should have been erected and continued; but, moreover, let it be considered, that, (especially perhaps, after this publicity,) if a suit, so culpably courted, should be brought against the City, for injury; the award of damages to the sufferer, would doubtless be, to the margin, in his favor. Therefore let the extreme of humanity and selfishness promptly meet, to remedy this palpable danger.

Indian Physician.

Dr. B. S. GOODWIN

Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that may be subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.

ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN: Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhea, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsy, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all kinds, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!

Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Drych a'r Gwylledydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 12 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who resolved to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thicken ing the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KNIRP.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last, and a few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up grow out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend it to all. J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large size, (and cheapest,) the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the liver, and supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

LIVER INVIGORATOR

Bilious Attacks are cured, and, what is better prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.

Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken, a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhea in its worst form, while Summer Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands will be willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

A number of Boxes for sale by the Agent, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, he would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or 1 in. at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well attended to as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every term is drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in this and other towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to call on me to try complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be induced to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, and better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

The pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

☞ Constantly on hand a full assortment of other articles.

As Advertisements appear in both Daily and Weekly Chronicle—they reach every Borough circulation in the city and vicinity, and throughout the State.

☞ S. R. Niles, (successor to V. B. Palmer, Newspaper Advertising Agent, No. 1, Scollay's Building, Court street, Boston, is authorized to receive advertisements for this paper, at the same rates as required by us

S. M. PETTENGILL & Co., 119 Nassau st., New York, and 10 State st., Boston, are authorized to contract for us at our lowest rates.

Dye your Hair and Whiskers.

BY using Hutchins' Liquid HAIR DYE, you can color Red or Gray Hair to a beautiful Brown or Black. This is the best article in use. A lady says it is cheaper to use it than to buy caps to cover her gray hair.

Look at that gentleman's whiskers—Hutchins' Hair Dye makes them look as handsome.

☞ At a recent fashionable wedding in a church in Boston, the three bridesmaids were robed in brilliant scarlet; and at another private bridal, the two lady attendants were married women, having both preceded the present bride in the ceremony through which they had previously promised to support her—and for which service it would seem they were better fitted by their own experience.

☞ W. A. Phelps, postmaster at Duff's Fork, Fayette County, Ohio, has been arrested, together with two of his daughters, charged with robbing the mails. The girls confessed the crime, but the father denied any connection with them. The amount taken is supposed to be about $300, and the money has been spent by the girls, who are motherless, in buying furniture for the house, and articles of dress.

The Russian Emperor lately gave an order for the manufacture of cannon balls to some concern at Helsingfors, a port on the Gulf. They completed the order, stacked up and delivered the balls, received their pay, and put the money in their pockets. The Emperor being there one day, took it into his head to inspect the balls. Taking one up, he discovered it to be exceeding light for iron, and taking out his knife, scraped it, and behold it was a wooden ball painted black, as was the entire lot. He caused the arrest of the swindlers, and they were transported for life to Siberia.

☞ A man named John Middleton, who had a snake on exhibition in Market st., Philadelphia, was badly bitten by it on Thursday last, and was advised to swallow a large quantity of whisky, which he did. Another medical adviser, however, coming in, administered an emetic, which caused him to throw up the whisky, and then gave him arsenic in solution instead. As the man has recovered notwithstanding all this, the great question now with the Philadelphia faculty is, which cured him?

☞ The correspondent of the London Times at Turin, Italy, under date of Oct. 17, says:

The Jew Mortara's little boy still remains in the hands of the Inquisition at Rome. The Duc de Grammont, the French ambassador, has tried in his turn to intercede and obtain from the Pope the restitution of this child, but Pio Nino—you may regard this as certain—answered the Duke that he could not, in conscience, replace in the path of perdition a soul which had, as though by miracle, been won for Paradise.

Lawyers have a ludricous way of identifying themselves with their clients by speaking in the plural number. "Gentlemen of the jury," said a luminary of the bar, "at that moment the policeman says he saw us in the tap, I will prove that we were locked up in the station-house in a state of intoxication."

Grubbins is a neat fellow. He says he can't spare time to take a bath; besides, it takes money for soap and towels. We then asked him how he managed to keep clean? "Oh," said he, "I sand-paper myself every Christmas!"

A professional beggar-boy, some ten years of age, ignorant of the art of reading, bought a card to put on his breast, and appeared in the public streets as a "Poor Widow, with eight small children."

Only two murders a day have been reported in New York this week. We infer that Judge Russell is out of town, as none of the parties arrested have been discharged.—Providence Journal.

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
MY MOTHER'S SALVE
This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and world-wide reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.
"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.
"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.
"My Mother's Salve" is a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.
"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.
Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A. M. Beck.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents.
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of greatness and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
R. H. EDDY.

LETTER FROM CALIFORNIA.

KNIGHT'S FERRY, CAL., Sept. 28.

Dear Chronicle—A year has slipped away since my last greeting, and I hope to see many more, and have the pleasure of subscribing material aid for the growth and perpetuity of the Rockingham Weekly Chronicle.

Our State has advanced nobly with the progress of the nation, and our golden fields yet teem with grain, awaiting the reaper to gather the harvest.

The exodus to Fraser River mines somewhat affected our floating population; and though many of the knowingest have returned to the scenes of their former labors, yet the loss sustained has not been repaired. The Fraser Mines are a total failure, as regards their fabulous richness, but still there are many valuable deposits in the river banks, and on its hills, and in its gulches, which with the nucleus of California miners, will tend to augment their Majesties' possessions in New Caledonia, and populate it with hardy and industrious pioneers. The Indians are troublesome, and some time must elapse ere they are subjected by the action of whisky and gunpowder, to the will of their superiors. Whisky is intoxicating to our Digger Indians, and no doubt the same effects will follow its sale to those northern tribes, and make demons of them, not omitting the kindred evils resulting from its use.

The mining interests of California are improving with the aid of capital, in draining the rivers and sending little meandering streams in various directions to meet the demands of the miner. All the country lying south and east of Knight's Ferry, is fully stored with Quartz and rich placer diggings, which are destined to exceed all other mines in the production of gold.

For instance, the Quartz leads, in and about Mariposa, of Fremont notoriety, cannot fall far short of $10,000,000. A gentleman from Bear Valley says that with the aid of a good glass, he could distinctly see the continuous outcropping of Quartz for upwards of twenty-five miles distant from Mariposa; thence along the foot hills of the Sierra Nevada to the localities of Sonora and Columbia. Near the latter place it has been recently demonstrated that the Quartz is the richest ever discovered, and quite a number of claims are said to be worth several million dollars each.

A valuable nugget, said to be the largest ever found in the State, was picked up recently by a Mr. Strain at Columbia, which weighs 401 ounces or 33 1-2 pounds, with a reserve of some five hundred dollars' worth of specimens from the same bolder; making in all the total value of the piece worth about $8000.

For the past fortnight all eyes have been lifted from earth to gaze on the Comet, whose lustre renders the lonely emigrant quite conspicuous among the starry host. When first seen, only about three degrees of contraction could be observed, but now that the moon has withdrawn its pale light, the luminous train has lengthened several degrees more, and the darkness of the hour (between seven and eight o'clock) renders the comet very brilliant indeed.—Perhaps ere its return, in 2150, the confident notions of many will be realized: a monster Ariel Leviathan will be coursing through space with its millions of souls, on a pleasure trip to the North Pole.

The rage for cables, at this time, I hope will lead to the laying of an iron pathway across the territories. Government wastes enough on its pest, to build the road entire. Should the Administration see fit to loan the amount necessary to build the Pacific track-way at its next session, it would, in the next ten years, net more than twenty-five per cent. on the amount, from the greatly increased sale of public land, which would thus be brought into a ready market. An early attention to this question, practically taken by Congress, will rid Utah of its evils, Indians and Polygamy, and establish in their stead, a good republican population; if not, those evils will continue to exist in all their native depravity; it will cost more to maintain peace with them for the next ten years, than the cost of two Roads to this coast.

The Over Land mails are now in operation, and when all the stages are on the road, considerable travel will be directed that way, and the stream of immigration will flow over the plains towards the Pacific slope of the Sierra Nevada.

The Placerville & Humboldt Telegraph Co. intend to extend their line from Brocklin Bridge to Genoa, Carson Valley, in thirty days, and be in full operation at Rugtown, situated on the Forty Mile desert, in thirty days thereafter; and thus continue on to Salt Lake Valley, and thence to St. Louis. This will complete a wire connection Europe and California, and open a highway of thought not dreamt of by the heroes of '76.

A rival line has just been organized, called the Pacific & Atlantic Telegraph Co. This company propose to contract and put in operation a line of electro-magnetic Telegraph between the cities of San Francisco and Los Angelos, via San Jose, Santa Cruz, Monterey; and intersecting at Los Angelos with the overland mail from Memphis to San Francisco. It will also connect with San Antonio, in Texas, and thus be in a way to facilitate a communication with the principal cities and ports of Mexico.

To add to these, the routes by the Tehauntepec and New Orleans, with those at Nicaragua and Panama, and we have in contemplation for another year, a pretty thorough communication with the Atlantic States. Thus if we are successful in these undertakings, we shall be fully in readiness to undertake any other project for the advancement of our growing State.

Great attention has been paid to agriculture, and our farmers with experience have added greatly to their growing facilities; especial attention has been paid to fruit raising; and this season we have enjoyed strawberries, peaches, figs, melons, and grapes in abundance; and poco tiempo, we shall have pears and apples as common as in the States. With a climate unsurpassed in the world, we can sit beneath the graceful shade of the Acacia tree and read the Chronicle, when Uncle Toby is wrapped in his overcoat with his feet to a grate full of fire, trying to thaw his pen for a rejoinder to some unlucky wight.

Such are the extremes of climate; and as for us, we shall long stay amid the golden hills of California. J. R. W. C.

☞ In Newburyport, last Thursday night, the watchmen picked up one John R. Fowle, quite intoxicated. The next morning he had the privilege of disclosing or roosting at Ipswich for thirty days, whereupon he stated that he purchased his rum of Solomon Goldthrop. A warrant was issued, and the police proceeded to the store indicated, where they found men drinking at the bar, and a stock of liquors on the premises. Goldthrop was arrested and put on trial in the afternoon. The men found drinking were summoned to appear, at Court, one of whom failed to appear; the other came reluctantly, and on being sworn, refused to take the oath as administered to Catholics, and was sworn in like manner as the other witnesses, thinking, as do many of his class, Irish Catholics, that a protestant oath does not bind them. Nevertheless, Goldthrop was found guilty of being a common seller, and sentenced to five months in the County House at Ipswich.

The Herald, of that place, says, in regard to the new Mayor to be chosen:—

Most of the men named, whether last year friendly to the present city government or opposed, disapprove of the present liquor agencies of this city, and take the ground the Temperance men occupied in the last canvass. We understand that some of the present agents will not make that a consideration; so that it is not at all improbable that the strongest friends of the present mayor will elect a successor for him, who will revoke his licenses and execute the Maine law, not only in the letter but in the fullness of its spirit. This is a day of changes, and it is as true now as when St. Paul uttered it, that "the fashion of this world passeth away."

☞ Twelve soldiers deserted from the army in Utah, and succeeded in reaching California. Three of them, led by a man named Burns, murdered the other nine for the sake of their money. Burns then proceeded, at night, to cut the throats of his two accomplices. One he killed. The other survived, obtained assistance, and gave evidence which led to the arrest of Burns, who is now in confinement at Los Angelos.

BOARDED UP.—The Atlas says, "Mr. Batchelder, proprietor of the Spring Hotel at Watertown, Mass., has closed his hotel and boarded up the doors, refusing entertainment to man and beast. This he has done in consequence of the close manner in which the temperance people have followed him up."

Amen, says Uncle Toby, let man and beast go elsewhere. A hotel need not be a groggery.

☞ Wild River Bridge, in Gilead, N. H. on the Atlantic & St. Lawrence Railroad, was accidentally burnt on Thursday night, by sparks from a train, probably. The neighbors did not know it till morning.

For the Chronicle.

REPUBLICANISM.

Messrs. Editors:—Your "Republican" correspondent, who styles himself "Virtuous," if he be a republican at all, must be one of the blackest and most bilious type, who says to his neighbor, "stand by thyself, come not near to me, for I am holier than thou!"

His essay on Democracy was doubtless intended as the most cutting irony; but it comes in many of its statements, quite near to being an attempted joke on facts, one of the hardest jokes in the world.

Such an one is his statement in one notable paragraph, about men being drunken, disorderly, robbers, and so on. I do not believe that either virtue or vice are confined to any one party. But I would ask any man who knows, to tell me and the public, what are the politics of any who have been arraigned in this city, and tried in our courts, during the last summer and the present fall?

Is there one republican among them?—If there be, I have not heard of him. This may be only accidental; but if he will go back through the last two or three years, he will find that not more than one in ten of all the criminals in our lock up or jail has been a republican.

Messrs. Editors, I should not have thought of this, if the "Virtuous Republican" had not brought it to my mind—but now it is up, let me say, that our policemen are all of the Democratic party, and so are half our lawyers.

Yet it is certain that at least nine tenths of the criminals are not Republicans—but vote some other ticket.

This cannot be accidental,—but every good citizen should ponder it well. The Virtuous Republican has waked up the wrong passenger. ANOTHER REPUBLICAN.

TERRIBLE HURRICANE.—Frigate Sabine. The New York Express publishes a letter from the U. S. ship Sabine, dated Bermuda, Nov. 4, in which the writer describes the hurricane which compelled the frigate to put into Bermuda for repairs. The gale commenced on the 21st of October, and lasted seven days. On the 23d it had increased so that all sail was taken in, and the ship was under bare poles. On the 24th, it moderated so that the foresail and close-reefed maintopsail were set. On the afternoon of that day a sea stove in the bow ports, and a few minutes past midnight a squall struck her, throwing the ship on her beam ends, and but for the fortunate blowing away of the above-mentioned sails, all would have been lost. The squall increased to a hurricane, and the high sea that continually broke over the vessel did considerable injury. At daylight the ship careened over so far that the sea carried away the starboard quarter boat, and stove in the one secured forward of it. On the 26th, and the fifth day of the gale, the steering gear gave way, and for more than an hour they were without the use of a rudder. The storm lasted until the 28th, when it abated, and on that evening all of the officers and as many of the crew as could be accommodated, congregated in the ward room to offer thanks to Almighty God for their safe deliverance from the dangers of the ocean, to which they had been exposed. During the storm the ship behaved well, and rode out the hurricane better than many expected.

☞ A large delegation of the "iron men" of Pennsylvania are in Washington, endeavoring to have a favorable endorsement of their desire for an increase of duties in Secretary Cobb's report. Southern politicians, on the contrary, urge the imposition of duties upon coffee and tea, in preference to any other mode of raising the revenue necessary to defray the expenses of government.

REV. MR. THAYER.—The Saturday Evening Gazette states that on Saturday afternoon Mr. Thayer was very comfortable, and was removed from one bed to another with but little difficulty. The surgeon does not as yet give a decided opinion in regard to the broken limb, but he has strong hopes of saving it.

☞ Henry Norcross of Augusta, Me., has sold his trotting horse to a New Yorker for $1000. The horse is five years old, and won third prize for trotting at the State Fair.

☞ The Atlantic Monthly for December is for sale at Locke's new Periodical Depot, next west Franklin House. A capital number of a capital magazine.

☞ The Postmaster General has received from the owners of the Astor House, N.Y., a proposition to sell that building for a city postoffice.

The happiness and misery of men, depend more on their temper than their fortune.

MORE FIGHTING IN MEXICO.—The steamship Gen. Rusk, which arrived at New Orleans on Sunday last, brought the Brownsville (Texas) Flag, which says that Gen. Blanco, of the Liberal Party, with an army of 1500 men, attacked and entered the City of Mexico, advancing to within one block of the Capitol, Oct. 13th.—Gen. Zuloga made an imposing resistance, and lost 400 of his soldiers, besides having a large number wounded. The loss on the part of the Liberals was comparatively small. Gen. Blanco held his position for a few hours, and then retired to Tamboga, where he remained encamped at last accounts. The city would have been completely captured by the Liberals, but the partisans within, upon whose movements the whole triumph depended, not being previously advised of the intended attack, were not prepared to render any efficient aid. The Liberal forces were concentrating about the Capitol with a force sufficient to render its capture inevitable. The whole Republic, with the exception of the Capital, is now in possession of the Liberals. Gen. Esquegaray was severly wounded in a daring attempt to capture the castle Perote with a handful of men. Another account says that Zuloaga had only about 1000 men, while the other had 3000, and that with a little exertion the latter might have taken the City of Mexico.

A GOOD MT. VERNON STORY.—Mrs. Harrison Gray Otis has taken a great interest in purchasing Mt. Vernon, and is engaged in visiting the schools of Boston, for collecting from the children their offerings, however small, towards this purpose. Mrs. Otis had visited a private school, and explained the object of her visit. The children listened with great attention to the address, and on the dismission of the school, one of the boys went to his home, and applied thus to his father: "Papa! don't you think that General Washington's wife was to our school to-day, trying to raise money to buy a graveyard for him where he's buried, and I want a dime to put in the contribution box." The gentleman contributed.

EXCITEMENT AT MOBILE—WALKER'S FILIBUSTERING EXPEDITION STOPPED.—Mobile., Nov. 19.—Great excitement exists here in consequence of the detention of the Walker Nicaragua emigrants. Four hundred of them surrounded the office of Julius Hesse to-day, demanding immediate transportation or the passage money refunded. Mr Smith, the Deputy Solicitor, interfered, stating he was confident instructions from Washington of a definite character will be received by to-morrow. On this assurance the crowd become somewhat pacified, and consented to wait a little longer.

Augusta, Nov. 20.—A despatch has been received here stating that the Nicaragua emigrants at Mobile have demanded of the agent who supplied them with tickets a full compliance with the agreement upon which they were issued. Should he not do so violence was apprehended.

In the examination going on at St. Louis of the frauds by which Blair's re-election to Congress was defeated, a witness who was severely cross-questioned by Barret, the successful candidate, refused to answer a question as to whom he voted for. Barret repeated the question several times, and getting no answer, said at last in a pet, "You are not ashamed are you, of the way you voted for Congressman?" "Yes sir, I am." Barret put on an air of triumph, but Blair was not quite satisfied, and asked the man for whom he voted.—The answer was, "I voted for Barret."—A general laugh ensued and Barret acknowledged himself sold.

DEATH WHILE AT PRAYER.—Mrs. Catharine Jones, wife of Mr. Daniel Jones, of Glenmore, Kent County, Md., died very suddenly recently, aged fifty-four. She arose in the morning in her usual health, and before starting for Sunday School retired to her private room for her morning devotion, and there upon her bended knees, she ceased to pray and live!

ANOTHER FATAL RESULT.—Mrs. Brock, wife of Mr. Wm. F. Brock, who was so badly burned by the bursting of a fluid lamp, on Friday evening of last week, expired yesterday morning, after undergoing intense sufferings. Here are two deaths in our city within two days from the same cause.—Portland Advertiser, 20th.

The old iron of the burned Crystal Palace, New York, was on Wednesday sold at auction. The workmen have weighed out and assorted 1470 tons; much more has not been raked out. The cast iron sold at from $17 to $18 per ton, and wrought iron at from $24 to $26.

It is extraordinary how many defects we can discern in a friend after we have quarrelled with him. The same remark applies to a woman who has rejected us.

Great Falls, Nov. 22, 1858.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SALT RHEUM.—There is no disease of the skin so distressing and obstinate as the chronic forms of eczema, commonly called Salt Rheum. Persons of the highest social position, have been cured of this in a surprisingly short time by the PERUVIAN SYRUP—like all other cutaneous affections, Salt Rheum must yield to its powerful action on the absorbents and to its tonic and alterative qualities.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of GAURAUD'S FAMILIAR PIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Europe, for the last 100 years previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, which they improved, (the genuine "Pimple Destroyer.") It also removes in a few hours Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the face or skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

LOSS OF TIME.

Persons afflicted with disease unnecessarily lose much time. No remedy, in these days, is fit to be taken in the human system, unless it will, in a few days, exhibit some decided evidence of restoring the patient to health. RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, for all acute pains, instantly proves its efficacy. The moment it is applied, the most excruciating pains are relieved, and the most violent irritations allayed. If Rheumatism, or Stiffness of the Joints, or Weakness in the Back, or Lumbago, or Pain in the Side, or Dysentery, or Diarrhea trouble you, Radway's Ready Relief will in a few minutes free you from your painful condition.—Bear in mind, no pain will exist where Radway's Ready Relief is applied.

For Scrofula, Syphilis, Sores, Rickets, Night Sweats, Bad Coughs, Consumption, Salt Rheum, in three days Radway's Renovating Resolvent will make a favorable change.

Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Liver Complaint, take one of Radway's Regulators on going to bed.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise and delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest diuretic or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from other Gins, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., and the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from these distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

A CARD TO THE LADIES

DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature, J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

J. DUPONCO, Proprietor

LOCAL.

☞ City Election to-day. Polls open at 10 o'clock. Let every man who cares "under which king" he serves, (whether "King Alcohol" or some other,) vote—"or else forever after hold his peace" as to how the city is or should be governed.

☞ To be launched this day (Tuesday) at half past 12 o'clock, from the yard of E. G. Peirce, on Peirce's Island, the ship "Harry Hastings," of 900 tons—owned by Henry Hastings, Esq., of Boston.

☞ Last Sunday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, a fire was discovered in a barn owned by Capt. Samuel Whidden, situated near the Lafayette school house, and in less than thirty minutes nothing was left standing except the corner posts.—About fifteen tons of hay, five tons of barley, sixty bushels of nice corn, together with farming utensils, &c., were destroyed. No insurance. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary, as there was no probable way for the fire to have taken, the barn being some distance from the house, and no one was seen smoking near it on that day. It was by the utmost exertions that the house was saved, the family having gone to church, and no one save an old lady was left at home. If it was set on fire, we trust the miscreant will be ferreted out, and suffer the penalty of the law.

☞ The young winter of last week furnished some skating at the heads of the mill-ponds; but it was not very firm or permanent. Don't be in a hurry boys—to get a ducking.

☞ We begin to think that necessity will compel us to employ a "fighting editor." Within six months, we have deemed it advisable to help three half-drunken, noisy, begging loafers down our office stairs—and in addition to this duty, we should expect our pugilistic associate to put out all smokers (or their segars) and all—(we were about to say gentlemen) all fellows who chew tobacco. It is a disgrace to human nature, that a sign "No Smoking" should be needed in a decent room, or that those who do keep themselves as clean as hogs, should have their premises defiled by smokers and chewers. "Out, out, damned spot."

☞ One of the boilers of a steam stave mill at Moers, N. Y., owned by C. W. Rich of Swanton, exploded on the 12th, killing the engineer, fireman and three workmen. The investigation at the inquest developed the fact that the safety valve was loaded down with extra weights to more than double what it was intended to carry.

☞ Owing to a decrease in immigration, as well as an increas of emigration, the State Almshouse at Monson, Mass., is not as well filled as usual. Last year, at this time, it contained some 800 inmates besides its corps of resident officers. Now there are but 578; of whom 149 are adults, and 429 are children.

☞ Gardner S. Lund, who was wounded in the head by the bursting of an emery wheel at a machine shop in New Worcester a few days since, died on Friday last.

☞ The Webster Journal says that the the machinery of a mill in that town was stopped beyond the power of starting one day last week, by an eel six feet long which got wedged into the water wheel.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The Washington correspondent of the Times says the Postmaster General has issued an order for an overland mail weekly between New Orleans and San Francisco via Antonio, Texas, and El Paso, the arrangement to go into effect in January.

Charges of a very grave character having been made against Mr. Henly, Superintendent of Indian Affairs in California, he is to be removed. Mr. Nugent, editor of the San Francisco Herald, will be his successor.

The contract for boilers and machinery for the steamer building at San Francisco has been awarded to Thomas Donohue of that city.

A BRIDAL PUN WITH A SHADE OF SADNESS. When the friends of the young beauty who has just married old marshal Pellissier, in France, were admiring with her the splendid wedding garments presented to her by the empress, she said—"Yes, I like the present better than the future."

A good anecdote of Professor Agassiz is told in a new volume in press. The Professor had declined to deliver a lecture before some lyceum, or public society, on account of the inroads which previous lectures given by him had made upon his studies and habits of thought. The gentleman who had been deputed to invite him continued to press the invitation, assuring him that the society was ready to pay him liberally for his services. "That is no inducement to me," replied Agassiz; "I cannot afford to waste my time in making money."

MARRIED.

ASSASSINATION OF NAPOLEON III.

By the last steamer we learn that what has been predicted by many, feared by some, and hoped for by others, has finally taken place, viz:—That they manufacture and sell more Cloaks and Raglans at Messrs. Allen & Paine's than at all the other stores together in Portsmouth. Also that they sell their garments and Ladies' Cloths, Broadcloths, Beavers and other Cloak goods, at much lower prices than any one else.

PERPETUAL MOTION DISCOVERED.—They are manufacturing twenty-five Cloaks per day, and some days are unable to meet the demand, so great is the rush for them in consequence of the latest styles, best of work, and very low prices at which they are sold, at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.—Our lady readers when they want a nice fitting garment go to Messrs. Allen & Paine's and have one made.—These go-a-head young gentlemen cut and make them right in their own store—and having a full new stock of Beaver and Broadcloths, in Black, Drabs, Peach Brown, &c., they are sure to suit every customer.

☞ A splendid new Sleeve and Collar pattern, for the scolloped Raglan, just received by Allen & Paine.

A NEW INVENTION.

Great Economy and CONVENIENCE.

THE

BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having

Two Large Ovens

AND

Six Boiling Pieces.

The Ovens will take SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS

PERFECT IN ITSELF,

and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the cast nps being of

will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it, if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

Indian Physician.

Dr. R. S. GOODWIN

Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.

ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are established to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN.

Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Diseases of the Heart, Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsey, Worms, all Disorders peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!

Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the result of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearl, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, burnt and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, notes will be more than half per chance. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, it used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1855.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir:—Permit me to express to you the obligation I feel to your Hair Restorative for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Dirch a'r Gwyliedydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 25, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KIRK

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray: I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up grow out and return back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend it use to all. J. D. ROSS

The Hair Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the diseases, effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and, what is better prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately after eating, cures Dyspepsia.

One dose often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhœa in worst form, while Summer Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its efficacy in these cases.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow it together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such materials, having that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN.

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over shingles or 1 in. at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most confidently and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as firm and sound as when first put on, without change or decay.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the state of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $1i; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. Do tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New York Herald, New Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at the moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints and obtain a remedy. He would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the precise description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients may be treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments on your health, for fortune and life are the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS are now unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being palmed off by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 6ly

A Revolution in the Hunting World.

Reuthe's Patent Spring Gun Animal Trap.

More certain of its prey than the most perfect Rifle in the hands of the most experienced marksman, without lessening the value of Pelts or Skins, as is the case in ordinary mode of shooting, it effects the capture of the animal either dead or (if preferred) alive: the barrels discharging themselves, simultaneously with the hooks imbedding themselves in the mouth.

It is simple, yet strong and perfect in its construction neither can it be some nor difficult to arrange.

There are three different sizes, which will effectually operate on Minks, Woodchucks, Otters, Wildcats, Lynx, Foxes, Wolves, Deer, Panthers, Tigers, Bears, Buffaloes, etc.; in fact, on all animals which repay hunting.

☞ To be had, in large or small quantities, of JOSEPH R. ADAMS,
No. 3 Congress Block, Portsmouth, Agent for Rockingham County. n18

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
MY MOTHER'S SALVE

This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and WORLD-WIDE reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Heating, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in it the great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.

"My Mother's Salve" is a BURN or SCALD, taken out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.

Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A.M.Beck.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made in American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL, AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANCED AND GOOD ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of his great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1858.

For the Chronicle.

FAMILIAR CORRESPONDENCE.

'God made the country, and man made the town.'

Man has done his work tolerably well, but God has done his to perfection. You can hardly tell what a fine time we have had here this season. Nature has been gay; the flowers have bloomed; the birds have sung most sweetly; and the fields have brought forth abundantly. I believe all crops have been good. And now farmers rejoice in the work of their hands.—They have enough to eat, plenty to sell, and some to give to the poor. Thanksgiving will well be enjoyed by many. A few who profess to be Christians had husking parties with liquor, and some went home to abuse their families. These pious persons will not enjoy Thanksgiving much, it is thought.

Winter is at hand. Sleigh rides are anticipated. Books and papers will be enjoyed in the long evenings. Good Lyceum Lectures are but few. If we had good ones they would be a help to us.

A Catalogue of Pinkertown Academy, Derry, shows for the year 119 students.—It has funds, about sixteen thousand dollars.

In the late Report of the Board of Education of our State, it is put down that 199 teachers failed to keep good and profitable schools. Quite a loss to the interests of education. And we fear that a greater number than that did but little good. It is quite common to employ persons as teachers, but fifteen or sixteen years of age. If they have education, they have not judgment, neither can they govern. Oh, it is painful to know of the almost bedlamite confusion and tumult in some schools.—But we have some good teachers and schools that stand high. "Order is heaven's first law." And good schools without order are not often found. J. P.

RAYMOND, Nov. 1858.

☞ Policeman Cairnes of New York has been discharged, the grand jury finding that he shot the robber, Hollis, in the performance of his duty. This robber broke away from the officer and gave him a stunning blow and ran. The officer fired once or twice without checking him, and with a third shot hit him. The grand jury, in a case like the above, recognize it as the bounden duty of the official to stop the criminal at any hazard to him.

INSANITY FROM DELIRIUM TREMENS.—The Norwich (Conn.) Courier of Saturday, says that John Hunter, on trial before the Superior Court of that county, on a charge of assault with intent to murder, was acquitted on the ground of insanity from delirium tremens. The Court, on the rendition of the verdict, and in accordance with the provisions of the statute, ordered him committed to the hospital connected with, and under the direction of the Warden and Directors of the State Prison, until released by order of the Court.

ILLINOIS ELECTION.—The vote of every county in Illinois on the State ticket has been received, and is as follows:—For Treasurer, Miller (Rep.) 125,828; Fondey (Douglas), 121,806; Dougherty (Buchanan), 5091; Miller's plurality, 4,025.—Superintendent of Schools—Bateman, (Republican), 124,848; French (Douglas). 121,840; Reynolds (Buchanan), 5,025; Bateman's plurality 3003. The vote of Illinois in 1856 stood Fremont, 96,189; Fillmore, 37,444; Buchanan. 105,348.—Buchanan over Fremont, 9150.

☞ Abijah Jenkins, pawn-broker, of Boston, is having a new trial, for buying stolen books, of two thieves who have been in the State's Prison for a year or so. They are witnesses against him. He was tried once, and found guilty,—but the case, by dint of his money and acute lawyer craft, went up on a bill of exceptions, —and a new trial was ordered. He will get his deserts by and by, and find his level.

☞ The December number of Arthur's Home Magazine closes its most successful year. This speaks in its favor, and shows that the people are looking for a work that always blends with a pure literary taste, high moral excellence. Only $2 a year; or two copies for $3. Address T. S. Arthur & Co., Philadelphia.

SKATING.—In Boston, on Monday, the Board of Aldermen passed an order, on a petition signed by 1100 citizens, that the committee on public grounds flood a portion of the Parade Ground, for a public skating pond, at an expense of not more than $1200.

☞ Speaker Orr reached Washington on Saturday last. In the evening, he was greeted at his hotel with a serenade by his friends. In reply he made a brief address, which had no point of interest at the present time.

☞ A letter from Paducah, Ky., dated on the 10th, says:—"The Prussian forger, Dealing, better known as Mr. Forma, destroyed himself by blowing out his brains, a few days ago, at Memphis.

☞ Capt. Chauncey of the U. S. steamship Niagara, writing from Porto Grande, Oct. 22d, to the Navy Department, says that after landing the recaptured negroes on the African coast, the vessel will stop at Munrovia for coal, and return direct to the United States. Her officers and crew were in good health.

THE HERALD ON DOUGLAS.—The New York Herald of Saturday has a fierce attack upon Douglas, accusing him of being in league with Governor Seward to break down the administration of Mr. Buchanan, and with it the Democratic party. As the Herald is in very close communion with the President and Cabinet, the article may be regarded as a broadside into the Illinois Senator, by orders from the White House.

A cotemporary in running over the list from which the Charleston Convention may select a candidate for president, forgets the name of Douglas, but suggests "the Brights and Clifords of the north." "Ye gods and little fishes."—Bath Times.

ETHAN ALLEN VS. LANTERN.—A new match was made, Nov. 16, between Ethan Allen and Lantern, to trot in double harness, with such mates as they please, on the 15th of May next. The match is mile heats, best three in five, for $5000 a side.

The tallest liberty pole in the Union, which the democrats tried to raise in New York on Tuesday, fell with a grand smash, breaking the liberty cap into a thousand pieces—nobody killed.

Lincoln, having lost Illinois, has, of course, his drop of consolation. "Well, I have lost my lawsuit!" exclaimed a lady, with a sigh. "Oh, mamma! how glad I am," said her child, "that you have lost it; for it tormented you awfully."—Louisville Journal.

One of the best "bulls" ever made came from the pen of the Duke of Wellington. He was writing to Dr. Curtis, and recommended that the Catholic question should be buried in oblivion, in order that its difficulty might be fully discussed. Considering that he was Prime Minister, and so great a man, this should be reckoned the first of all bulls. It shows that the Duke was an Irishman.

New York city pays eight hundred thousand dollars annually in support of Alms House, or about two thousand and two hundred dollars per day. two hundred and fifty thousand dollars annually for cleaning streets, or about six hundred and eighty dollars per day; four hundred thousand dollars for lamps and gas, or about one thousand and one hundred dollars per day; nine hundred and sixty-nine thousand dollars for police, or two thousand six hundred dollars per day; four hundred and eighty thousand dollars annually for salaries, or about one thousand three hundred dollars per day; one million and four hundred thousand dollars for public schools annually, or about three thousand and eight hundred dollars per day.

NOVEL WAGER.—A young man, named Alex Duncan, arrived last Saturday in Cincinnati, having performed a pedestrian journey from New York. He undertook the task upon a bet of $250, and was to complete the task in eighteen days. He did it with nine hours to spare. He was accompanied by the individual who bet against him, and who drove a buggy, and carried his carpet sack, the expense of travelling to be borne by the loser. The pedestrian appeared less used up than either the horse or the driver.

GREAT SHOOTING.—The President of one of the best managed banks in Essex county had great luck on a gunning expedition last week. He started from home after breakfast, and returned in season to dine with his family. During the forenoon he shot and secured sixty four Eider Ducks. He doubtless regards this as the grandest dividend he has ever received from his (gun) stock.—Transcript.

THE FILIBUSTERS.—The States has a special despatch dated Mobile 20th, stating that several of the persons engaged in inducing emigration to Central America, have been examined as witnesses by the Grand Jury of New Orleans, but that no evidence has been elicited to find a true bill against them for violating the neutrality laws.

So we should think. Such men n't do scruple to conceal or falsify.

☞ Josiah Quincy, jr., has been nominated for Mayor of Boston, by the Temperance men.

A refusal of praise, is a desire to be praised twice.

Five glasses of whisky and a gallon of beer will enable one to see a sea serpent, even on dry land.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.

The overland mail brought 5 passengers.

During a severe storm at Tejon, on the 2d ult., a stampede occurred among the camels used by Lieut. Beale; 9 of them had been recovered, but 6 were still missing.

The Los Anglos Star, speaking of emigration, says another large party of emigrants from Iowa, Missouri Arkansas and Texas, have arrived here during the week, in excellent health and without experiencing the slightest inconvenience. The stations of the overland mail company afford resting places at convenient distances, which greatly assist travellers. The feed for stock is excellent, and animals arrived in good order. A large emigration from the Southwestern States is now on the road.

David Harris, of Baltimore, was burned to death at San Francisco on the 22d ult.

The 6th Infantry, had reached Carson Valley, and would proceed directly to Benicia. 300 recruits under Lieut. Bootes, were expected there in ten days.

Victoria dates are to the 18th of October. They mention the arrival of 900 ounces of gold dust by express, besides general parcels in the hands of passengers. The accounts from the mines are more favorable, and they were turning out much better than anticipated a month previous. New diggings had been discovered, and more miners were going up the river than were coming down.

NEW YORK, NOV. 22.—The Board of Canvassers to-day rejected as fraudulent the Congressional returns from the Fourth District, first ward. This takes seventy votes from Sickles, who has obtained a mandamus to compel the board to count these votes.

An explosion occurred this morning in the drug store of S. Gall in Williams st., damaging the stock to the amount of $15,000 and burning the porter so badly that his life is despaired of. The upper portions of the building were occupied for several manufactories and were filled with workmen, several of whom jumped from the windows and were badly injured.

PORTLAND, Nov. 22.—The Atlantic Bank commenced, to-day, redeeming its bills. There was no rush, as the bank is deemed sufficiently secure.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.—We know it is written, "he that doubteth is damned," and yet we venture to doubt the actual passage of a single intelligible communication across the Atlantic cable; we doubt the corporeal existence of "DESAETY," and believe him to be only a fabulous being—that Mr. Buchanan, Queen Victoria and the Public generally have been magnificently hoaxed, and that the object of all this has been to sell the shares in a worthless corporation. So if we are "damned" for doubting, it is to some purpose.—Bath Times.

EASTERN RAILROAD.—There has recently been an addition to the business of this road from the freight of cattle trains which previously came over the Vermont Central Railroad, but which now come over the Eastern Railroad via the Grand Trunk Railway. This business bids fair to be permanent. The receipts from this source average about $200 per week. The floating debt of this company, Nov. 12s, 1858, was $100,000, a reduction of $7,000 in five months. The road earns four per cent. per annum over and above expenses and interest.

MANIA.—In Detroit, Mich., on Wednesday, a man named Daniel Flynn, employed as a laborer in Brady's Warehouse, Detroit, was shot by Capt. Whittlesey, or Wheatly, of the schooner Albatross, with a double-barrelled gun, and expired soon after. All the parties were intoxicated.—While on the way to jail, the captain appeared to labor under a good deal of excitement from the effects of liquor, and not only acknowledged the deed, but spoke boastingly of it, and seemed to think he was justified. "Sorry the man is dead," said he, "but can't be helped; to be sure I shot him, and if there's anything to pay, I'll pay it."

☞ The Salem Gazette says that in Essex on Saturday last, as Mr. Jonathan Low, drover and butcher, was preparing to kill a cow in his slaughter house, she became unmanageable and escaped, running into the adjoining dwelling. She went first into the kitchen, and from there over the stairs into the chamber. Finding it difficult, or impossible to dislodge her, Mr. Low slaughtered her there.

☞ Articles have been going the rounds, asserting that the Bank of England never reissues a note. Such was the case, some twelve years ago; but finding it a useless expense they have modified their rule.—They now only destroy such notes as were redeemed in specie—reissuing all such as had been received on deposit, or in payment of notes.

The wife of Thomas Roper of Hartford, was so frightened by the light of a barn which was on fire in proximity to her house, and which shone into her window, that she dropped dead to the floor. She was nearly forty years of age. It is probable that a disease of the heart had something to do with her death.

WHAT HOME IS.—A bed to sleep in and a table to eat at do not constitute a home. Any old Bachelor, with a salary, can purchase so much of the world's comfort.—But the magnetic fireside circle; the smiles of a mother or wife; the talk of sensible old folks; the affectionate good-nights of children (who should be put early to bed;) the wholesale occupation of heart and mind, in social and intellectual enjoyments;—these are a home.

"YOUNG AMERICA'S" HONOR.—In a liquor case before the Municipal Court in Portland, on Wednesday, two lads about 12 and 15 years of age were called upon to testify, but they refused to take the oath, saying, if their word would not be taken without the oath being administered, they would not testify. The Judge ordered them to be locked up, when they immediately repented and took the oath.

Any man of decent information who sneers at politics, deserves to be excluded from the benefits of good government and free institutions. Such remarks are common those who repute themselves wiser than their neighbors; but some tolerably smart, as well as decently respectable men, have taken an interest in "party politics."—Charlestown Adv.

FAT GEESE.—Hon. Nathaniel Church, of Little Compton, has fatted 200 geese the present season. One hundred and fifty of them were half wild, and weighed 1970 pounds, averaging 13 pounds each. Fifty tame geese weighed 610 pounds, averaging 12 pounds. He takes them to Boston for Thanksgiving.—New Bedford Standard.

The most remarkable case of indecision heard of, was that of a man who sat up all night because he could not decide which to take off first, his coat or his boots.

Among the vows that a man has to make in Japan when he is married, is one that he will find plenty of tea and rice for his wife during her life.

Mercy always fleeth near the ground.—The flower of grace groweth in the dells of humility. The stars of love shine in the night of our self-despair.

What was the difference between Shakspeare and his sovereign! He was a wonder, she was a Tudor.

Keep out of bad company, for the chance is, that when the devil fires into a flock, he will hit somebody.

ATTENTION!! HOUSEKEEPERS!!!

A Great Domestic Improvement.

Shaler's Patent Carpet Sweeper.

This sweeper is superior to all others, and has taken ten or twelve Diplomas over all others at various State Fairs in New York, Vermont, Ohio, Michigan, New Jersey, &c. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, or the money refunded.

No housekeeper would willingly do without it, after once trying it. Among its merits are—

1st—It sweeps cleaner than a broom without injury or wear to the finest carpet.

2d—It raises no dust to soil the furniture or stifle the lungs.

3d—It sweeps either way, backward or forward—which no other sweeper does, giving this an immense advantage over all others.

4th—It is light and simple in its construction, and not liable to get out of repair.

5th—It is easily worked; can be used by a child.

6th—It is durable, and will last for years, and is cheaper than any other.

7th—It cleans any carpet thoroughly, taking the dirt, dust, lint, hairs, pins, needles, &c., directly up into the box, whereas the common method of sweeping drives the dirt along the entire surface of the carpet, forcing it into the grains of the carpet, and thereby injuring it very much.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SALT RHEUM.—There is no disease of the skin so distressing and obstinate as the chronic forms of eczema, commonly called Salt Rheum. Persons of the highest social position, have been cured of this in a surprisingly short time by the PERUVIAN SYRUP—like all other cutaneous affections, Salt Rheum must yield to its powerful action on the absorbents and to its tonic and alterative qualities.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of GARDNER'S PARISIAN PIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietor, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer!" It also removes in a few hours Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Blotches and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

LOSS OF TIME.

Persons afflicted with disease unnecessarily lose much time. No remedy, in these days, is fit to be taken in the human system, unless it will, in a few days, exhibit some favorable symptoms of restoring the patient to health. RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, for all acute pains, instantly proves its efficacy. The moment it is applied, the most excruciating pains are relieved, and the most violent irritations allayed. If Rheumatism, or Stiffness of the Joints, or Weakness in the Backbone, or Limbs, or Pain in the Side, or Dysentery, or Diarrhea trouble you, Radway's Ready Relief will in a few minutes free you from your painful condition—Bear in mind, no pain will exist where the Ready Relief is applied.

For Scrofula, Syphilis, Sores, Rickets, Night Sweats, Bad Coughs, Consumption, Salt Rheum, in three days Radway's Renovating Resolvent will make a favorable change.

Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Fever, Liver Complaint, take one of Radway's Regulators on going to bed.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

This Gin, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "as good as any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to the changes of climate.

For sale in quarts at twenty-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and dealers in merchandise. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Corehill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; S. A CARD TO THE LADIES

DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

CITY ELECTION.—It will be seen by the returns, that Mayor Morrison is re-elected by 137 majority; that in Ward 1, the Democratic ticket is elected by about 70 majority; that in Ward 2, the American Republican ticket prevails by about 100 majority; [a Citizen's ticket in this ward received about 12 votes, most of which bore Mr. Morrison's name for Mayor.] And in Ward 3, the Democratic ticket had about 150 majority.

Last March Mr. Morrison had 70 majority for Mayor; in 1857 he had 83.

☞ In the Court of Common Pleas, on Monday forenoon, the jury, in the case of Sargent vs. Noyes, brought in a verdict of $87 for the plaintiff, as compensation for boarding a colt. The sum claimed was $94.

The Court was in session on Tuesday, without a jury,—and was engaged, with the several counsel, in disposing of the docket. Adjourned.

☞ On account of the storm, the ship Harry Hastings was not launched on Tuesday. If the weather should be suitable, they will "let her slide" to-day, about half-past one o'clock, from Pierce's Island.

☞ The storm of rain, snow and wind on Tuesday, was quite severe at this place, and along the coast. The tide was also very high. On the salt marsh between Lynn and Boston, the track of the Eastern Railroad was so washed away as to cause some detention of the afternoon trains.

☞ Burleigh, the New York correspondent of the Boston Journal says:

Rev. Lyman Whiting, of Portsmouth, N. H., the pastor of the Congregational church of that place, has been called to the pastoral charge of the Park Presbyterian church, in Brooklyn. Mr. Whiting has many strong points about him, and will no doubt make his mark in New York if he concludes to remove here from his present location.

The Creation has lately been performed in Germany by a chorus of nearly six hundred voices, and an instrumental of one hundred and thirty-seven! Just think of fifty-three violins, sixteen violas, eighteen 'cellos and sixteen basses!

The jealous man poisons his own banquet, and then eats of it.

Why isn't a reporter like a policeman? Because one takes down what the other takes up.

MARRIED.

In this city, on Sunday evening, Nov. 21st, by Rev. Jonathan Hall, Mr. George C. Abbott to Miss Anne Maria Cate, daughter of Mr Joseph Cate, all of this city.

In this city, Nov. 22d, by Rev. Dr. Lamson, Mr. John G. Small, of Boston, Mass., to Miss Helen L. Gregg, daughter of Col. Simon B. Gregg, of Andover, Me.

In this city, Nov. 22nd, by Rev. Jona. Hall, Mr. Richard Laha, of Wellfleet, Me., to Miss Melissa A. Bragdon of York, Me.

In Farmington, Nov. 18th, by Rev. D. P. Cilley, Mr. George W. T. Amazeen to Miss Lucy G. Fritham, both of New Castle.

In Acton, Me., John Miller, jr., to Belinda B. Folsom of Ossipee, N. H.

In Allenstown, William F. Head, of Hooksett, to Mary H Sargent.

DIED.

In this city, Jeremiah Drew, aged 27.—Dr. John H. Paul, aged 40, a native of Somersworth, Me.

In Lyman, Mrs. Lydia Bailey, aged 90.

In Bedford, Mrs. Dolly Riddle, aged 80.

In Rochester, Gershom Downs, aged 58.

YOU HAD BETTER TRY

MY MOTHER'S SALVE

This celebrated preparation has obtained and enviable and WORLD-WIDE reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.

"My Mother's Salve! in a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a fact of its worth.

Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A. M. Beck.

ASSASSINATION OF NAPOLEON III.

By the last steamer we learn that what has been predicted by many, feared by some, and hoped for by others, has finally taken place, viz:—That they manufacture and sell more Cloaks and Raglans at Messrs. Allen & Paine's than at all the other stores together in Portsmouth. Also that they sell their garments and Ladies' Cloths, Broadcloths, Beavers and other Cloak goods, at much lower prices than any one else.

PERPETUAL MOTION DISCOVERED.—They are manufacturing twenty-five Cloaks per day, and some days are unable to meet the demand, so great is the rush for them in consequence of the latest styles, best of work, and very low prices at which they are sold, at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.—Our lady readers when they want a nice fitting garment go to Messrs. Allen & Paine's and have one made.—These go-a-head young gentlemen cut and make them right in their own store—and having a full new stock of Beaver and Broadcloths, in Black, Drabs, Peach Brown, &c., they are sure to suit every customer.

☞ A splendid new Sleeve and Collar pattern, for the scolloped Raglan, just received by Allen & Paine.

RAGLANS,
CLOAKS,
—AND—
CIRCULARS.

We invite the attention of those about to purchase an outside garment to our Beaver and Broad Cloths, in Black, Browns, Peach Color (new) and Drabs, in Heavy, Fine, Super and Extra Superfine qualities, with Lining Flannels to match. We have given our particular attention in selecting our cloakings and are now prepared to manufacture them to order into any style of garment desired by our customers, at the shortest possible notice. We shall also offer them at the very lowest cash prices per yard, to those who may wish to make up their own garments: to those who prefer to do so, we shall be very happy to either cut their garment for NOTHING or to make them a PRESENT of any of our patterns. N. B.—Three new Raglan Patterns this week

Don't buy a cloak of any kind before looking through our stock.

Ristori Plaids.

A new article of German Dress Goods, in Plaids, Bayaderes and Stripes, nearly as handsome as Silks, and costing but little more than D'Laines. They are double-faced, or alike on both sides, very nice to wear and the most fashionable goods in the market.

All-Wool Flannels.

The largest assortment in the city, containing over two hundred pieces of

HEAVY BLUE, RED, ORANGE, GRAY, MIXED AND WHITE.

A NEW INVENTION.

Great Economy and CONVENIENCE.

THE

BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having

Two Large Ovens

AND

Six Boiling Places,

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS

PERFECT IN ITSELF,

and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the cost being of

DOUBLE THICKNESS,

will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT:

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it, if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

Indian Physician.

Dr. B. S. GOODWIN

Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that she has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.

ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN. Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsy, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsey, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!

Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself predined for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 16, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Drych a'r Gwyliedydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 13, '63.

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who condescended to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thicken ing the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CADWALLADER CALADER.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I have ever used. After using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KIST.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fearful it would fall off, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up grow out and turned back to its original color, (black). At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend it to all. J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 1½ pints, more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove all acrid matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy free bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving a long tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause and cure the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring will prevent nightmare.

One dose taken at night, will move the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose will cure Nausea and Sickness of the stomach.

One dose will cure Jaundice removes all sallowness of the natural color from the skin.

One dose takes a short time before setting gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst form, will cure Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fevers and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN.

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is of a nature to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $1; halves, 50; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to puzzle the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $75,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the lottery, with the amount each ticket is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to R. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious threads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secresy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and enclosing a fee, from all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded by the experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of all healthy constitutions.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 6ly

THANKSGIVING.

This peculiarly American festival (says Porter's Spirit,) comes around under a far more favorable aspect of affairs than it did last year. Then it was rather a difficult matter to get one's gratitude up to the demonstrative pitch, surrounded as we all were, by the wrecks of broken banks and public confidence, and the other concomitants of a pecuniary panic. The panic was all our own fault, we know; but a good many people tried to make Providence bear the blame. We hope the same large class will be as ready to thank Providence for the prosperity of the present season, and not labor to convince themselves that it is due to any particular care and wisdom of their own.

That the present season is a prosperous one, almost beyond precedent, no sensible person will deny. Money is abundant, the crops are good, confidence has gone through a course of training, and is getting as strong as a prize-fighter—and every section of the community ought to be in high spirits, and quite ready to indulge in any amount of praise and thanksgiving.

We cannot but rejoice to see the increasing love of healthful, manly sport going on throughout the country in general. Everybody thrives with sport, physically and mentally,—so we believe in it. Persons in rude health are always thankful and cheery. Exercise and cleanliness are near akin to godliness, and, if exhorted to from the pulpit, would do more to promote religious feeling than all the doctrinal discourses in the world can ever do. We don't mean to assert that Morrissey and Heenan, when they were in a state of bodily perfection, were necessarily bright examples of early piety; but we do say that a base-ball club will do more to make its members practical followers of the Divine philosophy, than reading serious books in the close, warm, meeting-room of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Dyspepsia and love of one's neighbor are incompatible. Good, open lungs and braced-up muscles breed good-will to all mankind. Set forms of thanksgiving uttered in a church once a week, do not prove the force of anything but habit; but, when a man keeps his body in the vigorous, useful condition it was originally intended to be, he shows an appreciation of the bounties of Providence in deeds which speak far more expressively than any amount of conventional words.

We believe that this year's thanksgiving will be more heartfelt and honest than any that have preceded it, for the simple reason that there is a greater diffusion of general health than there ever was before. We believe that for every game of cricket, or base-ball, every ten-mile walk, every hour's rowing, sparring or use of dumb-bells, and every yacht excursion, that sensible men may have indulged in during the Fall and Summer, there will be extensive extra allowances or turkey devoured, and grateful acknowledgement for benefits received on Thursday. There will be fewer social boards with a vacant seat to cast a gloom on the joy of the occasion—for exercise promotes longevity, and many a fine young fellow, fresh from the country, who would have otherwise sickened and died in the strange, unsavory atmosphere of the city, will go home for that day with the bright color in his cheeks and sparkle in his eye that he brought to town with him, preserved by a wholesome indulgence here in open-air, athletic games.

We hope that by this time next year we shall have twice as many base ball and cricket-clubs, twice as much walking, rowing, sparring and yachting, and then there will be twice as many turkeys eaten, and more than a double allowance of thanksgiving.—Porter's Spirit of the Times.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, specifications, and all Papers for Securing Patent Rights for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions.—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL. AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind do the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
R. H. EDDY.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1858.

ABDUCTION OF THE JEWISH CHILD MORTARA.—The kidnapping of the child of Mamolo Mortara Levi, at Bologna, by order of the Catholic Bishop, has excited a profound sensation among the Jews in Europe and this country, and has arrested the attention of the lovers of civil and religious liberty everywhere.

The circumstances of the case (as abridged for the Boston Journal,) are briefly these: Signor Levi, a Jew, resides with his family at Bologna, in one of the Roman States. In the year 1852, his son, about twelve months old, was taken ill with fever, and the servant, a Catholic, was advised by an acquaintance to baptize the child, so that if it died a place would be secured for it in Paradise. The child, however, as the attending physician certifies, was not in danger of its life, and there was therefore no cause for anxiety. The servant demurred to the proposition, but was over-persuaded, and had the child secretly baptized by a priest. Last year another of the children was taken ill, and the same girl was advised by a female friend to get the child baptized, but feeling that she had done wrong in the first instance, refused, although she had ample opportunity. The child died, and the girl's friend reproached her, when she revealed the fact that she had caused one of the children to be baptized several years previously, and that she had always repented the act.

This revelation was communicated by the woman to the priests, who summoned the servant before the Inquisition and made her swear not to say anything about it, especially to her master and mistress. In the middle of the night the Bishop sent a guard, who seized the child, tearing him from his parents' arms. The boy cried bitterly, and the father and mother fainted, and a general alarm was created among the terrified neighbors. The boy was conveyed immediately to Rome, where he is to be brought up in the Catholic faith, unless the efforts which are now in progress shall secure his release. The father is allowed to see his child, (whom he is endeavoring to recover,) but not alone. At first he was denied this privilege. It is said the Pope has the case under consideration, but the result of his judgment is very much feared. The only excuse offered for the seizure of the child is his secret baptism into the Catholic faith, while an infant.

It is certainly a most flagrant case of tyranny, and one which will excite the sympathy of the whole civilized world in behalf of the injured parents. The Jews of Europe are adopting active measures to secure the intervention of the different governments in behalf of their outraged countryman, and have appealed to the Jews of this country to lend their aid in this hour of trouble. The appeal will no doubt be heartily responded to. The Jews of Philadelphia held a meeting on Friday afternoon, and adopted resolutions expressing their deep sympathy with Signor Mortara, and appointed a committee to wait upon the President, and request his good offices, through our Minister at Rome, in securing the restoration of the boy to his parents, and to secure an interdict against clandestine baptism in the future. This latter point seems to have been already attained, inasmuch as a late foreign paper states that the Pope has resolved to modify the existing regulations relative to the baptism of Jewish children.

The Jews in Boston held a public meeting, Oct. 21, to act on this subject,—and adopted some strong resolutions. They say,

Whereas, We hear with astonishment and deep sorrow that the most odious act that ever emanated from the Prince of Darkness was recently perpetrated in the dominions of Pio Nono, the Pope of Rome. That a Jewish boy, about six years of age, belonging to Mamolo Mortara Levi, was, in the town of Bologna, in the middle of the night of the 23d of last June, forcibly kidnapped from the arms of its parents by the so-called Holy Inquisition, on the plea that its nurse had, five years previous, baptized the said child in the name of the Catholic faith, and that thus far all the heart-rending and agonizing appeals of its afflicted parents, and the just indignation from the liberal press and generous public of Europe, was, and is treated by those irresponsible ministers of the Catholic Church in their peculiar, unfeeling and inhuman manner.

And whereas, This abominable outrage not only affects the Jew, but it equally concerns the Christian who is not of the Catholic creed, as what they (the Inquisition) dared in defiance of every principle of moral justice, inflict one day on the Jew, they may and will repeat on a future day to the detriment of the Protestants residing within the limits of their unprincipled power. The history of these incarnate fiends, written in the blood of millions of victims, fully justifies such conclusion. Nay, this incredible atrocity, "this monstrous violation of the rights of nature," must convince even our intelligent Catholic fellow-citizens that their opponents are not altogether wrong in designating the Pope as "the INFALLIBLE arch enemy of all human progress and human freedom," and that the lovers of American liberty have strong cause to view with apprehension the insidious efforts of the minions of Rome to subvert the system of our public schools, that they may the better be enabled to fanaticize, to brutalize, to enslave the human mind, and reduce us to a level with the unfortunate denizens of those lands where they (the Roman hierarchy) were permitted to acquire full sway.

Under this preamble, they pass Resolutions,—1; claiming liberty of conscience and self defence; 2, calling on all lovers of freedom to agitate and arouse indignation against the pontiff, hierarchy, and inquisition; 3, to petition Congress, the president, &c., to protest and enlist some European powers, &c.

BRUTAL.—In Boston, on Monday, P.M., according to previous arrangements among some of the sporting men, a fight took place between two dogs known as "Blacksmith," of New Bedford, and "Boxer," of Albany, for $300 a side. The fight was a savage and brutal one, and lasted nearly two hours, and "Boxer" was declared the winner. The attendance of spectators at this brutal exhibition was not large, yet it is estimated that between $3000 and $4000 changed hands on the result.—Both dogs died that night.

It seems to be sad that such men should be suffered to congregate and spend their ill-begotten gains in such brutal and dismal pastime. They are a disgrace, a moral cancer, on any community. But such brutes are found in all cities.

PLEASANT INCIDENT.—At the funeral of a little babe in New Sharon, a few days since, says the Gospel Banner, a circumstance occurred, remarkably cheering and suggestive.

The little one, all beautifully robed for the grave, was laid in its coffin on the morning of its burial. The weeping friends placed in its little hand a small bouquet of flowers, among which was an unopened rosebud, of the "Rose of Sharon." The lid was then placed upon the coffin, and the funeral services performed. When after the lapse of not more than two or three hours, the coffin was opened again, and the friends gathered round to look upon it for the last time, that bud had become a full blown rose, while grasped in the cold hand of death. It seemed as though a voice came up from those beautiful sealed lips, saying, "Weep not for me; though broken from the parent stem, I am blooming in the Paradise of God.—Millions of infant souls compose the family above."

LEARNING AND APPETITE.—It has been well known, at least since the days of Dr. Johnson, that nature often furnishes the men of large brain with a good digestive apparatus. But this truth has seldom been more strikingly expressed than it was lately by a celebrated colored caterer, who practices his useful profession in one of our sister cities, which is renowned for its excellent school of learning. A lady was about to make a party, and invite among others the Faculty of the college. She therefore held a consultation with the caterer about the preparations which were necessary. She was somewhat surprised at the estimates which he presented, and ventured to remonstrate with him a little. "Them college folks is coming?" inquired he. "Yes," she replied. "Wall, then, depend on't, I'm right," he said, with much emphasis, "for ma'am them larned 'ligious people eat awful!"

CHINA.—The dates from Alexandria are, Shanghae, Sept. 20, Hong Kong, Sept. 28, Singapore, Oct. 7. Lord Elgin awaited at Shadghae the Commissioners for arranging the tariff, and which were expected from Pekin in the begining of October. All was quiet at Canton, and trade was recommencing. The Chinese were returning to Hong Kong.

The Dutch expedition against Jarube had been successful. The landing took place on the 6th of Sept., Jarube was in possion of the Dutch. The loss of the natives was considerable, while on the side of the Dutch four were killed and thirty-four wounded.

The French and English forces have landed at Touran, a part of Cochin China, and the place was taken without the loss of a man. The bay and river of Touran were held in a state of effective blockade by the forces under Admiral De Sendouilly from the 1st of September.

HOLLAND.—A bill has been brought before the "States" at the Hague, for the emancipation of the slaves in Surinam and Curacoa. The first colony is to get 11,000,000 of florins, the second 3,000,000. The slaves are estimated for idemnity according to a tariff; a negro on a sugar plantation 375 florins; on a coffee or cocoa do. 200 florins; on a cotton or rice do. 200 florins. There are 37,740 slaves in Surinam, and 9000 in Curacoa.

A dissolute white man was recently sold in Louisville, in front of the Court House, under the vagrant act, for $1.

ROMANCE SPOILED.—Some days ago, we published an account of one Catharine Connell, in Boston, who died while kneeling in prayer at her bedside. Now it seems that the deceased had not lived happily with her husband, and both are represented as having been addicted to the use of liquor. On Sunday evening, complaint was made at the office of the City Marshal that her husband had murdered her.

From the testimony of several witnesses, relatives of the deceased, it appears that on Saturday, Connell thrust his wife out of their apartments in the building they occupied, into the entry way, where she remained some time, when she entered the room of her sister-in-law, to whom she declared that her husband had killed her—that he had choked her and torn her tongue out. She was laid on a bed, some liquor procured and given her, after which she returned to her own rooms. The woman died on Monday.

The story of Connell was that he was in bed, and waking up saw his wife kneeling at the bed-side as if in prayer. He approached her and found that she was dying. Placing her in bed he went to an outbuilding, and on returning, discovered that life was extinct. He immediately summoned Dr. J. B. Forsyth and a Catholic priest. While the priest was in the discharge of his religious duties over the remains of the deceased, her brother, John Regan, accosted Connell with, "Why did you murder her, why didn't you give her cloud, and not murder her outright."—Father Strain bid him say no more; that it was bad enough, and not to make a bad matter worse.

The Court in passing upon the case saw nothing in the examination to warrant the supposition that the defendant had murdered his wife; and ordered him to be discharged.

The solution of the affair is that the woman probably died from the effects of disease of the heart, induced by dissipation, and aggravated by ill treatment.

HUMAN ENGINEERING.—The Newburyport Herald, in a Police Court item for Saturday, says:

Man is the most perfect piece of mechanism that was ever constructed. Six thousand years have rolled into the womb of eternity, carrying off the inventive genius of each successive generation, and yet no one has ever succeeded in getting a patent for a single improvement in our construction. Well might the poet exclaim, "How wonderful, how complicated is man!"

But very few understand the delicate workings of the machinery which nature has placed in their possession. The runners of most of the machines which appear at the Inspector's office, (i. e. the Police Court) have been found incompetent engineers. In some cases their machinery has been found completely eaten up by the vitriolized liquids which have been allowed to flow into their boilers, penetrating every part of their delicate machinery. On being sent to the repair shop at Ipswich, it is usually ascertained that such machines are too far gone to be rebuilt, and in many cases they are allowed to remain in our public institutions until gathered up by the great Master Builder.

Some get up steam on turpentine gin, which produces a great internal heat, and gives the head of the machine the appearance of a red hot salamander. This class are soon burnt out and switched off the track of the great railway of life. Others will apply strong beer as a lubricating oil to make the joints supple and give elasticity and increased power to their locomotion. In these cases it has been found that the beer chokes up the flues, corrodes the boiler, impedes the action, causing an expansion of the whole structure, ending in spontaneous combustion, or being puffed up and blown off by dropsy.

Robert Davidson of Amesbury is one of those unskilful tinkers of the human system. He was the absconding witness who was found firing up his machine at the store of Goldthrop. He was found at night, off the track, in a very disabled condition, in consequence of his carrying to great a head of steam. He was finally righted and driven into the temporary receptacle for disabled human machinery, and in the morning was taxed five dollars and costs, to be paid in three days, or three months at Ipswich, to stand committed in execution of sentence.

As we expected, Bro. Emery, of the Bangor Union, to show that Haskings is no Democrat, resorts to an array of figures! Hoping Bro. E. will not consider us uncharitable we will very mildly suggest that the figures most forcible in forming his conclusions are those on the first page of his paper, headed "Proposals for Indian Goods!" for which Government pays him so much per square of 300 cms! Don't blame you, friend, for getting all you can. The wretched work you perform should be well settled for in this world, for in the next there will be the devil to pay!—Bath Times.

ITALY.—The case of the Jewish boy, Motara, who was abducted by the Roman Catholics, still occupied considerable attention, and a letter from Turin says that Count Cavour had instructed the Sardinian Charge of Affairs at Rome to remonstrate with the Roman Government in the matter.

11 DAYS LATER FROM CALIFORNIA,

BY THE TEHUANTEPEC ROUTE.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20.—The steamer Quaker City brings Isthmus dates of the 17th inst., and the California mails of the 5th inst. She made the passage in 63 hours. On the outward passage she crossed the bar at Coatzacoles in 14 feet of water and sailed up to Minatitlan, where an immense crowd met the steamer Suchil, which proceeded up the river with the mails and passengers at 12 o'clock, night 15th. The mails and passengers then proceeded on to Ventosa. The total running time from New Orleans was 78 hours.

The California mails of the 5th inst. reached Ventosa on the evening of the 24th Suchil on the morning of the 16th, and Minatitlan at 12 o'clock the same night.—The trip to California from New Orleans can be made in less than twelve days.

Everything was progressing well on the Isthmus. All but 25 miles of this end of the road was in good running order, and would be all finished in 2 weeks; 20 coaches were running. It is proposed to open a new route via the river Jaltepec, which will cut off seven miles of the worst part of the road, and shorten the distance to 100 miles.

There is plenty of water at Coatzacoles bar, and no difficulty is experienced at Ventosa; it is quite as good a harbor as Valparaiso.

Heavy rains had taken place in California. The weather was very cold, and there was much snow on the mountains. Business is reviving.

Steamship Sonora sailed from San Francisco with $2,250,000 in gold and 650 passengers.

The Frazer River adventurers were fast returning.

A society had been formed for encouraging emigration to Spanish America and Sonora.

A large party of emigrants had arrived at Los Angelos from Texas, Arkansas, Missouri and Iowa.

Excavations for a U. S. Foundry had been commenced at Mare Island. It is to be the largest foundry in the Union.

At San Francisco real estate was advancing, and better times were generally looked for.

Thos. O. Larkin, a pioneer citizen of California, and once U. S. Consul, is dead.

☞ Four days later news from Liverpool, viz., to Nov. 10, are received at New York, per steamer City of Baltimore.

Napoleon, in his letter to Prince Napoleon, says if emigration of free negroes is the slave trade in disguise, he will have none of it, and directs the Prince to resume negotiations with England relative to the substitution of coolies for negroes.

Napoleon's funeral car was formally presented to France by Sir John Burgoyne.—Prince Napoleon, on its reception, said he received it as testimony of Victoria's desire to efface the poignant remembrances of St. Helena, and as an additional pledge of cordial alliance.

The Legislature of Holland have introduced a bill emancipating slaves at Surinam and Curacao.

The conferences at Madrid between the Spanish Foreign Minister and the English and French Ambassadors promised satisfactory solution of the Mexican difficulty.

MEETING OF CONGRESS.—Congress meets, this year, on the 6th of December. The House meets in its new hall, the Senate in its old one.

ATTENTION!! HOUSEKEEPERS!!!

A Great Domestic Improvement.

Shaler's Patent Carpet Sweeper.

This sweeper is superior to all others, and has taken ten or twelve Diplomas over all others at various State Fairs in New York, Vermont, Ohio, Michigan, New Jersey, &c. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, or the money refunded.

No housekeeper would willingly do without it, after once trying it. Among its merits are—

1st—It sweeps cleaner than a broom without injury or wear to the finest carpet.

2d—It raises no dust to soil the furniture or stifle the lungs.

3d—It sweeps either way, backward or forward—which no other sweeper does, giving this an immense advantage over all others.

4th—It is light and simple in its construction, and not liable to get out of repair.

5th—It is easily worked; can be used by a child.

6th—It is durable, and will last for years, and is cheaper than any other.

7th—It cleans any carpet thoroughly, taking the dirt, dust, lint, hairs, pins, needles, &c., directly up into the box, whereas the common method of sweeping drives the dirt along the entire surface of the carpet, forcing it into the grains of the carpet, and thereby injuring it very much.

The public are invited to examine it, at the Bookstore of J. F. SHORES, JR., n24 No. 1 Congress Block.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SALT RHEUM.—There is no disease of the skin so distressing and obstinate as the chronic forms of eczema, commonly called Salt Rheum. Persons of the highest social position, have been cured of this in a surprisingly short time by the PERUVIAN SYRUP—like all other cutaneous affections, Salt Rheum must yield to its powerful action on the absorbents and to its tonic and alterative qualities.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have spent a thousand impertinentory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of GARDNER'S PARISIAN PIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Parisian in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It also removes Tan, Sunburning Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

LOSS OF TIME.

Persons afflicted with disease unnecessarily lose much time. No remedy, in these days, is fit to be taken in the human system, unless it will, in a few days, exhibit some favorable symptoms of restoring the patient to health. RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, for acute pains, instantly proves its efficacy. The moment it is applied, the most excruciating pains are relieved, and the most violent irritations allayed. RHEUMATISM or STIFFNESS of the Joints, or Weakness in the Back, or Lumbago, or Pain in the Side, or Dysentery, or Diarrhea troubles you, Radway's Ready Relief will in a few minutes free you from your painful condition.—Bear in mind, no pain will exist where the Ready Relief is applied.

For Scrofula, Syphilis, Sores, Tumors, Night Sweats, Bad Coughs, Consumption, Salt Rheum, in three days Radway's Renovating Resolvent will make a favorable change.

Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Liver Complaint, take one of Radway's Regulators on going to bed.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, and flavored with the aromatics of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable remedies of the Materia Medica, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by the physicians as a remedy for DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing complaints to which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Western States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of winter and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHERS IS genuine.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. R. Pecker, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st; M. Dow, Toilet, &c. Price 38 cts. For sale by R. Smith & Co., 20 Exchange st; Gilbert, Abbott & Co., 78 Broad st., Deland & Snow, 34 Elm st. and others. In Portland, Me., of Fox, Clay & Co., C. W. Atwell, and C. C. Mitchell & Son.

A CARD TO THE LADIES

DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by O. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

☞ The Ship "Harry Hastings," of 900 tons burthen, was launched from the yard of E. G. Peirce, on Peirce's Island, on Wednesday afternoon. She is owned by Henry Hastings, Esq., of Boston, and is to be commanded by Capt. Geo. W. Tucker, of this city.

There is now but a single vessel in course of construction, in this harbor—a ship of 1000 tons, at the yard of George Raynes, for sale. Uncle Sam is building one, at the Navy Yard—and two or three more will probably be going up at other private yards soon.

☞ We learn that Henry Hastings, Esq, the owner of the new ship named for himself, launched on Wednesday in this city, presented each man employed on her, a fine Turkey for Thanksgiving. So they have all got so much to be thankful for, at any rate—and it good wishes will help the craft along any, Capt. Tucker will make prosperous voyages.

☞ As the Chroniclers will find all the employ they want, to-day, in being thankful for opportunity to labor hard almost all the other days in the year—we shall issue no daily on Friday. Our Weekly will appear, as usual.

Death of an Aged Couple.—Died, in this city, on Wednesday morning, Nov. 24, at 2 o'clock, Mrs. Susan Fitzgerald, aged 78; and on the same morning at 6 o'clock, Mr. Richard Fitzgerald, aged 87. Mr. Fitzgerald was a good mechanic, (blacksmith,) a very neat and skilful gardener, and an honest and industrious man. Both the husband and wife were constant attendants at the North Church,—their funeral services will take place from their late residence, on Friday afternoon at half past 2 o'clock.

☞ On Wednesday evening, one Barry, an Irishman, who is represented to have been obliged to leave this place some time since for an assault on one Crowly, came in collision with John Holland in Bow street, being at the time in a state of intoxication. Afterward he commenced an assault on the premises of widow Ryan, breaking doors and windows, upsetting the store, and injuring one of her children. The police arrested the fellow and put him in the lock-up, despite his resistance.

Douglas at Washington.—"Perley," the Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal, speaks as follows of the manner in which Judge Douglas will be received at Washington by his southern friends, and of the catechising he will have to undergo:

The Judge is now to meet a fire in the rear from his southern friends, and having pulled their chestnuts from the fire in Illinois, he is to be accused of having smutted his fingers with black republican soot.—He will be asked if it is true that he asserted the right of the territorial legislature to exclude slavery to be "perfect and complete under the Kansas Nebraska bill, and if he declared that "he had argued the Kansas Nebraska bill on that principle" through the state of Illinois in 1855; and if he said in reply to a qestion put to him by Mr. Lincoln, that he would not advocate an interference by Congress for the purpose of protecting slavery in a territory where the legislature had excluded it?" If he has uttered these heresies he is not sound on the goose! Jeff. Davis is ready to hurl anathemas at him, in a tone very different from the gentle and harmonious hrrangues with which the would-be dictator favored the Union loving men of Maine. Henry A. Wise will fall back upon his Illinois letter in which he said: "Protection in the territories and everywhere, to all rights of person and property, in accordance with the rights of the states, and of the constitution and laws of the Union. Here, then, may be found Virginia's declaration with regard to slavery in the territories. To this she is constitutionally entitled. She asks no more—she will take no less." And then unless the little Giant eats humble pie, and yields up his halberd, like an ancient and honorable commander, to shoulder a musket in the ranks—then will the political axe neatly decapitate all who have sided with the senator who defied the power of the administration. Gentlemen who have been jubilant since the reception of the returns from Illinois, will take due notice of the prophecy and govern themselves accordingly.

Fearful Accident.—On Monday afternoon a heavy iron truss roof, which was in course of erection over the rolling mill of Messrs. Brown Brothers, Waterbury, Ct., fell with a tremendous crash, killing Mr. Thomas J. Paine, and wounding six other persons. One man had his arm broken in three places. The roof was nearly completed, but is now a total wreck. It was to cost $60,000, the building being a very large one—200 feet long and 100 feet wide.

☞ The Florence correspondent of the Providence Journal communicates the following personal intelligence, date of Oct. 16:—

Among the Americans recently arrived here is Mr. Franklin Pierce, our late President. The health of Mrs. Pierce is improved after the brief tour and sojourn in Switzerland and Northern Italy. They will spend a short time in Florence, and then set off for Rome, where it is their intention to pass the winter. Mr. Hawthorne has left Florence for Siena, where he will pass a month prior to his return to Rome.

☞ There is abundant occasion for Thanksgiving, in goodly harvests, general health, freedom of conscience, and considerable freedom of action; and a loud call for penitence for the sins of excess, oppression, or fraud, as well as for sins of omission, lack of charity, selfishness and negligence.

Pierre Descombe, a Frenchman, died at St. Roch, Canada, on the 15th inst., at the great age of 112 years. He retained full possession of all his faculties down to the hour of his death.

ASSASSINATION OF NAPOLEON III.

By the last steamer we learn that what has been predicted by many, feared by some, and hoped for by others, has finally taken place, viz:—That they manufacture and sell more Cloaks and Raglans at Messrs. Allen & Paine's than at all the other stores together in Portsmouth. Also that they sell their garments and Ladies' Cloths, Broadcloths, Beavers and other Cloak goods, at much lower prices than any one else.

Perpetual Motion Discovered.—They are manufacturing twenty-five Cloaks per day, and some days are unable to meet the demand, so great is the rush for them in consequence of the latest styles, best of work, and very low prices at which they are sold, at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

Our Next President.—Our lady readers when they want a nice fitting garment go to Messrs. Allen & Paine's and have one made.—These go-a-head young gentlemen cut and make them right in their own store—and having a full new stock of Beaver and Broadcloths, in Black, Drabs, Peach Brown, &c., they are sure to suit every customer.

☞ A splendid new Sleeve and Collar pattern, for the scolloped Raglan, just received by Allen & Paine.

A NEW INVENTION.

Great Economy and CONVENIENCE.

THE

BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having

Two Large Ovens

AND

Six Boiling Places.

The Ovens will take SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling with out any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS

PERFECT IN ITSELF,

and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the cast ings being of

DOUBLE THICKNESS,

will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely —

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked four cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it, if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

Housekeepers Buy One,

AND

SAVE

Your Time, Labor and Fuel.

ITS ADVANTAGES ARE NUMEROUS. IT COSTS LESS, IT OCCUPIES LESS SPACE, IT REQUIRES LESS FUEL, IT WILL KEEP FIRE LONGER, IT WILL DO MORE WORK, IT WILL BAKE QUICKER, IT WILL WEAR LONGER, THAN ANY RANGE IN MARKET.

DR. B. S. GOODWIN

Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.

ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and adapted to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN. Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsey, Worms, all Disease peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!

Our philosophy of practice is based on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye never so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, it will be marked and shriveled, dark and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, nature will look more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was decidedly growing gray, but on the application of your "Hair Restorative," it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Dirch a'r Gwyllieydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 18 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '55.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown or black, and stopping their falling or thinning the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CLINKER.

NEW YORK, July 24, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most wonderful one I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely.— J. G. KIMP.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was nearly quite bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grow out and turn back to its original color. Hitherto, at this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for $2: the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove all needless bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of disease—getting at the radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are often wholly prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the cause of sickness, and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will quickly relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediate relieves Costiveness.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE inventor of this Roofing believed many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by heat and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over shingles or 1 in. at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most confidently and unhesitatingly assert, that the articles which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same come to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write orders plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, unfortunately given over to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and from a false delicacy, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the plain description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing eyes.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments on the false and dangerous pretence of the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These Pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Precautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by selling them a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy3 tf

A Revolution in the Hunting World.

Reuthe's Patent Spring Gun Animal Trap.

More certain of its prey than the most perfect Rifle in the hands of the most experienced marksman, without lessening the value of Pelts or Skins, as is the case in ordinary modes of shooting, it effects the capture of the animal either dead or (if preferred) alive; the barrels discharging themselves, simultaneously with the hooks imbedding themselves in the mouth.

It is simple, yet strong and perfect in its construction neither cumbersome nor difficult to arrange.

There are three different sizes, which will effectually operate on Minks, Woodchucks, Otters, Wildcats, Lynx, Foxes, Wolves, Deer, Panthers, Tigers, Bears, Buffaloes, etc.; in fact, on all animals which repay hunting.

☞ To be had, in large or small quantities, of JOSEPH B. ADAMS,
No. 3 Congress Block, Portsmouth, Agent for Rockingham County. n18

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
MY MOTHER'S SALVE
This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and WORLD-WIDE reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.
"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.
"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.
"My Mother's Salve" in a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.
"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.
Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A. M. BECK BURRILL & HUNTING, SOLE PROPRIETORS,
No. 6 Tremont Street,
(Two doors south of Court st.,) BOSTON.
Will be found at all Apothecaries and Family stores in the country. o15 1y

UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN PATENT AGENCY.
SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington,
HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations procured, or applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Reissues and extension procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a due attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.
HENRY B RENWICK, L. D. GALE, S. H. LANE, T. R. PEALE, } Principal Examiners.
THOS. I. EVERETT, F. SOUTHGATE SMITH, WM. C. LANGDON, } Assistant Examiners.
From long acquaintance and intimate official relations with Mr. Cooper, I fully and heartily concur in the foregoing recommendation made by my late colleagues. W. P. N. FITZGERALD,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1858.

THE KANSAS KIDNAPPING CASES.—The Lawrence (Kansas) Republican of the 11th says:

"Judge Elmore has released Samuel Fry, who had been committed for trial by Justice Ladd, for being an accomplice in the attempt to kill, in the recent kidnapping case. The main ground upon which the release was made was that persons of African extraction are incapable of giving testimony. This decision is equivalent to declaring that there is no law in this Territory against the kidnapping of colored persons, from the fact that, in the very nature of the case, the witnesses must, in almost every such case, be the injured parties themselves."

Is there, in the lowest deep, any lower deep, into which some judicial scoundrel does not descend? If any, where is it?

It is stated that the consumption of spirituous liquors is decreasing in Scotland, the number of gallons used being more than one-third less in the last three years, than the former average. Many of the people are substituting bitter ale for the more intoxicating national beverage, whiskey.

Some are teetotallers, also.

Thirty years ago, there was much talk here, about substitutes for rum. Cider, and wine, and beer, were proposed,—but generally those people held out best who used no substitute. Most of those who used them went back again, "like the dog to his vomit, and the sow that was washed to her wallowing in the mire."

PRETTY WOMEN.—We blame no woman for congratulating herself that she is gifted with beauty, but would rather encourage her to heighten and improve to the utmost the charms with which nature has endowed her. The conduct of nine-tenths of the men, however, in regard to this matter, is full of inconsistency and injustice.—They puff up the sex with the "soft sawder" of flattery—and then ridicule them for being vain; extol beauty as if it was the crowning virtue of woman, and then censure her for studying to increase its effects by every means in her power.

Personal attractiveness is a precious gift, even in the estimation of sobriety and good sense. But remember that, after all, beauty is not everything; it may prepossess at first—but there are qualities of mind and heart more precious and more enduring than the rich softness of rosy lips, or the melting glances of a lustrous eye. A plain woman, with understanding, spirit, and good humor, is, after the first ten minutes, far more attractive than any mere beauty that ever shone in a ballroom, however elegant her features, or brilliant her complexion.

AN INDIGNANT WOMAN.—A lady—a young lady we will warrant—thus expatiates in the columns of the Buffalo Advertiser upon a very delicate topic:

"A woman who loves unsought deserves the scorn of the man she loves."

Heaven forgive me! but may the man who penned that paragraph never see another bonnet! May no white dimpled arms ever encircle his cravat, or buttons vegetate on his shirts. May no rosy lips ever press his moustache, and the fates grant that his dickey strings break short off every morning. May no woman's heart ever learn to beat faster—except with indignation—at the mention of his name, and may his stockings always need darning.

☞ Mr. Albert Chase, of Greenfield, N. Y., found the corn in his shed was being rapidly destroyed by squirrels. He procured a gun, and loading it heavily, sent his daughter about 13 years of age, into the shed to drive out the squirrels, while he took up a position outside of the building to shoot them as they came out. In this position he fired at the squirrels, the charge went throught the clapboards, taking effect in the head and neck of the child, resulting fatally in a few hours.

☞ The Supreme Court of Massachusetts, by a majority of the Justices, viz.: Chief Justice Shaw and Justices Metcalf and Merrick—have declared the Jury Law of 1855 to be unconstitutional. They say that the Legislature cannot confer on the Jury, in criminal cases, the rightful power to determine questions of law involved in the issue, against the instructions of the Court. Judge Bigelow concurs with the above named judges, so far as the unconstitutionality of the act of 1855 is concerned, but differs from them as to the purport of the law. Judge Dewey dissents from the three justices on almost every point; and Judge Thomas sustains the constitutionality of the law. On the question of constitutionality, the court is divided, four to two.

Confession of a fault makes half amends.

POSITION OF DOUGLAS.—He thus defines it, in his late speech at Chicago:

My Friends and Fellow-Citizens—I return you my heartfelt thanks for this magnificent demonstration. The Democracy of Illinois have achieved a noble victory over the combined forces of abolitionism and its allies. (Cheers.) You have a right to be proud of this glorious triumph. It is a triumph of the Constitution over faction; it is a triumph of the glorious principles of the Union over fanaticism and sectionalism (applause;) it is a triumph of the principles of self-government over Congressional interference and executive dictation. (Immense applause) * * * * Illinois now occupies the proud position of having fought the good fight; Illinois is now greeted all over the Union—north, south, east and west—as the only northern State that was not overwhelmed in the recent elections. (Cheers.) To what cause do the Democracy of Illinois owe this triumph? It is due to fidelity to principle. (Applause.) In Illinois the true principle of popular sovereignty has been sustained; in Illinois the Cincinnati platform has been strictly adhered to; in Illinois the Democratic organization has been maintained. (Six cheers and long continued enthusiasm.) In Illinois there have been no new tests interpolated into the Democratic platform (applause), in Illinois Democrats have not been persecuted because of differences of opinion, provided they remained inside of the Democratic party, and abided the usages of its organization (cheers); in Illinois, a liberal, just, tolerant and generous policy has prevailed, and in Illinois a glorious triumph has rewarded that policy. (Applause.)

This crowing at his victory over executive dictation, looks as if Douglas had not quite buried the hatchet.

☞ The new U. S. sloop-of-war Hartford, was launched at Charlestown Navy Yard, on Monday. A salute of 31 guns was fired just before she started. As soon as the ship cleared the ways, three young ladies, who stood in the bow, broke each a bottle, containing water, and christened her the "Hartford." This ceremony was performed by Miss Stringham, daughter of Commodore Stringham, Miss Downes and Miss Bates.

The Hartford is 2000 tons burthen, and of beautiful model; and has thirty-four ports. Her estimated speed by steam, will be between 10 and 11 miles per hour; under sail alone 5 miles. Her armament consists of fourteen nine-inch Paixhan guns; each weighing about 9000 pounds. If desirable the number of guns can be increased to 30.

The Hartford was designed by Naval Constructor, E. H. Delano, and built under his supervision. George G. Pook was her draughtsman.

A WORD TO OLD MAIDS AND BACHELORS.—"Men should not marry," it is commonly said, "unless they can not only maintain for themselves the social position to which they have been accustomed, but extend the benefits of that position to their wives and children." A woman who marries is entitled to be kept in the same rank and comfort in which she was reared.

We entirely disavow these doctrines. It should be the aim of every married couple to make their own fortune. No son and daughter, who become man and wife, are entirely to rely on their patrimony, but should willingly commence life at a lower step in the social ladder than that occupied by their parents, so that they may have the merit and happiness of rising, if possible to the top.

Imagine the case of an aged couple, who by great perseverance have acquired possession of immense wealth, and are living in a state of ease and splendor which is no more than the reward of their long life of industry. Will anybody say that the children of such old folks should live in the same grandeur as their parents? The idea is preposterous. They have no right to such luxury, they have done nothing to deserve it, and if their parents are honest in dividing their property among them, they can have no means of supporting it.

Yet marriages are contracted on the principle that the married couple shall be able to keep up the rank to which they have been accustomed under the parental roof. It is such notions as this—engendered by Malthusian philosophers, and fostered by lazy pride—that are filling our country with "poor old maids," with coquettish young ladies, with nice cigar-smoking, good-for-nothing young men.—North British Mail.

COMING AT LAST.—The Charleston News says "the South has but one thing to do, and that is to prepare at once for a Southern Confederacy, and decisively proceed to form it. At the assembling of Congress, in a few weeks, let the Southern members convene in open meeting, plant their feet, and announce the determination."

☞ A Simoda letter states that no one except the princes in Japan are allowed to ride, as a general rule, and they must ride, either in a chair or on horseback, as they chose. In the latter case the horse is led by a groom on each side, and is never allowed to go out of a walk.

☞ A man in Philadelphia was nearly choked to death, on Monday last, in a dining saloon, by getting a tooth-pick, which was in his lunch, into his throat.

BOSTON ELECTION.—The Republicans of Boston have united with the Douglas Democrats, and consequently we shall be able to see by city election how much of a party Mr. Buchanan has. It is reported that Moses Kimball will be their candidate for Mayor, with 7 Republicans and 6 Douglas men for Aldermen.—Newburyport Herald.

If the Black Republicans place a full party ticket for municipal officers, and the Native American Temperance party do the same, what is it to prevent the Democrats from electing all their candidates if they kept clear of "entangling alliances"?—Boston Post.

FIRE.—A dwelling house belonging to Capt. S. W. Parson, occupied by Oliver Williams, about two miles from the city of Manchester, on the Candia road, was totally destroyed by fire Monday morning about 10 o'clock. The fire took from a defect in the chimney. Mr. Williams was away from home at the time, and there being no immediate neighbors to render assistance, the fire did its work without much opposition. The loss is probably $1200.—American.

☞ The New York burglars are ferocious fellows. Two of them, discovered by a watchman in Eldridge street, rushed upon him, struck, and shot at him with pistols, and after severely injuring him fled. He made good fight with his club and in the way of spoils secured their caps, portions of their weapons and the abandoned stolen property.

PICTORIAL BALLOTS ILLEGAL.—In Illinois, by the act of Feb. 7, 1849, it is provided "that no ballot shall be received or counted unless the same is written or printed on white paper, without any marks or figures thereon, intended, to distinguish one ballot from another." At the recent election the four Republican members for Chicago were elected by ballots having upon the back an engraving indicating that they were Republican ballots. Their seats will of course be contested.

☞ Verdict of $150, has been rendered against Mr. Tucker, the railroad conductor who refused to take a check from Mr. Tebbetts on his passage from Rollinsford to Boston a few months since.

☞ The Portland State of Maine and the Bangor Jeffersonian appear disposed to read Horace Greely and his Tribune out of the republican party. Upon which the Bath Times says, a man who has made parties must fall bad to be stung by the insects of a day.

MEAN.—There is a man in this neighborhood so mean that he sits on the steps of the church Sundays to save the wear of his pew cushior, tries out the cuttings of his toe nails to save the oil, pulls out his beard to save the expense of shaving, and goes around early in the morning to steal the news from his neighbors door steps to save the expense of taking a paper!—Bath Times.

Show us a newspaper whose columns are at all times crowded with new advertisements, and we show you a community alive with business and enterprise. The age is a moving one. The man who stands still in these "latter days," will in a short time find himself behind his competitors.

☞ The New York Tribune well says that if you all but legalize rum-shops, it is of very little use to build meeting-houses and school-houses.

LETTER FROM BOSTON.

BOSTON, Nov. 26, 1858.

Messrs. Editors:—We have all had a fine Thanksgiving, (as far as our experience goes) and now settle down again into business, until another welcome holiday arrives. Winter amusements have commenced. A popular and unobjectionable amusement, now quite in fashion, is the performance of "charades." A word is acted out, first by syllables and then as a whole. We attended with great pleasure an entertainment of this description, a few evenings since, in the pleasant city of Roxbury. Two capacious drawing rooms were used, with folding doors between the actors and the audience. The seats were crowded at an early hour by a brilliant assemblage; in fact, so crowded that your humble correspondent was forced to occupy the elevated and quite extraordinary position of a seat upon the mantelpiece. The parts were carried out with signal ability—with a degree of naturalness which was quite refreshing. Every one was pleased, especially the fair ones, who with as much wit as beauty, divined the intended meanings long before the rest. We should'nt object to go again, particularly if the mantelpiece be included in the invitation.

The Lyceums are in full operation. Albert Laighton's poem, delivered before the Irving Institute at Cambridgeport, was most favorably received. Henry Ward Beecher addressed a large audience in Tremont Temple on Tuesday evening. One of the most interesting lectures we have heard this season was delivered by James Freeman Clarke, of this city. His subject was the "Yankee," and he represented the Yankee as he really exists,—a character quite different from that given by the comic journal or the drama. An anecdote which Powers, the sculptor, told the lecturer, is worth mentioning.

A full blooded Yankee, coming into Powers' studio, asked him the price of that "figger," pointing to the statue of America. The artist mentioned the value as several thousands. "Whew!" was the reply, "statuary ris! why, I found a statur in the other street, twice as big as that, and the chap only asked three hundred for it. I didn't know but what it might be alabaster. But it wasn't; for I watched when his back was turned, and gave it a jab with my knife, and 'twas genuine!"

The sloop of war Hartford was launched in fine style from the Navy Yard on Monday last. She is really a noble vessel, but it strikes us that the Boston folks forget Portsmouth Navy Yard, when they claim for themselves so magnificent a superiority over every other ship building establishments in the country. If Portsmouth mechanics do as well as usual—the new sloop at your Yard can safely challenge comparison with any other in the country. The Midnight at Lewis' wharf, makes a fine appearance; so do the Anna Decatur, Granite State, and the new ship Como.

Yours, THORNTON.

THE FIRST SNOW.

Mantled now in robes of white,
Forest, glen and fields are bright,—
And the merry ringing bells
Of the joyous sleigh-ride tells.

Childhood's days are all the gladder
With the early snow;—yet sadder
Beats the heart of want and woe
At the sight of winter's snow.

To such the merry ringing bells
Of aught save joy and gladness tells;
To such the snows of winter drear
Bring, alas, the sigh—the tear.

Their sighs, alas! will pleasure feed them?
Will the pleasure seeker heed them?
Or will the wintry drifting snow
But increase their want—their woe?

First snow of winter, whilst it gladdens
The gay, the rich—the poor it saddens;
Yet each alike now pleasure feels
As sunny spring o'er winter steals.

—Bath Times.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SALT RHEUM.—There is no disease of the skin so distressing and obstinate as the chronic forms of eczema, commonly called Salt Rheum. Persons of the highest social position, have been cured of this in a surprisingly short time by the PERUVIAN SYRUP—like all other cutaneous affections, Salt Rheum must yield to its powerful action on the absorbents and to its tonic and alterative qualities.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of GARDNER'S PARISIAN PIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It also removes in a few hours Ring Worm, Barber's Itch, Boils, Blotches and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

LOSS OF TIME.

Persons afflicted with disease unnecessarily lose much time. No remedy, in these days, is fit to be taken in the human system, unless it will, in a few days, exhibit some favorable symptoms of restoring the patient to health. RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, for all acute pains, instantly proves its efficacy. The moment it is applied, the most excruciating pains are relieved, and the most violent irritations allayed. If Rheumatism, or Stiffness of the Joints, or Weakness in the Back, or Lumbago, or Pain in the Side, or Dysentery, or Diarrhea trouble you, Radway's Ready Relief will in a few minutes free you from your painful condition.—Bear in mind, no pain will exist where the Ready Relief is applied.

For Scrofula, Syphilis, Sores, Rickets, Night Sweats, Bad Coughs, Consumption, Salt Rheum, in three days Radway's Renovating Resolvent will make a favorable change.

Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Liver Complaint, take one of Radway's Regulators on going to bed.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveiance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from these distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of York, the highest medical authority, pronounces 'Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; R. S. Fosdick & Co., Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. The Great English Remedy.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES

It is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the first three months, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other times and in every other case they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysteics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

Sole Agent for the United States and Canada
JOB MOSES,
(late I. C. BALWDIN & CO.,) Rochester, N. Y.

N. B.—81 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

For sale, wholesale and retail, by W. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth, and by Druggists in every town in the United States.

Barr, Foster & Co. 1 Cornhill, Boston, Wholesale Agents for New England.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, Nov. 25.

Before Justice Odell.—Joseph Barry was accused of assault on Richard Townsend, found guilty, and fined $5; costs $4.03.

The same Joseph Barry, for assault on Mary Ryan, was fined $4; costs $4.03;—and was locked up in jail for payment.

☞ From some cause or other the rummy men were remarkably busy on Wednesday afternoon and evening. Whether their activity resulted from joy at the result of the election, gratitude that Thanksgiving day was so near, or general elevation of ideas from the R. G., is not for us to say,—but it appears that:—

One Barry, (see Police Court report) committed two assaults, for which he now lies in jail.

One rummy, name not told us, committed an assault on a shopkeeper in Penhallow street,—for which he got into the lock-up, but seems to have been let off without a trial.

A third member of the same fraternity, got into the gutter in Auburn street, amid mud and mire, on Wednesday evening, where he would doubtless have perished, but for the interference of a good Samaritan, who chancing to pass that way, pulled him out of the mire, and placed him on terra firma, braced against a fence, where the rain and snow and a good breeze brought him to his senses, and to the use of his legs.

These be thy trophies, these thy captives, these thy beauties, O victorious rum!

☞ A young horse, belonging in Newington, was on Wednesday morning, left standing, untied, harnessed to a wagon, in front of F. W. Rogers' store, Congress st. He struck a good gait up street, before his driver got along, and turned into Summer street, and having lightened himself of the body, and three wheels of the wagon, kept down the Sagamore Road, to Rye town house, dragging the front axle with one wheel. Mr. Gilman C. Berry, milkman, of Rye, was going there, and hearing the clatter, looked behind, and had just time to jump out and lead his own startled horse from the path, when the one-wheeled vehicle struck his hind wheel and knocked his milk wagon right about-face—scattering empty cans and milk in all directions. The crazy horse next safely passed a chaise in which were two women; and soon after was stopped, providentially without having injured any person.

ADJOURNED TOWN MEETING.—An adjourned Town Meeting was held in Ward No. 2, on Friday forenoon, to fill vacancies occasioned by the declination of Albert L Jones, Alderman elect, and Charles Robinson, jr., and Nathan Mathes, Common Councilmen elect. John Stavers was elect Alderman, Frank W. Miller and Wm. O. Sides, Common Councilmen.—These men were on the Republican ticket.

Messrs. Editors:—I should like to know if it is not the duty of the City Marshal to cause occupants of buildings to keep the side-walks in front of their premises free from boxes, barrels, wheel-barrows, &c.—They are very annoying to passers by, and especially to ladies, whose garments are often torn by them. I believe the law compels all persons to keep their side-walks clear; if so, why is it not enforced? ✱✱✱

☞ Last Saturday, at Barrington, Mr. Hiram Jones, of Rye, formerly of this city, was very badly hurt at a saw-mill, by the rolling of several logs, which passed over him, breaking one leg in two places, and inflicting other injuries, severe and perhaps dangerous.—Mr. Jones was at B. for the settlement of a deceased brother's estate.

☞ Our readers who may feel interested in the purchase of a "highly popular and extensively advertised Patent Medicine," will refer to Dr. Winslow's card which appears in another part of this paper.

☞ The "Original Harmonians," an Ethiopian troupe of eight performers, gave a very agreeable concert to a large audience, at the Temple, Thanksgiving evening. They are to perform again there ere long.

☞ E. Whitney will preach at the Advent Chapel to-morrow.

DOVER ELECTION.—On Tuesday Hon. James Bennett was re-elected Mayor of Dover, by 135 majority. Thomas Stackpole was the candidate of the democratic party. Republican boards were chosen in all the wards but No. 2, where a mixed board was chosen. On Ward officers the vote was 770 to 357; republican majority 413.

☞ Walker's emigrant expedition is still detained at Mobile, and it is thought they will not in any event be allowed to depart.

☞ Steamship Asia, from Liverpool 13th inst., arrived at New York on Friday.

In the Liverpool Cotton Market quotations remain unaltered. Breadstuffs dull. Provisions dull, with declining tendency.

It was rumored in Paris that the army was about to be reduced to the extent of 100,000 men.

Active measures by Spain against Mexico are confidently expected.

Mr. Whitehouse, in a letter to the Atlantic Telegraph Company says his recent experiments conclusively demonstrate that the system of tests hitherto adopted is fallacious. He believes the fault in the cable is not far from the shore, and thinks it may be profitably worked.

Le Nord says the English government consents to France engaging Indian Coolies for colonial laborers.

A commission has been appointed to proceed to Africa and examine on the spot the question of emigration.

Navigation was closed at St. Petersburg.

Portsmouth, Nov. 20, 1858.—6w.

ASSASSINATION OF NAPOLEON III.

By the last steamer we learn that what has been predicted by many, feared by some, and hoped for by others, has finally taken place, viz:—That they manufacture and sell more Cloaks and Raglans at Messrs. Allen & Paine's than at all the other stores together in Portsmouth. Also that they sell their garments and Ladies' Cloths, Broadcloths, Beavers and other Cloak goods, at much lower prices than any one else.

PERPETUAL MOTION DISCOVERED.—They are manufacturing twenty-five Cloaks per day, and some days are unable to meet the demand, so great is the rush for them in consequence of the latest styles, best of work, and very low prices at which they are sold, at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.—Our lady readers when they want a nice fitting garment go to Messrs. Allen & Paine's and have one made.—These go-a-head young gentlemen cut and make them right in their own store—and having a full new stock of Beaver and Broadclothe, in Black, Drabs, Peach Brown, &c., they are sure to suit every customer.

☞ A splendid new Sleeve and Collar pattern, for the scolloped Raglan, just received by Allen & Paine.

ORGAN FOR THE STONE CHURCH, &c.

Correspondence of the Portsmouth Journal.

BOSTON, Nov. 24, 1858.

We are pained to record the death of another of our great men—James Sullivan Savage. He was a mason by craft, and will long be remembered as the builder of Bunker Hill monument, and contractor for a large amount of the repairs on Forts Warren and Independence in Boston Harbor. He served as Alderman, and in various other public offices.

The Young Men's Benevolent Society held a meeting on Tuesday afternoon, 16th inst., Henry A. Rice, Esq. President, in the chair, to hear the report of the Treasurer. This Association numbers 317 members. During the last year they have made 1039 visits, and 514 families have been materially assisted. Their expenditures were $1255.92.

There is on exhibition at the manuactory of Messrs. Hook, a magnificent organ made for Rev. Dr. Peabody's church of your city. It has been tested by professors and amateurs, and pronounced a very superior instrument. A writer in the Evening Gazette says, "the donor requested Messrs. Hook to make the best instrument they could for the sum appropriated, $3000, having regard to excellence rather than size or display. This instruction they have fully complied with in building the organ. It contains two manuals with a pedal—two octaves and two notes, comprising in all 1238 pipes. The great organ has 10 stops, each extending through the whole compass. The swell, which also extends through the whole compass, contains 10 stops—and the pedal 3 stops, making in all 23 speaking stops. The pipes are made after the German method, both in regard to scale and material, being of the richest material, and the composit on adapted to the character of each stop. The bellow's surface is ample, and the wind steady under the greatest exactions. Black walnut has been used for the case, and the front looks well for a plain church interior. Several afternoons have been devoted this week by the Messrs. Hook to illustrating this organ, and the organist at the Unitarian Church in Jamaica Plain has rendered essential service, developing its excellence and loving his own good taste and ability in the most satisfactory manner. There is, so far as we can hear, but one feeling and opinion respecting this master piece; hearty, unequivocal and enthusiastic commendation await the trial of its points from every one who visits it, and some not easily satisfied experts have made searching investigation for the purpose of ascertaining its real merit.

The musical public are anxiously awaiting the coming of manager Ullman, with Piccolomini, D'Angri, Gazzaniga, Gazzui, Forma, and a host of others, who open at the Boston Theatre, Dec. 1.

TYRON.

HOWARD BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

The following officers were elected at the annual meeting, held Nov. 15, 1858:

ICHABOD GOODWIN, President.
Charles W. Brewster, Secretary.
John Stavers, Treasurer.

Horton D. Walker, John Bennett, John W. Fernald, Joseph D. Pillow, Benjamin Cheever, Jonathan Barker, Joseph M. Edmonds, William Bodge, Benjamin Carter, Jr., N. Medbury, George M. Marsh, Wm. Day, Directors.

Stephen H. Simes, Joseph H. Foster, Auditors.

The arrangement of the visiting committees for the season are as follows:

December—Goodwin, Day and Medbury.
January—Bodge, Bennett & Cheever.
February—Walker, Stavers and Carter.
March—Fernald, Barker and Marsh.
April to December—Pillow, Edmands and Brewster.

The funds of this society are derived from the annual contribution of $1 from members, and by private donations. Its object is to assist the unfortunate poor, chiefly in the winter season. The society being without funds, it is desirable to receive the subscription of the Members at an early day—also such donations as the benevolent may be disposed to bestow.

"Blessed is he that considereth the poor: the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble."

A REPUBLICAN PRESIDENT IN 1860.—The South, ever jealous, of its rights and interest, is beginning to look forward to the possibility of the election of a Republican President, and to estimate the probable result upon the election and upon themselves. The Richmond Whig speculates as follows:

"Besides, we are not one of those who depreciate the election of a regular Black Republican in in the year 1860, and for the reason that such an event must happen, and we prefer it happening now, when the South is abler to withstand encroachments upon her rights than she will be five, ten or twenty years hence. The North already has the power, and will have much greater power every year. She is bound to elect a President of her own, sooner or later. That being so, we would prefer her electing him now, as we are anxious to see developed the policy of a Northern sectional President toward the South. In a word, the North and South have wrangled long enough.—We want to meet it now. And we can only do this by allowing the Northern sectionalists to take possession of the government, and see what they mean to do as regards the South. They are necessarily bound to obtain control of the government, any way, within a few years. Let them have it now, and if aggression ensues, let the South meet it with united hearts and arms, and in the spirit of freemen, who know their rights, and who mean to maintain them at whatever hazard!"

ST. CLAIR FLATS, DETROIT, MICHIGAN.—We learn from the Detroit Free Press that on the appropriation made by Congress of $45,000, for the improvement in the channel of the St. Clair Flats, in the spring of 1857 the work was commenced of dredging the middle passage of the South Pass. In the course of the season, about 130,000 cubic yards of earth were removed, and the channel made passable for a vessel by night, for the first time. It is not, however, deemed at present safe for night navigation,—but will be as soon as the two ranges of Lights, ordered by government, according to plans and specifications presented by Capt. Whipple, of the Topographical Engineers, are completed. The works have been progressing during the season now closed under the superintendence of Mr. Cliff, attached to Captain Whipple's staff.

A strong current has set in through the channel which is considered a very favorable sign, inasmuch as the dirt and sand deposited upon its bottom will be washed out instead of accummulating to obstruct the passage. It has, however, been provided by Capt. Whipple, the engineer having the work in charge, that but little earth should be washed into the channel from the abrasion of the sides, by making the bottom of the channel of a concave form.

MR. LONG'S LECTURE.—It will be seen that the first Lecture will be given on Tuesday evening next. As we see no prospect of any other course this season, we trust that this will be well attended, as it richly deserves.

LOOK AT THIS!

A NEW INVENTION.

Great Economy and CONVENIENCE,

THE

BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having

Two Large Ovens

AND

Six Boiling Places.

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS

PERFECT IN ITSELF,

and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of

DOUBLE THICKNESS,

will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely —

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform to much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it, if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

Indian Physician.

Dr. B. S. GOODWIN

Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.

ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN: Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver and Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsey, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!

Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 16, 1858.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself ordained for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be white as the foam of the billow, if the entire covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge, if the writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly gray, but on the application of your "Hair Restorative," it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Dirch a'r Gwyliedydet."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 18 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '53.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six months ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown, and at the same time beautifying and invigorating the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CADWALLADER CALDWALL.

NEW YORK, July 25, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative, as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KEMP.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray: I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies, to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications restored my hair finely. It began to fill up grow out and turned back to its original color, (black). At this time it is fully restored to its original color, be silk, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. BOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $1.75; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, thus supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the system, and giving good to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of disease, and effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and what is better prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose often relieves a sick stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of disease, and effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and what is better prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose often relieves a sick stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of disease, and effecting a radical cure.

Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with perfect safety, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing laboured many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do not strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over shingles or 1 in. at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

Be aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that they have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filed in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

On the receipt of a list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secresy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients can be cured by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of losing by what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy in removing all those painful female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some specious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 dly

A Revolution in the Hunting World.

Reuthe's Patent Spring Gun Animal Trap.

More certain of its prey than the most perfect Rifle in the hands of the most experienced marksman, without lessening the value of Pelts or Skins as is the case in ordinary mode of shooting, it effects the capture of the animal either dead or (if preferred) alive: the barrels discharging themselves, simultaneously with the hooks imbedding themselves in the mouth.

It is simple, yet strong and perfect in its construction neither cumbersome nor difficult to arrange.

There are three different sizes, which will effectually operate on Minks, Woodchucks, Otters, Wildcats, Lynx, Foxes, Wolves, Deer, Panthers, Tigers, Bears, Buffaloes, etc.; in fact, on all animals which repay hunting.

☞ To be had, in large or small quantities, of JOSEPH B. ADAMS,
No. 3 Congress Block, Portsmouth, Agent for Rockingham County. n18

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
MY MOTHER'S SALVE

This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and WORLD-WIDE reputation for its CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.

"My Mother's Salve" in a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.

Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A. M. Beck.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents.
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby at, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Advice, specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Examinations made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that, as MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than any other subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has unusual reason to believe he can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, or the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unusual success proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their case, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
H. R. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1858.

☞ Goodenough, who assaulted a harmless man Kimball, in Manchester, for telling the truth on oath, in a criminal case against Goodenough, is doing what he can, in a pecuniary way, to get out of the bad fix in which he finds himself. And some hired hand of his is trying to write him out of the difficulty. The hired hand says, in the Mirror:

On the 15th inst. I am informed that Goodenough and Kimball met on Merrimack street—that G. immediately commenced an attack on him with a goard stick, such as he had for sale in his store.

That is, a convicted criminal attacks an unwilling witness, who was summoned into Court, and who would not perjure himself—and beats him with an ox goad.

The victim tried to run, but fell and broke his leg—and may yet die in consequence.

Now hear the apology of the hack:

It is not necessary to say what cause Mr. G. thought he had for assaulting Mr. Kimball; it is enough to say that he thought the law was powerless in the peculiar case, and, like thousands of others, smarting under their wrongs, thinking he would have no redress for it under the law, took the thing into his own hands.—No doubt Mr. G. as seriously regrets the unfortunate accident which followed the assault, as much as any one in the community.

No doubt the assaulter ought to be made to regret it, by being a year in prison, either in the State or County. He is liable in a civil action besides—but if he and the victim settle that, it's well—but the public safety and the ends of public justice demand his punishment by the laws, and his prosecution by the public officers.

The apologist for the crime says:

Mr. Kimball has expressed himself perfectly satisfied, and that he did not wish to have Mr. G. prosecuted, and he sent for the City Marshal to call on him that he might tell him to make no complaint against Mr. G. for the assault.

Very likely a harmless, quiet, timid man like K. may wish to have no quarrel with such a neighbor. But the policeman, the judge, the juror and the jailor should do their duty—and let justice fall on the criminal as heavily as he sent down the ox goad. It would him good, and perhaps he too might be perfectly satisfied.

A Temporal Humbug.—Some learned professor in German has made the great discovery, that there are nutrimental properties in tea and coffee, beer and wine; whereupon some wine bibbing editors set up a shout that not only are teetotallers humbugs, but that teetotalism itself is a humbug.

The whole of this will be great news to the 200,000 teetotallers, male and female, who have lived in New England for the last 20 years, and who still live.

But be this as it may, dram-drinking and drunkenness are no humbugs; the misery and death which they cause are dreadful stern realities. The men whom we meet every day, eating out their vitals with R. G., are no myths, but real men, and in many respects valuable men, but bound to destruction and wretchedness at a 2.40 pace.

The following facts are no humbug.

In the Boston Police Court on Tuesday, a bright looking boy of eleven years, was sentenced to the House of Reformation, for being a common drunkard. Think of that! A common drunkard at 11 years; and seven-eighths of the people of that city saying—"let the grog shops alone!"

Thus ruminates the Newburyport Herald—and the same paper, under the head of "Another Victim to Rum," tells this story:

About 11 o'clock on Monday night, John Welch and Stephen Howlett, two of the hands employed on board schooner Coral, which was anchored some six miles from the bar, took the small boat, for the purpose of visiting some of their friends on board of the Pollock fleet which was lying at anchor. They drank freely while there, and on leaving the vessel were a good deal intoxicated, and attempted to row in over the bar. The boat struck on the North breakers, but was got off, with the loss of oars, when they drifted upon Salisbury beach.

Howlett took Welch out of the boat and placed him upon the sand, after which he re-entered the boat and it is supposed fell face downward, in which was considerable water, and drowned. Howlett made his way to the Blue Fish Hotel, where he informed Mr. Eaton, the keeper, who proceeded to the place indicated on the beach, and found the lifeless body of Welch in the boat as above stated. Coroner Smith held an inquest upon the body last evening, and the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

☞ A resident of Marlborough, Mass., sold a large dog, to go to New York. The next afternoon the dog arrived at his old home, having, in twenty-one hours, travelled 100 miles.

Arrest of Jewish Rabbis for Selling Lottery Tickets.—On Wednesday afternoon, Rabbi Lasin, the leading Rabbi of the New York Jews, and one of his countrymen, complained to the Mayor that two Rabbis were engaged in selling tickets to poor Jews, and desired that the business should be stopped. Warrants were immediately issued for the arrest of Rabbi Abraham Joseph Asch and Rabbi Moses Levi.—The officers found Asch in his synagogue, 78 Allen street, dressed in a white robe and red cap, standing before a lighted candle, surrounded by some four hundred of his people, to whom he was teaching Hebrew. When the officer made known his errand, the utmost horror and indignation was manifested by the Jews. They exclaimed loudly against the sacrilege of dragging a priest from an altar of the holy temple, and declared that he should not be taken, at the same time rushing forward to his defense. But the officers were too prompt in their movements for the people, and hurrying him out, locked him up in the station-house. The Rabbi's house was searched, but his family having been warned, the tickets were all destroyed before the officers arrived. The Rabbi's wife and daughter stoutly opposed the search of the officers, when a little girl becoming frightened, told the officers the tickets were in the synagogue, under the altar. This place was searched, despite the active remonstrances of the Jews, but nothing found. The officers who arrested Levi were also resisted unsuccessfully. The arrest caused great excitement among the Jews. The two Rabbis have been held to answer to the charge against them in the sum of $1000 each.

An Ancient Sunday School, and an Old Teacher.—Rev. Massena Goodrich, of Pawtucket, R. I., writes to the Christian Freeman that "a Sunday School was established in Pawtucket in the fall of 1799. The school was founded by Samuel Slater, Esq., the originator of cotton manufacturing in this country. It consisted originally of seven scholars, and, like the English Sabbath Schools, was designed to teach the children the commoner branches of secular learning. Of those seven scholars only one now survives, Capt. N. G. B. Dexter. Two or three years after the original school was established, Br. Dexter was hired by Mr. Slater to teach the children employed in his mill the simple branches of reading, writing and arithmetic. This he continued to do every Sabbath for nearly two years. Br. Dexter still remains among us, in the enjoyment of a green old age. On the 13th of the present month he celebrated his golden wedding. Between two and three hundred friends assembled at his house, among whom were all the clergymen of Pawtucket. And we witnessed there what perhaps has seldom been paralleled in our land.

The clergyman who united in marriage Br. Dexter and his wife, fifty years ago, Dr. Benedict, was present with his aged wife; and the printer who set up with his own hands the notice of the marriage, half a century ago, was also present with his wife. Both the last named parties have also celebrated their golden weddings during the present year. Thus the guests had the rare opportunity of seeing three couples that had lived together in wedlock fifty years. And it added to the hilarity of the occasion, when one of the guests produced a copy of the old paper which contained a notice of the marriage half a century since. Br. Dexter is still as agile in frame and cheerful in heart as a young man; and on every Sabbath we reckon confidently on seeing him in the house of praise, both forenoon and afternoon."

"Who Shall Decide when Doctors" Can't?—The leg of Rev. Mr. Thayer, who was so badly hurt at Lowell, recently, it was decided by physicians to amputate, as it was deemed to be mortifying. But he was so weak that it was deemed unsafe; and now he is recovering, with his two pedal extremities. The Bath Times advises the faculty to find out what are the signs of mortification, and says:—We trust we are not lacking in respect for the learned professions; but we undertake to say that while carefully guarding their doors against ignorant quacks, there is an amount of learned quackery in all the professions, which should be looked after and ejected forthwith. Life and limbs demand at least this from the medical profession, whatever other demands may be made upon the professions of Law and Divinity.

Court Martial.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Times reports that a court martial will convene in Boston, on Monday next for the trial of Purser Hunter, of the United States Navy, on charge of intemperance and disobedience of orders.

TRAVELS IN TEXAS.

One of our New Hampshire boys, says the Manchester American, wishing "to look about the country," went to Texas a year ago, and occupied eight months in traversing the western part of that largest of the thirty-one States. He joined a California emigrant company as far as the Mexican boundary, then turned hunter, and afterwards lived three months with the German cattle raisers. Western Texas is twelve times the size of New Hampshire, and in the belief of every Eastern visitor is destined to become the great cattle and sheep raising region of North America.—Its capacities in this direction are immense. The settlers find a delightful climate, but of course are deprived of the advantages of civilized life and society. Reptiles and wild game are plenty. From the Journal of our friend we take the following account of snakes and turkies:

Big Snakes.—This has been rattlesnake week with us. We began early last Sabbath evening, when one of our teamsters, a gentleman from "gim of the say," shot what he termed a "murthurin big devil," in the shape of a rattlesnake, which measured five feet in length and fourteen inches in circumference two feet from head. This patriarchal serpent was wending his way slyly toward the camp, no doubt with the excellent purpose of scraping an acquaintance with somebody. He had eleven rattles, and his fangs were horrible to see, long, crooked and sharp. To follow up our luck, the next morning another teamster brought in on the end of a stick the father of all moccasins, which he killed in the river, a few rods from the camp.

This specie of serpent is more dangerous than the rattle snake, being equally poisonous, and not furnished with the warning rattle, which makes the rattlesnake comparatively harmless. Several times I have come within an ace of stepping upon a moccasin snake, as the poisonous reptile lay coiled up in the thick grass, and on such occasions experienced a chill of horror which lasted several minutes.—Of the rattlesnakes we are not very fearful, as he invariably gives warning when approached. We find plenty of them, although Texas people say that the season is over for snake!

On Wednesday Dr. Hughes discovered a couple of rattlesnakes, coiled up neatly on a big flat stone, and I had the pleasure of assisting in their massacre. As they were doubtless "beautiful to each other in life, so in death they were not divided."—The next morning our wagon master killed a prarie snake of extraordinary dimensions. This species of snake is not poisonous, but sometimes makes show of fight when assailed. They look formidable and him with great violence on being disturbed. Last night it came my turn to kill a juvenile moccasin snake while bathing in Live Oak creek. Taking up one of my boots, the reptile appeared, coiled up ready for a spring.

We have nearly all of us got bravely over our dread of snakes and poisonous reptiles, which caused us much pertubation on first arriving in Texas. For pets the Dr. has two horned frogs and tarantulas, in a tin box, and is now on the look out for a fine, large, live moccasin snake.—For one, I own up to a fear of serpents, and although from seeing so many, I am somewhat less fearful than before, it is impossible to shake off that feeling of horror which the sight of a snake occasions. The same feeling exists in dumb beasts. Our dog, Pedro, cannot be urged within a yard of a poisonous serpent, although he is usually of commendable courage. Mules and horses shrink from a rattlesnake or copperhead, manifesting as much repugnance as the human species. I have tried several times to lead my horse up to a dead rattlesnake, but failed in every instance when he saw the reptile.

"Heaps" or Turkeys.—It has also been a week of wild turkeys with us. All along the valley of Devil's River, turkeys are found in great abundance. At our last camp, at the head of the river, we feasted upon turkey cooked in every possible shape, even to a "fry," that most abominable of all forms of cookery. We discovered a flock of turkeys about half a mile from camp, "surrounded them," and killed eleven in less than ten minutes. It was in the early grey of the morning, and they were not prepared for such a fatal reveille. Of course there was much rejoicing in camp, and a general roast ensued.

Devil's River Valley also abounds in pecaries, or wild hogs—an animal of the swinish persuasion. They are the most peculiar of anything we have as yet met, in the shape of game, and make fierce and dangerous fight, when hard pressed.—They have long, sharp teeth, which are inserted with surprising force into whatever they come in contact with, that is not absolutely as hard as stone; and in such cases, the teeth are bound to "go in" or break off! They never hesitate to attack men or dogs, but come on with a "perfect looseness" and fury, regardless of the odds. When not too old, they are very good eating, and a young one forms a commendable substitute for roast pig.—They delight in hollow logs as a place of refuge, and the hunter takes advantage of this failing, and shoots them as they come out, one at a time, like the tunes that were frozen up in Baron Munchausen's wonderful French horn! They are about the size of a half-grown hog, with little, keen eyes, and sharp snout.

☞ The Charleston News insist that the time has come for a dissolution of the Union. The editor will dissolve himself long before he dissolves the Union.

Gerrit Smith has issued his circular on the New York election. He confesses himself disappointed in the smallness of his vote, and has come to the conclusion that there are only about 5000 men in New York who are earnestly in favor of freedom and temperance.

Mr. Smith misjudges herein about as much as he did when he ran for Governor. Many a man who is as truly in favor of both freedom and temperance as Mr. Smith himself is, could not readily see how either object could be obtained or promoted by throwing away votes on one man who could not be elected, and thereby electing another, who would go against both objects. Gerrit Smith is a noble man; but he will never be Governor; and if he was, he would not know what to do with himself nor the State.

☞ President Buchanan is, after all, says the Washington correspondent of the New York Times, a man of the tenderest sympathies. He assigns as his reason for changing the sentence of the Court-Martial dismissing Commander Boutwell from the Navy, that the Commander was afflicted with dyspepsia, which must have, in some measure, impaired his mental powers, or he would never have been guilty of the offences of which he was convicted by the Court.

New Catholic Church.—The Dover Enquirer learns that the Catholics of Dover intend to erect a new Church at a cost of thirty-five or forty thousand dollars. It is to be built on the site of the old structure. It is also understood that their pastor has made his Congregation a liberal offer, stating that whatever amount of money they raise among themselves, he will add twice that sum, in order to put the building through in good shape, and as soon as possible when it is commenced.

New Orleans, Nov. 25.—Col. Seguin, late of San Antonio, Texas, has been commissioned by the government of Nuevo Leon to raise a regiment of troops in Texas to aid the cause of the Liberals in Mexico.

ATTENTION!! HOUSEKEEPERS!!!

A Great Domestic Improvement.

Shaler's Patent Carpet Sweeper.

This sweeper is superior to all others, and has taken ten or twelve Diplomas over all others at various State Fairs in New York, Vermont, Ohio, Michigan, New Jersey, &c. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, or the money refunded.

No housekeeper would willingly do without it, after once trying it. Among its merits are—

1st—It sweeps cleaner than a broom without injury or wear to the finest carpet.

2d—It raises no dust to soil the furniture or stifle the lungs.

3d—It sweeps either way, backward or forward—which no other sweeper does, giving this an immense advantage over all others.

4th—It is light and simple in its construction, and not liable to get out of repair.

5th—It is easily worked; can be used by a child.

6th—It is durable, and will last for years, and is cheaper than any other.

7th—It cleans any carpet thoroughly, taking the dirt, dust, lint, hair, pins, needles, &c., directly up into the box, whereas the common method of sweeping drives the dirt along the entire surface of the carpet, forcing it into the grains of the carpet, and thereby injuring it very much.

The public are invited to examine it, at the Bookstore of J. F. SHORES, JR.,

SPECIAL NOTICES.

R. R. R.

Left his Crutches in Mrs. Hayes' Shop.

An old man came limping in Mrs. Hayes' medicine store, No. 175 Fulton street. He asked for a bottle of Radway's Ready Relief. His limbs were so stiff, so weak, and so painful, that the distressed old man could go no farther without bathing his crippled legs. In a few minutes he felt new life through his whole body; first, his legs felt a gentle glow of warmth, then the stiffness disappeared—next, he felt the muscles and tendons becoming strong—and so vigorous did he feel, that, after a few minutes rubbing with the R R R, he arose, stood upon his feet, and walked away, rejoicing at the sudden effects of Radway's Ready Relief, leaving the faithful crutches in Mrs. Hayes' store, as a pleasing memento to her of the exceedingly happy efficacy of Radway's Ready Relief.

People troubled with Rheumatism, or Gout, Sick Headache, or Pains of any kind, the moment you apply Radway's Ready Relief you will experience a happy change.

For Chronic Complaints, Scrofula, Syphilis, Tumors, Ulcers, Cancers, Fever Sores, Consumption, Night Sweats, Salt Rheum, Radway's Renovating Resolvent will make a favorable change on the third day. n27 tu

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending opera and other parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It also removes in a few hours Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

The Original and Only London Gin Imported.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the "Vine" the Mountain, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles's London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, and for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-seven cents, by all dealers generally in cases of, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—None Genuine Imported.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. K. Pecker, 20 Elm st; J. Morris, 116 Blackstone st; M. Davis, 51 Blackstone st; H. H. Hay & Co., 20 Exchange st; Gilbert, Abbott & Co., 78 Broad st; Deland & Snow, 34 Elm st, and others. In Portland, Me., of H. H. Hay & Co., C. W. Atwell, and C. C. Mitchell & Son.

A CARD TO THE LADIES

DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with astonishing success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1 per box. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

A VOICE FROM THE EAST.—Robert Morrison, Democrat, was on Tuesday last re-elected Mayor of Portsmouth, N. H., by a majority of one hundred and thirty nine, a great increase over previous years. This result looks favorable to the election of Capt. Daniel Marcy, Democratic candidate for the first N. H. district, to the next Congress.—Newark Journal.

OLE BULL, the violinist, was arrested in the town of Dramen, Norway, for smoking in the street. Not having any money with him he was sent to prison. Released the next day when it was found out who he was.

So say the papers. But why was he released? Any man might be pardoned for one such offence; but he who persists in such ungentlemanly conduct, ought to be perpetually imprisoned till he discontinues it. And the more decent the offender, the less excuse is there for him. Let the cigar and pipe smoker be smoked where they do other swine;—but not with the hams and shoulders, or they will all be spoiled.

INDIANA SENATORS.—On Thursday last, the Senate of Indiana passed a resolution, declaring the election of Messrs. Bright and Fitch, Democrats, to the United States Senate, illegal, unconstitutional and void. The resolution was before the House and would pass. There can be no doubt that their election was a fraud upon the state, and they no more represent the sentiments of the people of Indiana than they do of Newfoundland.

It has since passed the House.

☞ Hon. T. M. Harris, member of Congress from the sixth district of Illinois, died of consumption, on Wednesday morning. Mr. Harris was a devoted friend to Senator Douglas, and was the leading anti-Lecompton democrat in the House, last winter. He was then quite sick, and often went from his seat in the House to his bed; but he was careless, ardent and uncompromising in his action. He was so prostrated as to be unable to take any part in the late canvas, and was carried to the polls to deposit his vote, and thence returned to his sick room which he left no more. He was re-elected to the next Congress, and his death will call for a new election.

☞ The Secretary of the Navy has taken the precaution to send orders to have all the available vessels at the various Navy Yards fitted out with the utmost dispatch. So says a Washington item. Reason, the Spanish fleet bound to Mexico.

☞ George Black and his wife were instantaneously killed on the Hudson River Railroad near Tarrytown, on Thursday evening. They were returning from a prayer meeting, and were walking upon the track when the train came along.

☞ The venerable Alexander von Humboldt, now in his ninetieth year, has been suffering from a severe attack of influenza, but at the latest accounts had sufficiently recovered to resume the use of the pen.

☞ A letter from Rome, in the Paris Universe, announces the death of Count Joseph Mastal, brother of the present Pope.

☞ A freight train from Boston for Great Falls, on the Boston & Maine Railroad, was thrown off the track, early on Saturday morning, by the breaking down of a car. A considerable smash up of cars and contents ensued, but nobody was hurt.

A movement is on foot to present Paul Morphy, on his return to this country a set of gold and silver chess men, exquisitely and elaborately wrought, mounted on cornelian pedestals, and accompanied with a richly inlaid chess-board.

A gentleman in the habit of entertaining, very often, a circle of friends, observed that one of them was in the habit of eating something before grace was asked; and determining to cure him, upon a repitition of the offence, he said:—"For what we are about to receive, and for what James Taylor has already received, the Lord make us truly thankful." The effect may be imagined.

In Boscawen, this autumn, a man named Sargent, caught in seventeen days thirty minks, the skins of which animals were sold to Joseph Grover, of Concord for $60. They formerly brought 12 1-2 cents. Fifty cents each is now paid for skunk skins.

A farmer in Chester informs the Manchester American that he has this Fall sold apples to the amount of $670, and that one of his neighbors has sold to the amount of $850.

☞ We sometimes see it stated that a scheme was on foot. Wouldn't a scheme be advanced faster if it could be got on horseback?

Society is like air; very high up, it is too sublimated; too low down, it is a perfect choke-damp.

The best antidote against melancholy, is occupation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The policeman, who had the custody of Dr. Guillardet at the time of the latter's escape, has been dismissed from office. It is said the Doctor took passage for Cuba in a vessel which sailed about two hours before Baker made his escape known,

Mr. Bennett, editor of the Herald, has been indicted for a libel on John B. Haskin, member of Congress from the Ninth District. The libel charged Mr. H. with having forged the records of the Willett's Point Investigating Committee, of which he was chairman, and was published last June.

☞ The Attorney General of the United States has given an opinion in regard to the pensions of widows who have been married a second time, that "the period embraced by the second coverture is not to be paid for, and the semi-annual allowance can only re-commence from the date of the second husband's death." This opinion has been adopted as a rule by the Commissioner of Pensions, and will result in a considerable saving to the Treasury.

☞ Punch gives a test for designating a good young man. He says, look at his watch. If the key-hole where it is wound up is bright, and without the smallest marginal note—if there be no scratches, running in a giddy maze around it, such as betray decided marks of fumbling, you may look upon it as a shining mirror of a good young man, whose hand, when he went to bed, is as steady as his conduct has been through the day.

A SINGULAR FACT.—A reliable man informs us that there is not an unmarried man in Yarmouth. The girls on the Cape, the Vineyard, and down to Nantucket, are not so particular about their satins, and silks, &c., and consequently go off like hot cakes. A smart, modest woman, in a neat calico, is more attractive to a sensible man than those splendid advertisements of the milliner shops.—N. B. Mercury.

☞ In his discussion with Senator Douglas, Mr. Lincoln distinctly asked the Senator whether he would favor a law by Congress for the protection of Slavery in the Territories. Mr. Douglas as distinctly replied that he would not. This fact will constitute an important item in the political discussions of the next twelve months.

AMERICAN SAILOR IMPRESSSED.—We copy from the Merchants' Exchange Reading Room book, Boston, the following statement:

The brig Rockingham, of Salem, was boarded by a French man-of-war steamer upon the coast of Africa, previous to October 12th, and one of her crew, a Frenchman, impressed and taken on board the steamer.

THE TURF.—A trotting match came off at St. Louis, Nov. 25, between Flora Temple and Reindeer, for $1000, mile heats, best three in five, to harness. The purse was given to Reindeer, in consequence, of a collision in the second heat, which the judges decided was the result of foul driving on the part of Flora's driver.

☞ Ex-Mayor Wood of New York denies that he seeks the governorship of Nebraska, and says he desires no office that is not derived from the people. If true, that settles his retirement for life.

It is in knowledge, Irving says, as in swimming: he who flounders and splashes on the surface makes more noise and attracts more attention than the pearl diver who quietly dives in search of the treasure at the bottom.

A gentleman recently inquired of Gov. Harris of Tennessee, when he intended to appoint a day for Thanksgiving. "I'd like to know what the Democrats have to thank God for this year," was the melancholy respone. The Governor relented, however, and fixed the day.

HAPPINESS is like a pig with a greasy tail, which every one runs after, but no one can hold.—Exchange.

Not true, says Uncle Toby.

ASSASSINATION OF NAPOLEON III.

By the last steamer we learn that what has been predicted by many, feared by some, and hoped for by others, has finally taken place, viz:—That they manufacture and sell more Cloaks and Raglans at Messrs. Allen & Paine's than at all the other stores together in Portsmouth. Also that they sell their garments and Ladies' Cloths, Broadcloths, Beavers and other Cloak goods, at much lower prices than any one else.

PERPETUAL MOTION DISCOVERED.—They are manufacturing twenty-five Cloaks per day, and some days are unable to meet the demand, so great is the rush for them in consequence of the latest styles, best of work, and very low prices at which they are sold, at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.—Our lady readers when they want a nice fitting garment go to Messrs. Allen & Paine's and have one made.—These go-a-head young gentlemen cut and make them right in their own store—and having a full new stock of Beaver and Broadcloths, in Black, Drabs, Peach Brown, &c., they are sure to suit every customer.

☞ A splendid new Sleeve and Collar pattern, for the scolloped Raglan, just received by Allen & Paine.

Great Economy and CONVENIENCE.

THE

BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having

Two Large Ovens

AND

Six Boiling Places.

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS

PERFECT IN ITSELF,

and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the cost ags being of

will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too."

The ovens are splendid. I have baked four cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it, if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

Housekeepers Buy One,

Your Time, Labor and Fuel.

ITS ADVANTAGES ARE NUMEROUS.
IT COSTS LESS,
IT OCCUPIES LESS SPACE,
IT REQUIRES LESS FUEL,
IT WILL KEEP FIRE LONGER,
IT WILL DO MORE WORK,
IT WILL BAKE QUICKER,
IT WILL WEAR LONGER,
THAN ANY RANGE IN MARKET.

Indian Physician.

Dr. B. S. GOODWIN

Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.

ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN: Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Fever Sores, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhea, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsy, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blistera! Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair, BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, look and see, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a month, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Dulcken:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Dryck a'r Gwylledydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 25, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I was feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KNAPP.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was also becoming bald and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications restored my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grow out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOM.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

It will remove One dose often repeated is a sure cure for all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of Jaundice removes all the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

One dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.

Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

A short time before taking gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhea in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the kidneys.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and the last difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing; and now after Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN.

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is for superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as safely provided for as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make their wants, complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be deceived by those who, under the guise of try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

The genuine pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 d1y

NEW HAMPSHIRE MISSIONARY SOCIETY.—At a meeting of the Trustees, Nov. 18, they passed the following preamble and resolution:

Whereas the Society, at its late meeting at Hampton, passed certain resolutions embracing some new measures which, we are of the opinion, would involve the Society in difficulties not easily overcome, and whereas the Piscataqua Association has memorialized the Executive Committee to carry them into effect, so far, especially, as to appoint a District Missionary for the counties of Rockingham, Belknap and Carroll, therefore,

Resolved, To relieve the Committee and Trustees from embarrassment, and to produce harmony and efficiency in our operations, that a special meeting of the Society be called at Concord on the 18th of December, to reconsider said resolutions, and to deliberate and act as the interest of the cause may require.

Dr. Stone, the Secretary, says:

It is unnecessary for us to go into a particular relation of the difficulties which embarrass the action of the Trustees or their Committee with respect to the principal measures contemplated by the resolutions. Suffice it to say, that the Committee do not see their way clear to inaugurate the plan of employing three District Missionaries, since the Trustees have already two General Missionaries in their employ—one for the State, the other for a County, which require an annual expenditure of more than $1000 to sustain them, and since our State and County Mission agents, together with the voluntary missionary labors of pastors are accomplishing nearly or quite as much for our destitutions as could be accomplished had we a greater number of such agents. The embarrassment of the Committee is further increased by knowing that many of the members of the Society, and contributors to its funds in different parts of the State, regard the measures proposed by the resolutions as unwise. They, therefore, have called a special meeting of the Society to give them advice in the premises.

The news comes to us from every quarter, confirming previous reports of the richness of the Cherry Creek and Pike's Peak gold diggings in Kansas.

Douglas Jerrold said, "Virtue's a beautiful thing in women, when they don't go about, like a child with a drum, making all sorts of noises with it."

When you find a man doing more business than you are, and you want to know the reason, look at the advertisements he has in th newspapers, and "look out!"

BIGOTRY.—Show me the man who would go to heaven alone if he could, and in that man I will show you one that will never be admitted into heaven,—Feltham.

A man out west, who owns a large farm, says he stacks up all the hay he can out of doors, and the remainder he puts in the barn.

The laboring man in the present age, even if he dos not read, has more helps to wisdom than Solomon had.

A Revolution in the Hunting World.
Renthe's Patent Spring Gun Animal Trap.

More certain of its prey than the most perfect Rifle in the hands of the most experienced marksman, without lessening the value of Pelts or Skins; is decisive in ordinary mode of shooting, it effects the capture of the animal either dead or (if preferred) alive: the barrels discharging themselves, simultaneously with the hooks imbedding themselves in the mouth.
It is simple, yet strong and perfect in its construction neither cumbersome nor difficult to arrange.
There are three different sizes, which will effectually operate on Minks, Woodchucks, Otters, Wildcats, Lynx, Foxes, Wolves, Deer, Panthers, Tigers, Bears, Buffaloes, etc.; in fact, on all animals which repay hunting.

HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent-granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations procured, or applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Re-issues and extension procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged in Solicitor and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1858.

WHAT INCREASES CRIME.—The Philadelphia Press well says:

"The uncertainty of punishment has added, we fear, to the certainty of crime, not only in New York, but in other places.—We are confident that such has been the effect here. Another actual inducement to crime, here and elsewhere, has been the practice—latterly grown to a most intolerable head—of moving for a new trial, and of granting it, often upon very slight grounds. Between the delays of trial after trial, the chances of the jury not agreeing, and the almost dead certainty that a capital sentence will not be carried into execution, the worst criminals have about as many chances of longevity as the judges and jury who try them."

In this State, we are quite sure these delays have increased crime. Delays and new trials are so common that notorious criminals often escape justice. The more delays and new trials there are, the less the chances that rogues will be punished.

THIS AND THAT.—A correspondent of the Boston Post says:

The celebrated clipper ship Flying Cloud, that has made some of the most astonishing passages upon record, has been lying up in ordinary at New York for some eighteen months. Likewise, the three magnificent steamships, Adriatic, Baltic and Atlantic, have been laying for a long while at the foot of Canal street, sad spectacles for American pride to behold. Mr. Collins ceases to have any ownership in them, and Mr. Brown, the sole proprietor, is endeavoring to effect a sale of them, which, at present, seems to be a forlorn hope. They could be bought for one million of dollars, which is about one third of their cost.

The same writer also says:

The daily receipts taken at the bar of Delmonico's celebrated drinking saloon, opposite Stewart's marble dry goods palace, Broadway, amount to an average of $500. This includes oysters, pastry, and other such "fixins." As fifty per cent. of this, at least, is profit, you can judge of the enormous income it must yield. The number of drinking shops is enormous in New York.

Now put this and that together—and think that the $500 per day, which is mostly drank up, to the infinite injury of the guzzlers, would probably, if rightly applied, keep those splendid ships running, and benefit the world.

CONSEQUENCES OF EATING "HASHEESH."—A Princeton correspondent of the Newark Daily Advertiser, under date of Nov. 25th, says that a tremendous excitement was created in that place on the previous night by the announcement that a member of the Senior Class, Mr. C. B., had made an attempt to hang himself. He had a few days before perused the famous work of Ludlow, entitled "The Hasheesh Eater," and on the afternoon of the 23d, notwithstanding the persuasions of his friends, determined to experiment with this dangerous drug. Of a delicate constitution, the quantity he swallowed, although within that prescribed by the author of the work, was productive of the most injurious results. Escaping from two of his class-mates while under its influence, and imagining, as he himself says since his recovery, that he had been sentenced to be hung and appointed his own executioner, he endeavored with his neckerchief to carry out this insane project, and would probably have accomplished his purpose, had not the aforementioned persons, who were searching for him, discovered the body before respiration had entirely ceased.

He was conveyed to his room, and thro' the exertions of Dr. J. S. Schenck, who was promptly on the spot, soon restored.

PERSONAL.—Rev. Theodore Parker, of Boston, is again confined to his house by serious illness. He attended a funeral at Southborough, Mass., on Wednesday, rode a short distance in an open wagon, and, on his return, gained the cars while in motion, straining himself by the exertion in such a manner as to bring on another attack of his painful disease.

☞ A hog, owned in Litchfield, N. H., broke out of his pen, and attacked Mr. Gilman Boyce, who was passing at the time, throwing him down and biting him severely. A woman with a swill-pail called the attention of the savage brute so that he lifted his head, when Mr. Boyce improved the opportunity to jump up and get over the fence.

☞ A large lot of liquors recently seized in the establishment of W. K. & E. Miller, at Bangor, Me., has been condemned and confiscated by the Police Court of that city. The decision has been appealed from by the defendants.

The man who reached the hight of politeness, disappeared in the clouds.

EXTRAVAGANCE OF THE DAY.

Theodore Parker says some shrewd things which go directly to the heart of the popular follies of the day. He has no exalted idea of the present system of domestic education, as tending to frugality or economy. He says, in one of his sermons:

In the town of Somewhere, lives Mr. Manygirls. He is a toilsome merchant, his wife a hard-working house-keeper.—Once they were poor, now they are ruinously rich. They have seven daughters, whom they train up in utter idleness. They are all doing nothing. They spend much money, but not in the works of humanity—nor even in elegant accomplishments, in painting, dancing, music and the like—so paying in spiritual beauty what they lack in material means. They never read nor sing; they are know nothings, exist only in vain show, as useless as a ghost, and as ignorant as the block on which their bonnets are made.

Now, these seven "ladies" (as the newspapers call the poor things so insignificant and helpless) are not only idle, can earn nothing, but they consume much. What a load of finery is on their shoulders, and heads and necks. Mr. Manygirls hires many men and women to wait on his daughters' idleness, and these servants are withdrawn from the productive work of the shop or farm, and put to the unproductive work of nursing these grown up babies.

On the other side of the way, Hon. Mr. Manyboys has seven sons, who are the exact match of the merchant's daughters; rich, idle, some of them dissolute; debauchery coming before their beard; all useless, earning nothing, spending much, and wasting more. Their only labor is to kill time, and in summer they emigrate from pond to pond, from lake to lake, having a fishing line with a worm at one end and a fool at the other. These are the first families of Somewhere. Their idleness is counted pleasure. Six of these sons will marry, and five, perhaps, of Manygirls' daughters, and what families they will found, to live on the toil of their grandfather's bones, until a commercial crisis, and the wear and tear of time, have dissipated their fortune, and they are forced reluctantly to toil.

Besides, this is an enormous waste of food, fuel, clothing, of everything. We are the least economical civilized people on the earth. Of course the poor are wasteful everywhere; they do not know how to economize, and they have not the means. They must live from hand to mouth, and half of what is put into the hand perishes before it reaches the mouth. So likewise are the the rich wasteful who have inherited money, almost never such as have earned it. The great mass of the people are not economical, but wasteful; it is the habit of the whole country.

HOW THE PRESS IS AFFLICTED BY DEAD HEADS.—Railroads occasionally complain of deadheading, but no institution suffers so much from it as the Press. A sensible writer says:

The press endures the infliction of deadheadism from the pulpit, the bar and the stage—from corporations, societies and individuals. It is expected to yield its interests; it is required to give strength to weak institutions; eyes to the blind, clothes to the naked, and bread to the hungry; it is asked to cover up infirmities, hide weaknesses, and wink at improprieties; it is expected to herald quacks, bolster up dull authors, and flatter the vain—in short, to be all things to all men; and if it looks for pay or reward, it is denounced as mean and sordid. There is no interest under the whole heavens that is expected to give so much to society without pay or thanks as the Press.

NEW ORGAN.—The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says:—

"Senator Bigler and some others are engaged in a scheme, as rumor has it, for the establishment of a new paper, to be devoted to the new theory of Congressional intervention in favor of slavery. The paper is to be kept up by the usual subsidies, for which the treasury has been bleeding for two years past. I have no doubt that some such scheme is on foot."

☞ An elephant, escaped from a menagerie, was killed on the premises of Col John M. Sharpe, of Benton, Miss., on the 4th inst. The huge beast was shot through the brain with a ball from a rifle, and died without struggle.

☞ The story, entitled "The Minister's Wooing," commenced in the Atlantic Monthly for December, is the beginning of a serial novel from the pen of Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe.

☞ Professor Morse and his family are about to return to the United States. The Professor has received the first instalment—100,000 francs—of the testimonial of the ten European powers.

☞ A private letter from Baltimore, in detailing the circumstances attending the murder of officer Rigdon by the Plug Uglies, says the villians drew lots to see who should fire the fatal shot!

CONDITION OF REV. MR. THAYER.—A despatch from Lowell, Saturday evening, says: "Rev. Mr. Thayer is very comfortable and doing well."

☞ The Lawrence Courier says the Bay State Mills will be started in the course of three or four weeks.

NEW BOOKS.—We have just opened quite a package of new and popular books, published by Crosby, Nichols & Co., of Boston, forwarded to us by Joseph H. Foster, bookseller of this city.

The first is a book of instruction in Book-keeping by Single entry, beautifully executed as to engraving and printing, and adapted to Payson, Dunton & Scribner's System of Penmanship. Any intelligent young man, in the use of this book, might learn book-keeping and improve his penmanship at the same.

Next we come to a neat duodecimo of 414 pages, entitled the Age of Chivalry—by Thomas Bulfinch,—embracing 1, King Arthur and his Knights,—and 2, Welsh Popular Tales. Together, the two parts of this book, with Illustrations, give the reader a good idea of Ancient British Legends.

Then there are two handsome 18 mos., viz. A Will and a Way,—and Seed Time and Harvest. Both these are series of tales translated from the German, and illustrated with engravings, printed in oil colors. These are designed for perusal by the more intelligent classes of youth, who would be sure to go through with any of these stories they began.

And last, but not least, an 18 mo. Life of Washington, written for children, by E. Cecil, fully illustrated, and elegantly bound in green and gold.

For sale by Joseph H. Foster.

☞ The most successful newspaper editors and publishers in the land, ever since the days of Franklin, have been "compositors," type-setters. At the head of these, stand Horace Greeley and Robert Bonner—one as editor, and the latter as publisher. The Weekly Tribune and the Ledger have probably the largest circulation of any papers in the world—and the Ledger issue is said to reach and exceed half a million copies weekly. Concerning this, a fellow typo of Bonner says:

An accomplishment so extraordinary, cannot but render some account of the author of it interesting. We have heard the phrase "Old Humbug" applied to Robert Bonner, but those who fancy him old, or a humbug, or a mere "lucky adventurer" in the field of journalism, are as wide from the truth as night is from day. Bonner is a decided handsome fellow, not more than thirty years of age, well educated, sturdy in his moralities, and just as smart in every way as the best man of his years in the land. We know him as a compositor some years ago, working hard for the little capital that was finally to start him on his publishing career. His intelligence, industry and economy then, won him a foremost place among his craft-fellow, and were to many an ample prophecy of his future success.

First, by getting up a good paper, and then letting the people know it by advertising, Bonner has made a fortune—as all men do who advertise judiciously. Bonner has frequently advertised a single issue of his paper to the extent of thousands of dollars, and has invested some hundreds in that way in this city for each of the past two or three years. His last dash of paying Edward Everett $10,000 for the Mount Vernon Fund, for a series of fifty-two weekly articles, has astonished everybody—but will prove the best investment he ever made. Success to Bonner and his Ledger!

INDIA.—The Bombay mail of Oct. 25, reached Suez Nov. 8th.

Several scattering encounters with the rebels are reported, but nothing important.

Several actions have been fought near Lucknow, in which the rebels were destroyed in great numbers. The health of the British troops is reported as very satisfactory.

Tantia Topee retreated from Esangur on the 1st, setting the town on fire, and entered Chandaree on the 9th of October.—A portion of his forces were afterwards encountered by Gen. Michel, and were entirely routed, with the loss of all their guns.

The plan of the campaign which was about to commence, shows that Lord Clyde intends to surround and destroy, as a military force, the scattered bands of the rebels.

THANKSGIVING AND THE FARMERS.—It is said that the farmers of New Hampshire are so desirous of having a Thanksgiving market for their poultry in Massachusetts and another in their own State, that they always turn out a Governor who is so indiscreet as to deprive them of this privilege by appointing the day which is selected by their neighbors. We beg their present incumbent of the gubernatorial office to beware, as he has this year interfered with their sovereign right of having two chances to sell their chickens. Thanksgiving occurs to-day both in New Hampshire and in Massachusetts. We must watch the result of the next election.—Providence Journal, 25th.

☞ A Bank Messenger in Boston lost $28,000 in checks and bills, on Friday, and a young man found the whole and returned it.

He is a hypocrite before God, who talketh of a work within, when there is no work without.

LETTER FROM MR. CASS.—New York, Nov. 27.—Secretary Cass has written a reply to a letter from a Jewish Rabbi in Philadelphia, touching the abduction of the Jewish boy by the Papal authorities of Bologna, and asking some expression of condemnation on the part of our Government. The Secretary declines to interfere in the matter.

ATTENTION!! HOUSEKEEPERS!!!

A Great Domestic Improvement.

Shaler's Patent Carpet Sweeper.

This sweeper is superior to all others, and has taken ten or twelve Diplomas over all others at various State Fairs in New York, Vermont, Ohio, Michigan, New Jersey, &c. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, or the money refunded.

No house keeper would willingly do without it, after once trying it. Among its merits are—

1st—It sweeps cleaner than a broom without injury or wear to the finest carpet.

2d—It raises no dust to soil the furniture or stifle the lungs.

3d—It sweeps either way, backward or forward—which no other sweeper does, giving this an immense advantage over all others.

4th—It is light and simple in its construction, and not liable to get out of repair.

5th—It is easily worked; can be used by a child.

6th—It is durable, and will last for years, and is cheaper than any other.

7th—It sweeps the carpet thoroughly, taking the dirt, dust, lint, hairs, pins, needles, &c., directly up into the box, whereas the common method of sweeping the dirt into the dirt, leaves the entire nature of the carpet, forcing it into the grains of the carpet, and thereby injuring it very much.

The public are invited to examine it, at the Bookstore of J. F. SHORES, JR.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

R. R. R.

An old man came limping in Mrs. Hayes' medicine store, No. 175 Fulton street. He asked for a bottle of Radway's Ready Relief. His limbs were so stiff, so weak, and so painful, that the distressed old man could go no further without bathing his crippled legs. In a few minutes he felt new life through his whole body; first, his legs felt a genial glow of warmth, then the stiffness disappeared—next, he felt the muscles and tendons becoming strong—and so vigorous did he feel, that, after a few minutes rubbing with the R R R, he arose, stood upon his feet, and walked away, rejoicing at the sudden effects of RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, leaving the half faithful crutches by Mrs. Hayes' store, as a pleasing memento to her of the exceedingly happy efficacy of Radway's Ready Relief.

People troubled with Rheumatism, or Gout, Sick Headache, or Pains of any kind, the moment you apply Radway's Ready Relief you will experience a happy change.

For Chronic Complaints, Scrofula, Syphilis, Tumors, Ulcers, Cancers, Fever Sores, Consumption, Night Sweats, Salt Rheum, Radway's Renovating Resolvent will make a favorable change on the third day.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of GARNER'S PARISIAN FIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to be free of all injurious to be the original "Parisian Fimple Destroyer." It also removes in a few hours Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.—THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and is one of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a speedy relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., H. Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. R. Peeker, 20 Elm st; J. Morton, 1 Faneuil Hall square; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st; R. A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their misdose would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

J. DUPONCO, Proprietor

LOCAL.

There are thirty-five hundred places where alcohol is sold in Boston. If we had the old fashioned license system there would not be one half the number.—Boston Post.

We have no doubt there are twice as many places where intoxicating drinks are sold in New Hampshire at the present time, as ever there were under the old license system. And we further believe intemperance is on the increase in the State. —N. H. Patriot, Nov. 24.

No doubt the editor of the Patriot may think so:—but we know better,—and will prove our assertion by facts and figures, very briefly.

In the time of the war, 1845, there was a license tax on selling spirits, issued by the United States. 240 of these license taxes were paid in Portsmouth. At that time we had 7000 inhabitants. In April, 1858, there were 60 liquor stores, shops, groceries and taverns. And our population is now 10,000. We had one quarter part as many rumholes in April, '48, as in 1815, with 3000 more people. But is not more sold in neighboring country towns? Answer, No. Not more than one-tenth now, of what there was then, collectively, in the towns of Eliot, Kittery, Newington, Newcastle, Greenland, Rye, and all the Hamptons.

Those are facts which we know. As to the license system within the last 40 years, in these same towns, it certainly did not restrain drinking nor diminish drunkenness,—but simply gave a legal sanction to sottishness, and to the trade of those who manufactured sots. It had no other effect whatever. Perhaps intemperance may be on the increase at this time. If it is not, it cannot be because a certain paper and its echoes and allies have not done what they could to promote it, by discouraging every earnest effort to suppress it.

But be it known, that in Portsmouth, we have not had much law to promote temperance; but when the State made a license law in 1827 or thereabouts, our 200 liquor sellers banded together, held a town meeting, and passed rum votes.

So when, 3 or 4 years since, the State passed another law, an organized conspiracy against it was made through the State at once, by a party hoping to get power by it; organized bands of rowdies here struck for their jugs, and for the liberty of suicide and homicide; and grand jurymen perjured themselves in refusing to find bills on the best of evidence.

Yet temperance has made progress—and though many things look dark, it will yet make more—maugre all the croakers.

☞ On Monday morning a horse, that had done no work since the previous Wednesday, was harnessed to a broad wagon in the yard of Mr. John Nutter, where he stood before the bakery door, for the wagon to be filled with bread. Something, or nothing, started the horse, and he went over Meeting House hill at a brisk pace; turned to the right, down Manning street, but could not quite make a turn to the left, into Gates street; here he missed stays, and went ashore on the front of Mr. S. Clark's house, shattering a front window, knocking down and breaking a looking glass, upsetting his bread cart, and getting on his beam ends, which closed the performance, and made it needful to begin the voyage anew.

☞ Mr. Long's Lecture on Beauty and kindred subjects, advertised for this evening, at the Temple, is a performance of much merit and interest, as a single lecture, and should command a large audience. The Illustrations add to the value of the lecture, enhance its cost, and increase its attractions.

This lecture is to be the opening of a course which has been favorably received in Boston and Philadelphia, and will be delivered here, if the public desire and will sustain it,—in which case those who purchase tickets for this lecture can exchange them for season tickets.

In the absence of Lyceum Lectures, this course on Art should be met with a ready welcome.

Tickets to be had at the bookstores of J. F. Shores, jr, and J. H. Foster,—and at the door.

What Voice was That?—Messrs. Editors:—Somebody in the Middle States has heard a "Voice from the East," portending a great victory to the democratic party, some of these days. That voice was an echo from the crushing machine at the Navy Yard, mingled with the hum of business at the Custom House, Pension Office, and other useful institutions. It is very well understood here that bread and butter is at the bottom, and grog on the top of the operation. But Portsmouth and Kittery are not the whole of either New Hampshire or Maine. There are some rude people in the back towns who vote sometimes. Bon Short.

THE CITY MISSION.

The anniversary services of the City Mission were held in the Middle street Church, on Sabbath evening. The continued interest in the mission was evinced by the very large audience who were in attendance, notwithstanding the unpleasantness of the weather.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. T. H. Holmes. A full and deeply interesting report of what has been done was then read by Rev. Mr. Medbery, our City Missionary. This was followed by the reading of the report of the "Ladies' General Charitable Society," from the pen of Mrs. H. C. Knight, the Secretary. Appropriate and interesting addresses were then made by Rev. A. J. Patterson, Hon. H. D. Walker, Rev. L. Whiting, and Rev. Dr. Peabody. The services were closed by prayer and the benediction from Rev. Mr. Parker.

Thus closed one of the most interesting anniversary meetings of this Society, since its origin. The conviction of the necessity and usefulness of the Mission was never, it is believed, deeper and more general than at this present time. W.

☞ The Committees connected with the M. L. A. Fair are requested to meet at Jefferson Hall this (Tuesday) evening, at 7 1-2 o'clock.

☞ A schooner, supposed a Nova Scotia vessel from Boston, homeward bound, went ashore near Odiorne's Point, on Sunday night, and was full of water on Monday morning; at which time the crew were seen on board, and are probably all safe.

FROM CALIFORNIA.
NEW YORK, Nov. 28.

Steamer Illinois from Aspinwall, has arrived. She brings California dates to the 5th inst., and $1,826,532 in specie.

There was a heavy gale at Aspinwall on the 10th which continued with but little intermission till the 20th. During the gale, the ship Telassar, of Boston, drifted against the Steamship Company's wharf, carrying away 100 feet of the wharf, and receiving so much damage that she sunk in five fathoms water, with 550 tons coal on board. The ship will be a total loss.

The sloop-of-war Saratoga, sailed on the 20th for the Gulf of Mexico. The Relief would sail for New York early in December. The Roanoke would go to San Juan as soon as Sir Gore Ousley arrived, which was expected on the 21st.

☞ By steamer North Briton at Portland, we have Liverpool dates to the 17th November.

There is no news of the missing steamship Indian Empire.

Heavy easterly gales had prevailed along the English coast, and numerous marine disasters, with loss of life, are reported. The French mail steamer at Dover broke her moorings, and was obliged to run over to Boulogne for safety, without mails or passengers. There are no American vessels reported among the sufferers.

Some anxiety is felt for the safety of the ship Agincourt, now 118 days out from Melbourne, with £283,000 in gold. Five guineas premium was asked for insurance.

The Times in an article on the Atlantic Cable says, "Should any improvement take place when the shore end is fully added on, there are many who profess themselves confident of working through the whole wire, for some time to come, at least. Foremost among those who express this opinion, is professor Hughes.

Trade is Paris was more active, but accounts from the manufacturing districts are less favorable. The Paris flour market was without material change. Wheat dull and sales difficult. Wine had considerably declined. Brandies were in demand, and rather dearer.

Several Jews had been appointed members of the Council in Algeria in order to show that France recognizes religious equality.

ASSASSINATION OF NAPOLEON III.

By the last steamer we learn that what has been predicted by many, feared by some, and hoped for by others, has finally taken place, viz:—That they manufacture and sell more Cloaks and Raglans at Messrs. Allen & Paine's than at all the other stores together in Portsmouth. Also that they sell their garments and Ladies' Cloths, Broadcloths, Beavers and other Cloak goods, at much lower prices than any one else.

Perpetual Motion Discovered.—They are manufacturing twenty-five Cloaks per day, and some days are unable to meet the demand, so great is the rush for them in consequence of the latest styles, best of work, and very low prices at which they are sold, at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

Our Next President.—Our lady readers when they want a nice fitting garment go to Messrs. Allen & Paine's and have one made.—These go-a-head young gentlemen cut and make them right in their own store—and having a full new stock of Beaver and Broadcloths, in Black, Drabs, Peach Brown, &c., they are sure to suit every customer.

☞ A splendid new Sleeve and Collar pattern, for the scolloped Raglan, just received by Allen & Paine.

LOOK AT THIS!

A NEW INVENTION.

Great Economy and CONVENIENCE.

THE

BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having

Two Large Ovens

AND

Six Boiling Places.

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling with; out any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS

PERFECT IN ITSELF,

and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the cast nps being of

will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely :—

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it, if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

Housekeepers Buy One,

AND

SAVE

Your Time, Labor and Fuel.

ITS ADVANTAGES ARE NUMEROUS.
IT COSTS LESS,
IT OCCUPIES LESS SPACE,
IT REQUIRES LESS FUEL,
IT WILL KEEP FIRE LONGER,
IT WILL DO MORE WORK,
IT WILL BAKE QUICKER,
IT WILL WEAR LONGER,
THAN ANY RANGE IN MARKET.

Indian Physician.

Dr. B. S. GOODWIN

Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.

ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself and family, and will purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN. Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhea, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsey, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!

Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the Universal Experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God bestowed first dead for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bare of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligation I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Drych a'r Gwyllt-dydet."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as to my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown, at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair.

CHARLES CARROW.

NEW YORK, July 24, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely.

J. G. KENT.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect, until I used your Hair Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up row out and turned back to its original color (black). At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all.

J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the blood, each causing blood to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone to the whole machinery removing the cause of disease—effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are prevented, and health better prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels, yet it will not cause costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same come to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment hundreds of thousands of people in our remote towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease were before him, which were treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are verified upon his books a perfect cure.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and worthless medicines at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE REMOVING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 d1y

PRONUNCIATION.—We have still amongst us many who adhere to the old fashioned pronunciation, and sometimes it occasions merriment. For example:—

A short time since, an important land title was under investigation in New Jersey. An old farmer gave in his testimony, going to show that "the fence ran down along the edge of the swamp, and so up along by the creek till it reached the wood along up by the stun fence; and Squire Smith's farm was always considered to be north of that line." A grave and intelligent jurist of New York, retained in opposition to this line, asked the witness—

"Where is your data for this supposition?"

"My darter? why, bless your soul, I never had a darter as I knows on; I have two boys only, and one lives in Illinoise, and 'tother has gone to California."

Here is another instance, not less true:

A very able but rather dry preacher, held forth on sundry rather complex dogmas of religion, till his hearers were nearly asleep; at last he concluded with this awakening remark:—

"My dear hearers, after all, I can only say that, however true I believe all I have said to be, commontaters don't agree with me."

Here he closed. The next day one of his excellent deacons called on him, and says he,—

"Doctor, I was a leetle consarned by your sarment yesterday, and my wife is too; and the fact is nary one on us has any liking for common taters, and so I have brought you a bag of rale Down-East blue noses; they are the best taters you ever eat in your born days. Bile 'em dry, Doctor, and they are as mealy as dried flour."

"Where did you get so much money, Isaac?" said Mrs. Partington, as he shook a half handful of copper cents before her, grinning all the while like a rogue, as he is, "have you found the hornicopia, or has any one given you a request?" She was a little anxious. "I got it from bets," said he chucking the coin into the air and allowing half of them to clatter and rattle about the floor with all the importance of dollars. "Got them from Bets, did you?" replied she; "and who is Bets, that she should give you money? She must be some low creature or you would not speak of her so disrespectably. I hope you will not get led away by any desolate companions, Isaac, and be an unworthy membrane of society." How tenderly the iron-bowed spectacles beamed upon him! "I mean bets," said he, laughing, "that I won on Burlingame." "Dear me," she exclaimed, "how could you do so, when gaming is such a horrid habit. Why, sometimes people are arranged at the bar for it." She was really uneasy until he explained that, in imitation of older ones, he had bet some cents on Burlingame, and had won.

PORTUGAL.—At the opening of the Cortez the King spoke as follows on the recent dispute with France:

"Friendly relations have not, since the last session, been interrupted with the nations with whom we are allied. A serious misunderstanding, however, arose between my government and His Majesty the Emperor of the French, in consequence of the capture of the French ship Charles Georges in the waters of Mozambique.—This question, being taken from the field of right, in which my government sought to maintain it, my government having exhausted the resources in which the letters of treaties authorized it to have confidence, was obliged to cede to the per-exaction of the delivery of the vessel and liberation of the captain. All the documents relating to this deplorable conflict will shortly be laid before you, and upon examination, I hope you will approve the proceedings of my government, and relieve it from the responsibility it was forced to incur."

☞ Some New York burglars had collected $10,000 worth of Mr. Morris's marble goods on Friday night, preparatory to its abstraction, but some wide-awake watchman frightened them into abandoning the plunder in the store yard. More successful were depredators in Hartford. They stole property valued at several hundred dollars from Mrs. Sigourney's house, ransacked drawers and bureaus, injured every article they did not take away, and after operating extensively with their chisels and augurs, retired with jewelry, ladies' apparel, rare keepsakes, &c., in profusion.

S. D. & H. W. SMITH, of Boston, have just issued an illustrated catalogue of 32 pages, of their superior instruments, in beautiful style, which they will send to those desirous to make themselves acquainted with them. We take pleasure in commending their Melodeon for the parlor as the best toned we have ever seen—having had one in our family for several years. We hope our friends will call and examine before purchasing elsewhere, or send for a catalogue, which will be sent by mail on application.—Merry's Museum.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of business are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
R. H. EDDY.

SCHOOLS.

A well-informed and sensible writer in the New York Independent says that, instead of being productive of good results, many schools now force upon the scholar frivolity of pursuit, and inertia of mind and body. Such schools should be carefully avoided, if children are to be allowed a fair chance for healthful development, mentally and physically.

The latter subject is a very important one; vigor of body, of course, increases vigor of mind, and vice versa. I do not say that fatness of body increases vigor of mind, nor that irritability and excitability of mind increases vigor of body. I mean that the health of one helps the health of the other.

But how is a poor child to attain health of either, shut as she is from exercise and sunlight nearly all day long? Not taught the proper way to study, she wastes hours on a task requiring but a few minutes' deep attention. And she is incapacitated from giving that attention, by habits of idleness, and by general debility of purpose and nerve.

The way in which children's lessons are learned now-a-days, is exceedingly unfair to parents, who sustain at home all the annoyance of forcing them to give up their play-hours to a study with an unwilling spirit, and in a most improper manner.—Those who are most anxious for their daughter's improvement, have actually all the trouble of teaching themselves, and the privilege of paying the schoolmaster for hearing a perfect recitation at his ease. This is an unnatural transfer of duties, and I wonder that parents submit to it.

If the teacher knew what he was about, and took a vital interest in his calling, placing it before his own ease, and had not too many pupils, he himself would be the one to object to this studying at home, which has a most pernicious influence upon the pupil, as has been shown. She contracts all manner of bad habits. Mothers who have small children, and their housekeeping duties to care for, have not, of course, the time to inform themselves of all it is necessary to know, in order to give their daughters the best habits of mental activity.

There is another reason for abolishing the present arrangement. School hours are usually from nine until two, and surely five hours of the hardest kind of work—mental application—are all that should be required of young, tender, feeble girls, when adult men clamor for rest after ten hours of manual labor. They think, and are right, that they cannot sustain more without injury. Five hours to delicate students, is more than twelve to men.—Bulwer has spoken strongly against too long mental application. He gives but three hours a day to it, and says that to apply himself a longer time is to lessen the degree of his power.

Children's muscles need play. They must have it or they grow perverse, and distort the bones they act upon. Their blood needs sunlight and air, and will have them, or it becomes pale and diseased. If you want your daughters to grow up into beautiful, graceful women, who will have good health, long life, and happy tempers, you must, mothers, let school be school, and play-hours be play-hours. Then, if they really strengthen their minds by hard work in the morning, and their bodies by hard play in the afternoon, they will be prompt, practical and efficient in their important duties as housekeepers, teachers, mothers and patronesses of the beautiful and intellectual in life. They will be too wise to be led away from their legitimate calling into courses and pursuits you would tremble to see them entering. They would always be guided rather by good sense and good nature, than by inflamed imaginations and sickly fancies.

☞ Mrs. Evans, a regular spiritualist medium, went stark mad while speaking in public at Cincinnati on Monday night. She was locked up in a station house.

A convention of colored men for the State of Ohio have resolved that, if the Dred Scott decision is to prevail, colored men are absolved from allegiance to the government.

These black men, like thousands of whites, suppose that many things were decided there, which were never decided anywhere. We can excuse the darkies, however, when our venerable president blunders in the same way.

Some genius propounds the following problem:—"It a despatch from England to America gains on the sun so as to reach here 4 1-2 hours by the clock before it left England, at what time would it arrive at the point of departure, were a cable carried entirely round the world? Would it not arrive the day before it left, less only the time exhausted in making the circuit? If so, then with a continuous telegraph line around the world, why not send a despatch around and around until it reached back to Adam, and let him know what his children are about in these latter days.'"

Porter's Spirit answers such proposition by suggesting that a reversal of the electric spark's direction would logically bring about the end of the world, in a manner much more speedy than desirable. Such a rule must certainly work both ways.

☞ Mrs. Geo. Wendell, jr., of Great Falls, committed suicide on Wednesday of last week, by cutting her throat with a large knife. She went up stairs apparently as well as usual, and a short time after, the family, hearing a noise, went up to her room, and found her lying on the floor, dead. A few weeks since we chronicled the death of the child of the deceased, by springing from its mother's arm down a flight of stairs, and this is supposed to be the cause of the horrible deed.—Her husband is son of Mr. Geo. W. Wendell, formerly of this city; and she was a highly-respected young woman. No previous symptom of insanity or undue excitement had been observed. She was at her father's house, and had made her best toilet to go out. She was found sitting before her glass, with her head nearly severed from her body.

☞ The Congregational Church in Northwood recently invited Rev. G. B. Richardson of Douglas, Mass., to settle in the ministry; but a Council called to consult on his dismission at Douglas, advised that he still remain there.

☞ Rev. W. Vany has resigned the pastorate of the Free Will Baptist Church in Newmarket, in consequence of ill health.

☞ Rev. Mr. Laws has closed his ministry with the Baptist Church at Hampton Falls and Seabrook.

Rev. A. M. Swain has closed his labors with the Baptist Church in Brentwood.

☞ Mr. Daniel G. Waldron, formerly of this city, but who has been living in California for several years, has become one of the proprietors of the California Spirit of the Times, a large, handsome, and able sporting Journal, published at San Francisco, at $5 per year.

Mr. Waldron has been associated with the press of that State since 1851, is well acquainted with the details of newspaper business, and is a right down clever fellow. May the Times use him well!

☞ The New York Home Journal commences a new volume Jan. 1, 1859—with new and greater attractions than ever.—The Home Journal is edited by George P. Morris and N. P. Willis, with able assistants; and has many peculiar features of its own, rendering it a very welcome weekly visitor to the fireside, especially to to the ladies. $2 per year in advance.

☞ "What do you propose to take for your cold?" said a lady to a sneezing gentleman. "Oh, I'll sell very cheap; I won't higgle about the price at all."—"No, but what are you going to take to cure your cold?" "I don't care whether it is cured or not, so that I get cured of it." "Well, then, Mr. Captious, what will you take to cure yourself of that cold?" "Well, I'll go up and see what Preston has got."

☞ There is a great deal of sickness in the interior of California just now—more perhaps than at any previous time since 1850; attributed to the large number of reservoirs—the bottoms of which are covered with filth, and the water in many of which is stagnant—that exist in the neighborhood of the mining towns.

☞ The trial of John J. Simpkins, mate of the schooner Keziah, for stealing five slaves, for which Baylies, the captain, is now serving a long term in the Penitentiary of Virginia, took place in Petersburg, Va., on Saturday, and resulted in his acquittal.

☞ Moses Kimball has been nominated by the Republicans for Mayor of Boston.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—Perley, of the Boston Journal, says:—

The "Southern League,' is begining to show its head, and I learn from a gentleman direct from Mississippi that it is having circulated in that State petitions, praying the Legislature to pass a law legalizing the introduction of negro apprentices. The "League" claim that by the Dred Scott decision Congress has only jurisdiction over the negro race as property, and that no State has delegated to Congress the right to legislate on the immigration of free negroes. Assuming this position, if any States now pass laws regulating the importation of free [?] negroes from Africa or elsewhere, as apprentices, Congress cannot interfere with the operations of those laws by any subsequent legislation.

This will be an important question, and it should be met by the North at the onset.

From a circulation based upon the statistics of past sessions, I am confident that there will not be seventy working days during the session. The amount of private business left undone at the adjournment was great—Secretary Cobb's estimates will doubtless be nearer $75,000,000 than the sums which others have figured them at—the Pacific Railroad people will insist upon their scheme—in short the honorable Senators and Representatives must go to work in good earnest, or an extra session will be necessary.

Senator Davis has even astonished his Southern friends here, by his onslaught upon Judge Douglas, and upon the North after his return home. His colleague here, Governor Brown, continues to defend the Senator from Illinois, while the "Little Giant" himself has gone to "carry the war into Africa," and to meet Senator Slidell at home.

The Southern League people are just now striving to prove that cotton will grow in Southern Utah, but they make a sorry show—all experiments having signally failed.

☞ By the steamer Europa, at Halifax, we have three days later news from Liverpool, viz. to Nov. 20.

The Ariel experienced heavy weather on the outward passage; her captain had a knee-pan broken by one of the seas that struck her.

Robert Owen, the celebrated religious and social writer, died in his 88th year.

The Gazette announces the appointment of Dr. Henry Barth, the African traveller, to be a Knight Companion of the Bath.

Another attempted assassination is reported in Ireland. A magistrate named Gason was fired at near Neugh by a discharged employee, but escaped injury.

The 300th anniversary of Queen Elizabeth's accession to the throne has been celebrated with Protestant demonstrations, in various parts of England.

The Bishop of London had delivered a lengthy primary charge to about one thousand clergymen of his diocese at St. Paul's. He condemned the practice of the Confessional.

The Great Eastern Ship Company had been organized. The Great Eastern is to cost the new Company £160,000, and £140,000 more is estimated for finishing her.

☞ We have received from Mr. J. C. Allen, clerk of the House of Representatives at Washington, a pamphlet copy of the debate between Douglas and Lincoln in Illinois.—Also from some friend, a pamphlet showing up abuses in the Coast Survey,—and recommending the employment of Navy Officers throughout that service.

☞ The English papers do not like it that a few of the paupers sent from Great Britain are sent back; and one would suppose, to read some of the accounts recently published, that great hardships and gross outrages had been committed by somebody in sending back the few who have gone the past season.

MEAD SURRENDERED BY HIS BAIL.—Thos. Mead, of Boston, who was convicted of shooting Jeremiah Agin in Allen's saloon, and who is now awaiting the judgment of the Supreme Court upon his bill of exceptions, was surrendered by his bail, on Saturday, and committed to jail.

☞ Letters from Rome assert that all the great Catholic powers had addressed remonstrances to the Pope, to release the Jewish boy Mortara. The Pope replied that the boy's return to his parents was impossible.

DEATH IN THE TOMBS.—Michael Carlan, aged 30 years, belonging in South Boston, committed to the "Tombs," Sunday, for insanity, died in his cell about four o'clock, Monday morning, in a fit of delirum tremens.

☞ A beautiful thought is suggested in the Koran:—

"Angels, in the grave, will not question thee as to the amount of wealth thou hast left behind thee; but what good deeds thou hast done, while in the world, to entitle thee to a seat among the blest!"

☞ In Sweden, a man who is seen four times drunk is deprived of a vote at elections.

☞ Federhen & Co., Boston, send us the Atlantic Monthly for December—through J. P. Morse.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 29.—The annual town election took place here to-day. The Democrats elect four out of the seven Selectmen by majorities varying from 5 to 50; also the Town Clerk, Collector, and a majority of the other officers. Three candidates for Selectmen received a tie vote. As the Selectmen have the management of the polls and ballot-boxes in the State election, the struggle to-day was very ardent, the whole number of votes large, and the result unusually close.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Oswego, Nov. 29. The passenger train on the Central Railroad, which left Syracuse, this afternoon, came into collision at Fulton with a freight train from this city. Both trains were smashed to pieces, and two or three persons injured, but none seriously.

THE LATEST JOKE.—The Washington Union gravely remarks that Dr. Geo. B. Loring, the defeated Buchanan candidate for Congress in the Sixth Daitrict, "lost his election in consequence of an unfortunate division in the Democratic party there!" As the whole undivided Buchanan party, with the Lord party to boot, didn't come within a thousand votes of defeating Mr. Alley, the Union's joke may be set down as one of the best.—Atlas.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Stroudsburg, Pa., Nov. 29.—A locomotive on the Delaware and Lackawanna Railroad exploded at noon to-day. Thomas Lanergan, the fireman, was killed; Edward Hawley fatally injured and two others seriously hurt.

FIRE AND LOSS OF LIFE.—Mattoon, Ill., Nov. 29.—Last night Hugh Harkness, in a fit of delirium tremens, set fire to his house, and himself, wife and child were burned to death.

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF

Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life,

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.

Astonishing Cures of Consumption.

Two cases pronounced beyond the reach of Medical Aid.

AUGUSTA, Me., May 27, 1845.

DR. BRADLEE—SIR—The Hungarian Balsam, has been of the most infinite service to me. I have been cured of an affection of the Lungs, which was thought to be incurable by all my friends, by the use of a few bottles. One of my children was also restored to health, after being pronounced BEYOND THE REACH OF MEDICAL AID, and this medicine is now my constant resort in case of any difficulty in the Throat and Lungs.

Yours truly, FRANCIS J. WEEKS.

BELFAST, Me., June, 1845.

DR. BRADLEE—SIR—Mr. Clark of Palmyra, Me., a friend of mine, was taken sick about a year ago with bad Cough, Pain in the side, general debility, &c. He consulted several doctors, who pronounced for him—but was finally told HE COULD NOT GET WELL! He stopped taking medicine, but continued to grow worse, until he was so weak that he could scarcely sit up. He saw a notice of the Hungarian Balsam, procured a bottle, and continued to take it according to the directions—and, strange to say, in a few months he was a strong man, and as he believes, permanently cured.

Yours truly, H. G. O. WASHBURN, Bookseller.

ATTENTION!! HOUSEKEEPERS!!!

A Great Domestic Improvement.

Shaler's Patent Carpet Sweeper.

This sweeper is superior to all others, and has taken top premiums at Mechanics' Fairs in all the various State Fairs in New York, Vermont, Ohio, Michigan, New Jersey, &c. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, or the money refunded.

No housekeeper you would willingly do without it, after once trying it Among its merits are—

1st—It sweeps cleaner than a broom without injury or wear to the finest carpet.

2d—It raises no dust to soil the furniture or stifle the lungs.

3d—It sweeps either way, backward or forward—which no other sweeper does, giving this an immense advantage over all others.

4th—It is light and simple in its construction, and not liable to get out of repair.

5th—It is easily worked; can be used by a child.

6th—It is durable, and will last for years, and is cheaper than any other.

7th—It cleans any carpet thoroughly, taking the dirt, dust, lint, hairs, pins, needles, &c., directly up into the box, whereas the common method of sweeping drives the dirt along the entire surface of the carpet, forcing it into the grains of the carpet, and thereby injuring it very much.

The public are invited to examine it, at the Bookstore of J. F. SHORES, JR.,

An old man came limping in Mrs. Hayes' medicine store, No. 175 Fulton street. He asked for a bottle of Radway's Ready Relief. His limbs were so stiff, so weak, and so pained, that the distressed old man could go no further without bathing his crippled legs. In a few minutes he felt new life through his whole body; first, his legs felt a genial glow of warmth, then the stiffness disappeared—next, he felt the muscles and tendons becoming strong—and so vigorous did he feel, that after a few minutes rubbing with the R R R, he arose, stood upon his feet, and walked away, rejoicing at the sudden effects of RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, leaving the faithful crutches in Mrs. Hayes' store, as a public testimonial to her of the exceedingly happy efficacy of Radway's Ready Relief.

People troubled with Rheumatism, or Gout, Sick Headache, or Pains of any kind, the moment you apply Radway's Ready Relief, you will experience a happy change.

For Chronic Complaints, Scrofula, Syphilis, Tumors, Ulcers, Cancers, Fever Sores, Consumption, Night Sweats, Skin Eruptions, Radway's Renovating Resolvent will make a favorable change on the third day.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have found three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of GARDNER'S PARISIAN PIMPLER DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and in every case has been an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It also cures in 24 hours Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED, PURE GIN, Distilled in London, from malt Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restorative properties of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic that we have.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by the physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing nervous ailments which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles's London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at twenty-five cents, and in pints thirty-three cents, by Druggists, Grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of immitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE GENUINE is genuine.

Celebrated Female Pills.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders incidental to the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the first three months, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

Sole Agent for the United States and Canada JOB MORES,

(late I. C BALWDIN & CO.,) Rochester, N. Y.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

For sale, wholesale and retail, by W. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth, and by Druggists in every town in the United States.

Burr, Foster & Co. 1 Cornhill, Boston, Wholesale Agents for New England.

LOCAL.

☞ An orator, whose name is not worth recording, but who had probably been drinking beer or something else, held forth on Market Square in the snow shower of Tuesday—and after what appeared to be a brilliant display of tones, which we could not understand, went on as follows: "Ho, all ye Know Nothings, don't ye believe in universal salvation — no, no, ——— ye, [putting in some very large oaths,] ——— ——— ye all down [suiting the action to the word] down to hell fire under the snow storm! See, here's a true democrat from his youth up. Our President's a good"———

Here, alas for the eloquent orator, our worthy City Marshal tapped him very gently on the shoulder, and very politely waited upon him into the lock-up—showing, we suppose, that republics are ungrateful.

☞ A man, whether drunk or sober, we can't say, but probably not the latter, fell into a beer vat of hot liquid in this city, a day or two ago; and the doctor was called to dress the scalded places where the skin came off. He is said to be recovering.

☞ The Christian Sunday School will hold their Monthly Concert in the Temple, this (Wednesday) evening, at 7½ o'clock. All are invited to attend. Admittance free.

☞ The Universalist Church in this city, enlarged, remodeled, and elegantly refitted, is to be dedicated on Thursday afternoon. Services begin at two o'clock.

☞ In our advertising columns to day, is the opening notice of a new Grocery store, by Mr. S. J. Dodge, an experienced Grocer, whose neatly arranged and well chosen stock reminds one of the Christmas Holidays and Good Cheer.

Brown School Farm.—So much has been said in regard to the productiveness of this farm, that the editors of the Manchester American have at different times during the past season examined the crops growing upon it. At the time of the purchase it had been greatly impoverished by neglect and the sale of hay and it will yet require several years of careful attention to fertilizing, draining, &c., before the capacity of the soil will be fully seen. Yet the present year makes a very satisfactory exhibit, and if the soil is poor, the results of the past season are highly flattering to the skill and industry of the Superintendent.

The following is a schedule of leading products raised this year: Corn 308 bushels; Potatoes, 600 do; Turnips 210 do; Oats, 35 do; Beets, 25 do; Beans, 8 do; Hay, 30 tons; Fodder, 14 tons; Cabbages 1000 heads. At the current price the above crop is worth $1,100. The American does not give the above as a test of the capacity of the farm, but as an evidence that it is not the worthless "sand bank" which some have represented.

The soil is no doubt better for tillage, than for grass.—There are young rogues enough in the State to till it.

☞ The long trial of the mutineers of the ship Junior, in Boston, terminated on Tuesday. The Jury found Cyrus Plumer guilty of murder, and Richard Cartha, Wm. Herbert and Chas. H. Stanley, guilty of manslaughter each.

Mr. Butler stated to the Court that he should move for an arrest of judgment, and at the proper time for a new trial for Plumer.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal, Nov. 3, says, it is rumored that Secretary Cobb, being opposed to the proposed revision of tariff, will leave the Cabinet and go abroad.

The correspondent of the New York Times adds, that he will leave in about ten days, and probably go out as Minister to England.

☞ U. S. sloope-of-war Savannah and Jamestown were at San Juan, Nov. 16th. British steam frigate Valorous arrived same day, from New York, with Sir Gore Ouseley. British Frigate Leopard was to sail on the 17th for England via Jamaica; also, on the same day, steam sloop Basilisk, for Aspinwall. Very sickly at San Juan.

☞ The Jews of New York have made arrangements for a public meeting on the 4th of December, relative to the abduction of the child Mortara.

The Bath Times speaks of men who 'worship the rising sin.' True enough, prosperous sin always finds worshippers.§

MY MOTHER'S SALVE

This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and WORLD-WIDE reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Palm-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.

"My Mother's Salve" will in a BURN OR SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.

Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use this Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A. M. Beck.

ASSASSINATION OF NAPOLEON III.

By the last steamer we learn that what has been predicted by many, feared by some, and hoped for by others, has finally taken place, viz:—That they manufacture and sell more Cloaks and Raglans at Messrs. Allen & Paine's than at all the other stores together in Portsmouth. Also that they sell their garments and Ladies' Cloths, Broadcloths, Beavers and other Cloak goods, at much lower prices than any one else.

PERPETUAL MOTION DISCOVERED.—They are manufacturing twenty-five Cloaks per day, and some days are unable to meet the demand, so great is the rush for them in consequence of the latest styles, best of work, and very low prices at which they are sold, at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.—Our lady readers when they want a nice fitting garment go to Messrs. Allen & Paine's and have one made.—These go-a-head young gentlemen cut and make them right in their own store—and having a full new stock of Beaver and Broadcloths, in Black, Drabs, Peach Brown, &c., they are sure to suit every customer.

☞ A splendid new Sleeve and Collar pattern, for the scolloped Raglan, just received by Allen & Paine.

LOOK AT THIS!

A NEW INVENTION.

Great Economy and CONVENIENCE.

THE

BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having

Two Large Ovens

AND

Six Boiling Places.

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling with out any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS

PERFECT IN ITSELF,

and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of

DOUBLE THICKNESS,

will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked four cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it, if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

Housekeepers Buy One,

AND

SAVE

Your Time, Labor and Fuel.

ITS ADVANTAGES ARE NUMEROUS.
IT COSTS LESS,
IT OCCUPIES LESS SPACE,
IT REQUIRES LESS FUEL,
IT WILL KEEP FIRE LONGER,
IT WILL DO MORE WORK,
IT WILL BAKE QUICKER,
IT WILL WEAR LONGER,
THAN ANY RANGE IN MARKET.

Indian Physician.

Dr. B. S. GOODWIN

Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.

ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN. Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsy, Fits, Mercurial Disease, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsy, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all Kinds, Inflammation of the Eyes, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!

Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself prepared for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom never so brightly in the young cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be scanty and shrivelled, here and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Peanut, Teaberry:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Dryche'r Gwyllelydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '53.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who conscientiously put it on her hair. Her thinking it was the thing that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above preparation to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant feeling, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KILBY.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last, a few applications restored my hair firmly. It began to fill up grow out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOBS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds 1 pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE REST PURGATIVE AND LIVER PILLS now before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supply the place of a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machine. Unlike other pills, for moving the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

One dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One and two teaspoonfuls will always relieve sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose often repeated cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the chances being spread at a distance being as well projected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number upon each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Natchez Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all Who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secresy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and in nearly three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 dly

LADIES' GENERAL CHARITABLE SOCIETY.

The value of this Society, as a co-operative agency of the City Mission, was never more apparent than during the last year, when, through the abatement or suspension of ordinary business, a greater number were necessarily thrown upon the timely relicts of the City Mission.

The city, as it may be well to repeat, is divided by this Society into fourteen districts, in each of which two, three or four ladies are appointed to visit the poor, making in all thirty seven. These ladies visit the homes of the poor in their diffrent districts, ascertain their means and wants, afford what aid is suitable and consistent, and carry the encouragements and sympathy of Christian friendship. In this way 90 families have been visited; nearly 300 garments given away, 178 pairs of shoes, and 564 yards of cloth, cotton and woolen. The amount of available funds has been $204.37, accruing this:

From Ladies' Fair	$25.00
Loaned money returned	8.00
Subscription from the ladies in town	153.68
Cash in the treasury at the beginning of the year	16.57
Cash from Treasurer	1.12

This money has been spent in the purchase of goods; in some cases, in small weekly allowances for the sick or aged poor; in household necessaries and comforts for the sick; in timely loans; in preparing destitute children for the Sabbath School; and in other ways according to the best judgment of the executive officers.

Aside from the various and perplexing questions about the wisest ways of administering charity; aside, too, from the knavery and deception which are always more or less practiced upon the benevolent, and which the clearest discernment cannot always detect and guard against, no one, at all acquainted with that large portion of our population who literally live from "hand to mouth," to whom a little sickness, the loss of a few days' work, vicious habits, or besetting thriftlessness will increase the wretchedness of already needy and suffering families, can grudge them that charity, scanty at best, which will help to beat back crime and pauperism, and, perchance, bespeak an interest in better things.

We are happy indeed to record the cordial interest generally expressed in the objects of this Society, and the many substantial proofs of it, in the form of money and clothing. If it has been a pleasure to give, it has been no less gratifying to distribute your alms. And under the prompt and efficient direction of our President, the working corps of this Society thank God for the little it may have been their privilege to do—even to have brought a small measure of comfort to children and wives, to the sick and aged, desolated or depraved by drunkenness, ungodliness, unthrift or misfortune.

It is enough for us to know that the "poor we have always with us," to excite our compassion, and to share some portion of those bounties which the gracious all-Father has placed at our disposal.

H. C. KNIGHT, Secretary.

A Revolution in the Hunting World.

Reuthe's Patent Spring Gun Animal Trap.

More certain of its prey than the most perfect Rifle in the hands of the most experienced marksman, without lessening the value of Pelts or Skins, as is the case in ordinary modes of shooting, it effects the capture of the animal either dead or (if preferred) alive: the barrels discharging themselves, simultaneously with the hooks imbedding themselves in the mouth.

It is simple, yet strong and perfect in its construction neither cumbersome nor difficult to arrange.

There are three different sizes, which will effectually operate on Minks, Woodchucks, Otters, Wildcats, Lynx, Foxes, Wolves, Deer, Panthers, Tigers, Bears, Buffaloes, etc.; in fact, on all animals which repay hunting.

From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1858.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

REPORT OF THE CITY MISSION,
FOR THE YEAR ENDING NOVEMBER, 1858.

The history of your City Mission for the last twelve months has not differed materially from that of the year preceding. Though a variety of new cases have presented themselves, yet our labors have been in no small measure among the same families which were under our care the last year. We have again to acknowledge with gratitude the continued co-operation of the City Government, of the pastors of all our churches, of our various Charitable Associations, and of numerous benevolent individuals. Thus encouraged by associated and individual benevolence, we have been enabled to accomplish much more than we otherwise could have done.

Our visits during the year have in all amounted to 2150, of which 346 were visits to the sick, 24 to the prisoners in our jail, and 30 to the Alms-house. This last number includes the times we have preached at the Alms-house, as that occasion is always improved for conversation, with more or less of the inmates. In these visits we have distributed a large number of religious tracts, particularly among the prisoners. We have also furnished Bibles and Testaments, to such families or individuals as were destitute of them, making in all 29 Bibles and 101 Testaments which we have given away within the year.

Twenty-four of those under our care have died within the past year, ten of whom were heads of families. In regard to several of these we have had reason to hope that our instructions have been the means, through the agency of the Holy Spirit, of leading them to exercise that repentance towards God and that faith in Christ which secured for them a peaceful death and a blessed hope beyond the grave.

It has been our constant endeavor to lead all to attend public worship and to place their children in Sabbath School; but it is difficult to say how many have been influenced thus to do. Many whom we have aided with clothing were already connected with the several religious societies or Sabbath Schools, in our city, but needed help to enable them to continue. Others have been induced to attend for a season who will probably need as strong inducements another year. We have on our list 111 who have been thus brought under the means of grace within the year, and 175 children who have been either brought in or aided to attend Sabbath Schools. In some instances we have been gratified to find parents who, though seemingly destitute of all things, preferred having their children fitted for Sabbath School rather than to receive any other charity. Such children, after being clothed, have invariably been punctual in their attendance.

During the greater part of the year we have maintained religious worship at the Old South Church both on Sabbath day and evening, beside holding a prayer meeting, at the same place on Thursday evening. We have also preached twelve times at the Alms-house, and attended twenty-four funerals within the year.

For the present we have suspended preaching at the Old South Church, though the Mission Sabbath School which has been held there during the year is still kept up, and we hope, will continue to flourish.—The average attendance has been, taking the whole year through, about 80.

In this school we have been aided by the services of Mr. Edwin P. Kimball as Superintendent, and of Mr. Moses Stickney as Librarian, together with an efficient and faithful band of teachers. Through the liberality of two other Sabbath Schools in our city, and of some individual contributors, we have been enabled to add more than one hundred volumes to our library, and to furnish each scholar with the Child's Paper.

The whole sum expended for the school within the year has amounted to thirty dollars. The good which it has accomplished is not so easily computed. In the children themselves we see a marked improvement. Not only are their minds becoming stored with Scripture truth, explained to them by faithful teachers, but they are, from week to week, carrying into nearly a hundred different families, books and papers which supply them constantly with interesting and profitable reading.

A benevolent gentleman in New York offered some months since, to give a gilt-edged Testament as a reward to every scholar who should perfectly commit to memory the Child's Scripture Catechism. Eight children connected with the school have already completed their task and received the prize. Many others are trying for it, some of whom will receive it soon.

The same gentleman has since offered to give a Bible to all such as should learn certain specific portions of the sacred text.—Quite a number have already commenced to earn this prize. May we not hope that many may become wise unto salvation through the knowledge thus acquired?

A Band of Hope consisting of more than six hundred members has been formed in connection with this school, which has already had two very interesting quarterly Meetings. This juvenile temperance Society may well be termed a Band of Hope. The confirmed inebriate is in most cases beyond our reach. Our only hope of suppressing intemperance, which is by far the most fruitful source of all our poverty, is by creating such a sentiment in the minds of the rising generation as shall prevent their becoming the victims of this vice.

It is not so easy to say how many we have aided to attend week-day school. We have two hundred and three families on our list, who have been more or less helped by us during the year. Among the families there doubtless were many children kept in school who would necessarily have been absent a part if not all the winter had we not assisted in clothing them.

Whenever we have found children staying from school, either through the indifference or ill management of parents, or for want of suitable clothing, we have done all in our power towards removing such obstacles. But our efforts have not always been successful. There are parents among us upon whom some more powerful influence must be brought to bear before they will keep their children in school. Should we not do well to follow the example of some of our neighboring cities who make truancy a civil offence?

Thirty children have within the year been furnished with good places where they might have had comfortable houses. Some have remained and are doing well. Others have left for some trivial cause, or have proved themselves unworthy of the situation. Many parents not only make no effort themselves towards procuring places for their children, but after putting us to much trouble, will for the most trivial cause take their children away from the homes we have provided for them. Perhaps not more than one in three of those for whom we have provided places are now enjoying the benefit of the home thus obtained.

We will give an example as illustrative of our general success. Last Spring, a very worthy lady offered to take a girl of about twelve years of age. Her family was small and we knew it would be a very desirable home for any well-disposed child. We first offered the situation to a girl, who in ragged attire had been for some weeks begging from door to door, but whose apparent modesty had deeply interested us in her favor. After many assurances from us that the girl should be well cared for, her parents consented. We gave her some garments that she might not go naked to her employer, and the lady, in the fullness of her pity, supplied her with various other articles of apparel, more than she could have earned in two months. Before she had been there one week the girl took all which had been given her, and left without the knowledge of her benefactor. We again visited and remonstrated with the parents, but instead of sending her back, they had her resume her ragsand beg again from door to door.

We then went to another destitute family and after much persuasion succeeded in getting one of their daughters, whom we were also obliged in part to clothe before we could take her to this place. It was but a few days before she, too, must leave. We again visited and expostulated both with her and her mother, but all to no purpose.

The lady, by this time discouraged, was about taking older help, but we persuaded her to let us make one more trial. More than a mile from our house we knew of a girl who needed, and might be glad of such a situation. To her we went and found both mother and daughter very grateful for the offer of such a place. The girl, having never before been away from her mother, was at first somewhat homesick. But she determined to remain; and after being there three months, told us that she was never so happy in her life. She is now well clothed, and what is better, well trained. The prospect is that she will grow up a capable and respected woman. The other two girls are as destitute as ever, growing up in idleness and ignorance, yet at this very time appealing to the benevolent for sympathy and aid. Will any of our citizens encourage them in this course.

The poor are so much accustomed to come to us for employment that our house has come to be regarded as a kind of Intelligence Office. We have kept no account of the number who have in this way been furnished with places, as this is only incidentally connected with our Missionary labor. Still it has added not a little to our work, and particularly in the case of strangers, has given us much additional care.—In several cases we have taken such into our own family until we could judge what they were, and procure for them some suitable situation. Some of these have proved worthy persons and are now in good families where their services are highly valued. In only two instances have we found it otherwise.

One of these came to us in so untidy a condition as would prevent any person from employing her. We kept her with us a week, had her mend and wash her clothes, and provided her with such additional articles as seemed necessary to make her appear decent. We than procured for her a good situation, with the understanding that, while we cheerfully gave her her board and the making of the garments we had given her, we should expect her to refund from her wages the money we had actually paid out for her. She left the city a few weeks afterwards, without making us any returns, or even notifying us of her departure.

The other was a young girl of pleasing appearance, whose health was so delicate that it was some time before we could procure a situation easy enough for her. For more than a month she was in our family and treated with all the tenderness of a child. And, when at last we found just the place she seemed to fill, we cheerfully supplied her from our own wardrobe with such articles as she needed, and thought we could safely recommend her as being all that she appeared.

It seems, however, that among many amiable traits of character, she possessed an inveterate propensity to steal. Availing herself therefore of her knowledge of our domestic arrangements, she entered our house by a window, in the absence of the family, and helped herself to whatever she pleased. Never should we have suspected her, had she not had the boldness to appear abroad in one of the garments taken.

Presuming this to have been her first offence we were satisfied to have the articles restored, and confiding in her pretended contrition, only named the matter confidentially to a few friends, among whom of course, was the lady with whom she resided. Again, stolen articles were found in her possession; again she was expostulated with and advised to return to her friends. But she would never have been suffered to leave had we known what we now do of the deception she had practiced upon ourselves and others. She is certainly a very unsafe person to be at large. Even after the fact had been again and again proved to us, we found it almost impossible to believe that such an innocent face could belong to one so dishonest and untruthful.

Amid our other duties we have not forgotten the sailor. Several new ships which have sailed from this place have been furnished by us with Bibles and Testaments from the Portsmouth Bible Society. Two seamen who entered our port within the present year have died in this city. One was a young Scotchman, the other a man in middle life, a native of the West Indies. These we frequently visited and conversed with, giving them such religious instruction as seemed appropriate to their condition.

Among other labors in behalf of seamen, we took quite an interest in the crew of the United States ship Portsmouth, which entered our harbor in June last. Thro' the kindness and co-operation of the Commander and 1st Lieutenant, we arranged to have religious services on board, the Sabbath before the crew were discharged. In these services several of our clergymen and members of our different church choirs participated. The occasion was one of deep interest, and many of the sailors afterwards remarked that it was a season they should never forget.

We also interested ourselves to procure temporary boarding places for about sixty of the crew, where they were well treated and protected from the robberies so often practiced upon the poor unsuspecting sailors. These men also deposited with us more than two thousand dollars for safe keeping while they remained in the city. When ready to depart each one received the amount of his deposit, and his hard earnings were thus saved to himself or his family.

That we should have been accused of robbing them by some who were disappointed in not getting all they had hoped to from these oft-abused yet noble-hearted men, is perhaps no more than we might have expected. It was enough for us to know that we were innocent of the charge, and that we not only had the confidence of the community in general, but also the gratitude of some of these sailors.

One of them, after having shipped for another three years' cruize, wrote us on the eve of his departure, expressing his gratitude for our kindness to himself and fellow seamen, and adding, "I shall daily read the Bible you were so kind as to give me, and hope I may profit by it. My prayer shall be for your continued happiness and prosperity." Is not the blessing of one such honest-hearted sailor more than sufficient to counterbalance any persecution we may have suffered for our efforts in their behalf?

A large portion of those whom we visit seem to regard the Mission as designed mainly for the relief of their physical wants. It has been our constant aim to correct this impression. Yet, while we seek to go among the people as an ambassador of Christ, endeavoring to impart suitable religious instruction as well as friendly counsel, we find it impossible in the present state of things to leave wholly to other agencies the duty of supplying the destitute. If we go to the homes of the poor as the messenger of mercy, we must expect to have poured into our ear the tale of all their sufferings. Even were their lips silent, it would be painful to be obliged to witness all the destitution which comes under our immediate observation without having means with which to afford relief.

It has therefore been very gratifying to us, as well as almost indispensable to the success of the Mission, that various benevolent individuals have from time to time placed funds at our disposal expressly to meet such calls. Even children have been pleased in this way to remember the poor. One little boy has for two successive years sent us a donation for the poor on the first day of January, amounting this year to two dollars and twenty cents. We also received a very handsome donation of ninety dollars and fifty-four cents—the avails of a Fair held by Miss Hall's school in March last.

The whole amount of money placed at our disposal during the year has been $273.44. This has been expended in a variety of ways for the benefit of the poor or sick, or to aid them in keeping their children in Sabbath and day schools. A correct account of all monies received, together with the manner in which they have been expended, has been constantly kept and may be seen at our office by any who wish more particular information.

In addition to this, several merchants have contributed cloth or other articles for us to distribute as we had occasion. A large number of second-hand garments have also been sent to us by various families, which have greatly assisted us in relieving the wants of the destitute.

The number of garments, new and old which we have distributed within the year, has amounted to 883. This does not include what have been distributed through the Ladies' General Charitable Society, which was formed expressly to aid us in this department of our labor, and has proved a very important auxiliary. From their report it will be seen that they have disbursed charities to the amount of two hundred and four dollars.

The Humane Society have also distributed between two and three hundred articles, mostly new. This Society has been in successful operation for fifty years, and is doing a good work. Its benefactions are chiefly confined to the aged, the sick, and very young children.

The Howard Benevolent Society have also within the same time expended among the poor between three hundred and four hundred dollars. This is given out in fifty cent orders for provisions, once in two weeks, and is a very great relief to many families.

There are also among us several benevolent persons with whom we co-operate, who in their individual capacity are doing much for the poor.

Such is our connection with all these agencies, that we not only understand in general who are aided and to what extent, but are often called upon to act a personal part in the distribution of their charities. In this way we know of 290 families, or parts of families, which have been more or less aided within the year. Who can tell how much this list might be lessened by the banishment from our city of all that can intoxicate? or how much misery might be prevented which neither associated nor individual benevolence can remove?

The last winter found many among us needing sympathy and aid, who had never before felt the need of it. Had not a kind Providence sent us an unusually mild season, all that was done would have proved insufficient to prevent some of our citizens from suffering.

Beside our own poor, a great many persons of both sexes are afloat in the community, travelling from city to city in search of employment. A large number of such have within the year been sent to us.—Those who were hungry we have fed. To some, who appeared very destitute, we have given such articles of second-hand clothing as seemed requisite to meet their present necessities. For some we have procured a free pass to their friends who were more or less remote. Where they have wished for lodging, we have in some cases obtained for them a permit to pass the night at the alms house, and in others have sheltered them beneath our own roof.

It is no unusual thing for us to have twenty or more calls in a day from persons seeking aid or counsel. To attend upon all these, and select proper articles for such as are known to be worthy—to cut and fit garments for such as have not the capacity to do it for themselves—to be obliged to hear the recital of so many tales of real or imaginary trouble, and try to counsel or comfort as occasion may require, makes our home duties little if any less laborious than those abroad.

The prospect is that the coming winter will be quite as trying for the poor as the last was. Many families who a year ago had a little something on hand have now nearly or quite exhausted it. There is still a lack of well-paid employment to meet their constantly recurring wants.

Was any one the poorer or the less happy for what he contributed to the cause of benevolence the last year? It not, we hope that he will still continue to enjoy the blessing of many a child of poverty made happy through his means.

Are there not in many families some garments which are out-grown or have become too much defaced for their own use, but which would very much help us in clothing the children who ought to be kept in Sabbath and day schools? Thus far we have been very much aided in that way, and trust we shall be remembered in future.

Our past experience of the constant kindness and co-operation of those to whom God has given ability, leads us to hope and believe that we shall not be left alone in our work, nor yet without means with which to relieve those who need and deserve our aid. And may none of us be unmindful of the words of the Lord Jesus, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

N. Medbery.

LADIES' GENERAL CHARITABLE SOCIETY.

The value of this Society, as a co-operative agency of the City Mission, was never more apparent than during the last year, when, through the abatement or suspension of ordinary business, a greater number were necessarily thrown upon the timely relieis of the City Mission.

The city, as it may be well to repeat, is divided by this Society into fourteen districts, in each of which two, three or four ladies are appointed to visit the poor, making in all thirty-seven. These ladies visit the homes of the poor in their different districts, ascertain their means and wants, afford what aid is suitable and consistent, and carry the encouragements and sympathy of Christian friendship. In this way 90 families have been visited; nearly 300 garments given away, 178 pairs of shoes, and 564 yards of cloth, cotton and woolen. The amount of available funds has been $204.37, accruing this:

From Ladies' Fair	$25.00
Loaned money returned	8.00
Subscription from the ladies in town	153.88
Cash in the treasury at the beginning of the year	16.57
Cash from Treasurer	1.12

This money has been spent in the purchase of goods; in some cases, in small weekly allowances for the sick or aged poor; in household necessaries and comforts for the sick; in timely loans; in preparing destitute children for the Sabbath School; and in other ways according to the best judgment of the executive officers.

Aside from the various and perplexing questions about the wisest ways of administering charity; aside, too, from the knavery and deception which are always more or less practiced upon the benevolent, and which the clearest discernment cannot always detect and guard against, no one, at all acquainted with that large portion of our population who literally live from "hand to mouth," to whom a little sickness, the loss of a few days' work, vicious habits, or besetting thriftlessness will increase the wretchedness of already needy and suffering families, can grudge them that charity, scanty at best, which will help to beat back crime and pauperism, and, perchance, bespeak an interest in better things.

We are happy indeed to record the cordial interest generally expressed in the objects of this Society, and the many substantial proofs of it, in the form of money and clothing. If it has been a pleasure to give, it has been no less gratifying to distribute your alms. And under the prompt and efficient direction of our President, the working corps of this Society thank God for the little it may have been their privilege to do—even to have brought a small measure of comfort to children and wives, to the sick and aged, desolated or depraved by drunkenness, ungodliness, unthrift or misfortune.

It is enough for us to know that the "poor we have always with us," to excite our compassion, and to share some portion of those bounties which the gracious all-Father has placed at our disposal.

ATTENTION!! HOUSEKEEPERS!!!

A Great Domestic Improvement.

Shaler's Patent Carpet Sweeper.

This sweeper is superior to all others, and hastaken ten or twelve Diplomas over all others at various State Fairs in New York, Vermont, Ohio, Michigan, New Jersey, &c. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, or the money refunded.

No housekeeper would willingly do without it, after once trying it. Among its merits are—

1st—It sweeps cleaner than a broom with out injury or wear to the finest carpet.

2d—It raises no dust to soil the furniture or stiffe the lungs.

3d—It sweeps either way, backward or forward, —which no other sweeper does, giving this a immense advantage over all others.

4th—It is light and simple in its construction, and not liable to get out of repair.

5th—It is easily worked; can be used by a child.

6th—It is durable, and will last for years, and is cheaper than any other.

7th—It cleans any carpet thoroughly, taking the dirt, dust, lint, hairs, pins, needles, &c., directly up into the box, whereas the common method of sweeping drives the dirt along the entire surface of the carpet, forcing it into the grains of the carpet, and thereby injuring it very much.

The public are invited to examine it, at the Bookstore of J. F. SHORES, JR.,

Left his Crutches in Mrs. Hayes' Shop.

An old man came limping in Mrs. Hayes' medicine store, No. 175 Fulton street. He asked for a bottle of Radway's Ready Relief. His limbs were so stiff, so weak, and so painful, that the distressed old man could go no further without bathing his crippled legs. In a few minutes he felt new life through his whole body; first, his legs felt a genial glow of warmth, then the stiffness disappeared—next, he felt the muscles and tendons becoming strong—and a vigorous did he feel, that, after a few minutes rubbing with the R R R, he arose, stood upon his feet, and walked away, rejoicing at the sudden effects of Radway's Ready Relief, leaving the faithful crutches in Mrs. Hayes' store, as a pleasing memento to her of the exceedingly happy efficacy of Radway's Ready Relief.

People troubled with Rheumatism, or Gout, Sick Headache, or Pains of any kind, the moment you apply Radway's Ready Relief you will experience a happy change.

For Chronic Complaints, Scrofula, Syphilis, Tumors, Ulcers, Cancers, Fever Sores, Consumption, Night Sweats, Salt Rheum, Radway's Renovating Resolvent will make a favorable change on the third day.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, and also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It also removes in a few hours Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

The Original and Only London Gin Imported.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable medicinal properties of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, SPECIFIC DISEASES, CHRONIC URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing uncleanness which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces it "Medicinally, London Gin."not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-five cents, by all Druggists, Grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—None Genuine but Charles'.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. K. Pecker, 21 Exchange st; J. Storrs, 118 Blackstone st.; M. A CARD TO THE LADIES

DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used for many years, both in France and America, with unparalleled success in every case; and is the only medicine used by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, the multitude would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts; in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

☞ The Universalist Church having been thoroughly renovated, and beautifully refitted and decorated, is to be re-opened to-day, by public religious services at two o'clock in the afternoon.

The exercises are to be as follows:

Invocation, by Rev. Mr. Dillingham, a former pastor:

Scripture Selections, read by Rev. Mr. Patterson, the present pastor:

Prayer by Rev. Dr. Whittemore of Cambridge:

Sermon by Rev. A. A. Miner of the School Street Church, Boston.

Prayer of Dedication by Rev. E. G. Brooks of Lynn, a native of this place, and a son of this church.

Two original Hymns, and other pieces, will be sung.

Public Services, consisting of a sermon, and a Conference Meeting at its close, may be expected in the evening.

At both these services the seats in the House will be free;—and the citizens generally, are respectfully invited to attend.

The seats on the coming Sabbath will also be free.

The pews are to be sold on Monday evening next.

☞ The Mercantile Library Association of this city, will hold a Levee and Fair, at Jefferson Hall, on the evenings of Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, Dec. 7, 8, and 9, as will be seen by reference to our advertising columns. The object of the Fair is to raise money for furnishing the new rooms, which are now being fitted up over Mr. Head's bookstore, and to purchase new books for the Library. The advantages of the Association and its claims upon the good wishes, as well as the pecuniary assistance of the public, have often been stated in this and other papers. It is admitted by all that the M. L. A. is one of the most useful institutions in the city; and it certainly is as prosperous as any similar institution ever established here. The regular weekly meetings of the Association held every Friday evening, are good schools for the young men of our city to familiarize themselves with the method of conducting public meetings and to take part in the discussion of various questions. At present, the Association has only one room, and that a small one. Their Library numbers about 1500 volumes, but as there is no fund for the purchase of new publications, there is a great want of new books. The new Rooms will be quite commodious, and they hope to be able to furnish them in a manner creditable to the Association.

This Fair will be conducted on a plan similar to that adopted by the religious societies in past winters. Arrangements have been made to produce some of the finest tableaux ever exhibited here, and as this department is under the direction of an active and able company, it can be very safely predicted that this exhibition will be entirely satisfactory. The advertisement contains a list of the representations to be given, among which the entrance of "Washington into Portsmouth on horseback," "Paul Morphy playing chess with Napoleon," "the Landing of Queen Victoria at Cherbourg of France," are of particular interest.

The public have already begun to assist in completing the arrangements, and have shown a generosity and readiness to help which is highly gratifying. The ladies are about 40 or 50 in number, have taken hold in good earnest and exhibit as much interest as though they were members of the Association. N.

☞ Steam tug R. B. Forbes took the fine new ship "Harry Hastings" in tow, on Wednesday morning about 8 o'clock, and proceeded to Boston. They presented a beautiful appearance as they glided down the river against the full strength of the tide.

☞ Rev. Lyman Whiting of the North Church in this city, has requested a dismission from his pastorship here, having received a call from the Park Presbyterian Church in Brooklyn, N. Y.

☞ Mr. Long's Lecture on Beauty and kindred subjects, was well received by an intelligent and polite audience, at the Temple, on Tuesday evening. We should esteem it a great privilege and pleasure to hear the whole course of lectures, with the same audience and as many more as could get in, at some smaller hall, where the expense could be but a trifle, and the assembly more compact—say Hanover Chapel, Pitts street Chapel, or that of the Middle street Church.

We offer this as our own suggestion, without conference with Mr. Long or any one else—hoping that there may be enough of taste and liberality to sustain a cause at once so valuable and so cheap.

☞ The report of the City Mission, which occupies much of our room to-day, is an important document—and the facts embraced in it must be of interest to every person who desire the moral and social welfare of our city. It was read at the annual meeting of the Mission, last Sunday evening.

MARRIED.

In this city, at Glen Cottage, Nov. 30, by Rev. Mr. Patterson, Mr. Birna Bixby of Providence, R. I., to Miss Susan J. Moses of this city.

In Exeter, Charles Colcord to Sarah Clark.—Joseph Ham, of Dover, to Mary J. Currier.

In Hampton, Jonathan Perkins, Jr., to Mary Ann R. Evans of Amesbury.

DIED.

In Exeter, Sophronia A. Hough, aged 62, wife of Clark Hough, formerly of Lebanon.

In Potsdam, N. Y., Samuel Partridge, Esq., 66, formerly of Alstead, N. H.

In Belfast, Me., Abigail H. West, wife of Wm. West, formerly of Merrimack, N. H.

Ship Rockingham, Melcher, old New Orleans 24th ult for Havre.

Ship Ino, Plumer, at Shanghae, Sept 18th ldg for New York.

Ship Bald Eagle, Treadwell, was at Hong Kong Sept 27, unc.

Ships Witch of the Wave, Todd, and Emily Farnum, Simes, at Chinchas Oct 24, ldg.

☞ Commodore Stewart has addressed a letter to the Navy Department, resigning his position as the commandant of the Philadelphia Navy Yard, and stating that it is his intention to restore to Congress the swords, medals, &c., voted to him for his gallant conduct, if the action of the Navy Retiring Board is endorsed by the President and by Congress. There is a general expression of sympathy for "Old Ironsides," and talk of endeavoring to have the office of Admiral, (equivalent to that of Lieutenant General,) created.—Judge Black, the Attorney General, is said to consider the act creating the Board unconstitutional.

ELECTION IN GLANCEY JONES' DISTRICT. Reading, Pa., Nov. 30.—The election to fill the vacancy in Congress, caused by the resignation of J. Glancey Jones, took place to-day. Cumrow township shows an opposition loss of 24, as compared with the October elections; Muhlenberg township shows an opposition gain of 45; Spring township shows an opposition gain of 6; Reading city gives Kein, the opposition candidate, 880 majority, a gain of 52 since October. From other townships the returns show an opposition gain 110.—There is little doubt but that Gen. Wm. H. Kein is elected.

THE SLAVER ECHO CASE—NO INDICTMENT. Columbus, S. C., Nov. 30.—The Grand Jury came into Court this morning, and reported that they found no bill in all the three cases against the crew of the slaver Echo. The counsel for the prisoners will probable move for their discharge on Monday next, when the question of the constitutionality of the act declaring the slave trade piracy, will come up for argument. The U. S. Attorney will endeavor to hold the prisoners.

☞ One James Crowley murdered his wife Jane, on Tuesday evening, in Boston, by stabbing her. Crowley had just come out of the House of Correction, where he had been confined as a common drunkard. It is said he was pardoned out on his wife's petition—and that he was intoxicated, or partly so, when he did the deed.

☞ The Treasurer of the State Reform School, asks for donations of suitable books, for a library for the scholars' reading. Remember, good, useful books—not trash. Sunday School books and good week-day books are wanted.

☞ Rev. Moses Howe, who for fourteen years has been the pastor and agent of the New Bedford Port Society, has retired from that position on account of the increasing infirmities of old age, and is succeeded by Rev. James D. Butler.

MR. L. A. FAIR.

Those Ladies who have so kindly offered to contribute Refreshments to the Mercantile Library Association Fair, are requested to send them to No. 83 State street, on Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning. For order Refreshment Committee.

WASHINGTON FREEMAN,
CHARLES H. HAYES, } Committee.
E. WASHINGTON BROWN,

ASSASSINATION OF NAPOLEON III.

By the last steamer we learn that what has been predicted by many, feared by some, and hoped for by others, has finally taken place, viz:—That they manufacture and sell more Cloaks and Raglans at Messrs. Allen & Paine's than at all the other stores together in Portsmouth. Also that they sell their garments and Ladies' Cloths, Broadcloths, Beavers and other Cloak goods, at much lower prices than any one else.

PERPETUAL MOTION DISCOVERED.—They are manufacturing twenty-five Cloaks per day, and some days are unable to meet the demand, so great is the rush for them in consequence of the latest styles, best of work, and very low prices at which they are sold, at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.—Our lady readers when they want a nice fitting garment go to Messrs. Allen & Paine's and have one made.—These go-a-head young gentlemen out and make them right in their own store—and having a full new stock of Beaver and Broadcloths, in Black, Drabs, Peach Brown, &c., they are sure to suit every customer.

☞ A splendid new Sleeve and Collar pattern, for the scolloped Raglan, just received by Allen & Paine.

LOOK AT THIS!

A NEW INVENTION.

Great Economy

AND

CONVENIENCE.

THE

BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having

Two Large Ovens

AND

Six Boiling Places.

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS

PERFECT IN ITSELF,

and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the cost nearly being of

will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked four cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it, if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

Housekeepers Buy One,

AND

SAVE

Your Time, Labor and Fuel.

ITS ADVANTAGES ARE NUMEROUS.
IT COSTS LESS,
IT OCCUPIES LESS SPACE,
IT REQUIRES LESS FUEL,
IT WILL KEEP FIRE LONGER,
IT WILL DO MORE WORK,
IT WILL BAKE QUICKER,
IT WILL WEAR LONGER,
THAN ANY RANGE IN MARKET.

Indian Physician.

Dr. B. S. GOODWIN

Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.

ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would say to all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN: Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhea, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsey, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!

Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself prided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the young cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious and well so agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Dryck a'r Gwyllledydd."

We'ah Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 25, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KNAP.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had recourse to numerous Medicines to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications restored my hair wonderfully. It began to fill up new out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 2 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 25 per cent. more than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving a healthy tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose taken at bedtime, Cures Dysentery.

One dose often repeated, Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.

Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of mercury, after a long sickness.

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes the yellowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before retiring gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhœa in worst forms, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the business being carried on at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $20,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to R. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of medicine and disease which still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secresy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics, have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, enclosing the fee, in all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. The action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 d1y

NOT QUITE GOOD ENOUGH YET.—We stated, a day or two since, copying from the Mirror, that Mr. Kimball of Manchester, when assaulted by one Goodenough, fell and broke his leg. But the American, of the 27th, spoils this part of the story, and spoils the whole apology, by the following item.

Now, we are requested by Mr. Kimball to say the blow was given by Goodenough with a stone which he held in his hand, and that the blow from the club broke his leg. After he fell, Goodenough continued to beat him for more than ten minutes, striking him fifty or sixty times, in the most deliberate and brutal manner. The fiction that Mr. Kimball broke his leg in falling is too absurd to need denial. The plot was notorious in its conception, and having decoyed their victim into their hands, Goodenough and Young showed themselves to be as malicious and brutal as the veriest pirates. Mr. Kimball will not in probability be able to leave his bed before New Year's.

WHAT WE DRINK.—Dr. Hiram Cox, of Cincinnati, has been analyzing, various kinds of wine, particularly certain specimens of firm old port, sherry, and madeira. He says that they none of them contain one drop of the juice of the grape. The basis of the port wine was diluted sulphuric acid, colored with elder berry juice, with alum, sugar, and neutral spirits.—The base of of the sherry wine was a sort of pale malt, sulphuric acid, from the bitter almond oil, with a per centage of alcoholic spirits from brandy. The basis of the madeira was a decoction of hops, with sulphuric acid honey, and spirits from Jamaica rum. Why will these dreadful chemists be perpetually frightening us with their uncompromising analyzations? Are we never to be allowed to sit around the festive board in peace, without one of their ruthless warnings, staring us in the face, like an Egyptian coffin, all the time?—Porter's Spirit.

☞ James A. Jones, of Quachita, in Arkansas, a defeated candidate at the recent election of member of Congress, has published an address in which he says:

We evidently cast our pearls before swine. We magnanimously, and at a considerable sacrifice to our habitual self-respect, offer to serve a people who had no appreciation of the offering. We can't help it. We didn't make the people, and are not under contract to supply them with brains. If they were wilfully blind to our merit, the fault is theirs. We did our duty, and our conscience is easy.

SLAVE TRADE.—Not far from 200,000,000—two hundred million—of Africans were carried to the British West Indies, before emancipation. After 178 years not more than 780,993 remained, in round numbers, eight hundred thousand! 800,000 negroes were brought to St. Domingo from 1680 to 1776; only 290,800 were to be found there in that latter year. The annual decrease in Cuba is from five to ten per cent. On the other hand it is stated that the whole number imported into the United States, ab initio, was about four hundred thousand, and the number at the present day, is about four millions!

COST OF SLANDER.—The wife of F. J. Shepherd, of Concord, Waukesha County, Wisconsin, has recovered $3000 damages of one John Poe, for slanders against her character circulated by Poe previous to her marriage. The slanders are said to have been of a very aggravated nature, and sustained by atrocious perjuries.

The Bishop of Oxford has been, by one of the Foreign Affairs Committees, asked to explain how it was he should have stated at Bradford that "God has opened up China," when, in the House of Lords last session, he had denounced God's vengeance against the very act of opening up. The Bishop replies that "it is an attribute of God's inscrutable Providence that the errors of men are made to work out the accomplishment of His purposes."

☞ The well-informed Boston correspondent of the N. Y. Spirit of the Times says of it the report so currently circulated in the newspapers that Mr. Forrest has retired from the stage, is without any foundation in fact. He will probably resume his professional labors next season, as he has entirely regained his health.

☞ On Thursday last messages were sent without interruption over the telegraph wires from New York to New Orleans, a distance of 1700 miles. This feat is seldom performed.

I never had a sucking pig,
And fed and nursed it in the sty,
But when 'twas grown up fat and big
And fit to kill—'twas sure to die.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and the one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
R. H. EDDY.

LONG METER HYMNS.—We give the following sentiments found in the last number of the New York Musical Review :—

"Now it is well known to those who have given careful attention to the subject, that it is much more difficult, ordinarily, to sing a long meter than a common meter or short meter. The cause of this may be found in the four heavy equal lines, of four poetic feet, of eight syllables each. Hymns in long meter are almost always tiresome—certainly if sung to a single tune, and in a slow movement. Such a hymn may be sung well, perhaps, in the morning, when every one is fresh and strong; but in the afternoon it is almost always difficult to press through a long meter hymn, in a slow tune. Our theory, and it is founded on long experience and observation, is this: a long meter or two in the morning; one is generally enough for a day, though two may be admissible. It should always be the first morning hymn. Afterwards should come easier meters, as common meters, short meters, and the various particular meters, yet not long meter six lines, or long particular meter; but such meters as contain more variety, and especially short lines."

No doubt the shorter lines are more lively, and pass off easier than long ones—but the idea of a choir getting tired in singing a few verses of a hymn, is a modern idea, and a foolish one. Almost any decent choir will sing in rehearsal a whole evening, three or four hours—and the usual singing in most societies on the Sabbath does not amount to half an hour; even in the Episcopal church not to a whole hour. With proper management of the breath, choir singing is agreeable pastime, and no more, to singers in health. Cut short your lines, leave out verses if you please, from whim or convenience—but not from laziness or faintness. By the way, long meter tunes need not be slow nor dull—and should not be dragged.

GREAT FRAUD.—The general government at Washington has received from California a full official account of the judicial proceedings in the Limantown and Almedan land cases, which have been decided in favor of the United States. The former claim is located in the vicinity of San Francisco, and with the improvements on it is supposed to cover at least $40,000,000 worth of property, while from the Almedan mines it is stated that $8,000,000 worth of quicksilver were taken from during the last six years. The present Attorney General of the United States, with a view to bringing these long pending cases to a close, employed Mr. Stanton of Pittsburg to prosecute them. In the course of the trials, the most stupendous frauds were exposed. The signatures of Bocanegra and other distinguished Mexicans were obtained to apparently genuine titles, but the documents were ante-dated, as it was necessary to consummate the ingeniously contrived deception. Although much skill was shown in the forged seals, the chent was successfully established.

Eminent jurists consider these the most remarkable cases on record, involving title to lands, while the extent of the forgery, all things considered, is without precedent.

☞ In Indiana, they have squally politics. There has just been a meeting held in the hall of the House of Representatives, by the Lecompton or Buchanan democrats, at which Gov. Willard and Hughes, M.C., were the principal speakers. The speech of Hughes was a southern production, and intensely bitter against the Douglas, or "bolting" democrats. He stood firmly in defence of the administration and its Lecompton policy, and for one he said he had no overtures to make to the Douglas men. Hughes was a leader of the Buchanan and Anti-Douglas party, in the House at Washington last winter.

Gov. Willard followed Hughes, and in part endorsed the Buchanan administration. He denied that the position assumed by the Buchanan men was to force the Lecompton Constitution down the throats of the Black Republicans. Had this been the motto "He would have gloried in seeing it carried into effect."

☞ The democracy of Senator Hammond, who slurs Thomas Jefferson, boasts of his improvement upon the Washingtons, the Crawfords and the Marshals of the past, and who speaks tauntingly of the laborers of the north as "mud sills" and "wage slaves," the Bath Times says, is no more like the democracy of Tom. Benton, Silas Wright and Levi Woodbury, than the milky-water sermons of a fashionable clergyman of to-day are like the burning discourses of a Peter or a Paul.

Insults are like counterfeit money; we can't help their being offered, but we need not take them.

☞ Col. John H. George's letter accepting the congressional nomination in the second district of New Hampshire, is published in the papers of this State, and makes two mortal columns of small type. It is soundly democratic, of course, but all its points could have been compressed into one-fourth the space. Spread over so much paper, the Bath Times says, it is necessarily very thin in spots. One of these spots is in relation to the tariff. The idea of combining a revenue and a protective tariff, is simply ridiculous. No tariff which amounts to protection can yield a revenue, because it protects only so far as it excludes the foreign fabric, and when it excludes importations the revenue stops.—A revenue tariff is not designed to check importation, and so long as importations are unchecked, the idea of incidental protection is a mere delusion—a thing in name but not in fact.

STEAMSHIP INDIAN EMPIRE.—The Indian Empire left New York on the 23d and Halifax on the 29th of Oct., and had not been heard from when the Europa left Liverpool, although she was then eleven days overdue. Apprehensions are naturally felt that she has met with some disaster.

The New York Evening Post says it may be that she is out of coal, as the Europa, on her last trip, used up all her coal in contending against the heavy weather, and was obliged to into Queenstown, Ireland, for a supply. The Indian Empire took out eighty-one passengers, and a crew of sixty-eight men. She also had about two hundred tons cargo.

The vessel was built in 1833. On her last overhauling at Southhampton, she was found to be in sound condition. She has no bulkhead partitions, but is provided with six boats, two of which are of the Francis large pattern. These would probably accommodate the passengers and crew. For extinguishing fire, a donkey engine and fire and bilge pumps can be brought to bear. The Marine Register rates the Indian Empire at A 1 1-2, and says that her "security and provisions against fire are good."

A PERVERSE WILL.—The Boston Atlas informs us that the provisions of the will of the late Augustus Thorndike are exciting some little talk. Mr. Thorndike died recently at the Tremont House. It appears that, a few years since, a daughter married a young man, belonging to the Marine Corps of the United States. This gave mortal offence, and from that moment she was forbidden to enter the family. The daughter and family have since been living, in an humble way, in Newport. Hearing of his mortal sickness, and the family being absent in Europe, she hastened to his bedside to assuage his dying moments. She was repulsed, even at so solemn an hour. The will of the deceased has just been opened, and it is found that he has put the whole property in trust, excepting one legacy of $10,000; providing for the payment of $8000 per annum, to a single daughter, (now with her mother,) and two sons $5000 each per annum, on the condition of forfeiture, if either of them ever gives one farthing to the married daughter. And to meet the requirements of law he gives to this married daughter the pittance of $400 per annum. Such an act tells its own story, and comment upon it is entirely unnecessary. It is rumored that an effort will be made to break the will. The case is a singular one, and very naturally excites much conversation. Family pride often perverts the human heart.

Somebody ought to go into the law with this will, and break it down. The man was insane, or "possessed of a devil," or something worse.

☞ Rev. Mr. Thurston has accepted the call of the Oldtown Society, Newbury, Mass., to become their pastor. His salary is $800 per annum, with house rent free. The call was unanimously made. He succeeds Rev. Leonard Withington, D. D., who has lately resigned.

☞ A few years ago, the ladies wore a handy kind of hood, called "Kiss-me-if-you-dare." The present style of bonnet might be called, with equal propriety, "Kiss-me-if-you-want-to." The dear creatures have also got up a new knit cape or mantle, which they call "Hug-me-tight."

The population of the legislative districts in Illinois carried for Abe Lincoln, is 697,371; and of those carried for Douglas, 609,205. The excess of population in the republican districts, by the census of 1855, by which a new apportionment should have made, is therefore 88,166.

This does not seem exactly like popular sovereignty,—but rather the result of ingenious gerrymandering.

Tiger hunting is a very fine amusement, so long as we hunt the tiger; but it is rather awkard when the tiger takes it into his head to hunt us.

AN OLD AND FAITHFUL SERVANT.—The Newburyport Herald records the death in that city, Nov. 29, of Mr. Samuel Mulliken, aged 89 years and five months. Mr. Mulliken has been known for many years as cashier, successively, of the old Newburyport Bank, of which the late Wm. Bartlett was President, and of the present Merchants' Bank. He served in three two institutions more than forty years, having resigned his office in 1851, at the age of 82. He was probably the oldest bank officer in regular, active service in the country at that time. His recollections went back to the early history of the Revolution. The battles of Lexington and Bunker Hill, the "Ipswich Alarm," the encampment and embarkation at Newburyport of Arnold's expedition, and all the principal event and prominent actors of that period and of our whole revolutionary history, were fresh in his memory.

When a pilgrim pursues a long journey without stumbling, he becomes from that very circumstance worthy of double respect. We look on his age as we do on the autumnal flowers, which continue to blow when the frost has withered all around them. Life is but a variety of temptations: and the man that has been sober in youth, and cheerful in age, and honest in all his connections, leaves us a beautiful example. Such, says the Herald, was our aged fellow citizen, whose death we record. His integrity, his temperance, his uniformity, his wonderful art of making life calmly pleasant, are worthy of careful imitation and constant remembrance. It is not enough to speak of his integrity; there was a peculiar security which every one felt in every trust committed to his hand. His principles were founded on religion, and therefore they were immovable. He had cultivated his mind; he had guarded his heart; he had bowed to the authority of his God.

THANKFUL, AFTER ALL.—It seems that the 25th inst. was designated in California also as Thanksgiving day. Louisiana, too, is to have Thanksgiving after all—really after all, on Saturday, the 18th of December.—Better late than not all. This leaves only Texas and Arkansas of the 32 states that feel they have no occasion to gratefully recognize the bounties of Providence.

☞ A young lady last Monday got out of a railway train, went into a hotel at Bridgewater, Mass., fell into a trance, and has remained asleep ever since, much to the astonishment of the Bridgewater folks, including the landlord, and the embarassment of the physicians, who, finding no evidence of poison in the young lady, cannot account for her protracted slumbers.

Modern skill has culminated in Ayer's Pills. Invention did its best in this production. A marsterly art has combined the subtile essences of remedials into a compound that penetrates to the foundations of disease, and expels the very seeds of disorder from the blood. Such a remedy was needed, and since we have it we want our readers to know what it is.—Ex.

Left his Crutches in Mrs. Hayes' Shop.

An old man came limping in Mrs. Hayes' medicine store, No. 175 Fulton street. He asked for a bottle of Radway's Ready Relief. His limbs were so stiff, so weak, and so painful, that the distressed old man could go no further without bathing his crippled legs. In a few minutes he felt new life through his whole body, his legs felt a genial glow of warmth, then the stiffness disappeared—next, he felt the muscles and tendons becoming strong—and so vigorous did he feel, that, after a few minutes rubbing with the R R R, he arose, stood upon his feet, and walked away, rejoicing at the sudden effects of RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, leaving behind his painful crutches in Mrs. Hayes' store, as a pleasing memento to her of the exceedingly happy efficacy of Radway's Ready Relief.

People troubled with Rheumatism, or Gout, Sick Headache, or Pains of any kind, the moment you apply Radway's Ready Relief you will experience a happy change.

For all Bronchial Complaints, Scrofula, Syphilis, Tumors, Ulcers, Cancers, Fever Sores, Consumption, Night Sweats, Salt Rheum, Radway's Renovating Resolvent will make a favorable change on the third day.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of surface which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of GARDNER'S PARISIAN PIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is genuine, and is used by the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It also removes in a few hours Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Mole, Blotches and Stings, and all eruptions upon the skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED. THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveilance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any Gin or Schnapps, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind I have ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of weather and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'—ROYAL ORDERS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall; S. Foster & Son, 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 61 Blackstone st.; R Smith & Co., 20 Exchange st.; Gilbert, Abbott & Co., 78 Broad st.; Deland & Sons, 34 Elm st. and others. In Portland, Me., of H. H. Hay & Co., C. W. Atwell, and C. The Great English Remedy.

JAS. SIMS'S CLARKE'S

Celebrated Female Pills.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES

It is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on a miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

Sole Agent for the United States and Canada (late I. C. BALWDIN & CO.,) Rochester, N. Y.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

For sale, wholesale and retail, by W. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth, and by Druggists in every town in the United States.

Burr, Foster & Co. 1 Cornhill, Boston, Wholesale Agents for New England.

DEDICATION.

Agreeably to notice, the Universalist Church, in this city, was re-opened and and dedicated on Thursday afternoon. The services were:—

Dedication Anthem:

"And will the great eternal God,
On earth establish his abode?"

Invocation, by Rev. Mr. Hicks, of Dover.

Scripture Selections, read by Rev. Mr. Patterson, the pastor:

ORIGINAL HYMN, BY MISS A. M. LIPPITT.

Spirit in heaven, in earth, in air,
To whom all human gifts belong,
O, hush our boastful thoughts to prayer,
And help to shape them into song.

Our beauteous Zion stands complete!
Her walls made lovely by our love,
Which grows for her surpassing sweet,
As type of His dear church above.

Within this temple, holy prayer
Shall heal our spirits, faint and sore;
The dusty sandals of our care
Shall drop beside her peaceful door.

O, Father, as this sacred place,
Renewed by art, doth seem more fair,
So may our hearts, retouched by grace,
The symbols of Thy presence bear!

O, make this house Thy dwelling-place,
The minster of Thy Truth and Light!
And lift us to the large embrace
Of sweeter union, clearer sight!

Prayer by Rev. Dr. Whittemore, of Cambridge.

ORIGINAL HYMN, BY MRS. J. B. PRAY.

Maker of worlds! thou'rt Lord supreme,
Yet deign'st to hear the humblest prayer.
We come with grateful hearts to-day
To thank thee for thy every care,
And for that Truth thou didst impart,
That thou our God and Father art.

We thank thee for that Book of Life,
That shows our path of duty clear;
For that blest Faith, whose lucid ray
With Hope life's darkest hour can cheer;
In thy great name, this Temple, we
Anew would dedicate to thee.

Here may we come, thy name to praise,
And humbly bow our souls in prayer;
Here may we come to read thy word,
And wait our voices on the air—
Till with thy praise these arches ring,
And blend with songs that Angels sing.

O, Father, our dear Pastor bless;
May he be thy especial care;
Protect him 'mid life's varied ills,
And be his shield from error's snare;
O, guide us all, and may we be,
Pastor and People, blest by thee.

Thy cheering grace to us impart;
O, send that ray of light divine,
That we may know thee as thou art,
And all our wills to thee resign;
And others learn from us to know
Those joys that from our Faith do flow.

Sermon by Rev. A. A. Miner of the School Street Church, Boston, from Titus 2: 11–14:—

11. For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men,

12. Teaching us, that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world.

13. Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the Great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ,

14. Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works.

The subject of the discourse was, What the Gospel has actually done for mankind.

Laying out of the account all improvements in art or science to which the gospel may have contributed, the speaker noticed the following particulars:

The better and wider conviction of the common mind, that God is good, that he is universally and gratuitously benevolent. Christianity has not produced this love,—but is, in its most enlarged sense, the product of it.

Yet Christianity does not contain the only, nor the earliest announcement of this great truth. It was announced in the older revelation, wherein God's tender mercies are said to be over all the works of his hands, and to endure forever. And it is written on all the works of nature, older still.

Christianity does not counteract, or contradict either the old revelation, nor the voice of nature; but appropriates and absorbs both of them, while in development and demonstration it transcends both.

We expect the father of a Christian family to be just towards his children; and while he loves them all, we wish to see him sensible of the different merits and demerits of his children; and we also expect to see him deal bountifully with them, outside of and beyond any of their merits and demerits.

So God looks at the characters and deeds of men; and he deals justly and truly with them, in praise and blame, in reward and punishment. And then God looks also at their needs and wants, spiritual and temporal, and provides supply.

Good men in their measure do the same thing. In their city missions and other efforts, they look to character and action, and they praise or blame; but they also look beyond it, to the wants they must supply, to the misery they must relieve.

But beside the want of man, there is, so to speak, an absolute want or desire in God, for the pleasure of loving all the souls of man, whom he has created.

The speaker encouraged his hearers with a view of the large measure of good in the world,—not only or merely in form, and profession, and outward demonstration,—but in quiet unseen action, unknown alms, unbaptized virtue.

While speaking in glowing terms of the increased momentum of good acts and purposes, he could not forget the terrible vices and evils around us;—but he argued that the sensitiveness of the public, common mind, to these evils, was itself a mark of moral progress in purity and virtue in the world.

The closing services were:

Prayer of Dedication by Rev. E. G. Brooks of Lynn, a native of this place, and a son of this church.

Voluntary by the Choir,—"The God of Israel is our Redeemer."

Benediction.

The House was finely filled, with an attentive audience.

☞ We hereby return thanks to all our Daily and most of our Weekly subscribers, for the promptness with which they have always cashed our bills, on presentation.

To those few on our Weekly list who are owing us for the year almost expired, and who may send us $2 immediately, we will send receipts to 1860.

See, also, our liberal offer to furnsh both our papers to new subscribers, and to club with the popular and really valuable Atlantic Monthly.

SERMON.—We are indebted to the printer, F. W. Miller of the Chronicle, for a neatly printed copy of a sermon preached by Rev. Dr. A. P. Peabody, pastor of the South Church in this city on Sunday, Oct. 24th, being the 25th anniversary of his ordination. The discourse is a review in brief of the pastor's labors with his people, which they will doubtless be pleased to preserve, although the discourse contains none of the eloquent passages and fearless hits at the follies and vices of the day which make many of the author's works attractive to the general reader. Ballot.

EXETER REPUBLICAN DELEGATES. — At the American Republican caucus in Exeter on Wednesday evening, to elect delegates to the State and Congressional Conventions, the following gentlemen, all favorable to the nomination of Ichabod Goodwin for Governor, were chosen delegates to the State Convention:

Charles H. Bell, Isaiah S. Brown, Joseph C. Hilliard, Wm. O. Smith, William B. Morrill, James M. Lovering.

For delegates to the Congressional Convention, the Marston ticket succeeded over the Hoyt by 75 majority. The gentlemen elected are as follows:—

John Sullivan, John F. Moses, Joseph D. Wadleigh, James Carlisle, Moses N. Collins. N. G. Gilman.

PENNSYLVANIA CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION. Reading, Pa., Dec. 1.—The majority for Gen. Wm. Hokein, the opposition candidate to fill the vacancy in Congress caused by the resignation of J. Glancy Jones, will probably reach four hundred.

ASSASSINATION OF NAPOLEON III.

By the last steamer we learn that what has been predicted by many, feared by some, and hoped for by others, has finally taken place, viz:—That they manufacture and sell more Cloaks and Raglans at Messrs. Allen & Paine's than at all the other stores together in Portsmouth. Also that they sell their garments and Ladies' Cloths, Broadcloths, Beavers and other Cloak goods, at much lower prices than any one else.

PERPETUAL MOTION DISCOVERED.—They are manufacturing twenty-five Cloaks per day, and some days are unable to meet the demand, so great is the rush for them in consequence of the latest styles, best of work, and very low prices at which they are sold, at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.—Our lady readers when they want a nice fitting garment go to Messrs. Allen & Paine's and have one made.—These go-a-head young gentlemen cut and make them right in their own store—and having a full new stock of Beaver and Broadcloths, in Black, Drabs, Peach Brown, &c., they are sure to suit every customer.

☞ A splendid new Sleeve and Collar pattern, for the scolloped Raglan, just received by Allen & Paine.

THE
BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having
Two Large Ovens
AND
Six Boiling Places.

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS
PERFECT IN ITSELF,
and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of
DOUBLE THICKNESS,
will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it, if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

A. A. PERKINS, Supt.

Great Falls, Nov. 29, 1858.

☞ Hon. Jefferson Davis, as our readers may remember, has made some political and other speeches in Maine, which were applauded as very national and Democratic. Lately he has spoken in Mississippi, to his own people; there he asserts that if a Republican President "shall be elected by a vote of the people, he "is for asserting the independence of Mississippi, and for immediate withdrawal from the Union." If therefore, a majority of the people of the United States have the presumption to choose a President, whom Mr. Jefferson Davis and the State of Mississippi may not like, then Mr. Jefferson Davis and the State of Mississippi intend to "assert their independence and withdraw at once from the Union." Elections therefore must not be free and untrammeled, but must be held in deference and subordination to the will of Mr. Jefferson Davis and the State of Mississippi. We suppose this is the latest edition of popular sovereignty.

Mr. Davis pitches into Mr. Douglas in the following style.

Another charge preferred against him was that he had made a speech at Bangor, at Maine, in which he had avowed the odious doctrine of squatter sovereignty.—He had never uttered any sentiment which could be fairly construed into a recognition by him of a doctrine that a Territorial Legislature could effect in any way the status of slavery—a doctrine worse than the Wilmot Proviso, and against which he had warred ever since it had been broached. He considered Mr. Douglas's opinions as objectionable to those of his adversary, Mr. Lincoln. They were both equally destructive of the rights of the South, both at war with the Constitution, and with his friend the editor of the Mississippian, he would have been glad if they had made a Kilkenny fight of it, and neither had been left to proclaim the victory.

We are curious to see how this manifesto of the Mississippi Senator will be received by those who say there is no difference between Douglas and Buchanan.

The Boston Post speaks approvingly of Mr. Jefferson Davis's speech,—and the Pennsylvanian newspaper, Mr. Buchanan's advocate, says:

The speech is of commanding importance at the present time, when an unemployed demon seems to have bestridden so many of our statesmen, and its calm, composed statesmanship will do much to cool the heated political atmosphere, and make the country, from North and South, look for its safety to principles not men.

Well: the uneasy demon seems to have bestridden Douglas, Adrain, and many others, and is riding them back into Congress, to take part in the great steeple chase this winter.—There will be some blowing of horns and breaking of necks there shortly.

He who cannot take a hint, cannot comprehend a long explanation.

YOU HAD BETTER TRY

MY MOTHER'S SALVE

This celebrated preparation has obtained as enviable and WORLD-WIDE reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty due to the public for the numerous testimonials bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in many cases a Permanent Cure.

"My Mother's Salve" in a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends, it is now offered to the public.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself prefered for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom never so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be marled and shriveled, bald and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore the most scanty locks, to care to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Peanist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 10, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Dryck a'r Gwyliedydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 18 Nassau st., Apr 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir:—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I am confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. ENAP.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray: I was becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications restored my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grow out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small: the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 25 per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for $2: the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND TONIC COMPOUNDS now before the public. This compound is free from all mercury or bad material for the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, and giving to the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing all the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach, and prevent the food from rising and souring.

One dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, will move the bowels gently, and cure costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix powders in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purpose, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, for right, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. Tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—Boston Daily Dollar Morning Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your money plain, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, who are suffering from the baleful and insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consulting the proper physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of diseases which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of these number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients can rely with safety on addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing eyes.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments on your health or constitution at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS, are now unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practised by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicine.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine, the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. ly2 dly

Dye your Hair and Whiskers.

BY using Hutchins' Liquid HAIR DYE, you can color Red or Gray Hair to a beautiful Brown or Black. This is the best article in use. A lady may safely consider it cheaper to use it than to buy caps to cover her gray hair.

From the Ballot.

Imbecility of our City Government.

The utter inefficiency of our city police for several years past has been a subject of general comment among our citizens of all parties; but they are not more so than the officers from whom they receive their appointment, nor are more contemned or disregarded by the violators of the state laws or municipal ordinances. Take the following fact for example:—

In Sept. 1851 an ordinance (No. 19) was passed which enacted "that in the location of all new slaughter-houses in the city of Portsmouth, application must first be made to the Mayor, who, in cooperation with the Board of Health, or such other committee as the City Council may hereafter select, shall decide whether the site proposed is such as shall not be an annoyance to any dwelling or public thoroughfare; that in no slaughter-house now located within the limits of Portsmouth shall any offensive matter be allowed to collect and remain in the house or vicinity, to the annoyance of any inhabitants."

A year or more ago application was made for leave to erect a slaughter house in the rear of Water street, in close proximity to a number of dwelling houses. The Mayor and committee of the Aldermen and board of health visited the premises, decided that the site was not a proper one for a building to be used for such a purpose, reported accordingly, and the City Council refused the grant. In spite of their action, however, the building was erected, and has ever since been used for the purpose for which the grant was refused. The board of health has frequently declared it a nuisance, as it unquestionably is to the whole neighborhood, and frequent notices have been sent to the proprietor by the health physician that the slaughtering of animals there cannot be tolerated, and must be immediately stopped. But the proprietors of the slaughter house, having disregarded with impunity the refusal of the City Council to grant them a right to erect the building, trample upon the orders of the servants of that body, and go on with their business to the annoyance of the neighborhood and in defiance of the government and its ordinances. The person living nearest to and consequently most annoyed by this nuisance is Capt. Charles H. Chase, who has one of the most desirable estates in our city. His fine garden, running back from the street to the creek in the rear, adjoins the lot on which this slaughter house stands. The garden is a favorite place of resort for his family and friends in the summer season, but a southeast breeze, generally so grateful at the close of a hot day, comes to them so laden with the stench of the slaughter house that they are compelled to flee to the house and close the windows, as are also the other neighbors in range of the noxious current. Capt. Chase and other neighbors have complained and remonstrated, and the city government has promised them justice; but all to no purpose. The proprietors of the nuisance are democrats, controlling some half dozen votes, and they set at defiance the power of the government and laugh at its idle threats. And thus the citizens' property is damaged and depreciated in value (although taxed enough for good government) on account of the imbecility of our city officers.

CURIOUS FACT.—Speaking of Worcester and his Dictionary labors, the Boston Courier says:—

In 1846 he completed his "Universal and Critical Dictionary of the English Language," which will ever stand a monument of his faithful and indefatigable industry, correct judgment, and sound learning. It contained in its various vocabularies upwards of one hundred thousand words, and has received the commendations of scholars wherever the English language is used. It may be proper to state in this connexion, a curious fact in literary history, that this work has been republished in London, from duplicate plates manufactured at the Boston Stereotype Foundry; but with the name of Webster fraudulently inserted on the title-page. Thus many complimentary notices of Webster's labors in lexicography, which have appeared in the English papers, have been called forth by this volume. We have called this a "curious" fact; and it is certainly anything but complimentary to the honesty and truthfulness of those who were engaged in it. How they reconciled it to their consciences thus to rob a modest scholar of his well-earned honors, and transfer them to a man who had been for years in his grave when the volume was published, it is not for us to conjecture, as it is not our duty to receive their confessions, or grant them absolution.

EXTRAORDINARY DEATH.—Madame Moet, the celebrated proprietor of the Champagne vineyards, whose daughter was married the other day, has just met with her death in a most extraordinary manner. She was gathering flowers in her garden, when she felt herself bitten by a fly. She thought nothing of the slight puncture, but in the evening her face began to swell, and a few days afterwards she died in intense agony. It is supposed that the fly must have fed upon putrid flesh.

UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN PATENT AGENCY.
SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington,
HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent-granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations procured, of applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Re-issues and extension procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.
HENRY B. RENWICK, L. D. GAIL, S. H. LANE, } Principal Examiners.
T. E. PALE, THOS. T. EVERETT, F. SOUTHGATE SMITH, WM. C. LANGDON, } Assistant Examiners.
From long acquaintance and intimate official relations with Mr. Cooper, I fully and heartily concur in the foregoing recommendation made by my late colleagues. W. P. N. FITZGERALD,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 4. 1858.

WASTE OF THE STAFF OF LIFE.

We have of late noticed several very able and important articles in our English exchanges, which throw much light upon the extent of the liquor manufacture in Great Britain, and the great waste of the articles necessary for the support of the toiling multitudes who are exposed continually to suffering arising from the want of bread. The yearly consumption of wheat in the United Kingdom is 18 million quarters; an average harvest yields some 14 million quarters, leaving a deficiency of 4 million quarters. Eight million quarters of grain are annually destroyed in breweries and distilleries, being nearly one half of the wheaten consumption, and more than half the production of that article.—In that year of scarity and almost famine prices, 1855, the breweries consumed 8,748,000 quarters of grain!

As the result of this immense waste, not only is the price of food increased, but the resources of the people are diminished, the capital of the country absorbed, wages lowered, trade decreased, and taxation increased, by the intemperance, poverty, and crime consequent on the liquor traffic. It takes 1,050,000 acres of land to produce the grain consumed in British breweries, also 50,000 acres to produce the hops;—land which would give 5 acres each to 250,000 families, or near an acre each to all the agricultural laborers, farm servants and shepherds in the United Kingdom.—The 8,000,000 quarters of grain, thus worse than destroyed, are worth, at say 8s. a bushel, £25,600,000, which sum would purchase 1,024,000,000 quarter loaves at 6d. each, a quantity sufficient to supply 5 millions of persons with 2 1-4 lbs. of bread daily to each. There are in England and Scotland about 5 1-2 millions of families, the sum spent in intoxicating drinks (after deducting 20 millions for the arts and sciences) is about 55 millions annually, which would give to each family £10 a year, or nearly 4s. a week.

Now is not this a burning shame?—When there are millions crowding the pauper houses of Great Britain, when there are tens of thousands who rise every morning without a crumb of bread in their dwellings, and know not how to obtain it, is that a time to take the grain which God has made, and wantonly render it unfit for the support of man or beast? Society cannot thus afford to lose the staff of life in such great quantities. But not only is there a destruction of breadstuffs, there is yet a greater evil connected with it. The conversion of grain into intoxicating liquors inflicts manifold evils upon the country; it increases crime and wretchedness, and swells the sum of human woe.—He who turns grain into the fiery liquid, does much to injure society in every shape, and God and humanity will hold him accountable for his misdeeds.

Congress will assemble on Monday, and as no speaker or clerk is to be chosen, the President's Message may be delivered promptly. It is, we suppose, already printed, but a Washington dispatch says:—

Advance copies of the Message will, according to the President's design, be sent only to Richmond, Va., Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York.

We don't see why one copy might not find its way to the Boston Post or Portland Argus; though it is of no great consequence whether expressed along in advance or not.

This Session of Congress is the short one, as this Congress dies when the 4th of March comes in.

The session will be exciting.—The adjournment left the two democratic parties in a round quarrel with each other. Subsequent events, especially the elections, have not restored an era of good feelings. The rejection of the English Lecompton plan, by the people of Kansas, so decisively, will give some tone to the opposition, in debate, and will, of course, draw out a bitter response from the slave power. All the parties will show their hands.

Efforts will be made to improve the revenue, or cut down expenses, or both. And probably a little something may be accomplished:—but the great financial measure of the session will probably be a loan.

☞ A pleasant, gossiping correspondent at Exeter wants to know who our old and valued contributor, "Veritas," is. We don't know, and never knew—and now we can't say where he is, for we haven't heard a word from him of late.

☞ John Miller has been appointed Postmaster of Columbus, Ohio, vice Sam'l Medary, who assumes the once difficult role of Governor of Kansas.

The Social Effects of the Reformation. The Bishop of Ripon has been delivering a lecture on the social effects of the Reformation. In the course of his address, the Right Rev. prelate said that on the 17th of November, 1558, Queen Elizabeth, of blessed memory, ascended the throne, and from that moment the power of Pupery was abolished in England. There was not a person in the land that, directly or indirectly, did not reap the benefit of the Reformation; not a Protestant, Dissenter, or even a Roman Catholic, that was not a happier man than he would have been under the dominion of the Papal power. He passed a high eulogium on the press of the country, which not only contained nothing that was offensive to religion, but was frequently its greatest champion. The Reformation had given them the Bible and established the right of private judgment; it had given them a pure liturgy, upon which they were complimented even by Dissenters; and it denounced auricular confession, for which there was no authority in the Church of England, and against which a hundred arguments might be used.

Italy and the Papacy.—Signora Mario, better known as the late Miss Jessie Meriton White, is lecturing on the civil and religious tyranny with which Italy is oppressed by the domination of the Popish authority, to which she attributes all the evils and miseries which degrade the condition of twenty-five millions of people.

The lady goes at great length and with much ability into the history of the Papal dominion. She admits that the Catholic religion was the first to soften down the German conquerors, but that Catholicism has now fulfilled its mission, and that Italy has owed nothing to the Papacy since the ninth century, because the Popes have always been the principal obstacles to her nationality, and in every instance the sole and primary impediment to Italian regeneration.

From a Special Correspondent.

Exeter, Dec. 2, 1858.

Messrs. Editors:—Please receive one dollar as my subscription for another year. It is not due until the month is out, but we know not what the day may bring forth, and I like to be prompt in such matters

I wish I had some good word to write concerning the cause which the Chronicle advocates, but I think there is more cause for discouragement than otherwise. A Beer establishment has gone into operation; and the gentlemanly proprietor of a gambling and drinking place has had the effrontery to christen it "Phillip's Billiard Hall," and is suffered to go on unchecked.

Will it be deemed impertinent if I ask who your correspondent Veritas is? It is said that he is the lady who writes for the News Letter under the signature of an index. Also that he is an uneducated woman, doing the work of a family, and writes the letters after midnight. Others affirm him to be a disappointed clergyman, and others still a retired physician. All cannot be true, of course; please tell us who he is?

I think the Chronicle more and more interesting, and hope it will continue to be so without losing sight of the great subject. I wish I could aid you with talent or funds, but for the present I must content myself with the hope that,

"They also serve, who only stand and wait."

Yours, A. B. C.

☞ Mr. Prentice, editor of the Louisville Journal, is a very clever quill-driver.—The following we quote from his remarks upon the 28th anniversary of his paper:

The history of a newspaper is much of the world's history. The daily paper is the day's history—it clasps the world's daylight. Bound in its daily columns the world, with all its passing events, circles. In our modern life the newspaper is truly

"A real world [blood
Round which with tendrils strong as flesh and
Our pastime and our happiness may grow."

In it the steamship arrives and unloads her freightage; in it the lightning flashes for thought; in it the city booms, the corn blades glitter, the wheat rustles its golden beads, the cattle low from a thousand hills, and the market hums; in it the spring blooms and the autumn blows; in it the poet sings, and with his song the low wind comes fresh and sweet over old meadows, and faces gleam from forgotten doors. Yes, the world turns every day in the daily newspaper. Its columns are freighted with the world's merchandize.—Through their avenues ring merrily the marriage bells, and through them hearses move and funeral knells are tolled. Such must every daily paper be; such the Journal has been.

☞ Wm. B. Parker, Esq., of this city, has been appointed a Commissioner for the State of Minnesota. He now holds commissions for every State in the Union, except Alabama.

Do good with what thou hast, or it will do thee no good.—Penn.

Washington, Dec. 2.—It was recently extensively reported that Secretary Cobb had accepted the appointment of Minister to France, and now it is rumored that he is going to England in a similar capacity; but there is the highest authority for saying there is no truth whatever their statements; and, further, since the formation of the present Cabinet it is not known that any member thereof has had the remotest idea of withdrawing from it for any purpose.

Senator Sumner writes from Paris that the consultation of physicians was to be held on the 19th of November.

Mr. Sumner fears their verdict will be for further detention. He says that he will not return before January any way. He has made perceptible advance towards recovery, and he is confident that he shall eventually be as well as ever.

Washington, Dec. 2.—The Cabinet officers have proof slips of the message to-day. The agent of the Associated Press has applied for advance copies.

Information was received to-day of renewed outrages in Kansas by Montgomery and his band. They had plundered a number of families, and the people are arming for resistance.

The President's Message will be sent by special agents to the Postmasters of the principal cities.

The President has received information from Japan that a full embassy from that country will make its appearance at Washington in May or June next.

South Carolina Legislature.—Columbia, Dec. 1.—The Legislature is engaged in a tangled conte t in regard to the reopening of the slave trade. The supporters and opposers of the supremacy of Congress in the matter are both sanguine as to the result. The contest enters into the election for Senator and Governor.

The counsel for the defence to-day filed a petition in the Federal Court for the prisoners in the slave Echo case.

There were two ballots for United States Senator to-day, without a choice.

☞ In the South Carolina Legislature, Dec. 2, a Mr. Chesnit was chosen Senator by 94 votes, to 56 for a Mr. Adams.—Chesnit was the favorite candidate of Mr. Mudsill Hammond.

Indictment of Lottery Men.—The New York Tribune says:—

"Sergeant Birney received a subpœna requesting him to attend as a witness at the trial of Ben. Wood and other partners in Swan & Co.'s lottery at Augusta, Ga., on the 2d of December int. The letter inclosing the subpœna states that since Birney left, six indictments have been found against Swan & Co.'s lottery, and that there is a prospect of putting an effectual stop upon the business. The fact that so many indictments have been found against the lottery men seems to have been suppressed."

Washington, Dec. 3.—The Union of this morning has a significant editorial on Mexican affairs, asserting that we have a right, on the principles of self-protection, to interfere and command the enforcement of order in that country. The editorial endorses an article from the New York Herald, declaring that the President should have full power of peace or war.

The message will fill sixteen columns of the Union. The reports are very short.

It is understood that the Executive intends to concentrate immediately a large naval force on the Gulf of Mexico and the coast of Central America.

Gov. Medary will leave to-morrow for Kansas.

It is said the Secretary of the Navy will recommend in his report the construction of twenty or twenty-five vessels, probably sloops-of-war.

Auburn, N. Y., Dec. 3.—A colored convict was showered to death in the State Prison, yesterday. The convicts became greatly excited, and a general rebellion was feared last evening. The convicts in the shop where the colored man worked went to their cells shouting. No disturbance occurred during the night.

☞ In the Virginia Democratic Convention, Dec. 2, at Petersburg, they have a great attendance and a terribly quarrelsome meeting.

Left his Crutches in Mrs. Hayes' Shop.

An old man came limping in Mrs. Hayes' medicine store, No. 176 Fulton street. He asked for a bottle of Radway's Ready Relief. His limb was so stiff, so weak, and so painful, that the distressed old man could go no further without bathing his crippled legs. In a few minutes he felt new life through his whole body; first, his legs felt a genial glow of warmth, then the stiffness disappeared—next, he felt the muscles and tendons becoming strong—and so vigorous did he feel, that, after a few minutes rubbing with the R R R, he arose, stood upon his feet, and walked away, rejoicing at the sudden effects of Radway's Ready Relief, leaving the faithful crutches in Mrs. Hayes' store, as a pleasing memento to her of the exceedingly happy efficacy of Radway's Ready Relief.

People troubled with Rheumatism, or Gout, Sick Headache, or any other pain of kind, the moment you apply Radway's Ready Relief you will experience a happy change.

For Chronic Complaints, Scrofula, Syphilis, Tumors, Ulcers, Cancers, Fever Sores, Consumption, Night Sweats, Salt Rheum, Radway's Renovating Resolvent will make a favorable change on the third day.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevent them from discharging their contents—time causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It also removes in a few hours Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

The Original and Only London Gin Imported. THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from second Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and contains some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find it a most sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'—NONE OTHER is Imported.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co, 1 Cornhill; S. R. Packer, 20 Elm st; J. Morton, 116 Blackstone st; M. Davis & Co., 51 Blackstone st; R. Smith & Co, 20 Exchange st; Gilbert, Abbott & Co., 76 Broad st. Prepared by Charles S. Snow, 51 Water st, and others. In Portland, Me., of H. Hay & Co, C. W. Atwell, and C. C. Mitchell & Son.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas A. Tufts, in Exeter by C A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

J. DUPONCO, Proprietor

LOCAL.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED?—Messrs. Editors:—I see considerable blowing and crowing, in certain papers, at home and abroad, over the Portsmouth City election,—as if some glorious event had happened to the democratic party,—as if all suspicion and fraud or error last spring in Ward 1, was wiped out,—and as if somebody had been terribly rebuked for remodeling, or 'gerrymandering' the wards, &c.

I wish to make some figures, for the reader to look at. In Ward 1, last March, Mr. Morrison had 330 votes. At the late election, he received 328. The party did remarkably well, to hold its own, within two votes. They did so, under the power of party drill, with the navy yard influence of hope and fear.

Mr. Spalding, in the same ward, last spring, had 295 votes counted for him,—and probably had about 20 more thrown, which were lost or not counted. At the late election he had 241—so that the republican vote fell off 74 votes.

How was this? It was known some time before the election, by actual counting, that by removal from town and otherwise the republican vote was reduced in that ward, so as to be in a minority of 30 or more; and this knowledge diminished their effort, as nothing could be gained unless that ward was carried.

The voting this time, shows two things clearly: the last 20 votes last March were not democratic; and the canvas by the republicans, then and now, was correct.

It rebukes nothing, settles nothing, and changes nothing, beyond keeping in power the same party, with their same policy of doing little or nothing in the way of improvement. BOB SHORT.

☞ Nath'l K. Raynes, Esq., having resigned the office of chairman of School Committee of District No. 1—on account of projected absence from the city—the Alderman on Thursday evening appointed Hon. Wm. A. Walker to fill the vacancy in the District and High School Committees. Mr. Raynes has ever been one of the most attentive, efficient and popular members of the School Committee; and his resignation will be regretted at least by the teachers in the first district. Mr. Walker has had much such experience in New York schools; and will no doubt prove a worthy successor, so far as acquainted with the needs of the locality.

☞ We chronicled, a few days ago, a rumor that a man (we said probably not sober) had been scalded in a beer vat in this city—not the man who was found dead several weeks ago, but another, who was recovering. We have two breweries here—and the proprietors of one, M. Fisher & Co., request us to say that no such accident has ever happened at their establishment; while the owners of the other brewery, Swindells & Co., inform us that a young man, and a sober one too, was somewhat scalded at their establishment—but not in a vat.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

Of the adornments and other improvements which have recently been made in this now spacious and most beautiful church edifice, we copy the following details from the Ballot. Nearly all the work has been done by our own Portsmouth mechanics, as of course it should be, and contrasts favorably with any in the city of similar cost.

The interior of this house has been completely remodelled, the old square pews taken out and new ones of curved form substituted. The pulpit is placed several feet farther back by means of an addition to the rear of the building, thereby giving more room on the main floor; and by removing the organ to the extreme front of the building the gallery is also extended. The walls have been beautifully painted in fresco by Mr. J. C. Schumaker, a young German artist resident in Portland, whose work, and particularly the recess in the rear of the pulpit, is universally admired. The pews are constructed with equal regard to comfort and neatness of appearance. They are of pine, surmounted with black walnut rails, and furnished with cushions of a drab color, corresponding with that of the pews and walls. These as well as all the wood work of the interior, have been painted with good taste by Mr. James M. Locke, whose chief aim has been to give the whole a soft and cheerful appearance, in which he has been eminently successful. All of the work on the building, with the exception of the fresco painting and the pulpit (a pretty modelled structure by a Malden, Mass., mechanic) has been executed by our own citizens, and will compare favorably with any done by workmen from abroad. The joiner work has been performed by B. F. Webster, the upholstery by Lord & Folsom, the desk furniture is from the establishment of C. J. Colcord, and the outside of the building has been painted in a style well corresponding with the interior by M. J. & W. A. Vaughan; all of whom are deserving of much credit for the excellent manner in which they have executed their respective tasks.

ASSASSINATION OF NAPOLEON III.

By the last steamer we learn that what has been predicted by many, feared by some, and hoped for by others, has finally taken place, viz:—That they manufacture and sell more Cloaks and Raglans at Messrs. Allen & Paine's than at all the other stores together in Portsmouth. Also that they sell their garments and Ladies' Cloths, Broadcloths, Beavers and other Cloak goods, at much lower prices than any one else.

PERPETUAL MOTION DISCOVERED.—They are manufacturing twenty-five Cloaks per day, and some days are unable to meet the demand, so great is the rush for them in consequence of the latest styles, best of work, and very low prices at which they are sold, at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.—Our lady readers when they want a nice fitting garment go to Messrs. Allen & Paine's and have one made.—These go-a-head young gentlemen cut and make them right in their own store—and having a full new stock of Beaver and, Broadcloths, in Black, Drabs, Peach Brown, &c., they are sure to suit every customer.

☞ A splendid new Sleeve and Collar pattern, for the scolloped Raglan, just received by Allen & Paine.

THE
BAY STATE RANGE.
The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having
Two Large Ovens
AND
Six Boiling Places.
The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.
A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling with out any increase of fuel.
THE RANGE IS
PERFECT IN ITSELF,
and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.
It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.
Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of
DOUBLE THICKNESS,
will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.
The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—
HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.
"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.
I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.
The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.
In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it, if unable to replace it."
Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.
CIRCULAR.
PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Dec. 1, 1858.

Prominent among the moral and religious enterprises of the day are those Associations, existing in almost every section of our country which seek to unite together young men, who, acknowledging Christ as their Savior, desire to be his disciples in their doctrine and life—which are known as Young Men's Christian Associations. Established at three different localities, each entirely without the knowledge of the others, they have grown in strength and power, until they now comprise a great brotherhood, dwelling in heathen as well as christian lands, and are looked upon as an agency of high and noble promise.

You are doubtless aware that an Association has existed in our own city. The movement was first made in May, 1852. Failing to secure the benefits looked for at the outset, it was allowed to become extinct. Various causes contributed, to this result, prominent among which were the want of a just appreciation of the nature and object of such an organization on the part of many who were engaged in the enterprise; a defect of organization; and an indifference, not to say neglect, on the part of the christian community.

Previous to the disorganization of this Association, however, the Library, comprising some 500 volumes, was placed in the hands of five persons—who were required to hold it in trust for any Association that might be formed bearing the name of Young Men's Christian Association, who also became responsible for the debts of the old society. On the 11th of August, 1857, these individuals organized themselves as an Association under the above title, adopted a Constitution, and elected a presiding officer, secretary and treasurer. At a subsequent period the Library was placed under the trusteeship of the following gentlemen, for the purpose of securing its increase and perpetuity, who accepted the trust, expressing their hearty approbation of the course which had been pursued: Rev. Chas. Burroughs, D. D., Rev. A. P. Peabody, D. D., Rev. Wm. Lamson, D. D., Rev. Lyman Whiting, Hon. Ichabod Goodwin, Hon. H. D. Walker, and A. M. Payson, Esq.

Since this movement no vigorous efforts have been made for the growth and permanent strength of the Association. During the late precious revival, which extended all over our land, our city was a sharer in its blessings, and to our various churches were added many in the strength of manhood. Believing and trusting that among these were many who would be willing to unite their labors for the extension of Christ's kingdom among young men, this method is taken of bringing to their notice the claims of this organization. The accompanying circular, issued by the Central Committee of the American Confederation of Associations, we commend to your attention. In it are set forth the principles by which those engaged in these movements should be actuated, the results which should be aimed at, and the best means of securing such results. These principles have been gathered from the experience of the various societies in all parts of our country, and are those which have been found most productive of good.

Extending to you our christian sympathy and regard, we earnestly ask that you will unite with us in our endeavors again to establish this organization in our city.

Yours in Christian regard, AMOS S. FOSTER, for the Association.

From the Portsmouth Journal.
REMEMBER THE POOR.

THE HOWARD BENEVOLENT SOCIETY, in the year ending Dec. 1, 1858, furnished supplies to 80 families,—some regularly once a fortnight through the year, and others less frequently, in all cases in goods—each order being for the various articles provided by the Society, amounting to fifty cents value. In this way were distributed to the needy

69 Bushels Meal, cost		$59 00
600 lbs. Rice,	"	22 27
2438 lbs. Fish,	"	67 06
5 bbls Crackers,	"	16 50
162 lbs. Tea,	"	66 88
135 lbs. Sugar,	"	66 15
50 lbs. Coffee,	"	4 25
90 lbs. Candles,	"	12 25
		$318 76

Those who may regard the items tea and sugar as among luxuries, should bear in mind that a large number of those who receive supplies are the aged poor, or those suffering from sickness, who need their tea and sugar as much as their bread and fish.

The present winter has opened with much rigor, and the calls on the Society will be as great if not greater than the last year. The whole amount of the funds on hand, with which they entered upon December, was less than five dollars. Trusting, however, that those who feel for the poor will be prompt and liberal in their supplies, the Society has commenced giving relief as used, after being satisfied of the necessities of the applicants.

Those who wish to make donations, can address them to either of the committee, or to Capt. Wm. Day, Treasurer. We have among us many who delight in doing good, and to whom an appeal for charity is never made in vain. They constitute in fact, the stewards of the Almighty, and thus the riches that are given to them, are made subservient to benevolent purposes.

The arrangement of the visiting committees for the season is as follows:

December—Goodwin, Day and Medbury.
January—Bodge, Bennett & Cheever.
February—Walker, Stavers and Carter.
March—Fernald, Barker and Marsh.
April to December—Pillow, Edmands and Brewster.

LECTURE ON THE WEST INDIES.—We are pleased to learn that CHARLES TAPPAN, Esq. will give a lecture on the subject of Emancipation, for which he has well qualified himself by a recent personal investigation. He will treat the subject in an interesting manner, and give many facts well worth knowing. Those who attend will also have the satisfaction of knowing that they are aiding the funds of the Howard Benevolent Society, which are now low.

CITY GOVERNMENT.—The organization of the new Government will take place on the first Tuesday in January, the fourth day.

The City accounts of the year will be closed with the year, and those not presented at that time will have to lay over for another year's account.

Lecture on the West Indies,
For the Benefit of the Howard Benevolent Soc.
ON MONDAY evening next, at the TEMPLE, a LECTURE will be delivered on the WEST INDIES, particularly with regard to EMANCIPATION, by CHARLES TAPPAN, who passed the last winter on the Islands.
Doors open at 7, lecture at 7½ o'clock. Tickets 20 cts. to be had at the Bookstores of J. H. Foster and J. F. Shores, Jr. and at the door. Dec. 4

TRICKS OF TRADE.—We wish no surer evidence that the dealers in intoxicating drinks consider their traffic disgraceful, than the fact that so many seek to disguise it. "Down east," in the Bangor and Portland hotels, according to the Bath Times, "take a trip on the broad gauge?" is the familiar question asked, meaning simply, "take a drink?" We heard the other day of one of our hotels, where a gentleman who is dry, walks up to the landlord, and anxiously enquires "how's your family?" "Very well, thank you.—Please walk up and see them." "Don't care if I do." Up goes the customer to see the family, and gets introduced into rather lignory company. Having seen the family, very congenial spirits, he retires. Shame, shame, is written over the whole trade and traffic in liquors.—Bath Temperance Visitor.

Through the efforts of the State Department for an amelioration of the duty on flour in Brazil, an Imperial decree has been issued reducing it 30 per centum below the former tariff. This is considered an important concession, from the fact that there has heretofore been a large balance against the United States, on account of the extensive importation of coffee, but it is now supposed that our exports of flour to Brazil will very considerably diminish the drain from this country of specie, which, it is represented, has, through an arrangement of trade, been diverted into British channels.

Henry Ward Beecher, in his lecture the other night, said he had rather be a bad man's dog and follow his heels, than his conscience and follow his train of life.

YOU HAD BETTER TRY

MY MOTHER'S SALVE

This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and WORLD-WIDE reputation for healing INJURIES and INFLAMMATIONS, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietor feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Herbs and Healing Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in it a sure or great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.

"My Mother's Salve" is a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.

Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and bind a bandage, and if we use the Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other painful diseases, rub smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in Pneumonia. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A.M. Beck.

Indian Physician.

Dr. B. S. GOODWIN

Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.

ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are perfectly safe, and prepared by him himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN.

Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsey, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!

Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye ever so sparkling, the mouth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your "Hair Restorative," it soon recovered its original hue. Consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Dyrch a'r Gwyllieydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 18 Nassau st., Apr 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CARADAC CARROW.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KIRK.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was almost bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grow out and turn back to its original color (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 30 per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds about 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove the obstructions from the liver, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, which passes off by the bowels, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of disease, and restoring a natural cure.

One dose often removes the cause of Costiveness or natural cure from the skin.

Billous Attacks are cured, and none better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels, and a few doses cures costiveness.

One dose taken after supper will cure dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose often repeated cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst form, also Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

All we ask is a trial in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Billous type. It operates on the system, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the bottle with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing interest many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, he would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of invalids in Portsmouth and towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make their private complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are incurable through improper treatment.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with fictitious names, thereby at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

The medicine can be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 6ly

Dye your Hair and Whiskers.

BY using Hutchins' Liquid HAIR DYE, you can color Red or Gray Hair to a beautiful Brown or Black. This is the best article in use. A lady says it is cheaper to use it than to buy caps to cover her gray hair.

SYDNEY SMITH ON ENJOYMENT. -The great wit and reviewer never penned wiser and truer words than these:

Mankind are always happier for having been happy; so that if you make them happy now, you make them happy twenty years hence by the memory of it. A childhood passed with a due mixture of rational indulgence, under fond and wise parents, diffuses over the whole of life a feeling of calm pleasure; and in extreme old age, is the very last remembrance which time can erase from the mind. No enjoyment, however inconsiderable, is confined to the present moment. A man is the happier for life from having once made an agreeable tour, or lived for any length of time with pleasant people, or enjoyed any considerable interval of innocent pleasure; which contributes to render old men so inattentive to the scenes before them, and carries them back to a world that is past and to scenes never to be renewed again.

Strange things sometimes happen at the New York matinees, observes the Home Journal, and strange results oftimes follow. Hearts are lost and won. "Matches are made and engagements broken, and the ceremony of 'popping the question,' even, is gone through with; for, accidentally, we overheard, at the Mount Vernon matinee, a sentimental youth, seated behind us, whisper an offer of marriage to the lady at his side, which offer she very properly refused. The time and place, perhaps, were well enough, but the right man, we imagine, was not there."

A REMARKABLE DWARF.—A dwarf named Richebourg, who was only twenty-three and a half inches high, has just died in the Rue du Four St. Germain, Paris, aged 90. He was when young, in the service of the Duchess d'Orleans, mother of King Louis Philippe, with the title of "butler," but he performed none of the duties of that office. After the first revolution broke out he was employed to convey despatches abroad, and for that purpose was dressed as a baby, the despatches being concealed in his cap, and a nurse being made to carry him. For the last twenty-five years he lived in the Rue du Four, and during all that time never went out. He had a great repugnance to strangers, and was alarmed when he heard the voice of one; but in his own family he was very lively and cheerful in his conversation. The Orleans family allowed him a pension of 3,000f.

QUICK WORK.—One day last week an Irish servant girl in this town, having finished her day's work, including the week's washing, obtained a half hour's furlough, "to see a gintleman friend." The half extended to the whole hour, when Bridget appeared blushing and half smiling.

"If you plaze, ma'am, I must lave you to-day, for I'm to be married if you plaze, to-night, ma'am."

"Why, what does this mean, Bridget?" enquired her mistress; "I never heard you were engaged."

"No more was I, ma'am; but a boy just now from the ould country wants me to have him, and me cousin thinks I had better, and so I towld him I would."

And she did.—Pittsfield Eagle.

The remark having been made that it would soon become the fashion to wear short dresses, Mrs. Partington made a remark that whether fashion said so or not, her dresses were always short, for she never had but two at a time. What a marvel of domestic economy and sweet wisdom that woman is. Isn't she?

A CHRONIC CASE.—The jury term of the Supreme Judicial Court, Judge Dewey presiding, convened at Salem on Monday. The first case on the docket for trial is the "Essex Company vs. Durant," which has been in Court eleven years."

Revenge is longer-lived than gratitude. Indorse Mr. Smith's note, to keep him from bursting, and he will forget all about it in a month. Pull Mr. Smith's nose, and he will cherish a secret desire to burn your house down for the remainder of his life. Revenge is a passion. Gratitude appears to be only a sentiment.

"Your house is on fire," said a stranger, rushing into the parlor of a sober citizen. "Well, sir," was the answer of the latter, "to what cause am I indebted for the extraordinary interest which you take in the affairs of my house?"

Remember this: the scholar who neglects physical strength, may neglect it at the expense of moral strength also.—Sargent's School Monthly.

☞ A jolly Frenchman remarks that we may count that day lost which we have passed without a laugh.

The poorest education that teaches self-control, is better than the best that neglects it.

Make yourself a good man, and then you may be sure there is one rascal less in the world.

Men sometimes think they hate flattery, but they only hate the manner of it.

Rest satisfied with doing well, and leave others to talk of you what they please.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of foreign and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1858.

☞ The Royal children of Queen Victoria are beginning to give anxiety, not only to their royal mother, but to the nation. What can be done with them? They cannot marry below their grade, and hence can find no husbands and wives in England, and abroad they cannot marry any but royal Protestants, and hence their field is limited. There are plenty of petty German princes to take the girls with a dowry from their mother. One of them is now well provided for in Prussia. The boys cannot be so easily disposed of. One of them is in the navy, and all of them might reach high stations in the army and navy; but if they want thrones they must otherwise be provided for, and the London Times shows how that can be done:—

Though the British Empire can have but one Sovereign, it has many territories which would rejoice in the temporary presence of a Prince, and in fact, the boldness of Transatlantic loyalty has already found expression to this effect. The Canadians begged hard for a royal youth, if it were but for a month, and Canada is no petty province. Australia and India—Empires in themselves—are not like the satrapies in which viceroys are commonly dispatched. In such glorious dependencies there may well arise a field for princely exertion, and the country would gladly see these or any other fitting opportunities improved.

☞ The editor of the Congregational Journal asks the question, Shall the paper be sustained?—and says:

The annual cash receipts of the Congregational Journal, do not meet the expense of its publication by a considerable amount, and it has not done it since the paper changed hands five years ago, though the subscription is some 200 larger now than it was at that time.

The fact is that editor Wood gave the Journal what seemed its death blow, when he certified to the high character of Hon. Franklin Pierce for temperance and religion. Subscribers fell off by scores and hundreds. And though the proprietor got rid of Mr. Wood, and though Dr. Stone has managed well since he became editor, the paper has never fully recovered.

The editor of the Journal says, (not the publisher,)

The present year is nearly expired; if anything is done by the friends of a State local paper, it must be done immediately, or the Proprietor will be inclined to accept proposals for the transfer of his list to a foreign establishment. Could there be five hundred more subscribers added to the list, he would be encouraged to continue the publication of the Journal.

We should be sorry to lose the Journal from our exchange. We get items thence, about New Hampshire, that we cannot find elsewhere. And we hardly see how the denomination to which it is attached, could spare it,—now that they have had it for forty years.

SIBERIA.—Siberia has been civilized by the exiles sent thither, and by voluntary emigration from Russia, till nearly four out of the five million inhabitants of that region are Europeans or of European descent, more fortunate than their western kinsmen in this, that there is not a serf among them. Siberia is fast becoming a place of great commercial importance. Its proximity to Oregon and California will give it a trade which will soon make it one of the most active portions of the great Russian Empire. The ice used in San Francisco was formerly obtained from the United States. It now comes from Siberia, affording constant employment to half a dozen ships.—In five years from now the trade between Siberia and California will be a matter of importance.

☞ Wet weather having caused an embankment near Cincinnati to crumble away, a dwelling house which rested upon it tumbled down a few nights since in consequence, while the family, six in number, were all asleep. They suddenly waked up to find themselves mixed up with all sorts of household furniture, but were not seriously injured. One of the children, a boy, was precipitated through a window to the outside.

☞ On Saturday, Nov. 25th, a man went to the police of St. Louis, and told them he was a murderer, saying that he could keep the dread secret no longer. He stated that six weeks since, on the passage from Cairo to St. Louis, he stabbed and threw overboard a fellow passenger who had robbed him of all the money he had—ten dollars. It is surmised that the man's story is the result of delirium tremens, but he will be detained until the matter is investigated.

☞ The Roman Catholics of Cincinnati have adopted a regulation that but six carriages shall be permitted at funerals.

FUNERAL OF MR. HARRIS, MEMBER OF CONGRESS FROM ILLINOIS.—Mr. Harris was buried from his residence, near Petersburg, Menard Co., on the 26th ult. Notwithstanding the bad state of the roads from long continued rains, a great concourse of people assembled in and around the house. Before he died he arranged his business with great care and precision, giving directions respecting his funeral and the disposal of his remains.

The interment was on his own farm, within one hundred or one hundred and fifty yards of his house, at a place where his mother and one of his children are buried. Few men have been more deservedly beloved than Major Harris. Morally he was above reproach. As a statesman his course and position are well and favorably known.

Major Harris was a native of Connecticut. He went to Illinois, and settled in Springfield in 1842, when about twenty-five years of age. He leaves a widow and four children, well provided for in a pecuniary point of view.

☞ Mr. M. O. Hall, of Newburyport, will publish in a few days, a beautiful Picture, a scene from Whittier's "Maud Muller" as suggested in the stanzas:

"Maud Muller looked and sighed! Ah me!
That I the Judge's bride might be!"
* * * * * *
"The Judge looked back as he climbed the hill
And saw Maud Muller standing still."

The design is by the celebrated Barry, who has recently painted Whittier and Emerson for a London house, from which engravings are to be made.

It is to be Lithographed and Printed by Cole, a promising young artist of Boston, in his best style.

It is about 15 by 10 inches in size, and will be sold for $1.50 per copy—with the usual discount to the trade.

☞ Dr. Henry M. Hooke of Lowell has been expelled from the Massachusetts Medical Society in consequence of charges preferred against him by the Middlesex North District Medical Society, which were duly substantiated. The charges consisted in offering for sale secret remedies, in refusing to pay his dues to the society, and in frequent violations of the recognized Code of Medical Ethics.

MARRIAGE OF KINDRED.—A bill has passed the House of Representatives of Georgia, by a vote of fifty-six to fifty-two, prohibiting the intermarriage of first cousins, under a severe penalty, and cutting off the inheritance of issue. The preamble to the bill asserts that many deformations of mind and body are of congenial origin, from the practice of near kindred intermarrying with each other.

☞ The sheriff of Newcastle county, Delaware, or his deputy, will shortly have an extensive job of whipping to perform. At the late court in that county, no less than seven persons were convicted of criminal offences, and, in addition to the fines and imprisonment imposed, some of them are to be sold, and receive from eight to twenty lashes each.

☞ A horse belonging to Mr. Thomas Gifford of Fall River died a few days ago from eating nails, as a post mortem examination showed. The animal was fed with the sweepings of the flour mill, and it is supposed the nails were lying about in the waste floor.

☞ Professor James Christie, a distinguished member of the Scotch Reformed Presbyterian Church in New York, and a man seventy-five years of age, has been suspended from the ministry for immoral conduct.

☞ Five hundred complaints for selling spirituous liquors on election day have been filed in the New York District Attorney's office. The metropolitan police law forbids the sale of liquor on Sundays and election days, under a penalty of $50.

☞ The Franklin Street Church, in Manchester, N. H., have united in extending a call to the Rev. Wm. Fenn, late of the Andover Theological Seminary, to become their pastor.

☞ The Special Meeting of the New Hampshire Missionary Society is to be at Concord, Wednesday, the 15th December. Only members of the New Hampshire Society can vote—not those of the American Home Mission Society.

☞ An aged lady from Springfield, Ill., reached Detroit a few days since, on her way to friends in Vermont, but could go no farther for lack of money, when the Sons of Malta, being convinced of her worthiness, made up a purse of $50 for her, and sent her on her way rejoicing.

The editor of a southern newspaper was recently married, after an engagement which lasted twenty-seven years.

There are some people who think nothing is gained unless the whole is gained. They prefer to go hungry if they cannot have the whole loaf at once. They are impatient, restless, and unpractical. They rarely bring much to pass, but spend their days in chasing phantoms, mourning over the hardships of their lot, and watching for a Utopia or an earthly paradise. Another and a wiser class see that all healthy changes, all real and lasting reforms are slowly inaugurated. They have learned from the past that all enduring institutions are the products of long and slow growth. They gladly avail themselves of every advantage, however small, which is offered them in the prosecution of their work, and toil on cheerful in the hope that present achievements will form the stepping stones to other and greater victories.—Providence Journal.

A CATHOLIC JUBILEE.—Bishop Fitzpatrick of Boston, has appointed the whole of the present month for a jubilee throughout his diocese. This jubilee is held by order of the Pope, who returning in September, 1857, from a triumphant progress through a portion of his dominions, filled with gratitude for the reverence in which he was held, proclaimed a jubilee for the faithful throughout the world.

☞ Through Joseph H. Foster, the Agent in this city, we have received the American Cyclopædia, Parts 10 and 11, up to CA. This is a most valuable work, and should be in the library of every man who can afford it. Published in 45 parts, at $1 each, and 15 volumes at $3.

Edson C. Eastman, Concord, is publishers' agent for the State.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The Hon. John J. Crittenden was called on yesterday, at his hotel, by a delegation from the Whig Central Committee, and presented with addresses from that body and the Ashlander Association. Mr. Crittenden in his reply disclaimed any intention of becoming a candidate for the Presidency, and refused to accept of any nomination.

☞ That young lady called the "Highland Maid," whose feats of pedestrianism at New York have attracted attention, performed the extraordinary operation of "walking" out of Poughkeepsie without paying her bills one night last week.

NEWBURYPORT.—Hon. Albert Currier has been nominated for Mayor of Newburyport, by a "Citizens' Caucus." G. J. L. Colby, of the Newburyport Herald, was his chief competitor for the nomination.

☞ In Baltimore, on Wednesday, Thomas Connery shot his brother, who tried to persuade him to go home when he was drunk.

☞ At Worcester, Henry Ward Beecher drew such an audience at the Mechanics' Hall to hear his lecture on Sympathy, that seven hundred dollars were taken at the door. Much of this, of course, was paid for season tickets, but that single lecture paid the expenses of all the lectures for the whole course.

THE DUTCH EAST INDIES.—The government of Holland have decreed that the ports in the islands of Java, Sumatra, Borneo, &c., shall be open to the trade of the world from the 1st day of May, 1859.

THE FAIR.—The Ballot of this week is much "exercised" because the Mercantile Library Association are to hold a social Levee and Fair at Jefferson Hall, for the benefit of their society, and the amusement and gratification of the public.—Whether the cause of the article was that the Committee did not advertise in that extensively(?) circulated sheet, (a circumstance which happened by oversight, not intentionally,) or because the tickets are not printed at that office, or for some other reason, it is difficult to determine. The substance of the article is that the system of Fairs is not a proper manner to obtain funds for any object; and by this assertion he not only condemns our project, but all former Fairs which have been held in this city, and which have been most liberally patronized by the public. The spirit of the article in the Ballot is decidedly hoggish, and if this were the first time such a grunt had been heard from that source, it would not deserve notice. But this is only one of a series of similar indications of ill feeling towards the Association, emanating from the same source, which never harmed any one, except perhaps the person expressing them.

The article in question, intimates that we desire to fit up "luxurious rooms"—an intimation as false as it is senseless—we intend to have our rooms furnished in a plain and substantial manner.

The Association will use their best endeavors to entertain and gratify all, and have adopted the same plans as those adopted by former societies in getting up Fairs. A MEMBER.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

ASTHMA.—The most distressing forms of this complaint arise from irregular nervous stimulation, causing in the end, enlargement of the air-cells, and spasmodic contraction of the air-tubes on the slightest provocation. The PERUVIAN SYRUP equalizes the circulation, calms the nervous symptoms, and restores the equilibrium of the nutritive powers.

Left his Crutches in Mrs. Hayes' Shop.

An old man came limping in Mrs. Hayes' medicine store, No. 175 Fulton street. He asked for a bottle of Radway's Ready Relief. His limbs were so stiff, so weak, and so painful, that the distressed old man could go no further without bathing his crippled legs. In a few minutes he felt new life through his whole body; first, his legs felt a genial glow of warmth, then the stiffness disappeared—next, he felt the muscles and tendons becoming strong—and so vigorous did he feel, that, after a few minutes rubbing with the R R R, he arose, stood upon his feet, and walked away, rejoicing at the sudden effects of RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, leaving the faithful crutches in Mrs. Hayes' store, as a pleasing memento to her of the exceedingly happy efficacy of Radway's Ready Relief.

People troubled with Rheumatism, or Gout, Sick Headache, or Pains of any kind, the moment you apply Radway's Ready Relief you will experience a happy change.

For Chronic Complaints, Scrofula, Syphilis, Tumors, Ulcers, Cancers, Fever Sores, Consumption, Night Sweats, Salt Rheum, Radway's Renovating Resolvent will make a favorable change on the third day.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—this causes the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of GARDNER'S PARISIAN PIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is unobjectionable to use. This article is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It also removes in a few hours Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.—THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Malt Rye, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restorative of the Materia Medica, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing complaints which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "unexceptionable to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, Tailoresses, and Fancy Merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS genuine.

May be had in Boston of Mr. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. N. Packer, 28 Elm st; J. Moran, 126 Blackstone st; R. Dana & Co., 87 Blackstone st; J. B. Smith & Co., 20 Exchange st; Gilbert Abbott & Co., 78 Brand st; Deland & Snow, 3 Elm st, and others. In Portland, Me., of H. H. Hay & Co., C. W. Atwell, and C. C. Mudge & Son.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to the mother; other than those Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold by Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietors prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

TABLEAUX.—We have had an opportunity to attend the rehearsals of the Tableaux which are to be exhibited at the M. L. A. Fair, to-morrow evening, and we must say they surpass anything of the kind ever produced in this city. The company numbers thirty-six, which gives an opportunity to make up large and showy pictures. About fifty individuals have been at work for the past fortnight in manufacturing the machinery, scenery, dresses, &c.; expensive wardrobes have been procured from the Boston theaters, and no effort has been spared to render the exhibition as attractive as possible.

A look at the "Reception of Washington" is alone worth the price of admission. The patriot is discovered, mounted on a fac-simile of the "old white horse," near a triumphal arch—the military—ladies strewing his path with flowers—a crowd of citizens in the background—amid the ringing of bells, firing of cannon, and martial music. The "Landing of Queen Victoria," from a splendid barge, at the Cherbourg docks, where is erected a temporary throne, with Louis Napoleon and suite, the French army, and the tall monument erected to the memory of the great Bonaparte, in the distance, is a splendid piece. The revolving statues and other beautiful attractions should bring every one to the Mercantile Fair. H.

☞On Thursday last, Mr. Alfred Rugg, a young man about twenty years of age, severely injured his arm by a planing machine, at the saw-mill on Green street.—The skin was torn from the hand to the elbow, and the bone considerably injured. MR. TAPPAN'S LECTURE POSTPONED.—In consequence of meetings on the evening announced for the delivery of the lecture on the West Indies, and of other meetings through the week, Mr. Tappan has, at the suggestion of the officers of the Howard Benevolent Society, postponed his lecture to some evening in the next week, which will be duly announced.

☞On Saturday, in the Boston Supreme Court, several important decisions were given; one allowing Thomas Mead a new trial for the murder of Jere. Agin, and which establishes the principle that a grand juror may be inquired of in Court as to the testimony of a witness; one sustaining Marsh, the lessee of the Howard Atheneum in excluding colored persons from the dress circle of that establishment; and one sustaining the Fitchburg Railroad in withdrawing its passenger trains from the Watertown Branch Railroad.

Letters to the Navy Department from Commander of frigate Wabash, at Beyrout, state that no efforts have been made by the authorities to bring to trial the authors of the outrage upon the American family at Jaffa. The Commander had informed the Pacha that he should insist on their trial, notwithstanding the wish had been expressed to postpone it until all the miscreants had been captured.

Henry Foly, a German, met with a horrid fate in St. Louis, last week, being accidentally hung in an ice house. During the night he had fallen down a hatchway, and at a distance of ten feet brought up against some iron hooks. One hook had severely lacerated his left hand and arm, and another hook had caught his clothes at the back of the neck. The strong collar band of his shirt was thus drawn so tightly around his neck as to cause his death.

ASSASSINATION OF NAPOLEON III.

By the last steamer we learn that what has been predicted by many, feared by some, and hoped for by others, has finally taken place, viz:—That they manufacture and sell more Cloaks and Raglans at Messrs. Allen & Paine's than at all the other stores together in Portsmouth. Also that they sell their garments and Ladies' Cloths, Broadcloths, Beavers and other Cloak goods, at much lower prices than any one else.

PERPETUAL MOTION DISCOVERED.—They are manufacturing twenty-five Cloaks per day, and some days are unable to meet the demand, so great is the rush for them in consequence of the latest styles, best of work, and very low prices at which they are sold, at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.—Our lady readers when they want a nice fitting garment go to Messrs. Allen & Paine's and have one made.—These go-a-head young gentlemen cut and make them right in their own store—and having a full new stock of Beaver and Broadcloths, in Black, Drabs, Peach Brown, &c., they are sure to suit every customer.

☞A splendid new Sleeve and Collar pattern, for the scolloped Raglan, just received by Allen & Paine.

THE
BAY STATE RANGE.
The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having
Two Large Ovens
AND
Six Boiling Places.
The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.
A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.
THE RANGE IS
PERFECT IN ITSELF,
and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.
It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.
Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of
DOUBLE THICKNESS,
will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.
The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—
HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.
"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.
I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.
The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.
In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it, if unable to replace it."
Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Dec. 1, 1858.

A meeting of the Association will be held on Thursday evening, Dec. 24, at the Vestry of the Temple, at 7½ o'clock, to which we invite your attendance.

Agreeably to the above personal invitation, which was extended to many of our citizens, a meeting was held on Thursday evening. Though not so numerously attended as it was hoped it would have been, a commendable interest was manifested on the part of those present, most of whom united with the Association. A committee was appointed to make inquiries in regard to securing rooms for the use of the Association, and will report at an adjourned meeting next week.

The objects aimed at in this organization are the improvement of its members, their growth in grace and knowledge, and the cultivation of social intercourse among christians of different denominations; the endeavor to exert a wholesome influence over the young men around it, striving to draw them from temptation and sin, and leading them to virtue and holiness; and the promotion and support of benevolent and christian enterprises. In the prosecution of these designs, this Association should receive the sympathy, support and cooperation of all who desire the welfare of the young men of our city—those of mature years and ripened judgment as well as the young.

Two principles which lie at the foundation of these organizations, are considered among their most valuable features: christian union, and individual, personal efforts for the extension of Christ's kingdom; and the extended application of these principles have rendered these Associations prominent actors in thegreat religious awakening of the present year. In many places, as in New York, Baltimore, Richmond and Louisville, these Associations were the first to hold union meetings; and in most localities where an Association has existed, it has directly or indirectly aided in promoting the wonderful work of grace.—Com.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

MR. LONG'S LECTURE.—A cultivated taste for the Fine Arts is an inexhaustible source of enjoyment; and a lecturer who can awaken a love for the truly beautiful and mark the points in which beauty consists, so that the public mind will be led into a just appreciation of them and a desire to be surrounded by that which is in correct taste, does much towards elevating the masses of any community. Mr. Long's lecture on Tuesday evening was very interesting to those who heard it, and led to a feeling that the whole course, were it attentively listened to, would confer a general benefit in exciting a taste for the beautiful in nature and art, and add much to the popular sources of pleasure.

The lecturer felt obliged to condense two lectures into one, making it rather more lengthy than was desirable; but probably the remaining lectures of his course, should he feel encouraged to give them, will be of such brevity as to lead to a just appreciation of them. We hope he will deliver the entire course.

The MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION of this city, will hold a Levee and Fair, at Jefferson Hall on the evenings of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 7, 8 and 9, as will be seen by reference to our advertising columns. Active preparations are being made to make this exhibition one of the best of the kind ever given in our city. The series of Tableaux to be presented are very fine, and a company of excellent singers will prove an added attraction on the occasion. The object of the Fair is to raise money for furnishing the new rooms, which are now being fitted up over Mr. Head's bookstore, and to purchase new books for the Library. The advantages of the Association and its claims upon the good wishes, as well as the pecuniary assistance of the public, have been too often presented to need repetition at this time.

On the 3d of March, 1806, Rev. Dr. Samuel Haven died at the age of 79. His widow was taken suddenly ill after his death, and died on the 5th of March, at the age of 60. They were carried to the South Church and to the tomb together.—Since that time we have no knowledge of a like occurrence until that of last week.

It is said by gentlemen who are particularly interested, that while a recommendation will be made to Congress for a modification of the Tariff, with the view to an increase of the revenue, the means by which this should be effected will not be designated by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The subject is already agitated in political circles as to whether there shall be a specific instead of an ad valorem duty on iron.

We notice by the papers that Hon. HAMPDEN CUTTS of North Hartland, Vt. a native of Portsmouth, has been reading Shakespeare at Montpelier and other places with great success. He is prepared to answer any calls from Lyceums, &c. for his services.

CARPET SWEEPERS.—Shaloff's patent, sold by J. F. Shores, Jr. seems to be one of utility and excellence, sweeping a carpet clean without injury, raising no dust, being simple in construction, very easily worked, and not liable to get out of order. With all these qualities it cannot fail to become a favorite in every household. It will certainly be valuable to every housekeeper who desires to save dust and labor in sweeping. Mr. Stevens also advertises another kind.

From the N. H. Gazette.

ACCOUNTED FOR.—The "serene indifference" of the Washington Union in reference to the result of the political contest in Illinois (says the Indiana State Sentinel) is now explained. That paper sympathizes with Lincoln and the Republican party in their doctrine of the supreme power of Congress in the government of the territories, differing only as to the purposes to which it should be directed—hence its "indifference." Upon the issue as to the policy which should govern in the organization of territories, the Union has left the Democratic party, repudiated its platform, and fully accepts the dogmas of the Republican Philadelphia platform, against which the Democracy took issue in the memorable canvass of 1856.

The contest between Blair and Barrett in St. Louis, brings out the fact that some 30 convicts, under the sentence of the criminal court, were pardoned on condition of voting for Barrett.

Hon. Jonathan Knight, formerly member of Congress, died at Washington, Pa. on Monday.

CURIOUS BUT SIGNIFICANT.—Looking in a file of the old Democrat the other day, we noticed a long report of a democratic 4th of July celebration, held in Manchester in 1844. Walter French was chief marshal, and the report states that Rev. A. T. Foss "addressed the throne of grace in a fervent and eloquent prayer," Charles P. Danforth, our present Sheriff, was secretary, Hon. Moody Currier was one of the committee of arrangements. Hon. L. N. Patten, the Secretary of State, was one of the toast-masters, Dr. H. C. Parker gave a sentiment. Geo. Barstow was the orator of the day. All the above-named individuals who are living, except perhaps the chaplain, at the present time are true Republicans—a significant commentary upon times in which we live, and no more significant than curious.

All the above is true, we think, except that in addition to the above-named participators, we remember to have heard Mr. Foss say that in marching through Elm st. he walked arm in arm between Franklin Pierce and Charles G. Atherton, who were the chief speakers.—American.

☞ A sporting correspondent of the N. Y. Spirit of the Times says severe work may be the immediate cause of developing blindness in a horse predisposed to it, but cannot of itself produce loss of vision.

"Sorrows grow less and less every time they are told, just like the age of a woman." If this be true, we advise women to tell their sorrows instead of their ages.—Ex.

YOU HAD BETTER TRY

MY MOTHER'S SALVE

This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and world-wide reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve" is a sure and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.

"My Mother's Salve" is a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.

Renthe's Patent Spring Gun Animal Trap.

More certain of its prey than the most perfect Rifle in the hands of the most experienced marksman, without lessening the value of Pelts or Skins, as is the case in ordinary mode of shooting. It effects the capture of the animal either dead or (if preferred) alive: the barrels discharging themselves, simultaneously with the hooks imbedding themselves in the mouth.

It is simple, yet strong and perfect in its construction neither cumbersome nor difficult to arrange.

There are three different sizes, which will effectually operate on Mink, Woodchucks, Otters, Wildcats, Lynx, Foxes, Wolves, Deer, Panthers, Tigers, Bears, Buffaloes, etc.; in fact, on all animals which repay hunting.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE
RICHEST DIADEM
Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair,

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, hard and dry, or worse still, if prinched with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1855.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,
S. THALBERG.

"Dryeh a'r Gwyllieydct."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr 12, '55.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, thinking perhaps it might that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above preparation to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KLEIN

CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling out and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications finished my hair finally. It began to fill up anew out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

Patent Mastic Roofing.
Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its durability and adaptedness in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind, yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and everything that is done in connection with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for insuring their interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders direct to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten will draw a prize. Prices are $20: half tickets, $1; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle by which one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer and New York Weekly Herald. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the returning effects of the early indiscretions, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who desire them, when provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and in more than four-fifths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 d1y

PAINFUL REVERSE OF FORTUNE.—A painful spectacle is often witnessed in Washington which is calculated to awaken the deepest emotions of sympathy. I refer to the numbers of poor disconsolate old men, representing almost every state in the Union, whose years of vigorous manhood have been spent in public stations of more or less importance, but who now find themselves not only without support, or even friends to commiserate their wretchedness. The history of one of these unfortunates, is substantially the history of all, and the simple narrative of what came under my observation on this Thanksgiving morning, will dimly reveal many a chapter of unwritten experience.

Standing at my door, I was accosted in a most respectable manner, by a care-worn man of sixty years with the request to give him a shilling with which to purchase some food. "I do not wish to borrow sir," he added, "for I fear I never will be able to pay you." The respectful tone in which the request was made, the native dignity and obvious good breeding of the stranger, at once impressed me with the belief that he was but the wreck of a once substantial, respected man.

"You look weak and feeble, sir, have you had your breakfast?" "O no, sir, not yet; indeed I fasted all day yesterday for want of means to pay for some food.—I expected to meet Governor C., who I know would have assisted me, but he was out of town." "You are acquainted with the Governor?" "Yes sir, for more than forty years. I knew his father and mother—nice people they were. I brought him out for Governor of ——— before he was 25 years old, and he was elected over all opposition. He has not forgotten me, sir, even in my poverty."

"You have been a politician, then?"

"Unfortunately I have, and thought of nothing else in my young days. I knew General Jackson well, he apointed me Postmaster at ——— and I held the office upwards of twenty years; it gave me a comfortable living, nothing more. My best years were spent in that office, sir, but I am past that now." All of this was uttered in a voice tremulous with age, exposure and suffering, and with a manner indicating how keenly he felt his forlorn condition. Wretched man, thought I, as he tottered away, after pronouncing upon me a "poor man's blessing." My heart sank within me over the reflection of his bitter experience.

Once young and vigorous, commanding troops of friends, station and influence—in the thickest of the fight, rejoicing in victory, undaunted in defeat, a man among men, possessing the esteem and confidence of the Old Hero of the Hermitage; and now, alas, pennyless, friendless, homeless! As I watch his receding steps, I feel a glow of thankfulness that, on this day of "Thanks," I have been permitted to grant an humble prayer which may rekindle for a brief hour, the perishing hope of a poor but grateful heart; and now turn sadly to Pity the sorrows of a poor old man.

Whose trembling limbs have borne him to my door.
—Corr. Boston Post.

THE SMACK IN SCHOOL.

A District School, not far away,
Mid Berkshire mill, on winter's day
Was humming with its wonted noise
Of three score mingled girls and boys—
Some few upon their task intent,
But more on future mischief bent;
The while the master's downward look,
Was fastened on a copy book—
When suddenly, behind his back,
Rose sharp and clear, a rousing SMACK!
As twore a battery of Bliss
Let off in one tremendous kiss!
"What's that?" the startled master cries;
"That, thir," a little imp replies,
"Wath William Willith, if you pleathe—
I thaw him kiss Thuthannah Peathe!"
With frown to make a statue thrill,
The master thundered "Hither Will!"
Like wretch o'ertaken in his track,
With stolen chattels on his back,
Will hung his head in fear and shame,
And to the awful presence came—
A great, green bashful simpleton,
The butt of all good natured fun.
With smile suppressed, and birch upraised,
The threatener faltered—"I'm amazed
That you, my biggest pupil, should
Be guilty of an act so rude!
Before the whole set school to boot—
What evil genius put you to't?"
"Twas she, herself, sir," sobbed the lad,
"I didn't mean to be so bad—
But when Susannah shook her curls,
And whispered I was 'fraid of girls,
And dare not kiss a baby's doll,
I couldn't stand it, sir, at all,
But up and kissed her on the spot!
I know—boo hoo—I ought to not,
But, somehow, from her looks—boo hoo—
I thought she kind o' wished me to!"

SOCIETY OF FRIENDS.—A conference of three hundred of the members of this religious society has been held lately in London, at which it was agreed to sanction marriage between individuals of this community (although not in membership) by allowing them to take place within its religious meetings, and that all restrictions in regard to what is called plainness of speech, behavior and apparel, may also be discontinued, but confirming its ancient testimony in favor of Christian moderation in these respects.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1836.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here avoided to inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on the Examiner, by the Commissioner of Patents, I do not hesitate to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN AT PEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
R. H. EDDY.

DIALOGUE.

Augusta Journal.—History has proved that there is a potential security to freedom in the practical application of the principle of true and honest popular sovereignty, even without the intervention of Congress; and all that is now essential is to prevent the general government from interposing its power in any way in the territories.—This is a point gained, and the establishment of this fact elevates true popular sovereignty. It was practically accepted by the people of Kansas in their struggles, and under it they overcame the sturdy intervention of the administration to force slavery upon them.

Portsmouth Gazette.—With this last statement in the above extract we entirely disagree. No administration has been guilty of intervention to force slavery upon Kansas.

Uncle Toby.—If this be true it gives Mr. Buchanan the lie, and his supporters in Congress also. In his memorable Message of Feb. 2, 1858, now lying open before me, President Buchanan uses all his power of argument, invective, entreaty, and threats, to force the Lecompton swindle through Congress and down the throats of the Kansas people. But here is the old gentleman, with his Lecompton Message in his hand,—let him speak for himself.

Pres. Buchanan.—Kansas is at this time (Feb. 2, 1858,) as much a slave state as Georgia or South Carolina.

In considering the question, it should never be forgotten that in proportion to its insignificance, let the decision be what it may, so far as it may affect a few thousand inhabitants of Kansas who have from the beginning resisted the constitution and the laws; for this very reason, rejection of this Constitution will be so much the more keenly felt by the people of fourteen States of the Union, where slavery is recognized under the Constitution of the United States.

Uncle T.—That is something; but the President is not the whole of the administration; he is only a part of it.—There is such a thing, sometimes, as an administration party in Congress. This party in the present Congress, at its session last winter, was distinctively a pro-slavery party, and nothing else. In the House, Mr. Harris, of Illinois, who has just now died, was one of the principal opponents of this party. Mr. M'Queen was one of the leaders of the administration pro-slavery party; he attempt-to browbeat Mr. Harris, on the 2d of February, pending the president's Lecompton Message. Now, Mr. McQueen, please tell us what reply you made to Mr. Harris.

Mr. McQueen.—Keep cool, gentlemen, you have had the last compromise upon the subject of slavery, that, I trust, you will ever get from this House; and I want to say this to you as a Southern member upon this floor.

Uncle T.—I will call one or two more witnesses, as to the office of the Administration, in forcing slavery on Kansas. First the Dover, N. H. Gazette, just before March Meeting, speaking of Mr. Buchanan's Lecompton Message.

Dover Gazette.—Nothing has occurred for a long time that has so disconcerted and confused the opposition as this able and patriotic State paper. Like everything else coming from the same source, this Message is a masterly production.

U. T.—Next we call the New Hampshire Patriot of March 10.

N. H. Patriot.—Before the Lecompton Constitution question was brought before the country, our prospects for success were highly flattering; our triumph seemed to be certain; that matter, with the course of the Administration upon it, fell like a wet blanket upon the rising courage and earnest zeal of our friends, and from that day we were doomed; our defeat was certain, and apparent to all well-informed persons.

U. T.—Next, we call the New Hampshire Gazette of March 27. The new editor will give us some choice extracts.

N. H. Gazette.—We regret, and have always regretted that the Administration took upon itself the endorsement of the Lecompton movement. * * * * We hope the opposition of Democrats may be weakened, and that Kansas may be speedily compelled to take her rank among the sister states.

U. T.—Who were these opposition Democrats? and what did you say about them and John Candlebox Calhoun?

N. H. Gazette.—He has done the Administration more harm than Douglas, Walker, Wise, and the whole posse of anti-Lecompton Democrats. Had this wretch of a Calhoun been choked into submission at an earlier period, New Hampshire might have sent a Democrat to the Senate.

U. T.—What did you say about the Lecompton humbug and long life.

N. H. Gazette.—We hope we shall live long enough to see the ——— thing disposed of!

U. T.—That will do. Now we call Mr. Douglas, the man who was among the opposition democrats last spring, but who seems to be the biggest democrat there is, just now. If no administration has tried to force slavery on Kansas, or to force Congress to send it there,—then Mr. Douglas and his particular friends are a pack of arrant fools. For what is the quarrel between Douglas and the executive? Can any one tell us one thing beyond this:—Douglas was willing slavery should go to Kansas, and he, with Pres. Pierce's help, engineered the Missouri Compromise thro' Congress.—

But on the Lecompton swindle—"the ——— thing," as the N. H. Gazette calls it, Douglas halted—he saw it would not answer to force "the ——— thing" on Kansas,—there he stood,—and there he stands!—

Mr. Buchanan begged, scolded, the slave power cracked the whip,—English compromised, the Kansas people rebelled again, and "the ——— thing" is dead;—

Douglas went home, on purpose to oppose the administration and defend himself,—stumped the State,—was followed by the Administration hounds,—but he still lives,—in spite of his Washington hunters. Now hear what Douglas says about his own success, such as it is. Does this look as if he thought no administration had tried to force slavery on Kansas, or on him?

Douglas.—It is a triumph of the principles of self-government over Congressional interference and executive dictation.

U. T.—Comment is needless.

SINGING.—The First Baptist Church in New York, under the pastoral care of Mr. Nott, have no organ and no choir. The music is congregational. A leader, Mr. Marcus Colburn, stands in front of the pulpit, and leads off in fine style. And the congregation say that they have the best singing and the most eloquent preaching in New York. Congregational singing is becoming quite popular, and it has become almost a necessity to have a paid quartette choir, or demand of the whole audience that they take care of the singing. Rev. Dr. Alexander's church and other leading churches have dismissed the choir, and taken to Congregational music.

So writes Burleigh, for the Boston Journal. We may say, for the benefit of those who don't know, that Marcus Colburn is a fine tenor singer, with a most powerful voice. And add, that the New England churches, from their first planting to about the time of the revolution, had congregational singing and no other. The old North and South in Portsmouth had no place for a choir till within about 75 years. And the meeting house on Kittery Point never had, until it was remodelled in 1840, though a choir had sung in pews for some time before.

☞ Edward Crosby, a lad about fourteen years of age, errand boy for Kiggings & Kellogg, booksellers, in New York, not only stole books from the concern and sold them to an Irishman who keeps a cheap bookstand, but obtained large amounts of goods from other firms in the name of his employers, making the same disposition of them, stayed in the store one night and robbed the safe, and on Monday last took from the post office letters containing five drafts of $189 each, which he endeavored to raise the money on, and which led to his arrest at the Girard House, where he was living in style. A bad way for a boy, to begin life.

☞ The barque Daniel Webster, arrived at New Haven from Dominica and Antigua, reports a severe storm at those places on the 13th ult. At Dominica considerable damage was done. The streets bordering on tide water were flooded so as to be impassable, and heavy cannons, which had been imbedded in the sand on the sea shore for a century or more, were thrown from their beds into the streets of the town.—Such a gale at that island had not been known for a great number of years.

☞ A letter from Buenos Ayres, in the Hazes Journal, states that the Bishop of that place has excommunicated all Freemasons, and declared their doctrines incompatible with those of the Catholic Church. In consequence of this, the clergy have exhorted from the pulpit the wives and children of Freemasons to quit them, and servants to denounce them.

☞ At Belknap, Texas, Nov. 8, George Pettyjohn shot a soldier through the mouth, and then gave himself up to the sheriff. The soldier's comrades to the number of twenty, then started after Mr. Pettyjohn, and chasing him into a hotel, surrounded it and fired into it until their commanding officer appeared and stopped them. Mr. Pettyjohn was shot in seven places, but will recover, as will also the soldier whom he shot.

☞ At the Ottawa Circuit Court, a man named John Halpin has been pronounced guilty and condemned to a year's service in the Penitentiary, for having stolen and killed a heifer belonging to S. T. Reed. A day or two ago it came home alive and hearty, thus proving that poor Halpin had been wrongfully condemned.

☞ The Spiritualists of New York are enjoying a spiritual exhibition which will make them the envy of all wonder-mongers. A ghost is transporting his bones, one by one, from Hartford to that city. Dr. Redman is the medium by whom this operation is performed, and he and his partner, Dr. Orton, testify to several bones mysteriously dropped before them, in the street, in their office, and in various other places. The bones belong to a skeleton which Dr. Redman procured at the medical college, and part of which he left at Hartford, providentially, so as to give opportunity for this miricle. One of the witnesses to this extraordinary movement of dry bones gives the following testimony in the Spiritual Telegraph:—

"Dr. Redman had a seance at a house where I was visiting. When the circle was over I accompanied him down stairs; on our way down, my spectacle case, which had been missed during a part of the evening, was thrown over my shoulder. He picked it up, and was holding it with both his hands, conversing with me about its disappearance. While thus engaged, standing facing each other, with a full blaze of gas light shining on us, the front door closed, and no other means of egress or ingress being near, something came dropping down, as if from the ceiling, and fell between us. On being taken up Dr. Redman recognized it as a bone belonging to the vetebra of the neck of this much-talked-of spirit."

☞ A Rome correspondent of the London Times says that the Pope and some of the Cardinals desire the absence of the 5000 French troops in and about the city of Rome, but it is generally believed their departure would be followed by a revolution, in which the 10,000 Roman soldiers would be very likely to join. This would leave only 4000 Swiss troops on which the government can rely.

Baron Rothschild has sent 10,000 francs to Mr. Montara, to enable him to continue his efforts for the restoration of his child.

They are to have another exhibition at London, 1861, similar to that of 1851, but on a larger scale.

A SUNKEN VESSEL RAISED BY THE WIND. The schooner E. Freeman, Chatman, which was run down and sunk last winter, on her way from Provincetown to New York, not far from Highland light, floated in the recent gale, came ashore and went to pieces at Truro. It is supposed that the fish, with which she was deeply loaded, were consumed, and the heavy swell started her from her bed.

☞ The London stockholders of the Illinois Central Road sent over two gentlemen to examine its condition. Their report is generally favorable, but they find fault with its being managed by distant directors—the President, who is often practically the whole board, having to go a thousand miles to see his road.

THE MARBLEHEAD FISHING FLEET.—A Marblehead correspondent of the Salem Gazette writes:—

Our Bankers are making their way homeward. Since the begining of the present week there have been five or six arrivals from the fishing grounds. With one exception, all of them have very light fares: and judging from present appearances, this fall's catch will prove to have been much smaller than that of any previous autumn during the last six years.

☞ Julia Smith, a professional thief, was arrested in Cincinnati, Ohio, recently, and under her hoops were found carefully stowed three towels, two table cloths, one looking glass, three tumblers, one pair of pants, and a quart bottle of Madeira.

MURDER ON THE STAGE.—At St. Petersburg, the prima donna, Averonich, was murdered while on the stage by the tenor Mallianhoff. No particulars are given.—Music hath charms to soothe the savage?

☞ On Monday morning a farmer in North Haven discovered a deer feeding in one of his high grain fields. Huntsmen are after him.

☞ The Belgian journals record the marriage of four brothers to four sisters, celebrated at the same time, at Mons.

☞ Thomas Price had recently been arrested in Monmouthshire, England, for a murder committed 33 years ago, in Wales.

☞ Ten colored persons from Kentucky passed through Buffalo a few days since on their way to Canada.

☞ The fishermen of Provincetown are having great luck at catching mackerel in that harbor.

MEETING OF THE JEWS IN NEW YORK.—New York, Dec. 5.—The mass meeting of Jews, held last evening, to discuss the Mortara outrage at Bologna, was one of the largest gatherings of that class ever held in this city. Jonas W. Phillips presided. Several speeches were made, and resolutions passed denouncing the outrage in the severest terms.

THE M. L. A. FAIR.—Messrs. Editors:—Will you be so kind as to inquire of the Americanized cross-grained editor of the Ballot, General Thomas Jefferson Whittem, what 'in thunder' ails him? How he came to fire that random shot at our Fair? Whether he really meant to hit any particular ladies, who are sliding "an association of young men, claiming to be the pride of the city," or whether he can't afford to pay an admission fee of 'fifteen cents?' We really hope some liberal minded subscriber to his paper will furnish him with a ticket, and a little extra change, so that he may have an opportunity of getting his money's worth. Perhaps he might be induced to try his hand in the 'grab-box,' and if he should happen to get a mitten, certainly he will deserve it.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

ASTHMA.—The most distressing forms of this complaint arise from irregular nervous stimulation, causing in the end, enlargement of the air-cells, and spasmodic contraction of the air-tubes on the slightest provocation. The PERUVIAN SYRUP equalizes the circulation, calms the nervous symptoms, and restores the equilibrium of the nutritive powers.

Left his Crutches in Mrs. Hayes' Shop.

An old cripple came limping to Mrs. Hayes' medicine store, No. 176 Fulton street. He asked for a bottle of Radway's Ready Relief. His limbs were so stiff, so weak, not to be palsied, that the distressed old man could go no further without bathing his crippled legs. In a few minutes he felt new life through his whole body; first, his legs felt a genial glow of warmth, then the stiffness disappeared—next, he felt the muscles and tendons becoming strong—and so vigorous did he feel, that, after a few minutes rubbing with the R R R, he arose, stood upon his feet, and walked away, rejoicing at the sudden effects of RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, leaving the faithful crutches in Mrs. Hayes' store, as a pleasing memento of her of the exceedingly happy efficacy of Radway's Ready Relief.

People troubled with Rheumatism, or Gout, Sick Headache, or Pains of any kind, the moment you apply Radway's Ready Relief you will experience a happy change.

For Chronic Complaints, Scrofula, Syphilis, Tumors, Ulcers, Cancers, Fever Sores, Mercurial Inflammation, Night Sweats, and Rheum, Radway's Renovating Resolvent will make a favorable change on the third day.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of GARDNER'S PARISIAN FIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It also removes in a few hours Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED. THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveiance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, GRAVEL, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently and peculiarly afflict them.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of climate, &c.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NOBLE ORTEGA is IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Nashall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R Smith & Co., 20 Exchange st.; Gilbert Haven & Co., 78 Broad st., Deland & Snow, 54 Elm st. and others. In Portland, Me., of H. H. Hay & Co., C. W. Atwell, and C. C. Mitchell & Son.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

☞ The Fair for the benefit of the Mercantile Library Association, begins this evening at Jefferson Hall. It has many and great attractions for the lovers of such entertainments; and with the popularity of the object, will doubtless draw great houses.

☞ On Saturday afternoon, a car load of pressed hay at the Eastern Railroad depot, took fire, but was fortunately discovered in season to save the most of it, only a few bundles being destroyed. It is supposed the fire was caused by sparks from the engine.

☞ On Monday, at dinner time, the neighbors in Hanover and Bridge street, were treated with the edifying spectacle of a boy of 16 years or so, drunk and staggering, abused and beat about by a loafer recently graduated from jail.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT. — I have received through the post office twenty dollars for the benefit of the Howard Benevolent Society,—from a subscriber to the Chronicle.
Dec. 6, 1858. WILLIAM DAY.

MR. TAPPAN'S LECTURE POSTPONED.—In consequence of meetings on the evening announced for the delivery of the lecture on the West Indies, and of other meetings through the week, Mr. Tappan has, at the suggestion of the officers of the Howard Benevolent Society, postponed his lecture to some evening in the next week, which will be duly announced.

☞ The Continental Harmonists (Old Folks Choir) Rehearse at Exchange Hall on Thursday Evening, Dec. 8th, at 7; — Sunday Evening, 12th, at half-past 6.

"SHELLS OF OCEAN."—Mr. McClusky is now in this city for a few days—offering to our citizens a variety of most beautiful Sea Shells at reasonable rates. It is a rare opportunity to procure exquisite ornaments.

☞ At the sale of pews in the Universalist Church on Monday evening, $1147 were bid in premiums; and about half the pews on the floor were disposed of. The sale will be continued this evening, at 7 o'clock.

☞ The Irish voters in Newburyport have held a meeting and sent a committee to tell Mr. Currier they shall vote for him for Mayor. He is the Citizens' Democratic candidate. The Herald says of their meeting:—"They claim that they hold a balance of power in the city, and therefore the election is in their hands. If that be so, these men may rule Newburyport. Of course they were—about seventy-five in number—democrats, and their sympathies were with a democrat, as against anybody else. Further than politics, there were two qestions that influenced the meeting:—who should be City Marshal, and what action should be had on temperance. One speaker brought in a list of commitments to the House of Correction, from this city last year, and compared it with previous years; and they were anxious to secure the continuance of the present City Marshal as a means of avoiding commitments. But some were in favor of considering the question of mayor and not marshal; for if there was a mayor who would shut up the tippling shops, he would protect them from the County House more than any marshal could."

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 4.—Senator Douglas and lady arrived here yesterday. There was no particular enthusiasm manifested on the part of our citizens towards the Senator from Illinois, but hospitality was extended by all towards himself and lady! He visited the St. Charles last night by invitation, and to-day will give a reception to his political and other friends. A dinner is to be given him, tendered by the Pierre Soule and American party. The administration party keep aloof from any participation of the honor intended.

REV. MR. THAYER.—A letter from Lowell states that the condition of Rev. Mr. Thayer is encouraging. The prospect now is not only his valuable life will be saved, but also the limb, and that in a nearly if not quite perfect state.

A LITERARY BOOKSELLER.—A bookseller in a western city, recommending to a purchaser a work called "Noctes Ambrosia," said he supposed it was "notes by Ambrose." To another he spoke highly of the works of Leigh Hunt. To another the "Potiphar Papers" were supposed to have been written by Potiphar while in Egypt.

DEATH FROM SUFFOCATION.—An Irishman living on Franklin street, West Cambridge, died, Saturday morning, from inhaling gas of burning coal in a stove used to heat the apartment where the family slept. His wife barely escaped, and is still in a dangerous condition.

MARRIED.

In this city, at Glen Cottage, Dec. 6, by Rev. A. J. Patterson, MR. FRANK C. WENDELL to Miss MARY F. FERNALD, both of this city.

In Pembroke, Mr. Alpha Clement, of Sanbornton, to Miss Lois P. Libbey, of Warren.

In Plymouth, Charles A. Webster, of Campton, to Matilda A. Sanborn, of Plymouth.

DIED.

In Reading, Mass., Nov. 24th, Mr. John Judkins, son of the late Jonathan Judkins, of this city.

In New-Market, George Colbath, aged 38.

In Farmington, Richard Colbath, aged 48.

In Exeter, Mrs. Sophronia A. Hough, aged 62, wife of Clark Hough, formerly of Lebanon.

TOBACCO AND RUM IN THE NEXT WORLD. —How the Spirits get their Liquor.—In a recent lecture in New York, Judge Edmonds said of spirits in the next world:

"I once had a spirit come to me who had been addicted to the use of tobacco, and the first want he experienced on entering into a spiritual existence was a desire for that. I had an interview with a spirit who was a drunkard while living, and he asked me for a drink. I asked, 'What good would ardent spirits do you now?' and he said, 'I can drink it through you.'

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT.—While several States have made efforts of late to abolish capital punishment altogether, Georgia is now endeavoring to extend the penalty to other crimes than murder and arson.—Two bills have been introduced with a view to make both night burglary and robbery by force capital offences, but each has failed in the Senate. They have been amended so as to make the punishment twenty years in the penitentiary, at the discretion of the court.

REV. DR. Pierce of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, says: "If things are to continue as they are now, we must cease to receive seekers into the probationary membership of the church. Else we shall accumulate such a mass of members, without the benefits of spiritual regneration, as to bury the spiritual power of our once pure form of godliness under a mass of attractive formalism, which will make Methodism a gorgeous exhibition of mere outward ceremonies.

The man who simply takes care of himself and does nothing for others, is not half a temperance man. He is no temperance man at all. One of the most fatal and destructive ideas that enter men's heads is that they join temperance societies to save themselves. Perhaps this is one object—but it is only one. Men should join temperance societies because they can not only save themselves but sustain a system of measures that shall benefit others as well.—Visitor.

PHYSICIANS IN AMERICA.—In New York there is one physician to every 610 inhabitants; in Massachusetts, one to every 605; in Pennsylvania, one to every 561; in North Carolina, one to every 802; in Ohio, one to every 465: in Maine, one to 884; and in California, one to every 147. We can envy Maine and pity California, for some must swallow physic at a fearful rate in the Golden State. The whole number of physicians in the United States is 40,481.

THE INTENTIONS OF SPAIN.—It is stated on good authority, that Senor Tassara, the Spanish Minister to this government, has notified Secretary Cass that his government has no other designs on Mexico, than the protection of her citizens residing there, and the enforcement of her claims for idemnity. Her object is alleged to be similar to that of England and France.—Washington Star.

At Dresden, Germany, the female members of the theatre have been requested not to wear hoops, or "parentheses," as these garments are called in Berlin. The request has been for the sake of "decency and morals." All the managers of the larger theatres in Germany, seem to be disinclined to let their lady-members appear in "parentheses."—N. Y. Musical Review.

The clerks in the telegraph office at Valentia have been notified to quit; which indicates little hope in England of re-opening communication. And Cyrus W. Field has again entered the paper business in New York city.

Rev. John Hickling, the oldest Methodist preacher in the world, and the last survivor of the "helpers" of John Wesley, died in England a short time since. He was in the 71st year of his ministry, and nearly 93 years old.

ASSASSINATION OF NAPOLEON III.

By the last steamer we learn that what has been predicted by many, feared by some, and hoped for by others, has finally taken place, viz:—That they manufacture and sell more Cloaks and Raglans at Messrs. Allen & Paine's than at all the other stores together in Portsmouth. Also that they sell their garments and Ladies' Cloths, Broadcloths, Beavers and other Cloak goods, at much lower prices than any one else.

PERPETUAL MOTION DISCOVERED.—They are manufacturing twenty-five Cloaks per day, and some days are unable to meet the demand, so great is the rush for them in consequence of the latest styles, best of work, and very low prices at which they are sold, at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.—Our lady readers when they want a nice fitting garment go to Messrs. Allen & Paine's and have one made.—These go-a-head young gentlemen cut and make them right in their own store—and having a full new stock of Beaver and Broadclothe, in Black, Drabs, Peach Brown, &c., they are sure to suit every customer.

☞ A splendid new Sleeve and Collar pattern, for the scolloped Raglan, just received by Allen & Paine.

THE
BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having
Two Large Ovens
AND
Six Boiling Places.

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS
PERFECT IN ITSELF,
and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the cast.ngs being of
DOUBLE THICKNESS,
will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it, if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

DEBATE UNDER DIFFICULTIES. — Hon. Joshua R. Giddings lectured in Tremon Temple, Boston, on Tuesday evening. His subject was "Twenty Years in Congress." In the course of his lecture, according to the Atlas, he related the following incident, which will be read with interest at this time:

In Congress they sometimes had to make speeches under great difficulties, of which Mr. G. gave an amusing illustration. In 1845 there was an unfortunate man in the House named Black, who regarded himself as the especial champion of Mississippee and the "peculiar institution." When the Indian bill was under consideration, he (Mr. G.) took occasion to refer to the old matter of the Creek Indians and the slaves that had been stolen by the Georgians;—Mr. Black took fire, and made a speech in which he charged him with stealing negroes, and franking a dress to his wife.—The Southern men gathered round him and sparred him on. When he concluded, he (Mr. G.) replied in mild terms as would be imagined; but Mr. B. did not so regard it, and coming round to within about four feet of him, with his heavy sword cane in his hand, said, "Repeat that and I will knock you down." "Well," said Mr. dings, "I never had been knocked down; it would be a curiosity, and so I repeated it. (Loud and prolonged applause.) Some members tried to get him away, but I told them to let him alone; he was a poor, harmless man."

Dawson of Louisiana, a professed duelist, came along, and placing his hand on his pistol and cocking it, said, "D——n him. I'll shoot him!" He did not think he was in any danger, but others did, and a shoeboldor from Maryland, armed with bowie knife and pistol, came over and stood by his side with his arms folded; John Slidell and other southern men, came over and stood by Black; Kenneth Rayner, (who has been called a "know nothing since, but who knew something that day) who was fully armed, came and took up a position on his left; Charles Hudson rose quietly and put himself on his right; and Solomon Foot, feeling his cold northern blood stirred somewhat, left his seat and took up his position at the entrance of the aisle—and there and thus they maintained the freedom of debate.

WHAT INTERVENTION IN MEXICO MUST DO.—The New York Freeman's Journal, advocating the intervention of the United States in the domestic affairs of Mexico, admits that one necessary step would be "to put in operation a government acceptable to the people of Mexico, and to sustain it by force in the most thorough manner." The Freeman's Journal adds: "It would be necessary to inaugurate some efficient rule of suffrage, to obtain a valid expression of the popular intelligence and will. To effect this the people of Mexico must be emancipated; the remains of the old Spanish conquest, subsisting in the impotent shape of that vile vasallage, called peonage, must be swept away. The great estates must be broken up, and the land devided among the real occupants, in such a way, in such tenure, that the soil of Mexico may become the property of the people of Mexico."

We can tell the Freeman's Journal of one thing more important as a prerequisite than anything else—the despotism and domination of the Roman Catholic priesthood and church must cease there. That is and always has been the chief curse of poor Mexico.—Atlas.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.—Levi Horton left his home in the west part of Lenox, on Saturday, Nov. 13, and got his bottles filled at a groggery not far from that point, and he drank so much of the poison that on his way home he became disabled and laid down and died. On Wednesday, the 17th, his body was found, with the two bottles by his side, one of which was empty, and the other nearly filled with liquor.

"LIBERTY OR DEATH."—On Saturday night, Nov. 28th, Benjamin Brace of Huntsville, Mo., was murdered in his bed by slaves, in order to obtain their freedom. The murderers have been arrested. They were willed to Bruce during his lifetime, and at his death were to be free.

It seems so easy to be good natured, that it is a wonder anybody takes the trouble to be anything else.

YOU HAD BETTER TRY

MY MOTHER'S SALVE

This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and world-wide reputation for its MARVELLOUS CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.

"My Mother's Salve" is a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.

Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A. M. Beck.

Indian Physician.
Dr. R. S. GOODWIN

Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.

ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY HIM: Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsy, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!

Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself prefered for all our race. Reader, although the rose may blush never so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be scanted and scarcely blessed, and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Peanut, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 18, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,
S. THALBERG.

"Drech a'r Gwylledydd"

Welsh Newspaper Off, 12 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '55.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above preparation to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and uneasiness and itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KIDDY.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last, and the application has restored my hair firmly. It began to fill up grow out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!
PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,
Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying healthy blood in place of the old, invigorating the stomach, and giving tone to all the vital powers, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a healthy flow of bile.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating prevents the food from rising in the stomach and prevent the food from rising in the throat (heartburn).

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

One dose taken after supper, relieves the bowels gently, and prevents costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose taken every morning for a few days will cure Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, will cure Diarrhœa in its worst form, while Summer Complaints and Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this as a medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, without nausea, and is willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Patent Mastic Roofing.
Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we now bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

LOTTERIES.
THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. Orders for tickets sent by mail must accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

DR. DIX
KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in London, more than hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are incurable, or very difficult of cure, even by him.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be induced by the experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

The medicine can be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing safe relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

The pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 diy

A HERO.—It will be remembered that some time since Capt. Brooks, the keeper of Faulkner's Island light, rescued the captain, his wife and crew from a wreck in Long Island Sound. The New Haven Register pays a well merited tribute to the heroism of his conduct, and pronounces the rescue a courageous and even desperate act. It says that Faulkner's Island is more than two miles from land, and that its only inhabitants are the keeper of the lighthouse, Capt. Oliver N. Brooks, and his family. The wreck lay upon "Goose Island," some two miles from this; but Capt. Brooks could see, with his glass, the persons in the rigging, and the sea lashed into unusual fury, making a breach high over its decks, and threatening instant destruction.

He had nothing but a small sail boat, to go between the island and the main land; his wife was on shore, and he was alone with his family of little children; but telling them of the peril he was about to assume—a fearful peril, from which he might never return—he kissed them, and calling upon God to protect them, and bless his endeavor, he jumped into his frail skiff, and steered boldly into the storm and billows. Those on board saw the attempt, and even in their agony wondered at its boldness, predicted its failure, and grieved at what they considered an unnecessary sacrifice. He succeeded in rescuing all from the wreck, nearly dead with hunger and exposure. A gentleman familiar with the circumstances, and also with the dangers of the sea, says that it was the most daring feat he ever read of; that the boat was entirely unfit for such service, and that nothing but unrivalled coolness, great skill as a boatman, and the hand of Providence over all, made the effort successful.

The Register adds, "if ever hero deserved the public reward of bravery, that man is Oliver N. Brooks—the solitary watcher on a sea-girt island."

STRAWS IN THE WIND.—A writer in the Dover Enquirer says:

I should like to know how five or six thousand Republican majority in Illinois constitutes a Douglas victory. It is a matter of considerable question if Douglas goes back to Washington. The great Democratic victory (?) has not yet been accomplished, and there is quite a doubt if it will be. It is now supposed from good authority that all the Douglas Democrats, so called, are not really so; also it is well known that there are the Buchanan Democrats who hold over from last year; so between the two the chances of Douglas are not so glorious and bright as at first supposed. Therefore if after all he is defeated, how cheap and chop-fallen, how foolish will the Democracy of New Hampshire feel. Of course they will deny that they ever advocated the Little Giant's cause.

The Republicans, as the Boston Advertiser remarks, need not be appalled by the apprehension that Mr. Douglas will be the Democratic candidate in 1860, and that he will carry everything before him with a sort of middle-ground platform, which will be acceptable to the people. They may be sure that he will never be permitted to join the Democrat ranks again except as a member giving his full adhesion to the platform and usages of the party, as established and modified from time to time by the slaveholding interest. He has already begun by declaring his election a triumph of the Cincinnati platform; and he must make many more such declarations before he can establish his position as a Democrat at Washington. When he is thus fully committed, the purpose of the party will have been accomplished; they may then nominate whom they please, and Mr. Douglas must support the candidate. In the same way that Southern Whigs in the Baltimore convention of 1852 refused to allow Mr. Webster to be nominated for the presidency, we may be sure that Southern Democrats in 1860 will deny the nomination to Mr. Douglas. Even should a majority of the convention be in favor of him, the two-thirds rule will kill him off, as it has Van Buren and Cass, before him.

Two cars were thrown from the track on the Ohio and Mississippi railroad between Vienna and Mitchell, on the 23d inst., by which accident a brakeman was killed, and thirty passengers more or less injured.

Amos Whitney spent $400 in getting up a concert in Lowell, and received $10. He was about repeating the experiment, when he was arrested as insane, and taken to the Asylum in Worcester.

The less dignity a man has, the more he assumes; as the boot which has the most dirt upon it needs the most scraping.

The business of the railways of the New England and Middle States is last improving.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove this—some is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the best capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 3, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such uniform success shows his skill and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
R. H. EDDY.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1858.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Occupies seven or eight columns in the large papers.

Mr. Buchanan says the Kansas question is settled; but, in his opinion, quiet would have reigned at an earlier day if that Territory had been admitted as he proposed, under the Lecompton Constitution.

After stating the fact that Congress killed Lecompton per se, and that the people of Kansas killed the English edition, he says:

It is not probable, in the present state of the case, that a third constitution can be lawfully framed and presented to Congress by Kansas before its population shall have reached the designated number. Nor is it to be presumed that, after their sad experience in resisting the territorial laws, they will attempt to adopt a constitution in express violation of the provisions of an act of Congress. During the session of 1856, much of the time of Congress was occupied on the question of admitting Kansas under the Topeka Constitution. Again, nearly the whole of the last session was devoted to the question of its admission under the Lecompton constitution. Surely it is not unreasonable to require the people people of Kansas to wait before making a third attempt, until the number of their inhabitants shall amount to ninety-three thousand four hundred and twenty. During this brief period the harmony of the State, as well as the great business interests of the country, demand that the people of the Union shall not for a third time be convulsed by another agitation on the Kansas question. By waiting for a short time, and acting in obedience to law, Kansas will glide into the Union without the slightest impediment.

Congress would pay more attention to him, were it not for the important fact that every free state has pronounced a verdict against him on this particular subject.

The president then recommends the passage of a law that no new State be admitted until it shall have the necessary population for one Representative to Congress.

Our foreign relations, except in regard to Paraguay and Mexico, are not of an immediately threatening character. He rejoices at the abandonment of the Right of Search by England, and the pacification of Utah without bloodshed. He does not recommend any particular course in regard to Mexico, in the hope that the liberal party there may soon be in a condition to assume the government. Otherwise, as he intimates, the United States must take possession of some portions of the country to indemnify our citizens for losses sustained. He also proposes, in view of the fact that the Government of Mexico is unable to prevent hostile incursions of the Indians of that country into Arizona, &c., to post bodies of U. S. troops in the Mexican provinces of Sonora and Chihuahua for that purpose.

The Central American negotiations are still in progress, the doctrines before announciated by Secretary Cass being adhered to. Mr. Preston, the new Minister to Spain, has full power to settle all troubles with that country. In regard to Cuba, the President is of opinion that it ought to belong to the United States, and recommends its purchase. He goes for specific duties, still thinks it practicable to build a railroad to the Pacific, and recommends Territorial government for Arizona.

Congress assembled and began its session promptly, on Monday. In the Senate 50 Senators answered to their names, Hale and Clark of New Hampshire among them.

Mr. Mason of Va. gave notice that he would call up, on Tuesday, the case of the Spanish schooner Amistad.

Messrs. Seward of N. Y., Fessenden of Me., and others, objected to this claim being singled out, and Mr. Seward called for a vote on the question. Permission was accorded by yeas 24, nays 19.

At the conclusion of the reading of the message, Mr. Bigler of Pa. moved that 20,000 extra copies of it be printed.

Mr. Hale of N. H said if the President had confined himself to an exposition of the relations of the country, he would not have taken this opportunity to make comments; but he has abused his constitutional prerogative, and gone out of his way to interpolate a history of Kansas not in accordance with the truth of history.

He (Hale) did agree fervently in the President's gratitude that Providence had interposed at a critical juncture in our affairs. Nay, the teachings of Providence had been brought to the President's own State and town; and, like Job, "the good man feels the stripes, yet blesseth the rod." He (Hale) rejoiced that the foreign affairs were in so satisfactory a condition, but he had expected that the President would have enlightened the country as to the state of the relations with Austria, and why it was a new minister had to be sent there immediately after the Pennsylvania election.

Even as the English maiden, Florence Nightingale, with plastic hand of female affection, tended the wounded; here we have the President in a similar character, hovering about the battle-field to pick up the wounded and send them to the Austrian hospital for recovery. Mr. Hale then went into further remarks on Kansas affairs, the Amistad case, &c., and defended his party from the charge of being agitators.

Mr. Gwin gave notice that he would bring up the Pacific Railroad bill on Tuesday.

In the House 200 members answered, and selected seats, in the order in which their names were drawn by lot from a box.

Mr. Grow of Pa. introduced a bill to amend the act establishing the Court of Claims so as to permit creditors to sue in the District Court of the United States.

Mr. Curtis of Iowa introduced a bill for the construction of a Central Pacific Railroad.

Mr. Dewart of Pa. asked leave to introduce a resolution instructing the Committee on Ways and Means to report a bill increasing the duty on coal and iron, and at the request of several gentlemen included lead, sugar, and such other articles as need protection against foreign competition. Objection was made.

Mr. Dewart moved a suspension of the rules—negatived—102 against 87, a two-thirds vote being required.

The message was received about two o'clock, read, referred to the Committee of the Whole, and ordered to be printed.

Federal Paper Currency.—We see it stated that the Superintendent of the U. S. Mint at Philadelphia, in his Annual Report, proposes to establish a new paper currency based on the deposits in that institution. He has prepared a bill for this purpose, which he intends to lay before Congress. It authorizes the Mint to issue certificates on the deposit of gold bullion, and of similar certificates by the Mint; and all the Sub-Treasurers, on deposits of gold coin. These certificates are to be redeemed only at the offices which issued them, the theory of the process being that the gold deposited will always be kept on hand to meet the certificates when presented for payment. The Director claims that it will greatly increase the security of specie-owners over that afforded by the banks: that it will check the practice of hoarding; that the certificates will become currency as much as the gold itself; that a huge pile of coin thus stored away will serve as a great balance wheel to prevent commercial disturbances in times of panic or crisis; that the use of certificates will prevent the loss by wear, clipping or sweating; that the retaining of a government bullion fund at the Mint would be no longer necessary; that, being based on deposits, no over-issues of certificates could be made, and that, like bank notes, they should be made payable on demand, and circulate exactly as they do. Senator Gwin is said to be quite interested in the enactment of such a law. But it seems almost identical with the Bullion Bank projected in New York, with the single exception that depositors pay nothing for the safe keeping of their coin. The movement will no doubt meet favor among all those who retain their attachment to an U. S. Bank, as the effect of the proposed institution will be to give us a currency which will maintain its par value in all parts of our Union, and indeed in foreign countries also. We doubt, however, if the measure is acted upon at the short session of Congress.

Report of the Navy.—The report of the Secretary of the Navy after referring in detail to various services performed by our naval force during the year, proceeds to argue the necessity for its increase by additional vessels and men. He proposes that government should purchase for a specific sum, the several vessels recently chartered for the Paraguay expedition. He also suggests the building of ten heavy armed vessels of a light draft, and the increase of the personnel of the Navy by the appointment of 20 additional surgeons, the same number of assistant surgeons, 15 or 20 additional pursers and the increase of the marine corps of privates to 2000, with the same number of officers. The expenditures for the fiscal year ending June, 1859 were nearly $14,000,000, being a little under the appropriations.—The estimates for the current fiscal year were $14,616,000, and the appropriations $14,518,000. The estimates for the year ending June, 1860, are $13,500, including $864,000 for completing the eight light draft, steamers, but not including the $836,000 for steamship and mail service.

Nuisance Law Sustained.—In the Supreme Court, at Boston, Saturday, in the matter of sundry nuisance cases sent up from the Municipal Court on exceptions, to test the power of the Legislature to declare the legal sale of spirituous liquors a nuisance, an opinion was delivered affirming the constitutionality of the law, and the cases were sent back for sentence.

Under this act, the Selectmen of Amesbury spilt the liquor of a nuisance there, one day last week.

"SCHOOLS."

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—The remarks upon schools, taken from the New York Independent, and published in your paper of the 1st inst., deserve more than a mere passing notice from this community, on account of their truthfulness. There never was, in my opinion, a more truthful remark in regard to the way in which children's lessons are learned now-a-days, and which will apply with full force to the schools in this city, (the writer having had some experience in the matter, and having at this time four children attending the public schools,) than the following extract:

> The way in which children's lessons are learned now-a-days, is exceedingly unfair to parents, who sustain at home all the annoyance of forcing them to give up their play-hours to study, with an unwilling spirit, and in a most improper manner.—Those who are most anxious for their daughters' improvement, have actually all the trouble of teaching themselves, and the privilege of paying the schoolmaster for hearing a perfect recitation at his ease. This is an unnatural transfer of duties, and I wonder that parents submit to it.
> If the teacher knew what he was about, and took a vital interest in his calling, placing it before his own ease, and had not too many pupils he himself would be the one to object to this studying at home, which has a most pernicious influence upon the pupil, as has been shown. She contracts all manner of bad habits. Mothers who have small children, and their housekeeping duties to care for, have not, of course, the time to inform themselves of all it is necessary to know, in order to give their daughters the best habits of mental activity.
> I would add, not only do parents have the "privilege of paying the schoolmaster for hearing a perfect recitation at his ease," but the master receives the credit of being an excellent teacher for having his pupils so far advanced in their studies, and this is used by him as an argument with the school committee, and often prevails, to give him a larger amount of pay, when in fact it is the parents at home, in most cases, and not the teacher, who deserve the credit.

The fact is, with regard to our schools at present, there are too many studies given to the pupil at one time; he or she not having the capacity to retain or comprehend so many at once.

In a recent address before the Phi Beta Kappa at Cambridge, the speaker, after enumerating the different studies and arranging all education into five different departments, made use of the following remarks:

> It is the same with natural history. A little elementary knowledge, well and clearly laid, will teach a lad how to think on all these subjects when in after life he meets with them. The great thing with regard to chemistry and every other natural science is to reduce it to the fewest, clearest and most comprehensive principles, well illustrated, and carried home to the eye and heart of the boy, so that he cannot divest himself of them. The great fault of most books and teachers is that the pupil is utterly confused and encumbered with details—with too many ideas at once. One or two great principles fairly lodged in the mind will grow and carry with them all necessary details in after life.

It has become of late almost the universal practice in our schools for the pupils to study and get, with the help of the parents, their lessons at home, instead of in the school house, in school hours, under the direction and instruction of the teacher, as they should do. The late Wm. C. Harris (and no pupil ever had a better teacher) would suffer no such practices in his school, but whenever a scholar was refractory, or did not get his lesson well, in school hours, he would for punishment to that scholar make him take his books home and study his lesson during the recess; and I consider that no worse punishment can be inflicted upon a boy or girl, in body or mind, than to deprive them of their recreation during the recess of school hours.

Would it not be well for our school committees to look into the matter, and have the practice abolished at once? J.

Independence.—The New York Times says: "We care nothing whatever for the success of the Republican party, or any other party, as such. We subscribe to no party platform—put faith in no party objects—support no party candidates, wear no party badge, and do not intend to work for the accomplishment of any merely party end."

☞ The fact that the Prince of Wales has gone on a visit to his sister at Berlin, and is expected to pass the winter at Rome, is looked upon with much alarm by those who fear that efforts will be made by the Jesuits to undermine his belief in the Protestant faith.
